D. R. Cooper of Mt. Hood was in town Friday. He reports that he will have a full crop of peaches, pears and summer apples, but his winter apples will be a light crop.
Dr. and Mrs. Hollister of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney of Chicago were in Hood River last week visiting Mayor Brosius and family. They went to Cloud Cap Inn while here.
H. H. Tomlinson and son Delbert of Mt. Hood made a trip to Portland last week. Mr. Tomlinson had a breakdown in his small and went to Portland for repairs to his machinery.
H. A. Henneman of Milwaukee, Or., was the guest of E. L. Road, Saturday. Mr. Henneman is interested in fruit culture and has recently visited the fruit-growing sections of the Columbia valley, from Idaho to Hood River.
Frank Chandler, who is traveling agent for the Wetmore Tobacco Co., returned to Hood River last week for a few days vacation. He was in Iowa and Missouri during the recent hot spell and says no one can portray by tongue or pen the terrible effects of the heat in the drought-stricken states.
Elder C. A. Wyman will review the position of the church of Latter Day Saints upon Daniel, respecting the feet of the image and the stone that smites the same. The lecture will be well illustrated and the details of scripture and "story" examined. Place, Elder (Good) will tent, time, Sunday at 8 p. m. All are invited.
C. W. Mosby of Dukes valley was in town Friday. Mr. Mosby is foreman of the construction force on the East Fork Irrigation Co.'s ditch. He says the ditch is completed near Dukes valley, and on Saturday he commenced using the water to irrigate his potatoes and other garden truck. Mr. Murphy will prepare ground for setting two acres to strawberries in the fall.
Robert Rand returned from the sea beach at Newport, last week. He got tired of clam and put in his time hunting for water plovers. He brought home several fine specimens which he had mounted and presented to each of his boys. He says there is not much fun in hunting the festive genus, but that all that gitters is not always opal, as a young lady tourist at his side found when she picked up a chip from the genus equus.
A man with a "slight" foreign accent called at the post office to inquire for mail for his friend Jack. He told the young lady clerk that he had forgotten Jack's other name, but said, "You youngsters call on all the letters and when you come to 'Yack's' name I'll know it." The lady clerk laughed at the idea and refused to call off the names. When the man got back to the camp it is related that in telling of the incident he said, "Py tam, I was so mad at dat gal I yonst could had fit most anytings."
The glacier was in error last week when it stated that J. W. Overhault had realized $600 from three acres of strawberries. The facts are: He shipped through the Hood River Union 30 full crates and 7 half crates, for which he received $604.02, after paying for crates and all commissions, and had about 15 crates for home use and friends besides, making in all 326 full crates and 7 half crates, all grown on two acres, not three, as we published it.
The Columbia River from Portland to The Dalles, by the White Collar Line, is an attractive 50-page souvenir of points of historic interest and scenic grandeur gleaned from a trip on the palatial Bailey Gatzert up the Cascade gorge "where rolls the Oregon." The booklet is a gem of art and a review of its pages would make any tourist anxious to possess this wondrous story of nature which may be read and admired but never described. Among the kodak views presented are pictures taken by Mrs. M. F. Shaw of Hood River.

The congressional rivers and harbors committee saw the Inland Empire and the Columbia river from Lewiston to Portland last week. They were in The Dalles last Thursday, and looked over the ground for the proposed canal and locks at Celilo. In the evening, aboard the steamer Regulator, a sumptuous banquet was served the visiting delegation. Hon. E. L. Smith delivered the address of welcome, and accompanied the congressmen on their trip down the river to Portland. Mr. Smith showed us the souvenir menu card for the banquet, which had a small photograph of Gifford's famous Mt. Hood picture.
A farewell party was given at the home of Mrs. W. B. McGuire, Monday evening, in honor of Mrs. George Watts of Baker City, who has been visiting Mrs. Laura Baldwin, Misses Nettie and Vera Allen entertained the company with music and recitations. Everyone enjoyed the bright and charming manner in which they were rendered, and fully appreciated their many talents, and were sorry when the time came to depart. Mrs. Watts was pleased with Hood River and made many friends during her brief stay.
M. A. Cook, Judge Prather, George Stranahan, W. A. Isenberg, B. F. Belien and Maltie Dukes, members of Waucoma lodge, K. of P., paid a fraternal visit on Tuesday evening, August 1st, at Vancouver, Monday night. More would have gone from Hood River, but owing to change of time in boats of the Regulator line some of the boys gave up the trip. All report a good time.
Professor Friedlander and his staff of artists will give a unique and novel entertainment, Tuesday evening, August 6th, at Barrett school house. Don't miss this rare musical treat, acknowledged by press and public to be the finest musical comedy on the road. Popular prices within the reach of all—15c and 25c.
Geo. Fox has rented the LaFrance house and opened a boarding and lodging house. He also has the rooms over the golden Rule Bazar. Mrs. Fox is an excellent cook and housekeeper, and this being a central location and one of the prettiest spots in town, the new boarding house will be popular for the regular tourists and transients.
J. W. Hinrichs last week sold his ranch of 180 acres on the East Side to Charles Davis for $6,000. The sale was made through the Emporium. Mr. Hinrichs has since purchased the S. P. Shattuck county residence and grounds at Franklin, and the pleasant suburban retreats in Hood River.
G. E. Williams, Doug Payton and Joe Wilson left Sunday with Doug Langille to do geological survey work at the base of Mt. Hood. They will be gone for three months, and will obtain the height of ridges and make topographical maps of the mountain. They are with Cloud Cap Inn and Government camp.

Ancient Order of the Red Cross.

H. Bigelow, state deputy of the Ancient Order of the Red Cross, will institute the Hood River lodge of this order, in the Odd Fellows hall, Saturday night, August 3d. All members are requested to be present at 8 o'clock. Mr. Bigelow, assisted by H. H. Tilton, have secured 102 members. Anyone wishing to secure the fraternal and social advantages of a good lodge, or wish to increase any insurance they may be carrying through local dues, will do well to join the Ancient Order of the Red Cross.

Animal Circus a Success.

The Spokane Review says: "The big exhibition tent of the J. L. Whitney dog and pony show was packed from the entrance to the ringside last evening and many thousands of people were present at the afternoon performance was also well attended, but if the enthusiasm manifested by the children last evening is taken as the verdict as to the excellence of the performance, those desiring to see the best dog and pony show in the Northwest, will have to go early if they wish to get seats or even admittance to the tent."
The troupe of dogs trained by Professor Bailey evinced remarkable proficiency, docility and sagacity in their numerous tricks, jumping, climbing, running, walking, roping, climbing ladders, swinging in midair and doing many other wonderful things.
Professor Hunt's educated monkey, Master Motley, was accorded an ovation, his antics creating shrieks of laughter. The troupe of ponies trained by Harry Heikes won applause. Then there was the roan-walking feat and equestrian performance of the goat, Billy, that delighted the little folk.

SHOES.

We have been talking and selling shoes to you pretty regular for three years, and we will keep it up. We have built up and hold your trade on big Shoe values; will keep that up, too, and more. We are giving better values today than ever before. If you are not a customer you ought to sit down, take yourself by the hand, think it over and see if it would not be pleasant to save the price of a pair of shoes every year buying us.
Did you ever stop to think that we could not afford to advertise and recommend a shoe of doubtful quality or a poor value? The more we gave prominence to it the more customers we would drive away. We turn down the poor shoes and advertise and recommend the good ones.
Take a Shoe like the "Humane" for men; where can you find a better one for $5.00? You can't. What's the price? Four dollars. The drummer told us he had failed to sell the "Humane" to any Portland shoe house. Why? "Because the margin of profit was too small" they would not handle it. What do you think of that? And 40 years of shoe building experience back of it?
There is our White Ross; Box Call at $2.50.
R. P. Smith's Kang. Call at $2.00.
"Federation" Ladies' fine, well, heavy and medium, street shoe, all latest styles, union made, custom made and made to wear, $2.50. District 76 school and dress shoes for children.

New lot of our famous Ayson & Sorosis kid Gloves will be here in a few days, and they will go just like hot cakes, at $1.00.
F. C. Corsets—you know how they wear.
Big cut in Royal Tailor Suits.
