Mrs. S. E. Barmess and two daughters, Aldine and Marie, spent last week at Fort Stevens and the sea coast.
Mr. and Mrs. Tyson have moved into the two rear rooms in the Champlin building, recently remodeled by Prather & Barnes.
Nothing season now open at Collins Hot Springs. Campers only. No hotels. Hunting & Hosiery, managers, Collins, Wash.

Good summer apples are in demand just now, but Hood River has none this year. The majority of the summer apples here are of the Gravenstein variety, and as the trees were permitted to over-bear last summer, they are bearing no fruit at all this year. Hood River shipped about 5,000 boxes of summer apples last year.
A. L. Craig, general passenger agent O. R. N. & C., at Collins, assistant passenger agent Northern Pacific, and a number of other railroad officials, will be here from Portland, Sunday, in a special car. They will remain until Wednesday, taking in the sights of Hood River and the surrounding country.

J. T. Bagley will resume his position as station agent about September 1st, when J. E. Wilhelm will take a short vacation. C. B. Atterbury, who has been traveling operator during the summer, will quit September 1st to resume his studies in Stanford university, where he is a sophomore.
Mrs. J. W. Short of Twin Grove, Ill., and daughter, Mrs. H. C. Stagner of East St. Louis are visiting Judge and Mrs. L. Henry. Mrs. Short and Judge Henry will be here for a short time this Saturday. Judge and Mrs. Henry and their guests went into camp at Maple Dell for a week.

Geo. H. Cook of the Union Printing Co. of Portland, and Dr. Jas. Surman of Portland, arrived in Hood River, Sunday, and went out to Lost Lake to view some of the timber lands they acquired before the Cascade reserve barred out timber entries in that locality.
The camping party, consisting of Mrs. M. A. Cook, Edna Sherrill, Viola Green, Pearl Cox, Iva Vorbeck, Will and Walter Isonberg and Leo Ulrich, that went out to camp last Tuesday, returned Saturday night and report the fullest kind of a good time.

A fine photographic view of Hood River, with snow-capped Mt. Hood in the distance, taken from Jewett's place at White Salmon, can be seen in the show windows of E. R. Bradley. The picture is the work of the artist, L. Bradley.
C. N. McArthur, graduate of the University of Oregon, class of '01, and manager of the athletic team that inflicted such a decisive defeat on the Multnomah club last May, was in Hood River Sunday night visiting with Ned Blythe.

Miss Carrie Butler went to Portland last Friday afternoon. She expects to return this week, and will leave shortly for an extended trip east, taking in the Buffalo exposition before returning.
Miss Agnes Dukes will leave today for Portland, where she will be joined by Miss Fay LaFrance, and together they will spend a couple of weeks at the seashore.
The Davidson Fruit Co. has rented the big fruit dryer at Mosier and will be prepared to dry most of this year's spruce crop for Hood River and Mosier.

Mrs. H. F. Davidson, daughter Helen, mother, and sister Miss Brain, returned Monday from an outing at Collins.
Prather & Barnes will move into their new quarters in the Champlin building the latter part of the week.
Rev. F. E. Dell of the Congregational church was greeted with a good-sized audience, Sunday.
Miss Mary Foley is clerking at the Cloud Cap Inn confectionary.
Miss Isabel Jakway of Portland is visiting Miss Clara Rhye.

Miss Lillian I. Ackerman, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Boorman, and well known in Hood River, was married to Edmund F. Carleton, at Salem, Monday, August 13th. The young couple will reside at Joseph, Oregon, where Mr. Carleton has the principalship of the public school.
Dukes & Brown, who have the contract for the excavating and foundation work on the Friday & Otten building, will begin their work next week. This two-story brick, 50 x 90, will contain store rooms on the first floor and office rooms on the second. It will add much to the improvement of the town.

Cordwood is leaving Hood River pretty lively just now for Walla Walla, Arlington and points on the Columbia Southern. Three or four carloads a day leave Hood River depot, and many that go from Hayes Spur and Nixdorf. During the month of July Hanna & Hartley shipped 300 cords.
The Davidson Fruit Co. are prepared to handle a large quantity of Italian prunes and pay cash for them delivered at the cannery. Parties having fruit for sale should call at the cannery and make arrangements before the orders are all filled.

The two large passenger engines that have been expected for some time by the O. R. N. & C., have arrived in Huntington from the Baldwin Locomotive Works. These engines are cordially invited on the road and will make their first trip some time this week.
There was a large crowd of extensionists aboard the Bailey Gatzert, Sunday. The Seventh Regiment band from Vancouver discoursed good music. Some 30 or 40 Hood River people made the trip to the Dalles and return.

Miss Minnie Schunzel of Beloit, Kan., foster sister of Charles T. Early, is visiting the family of Captain Blowers. Mrs. Charles T. Early of Viento is also visiting in Hood River.
Frank Caddy recently purchased 10 acres adjoining his Frankton place of J. H. Gerdies. The new house is a large dwelling house, W. J. Campbell doing the carpenter work.

Bonds of the Valley Improvement Co. to the amount of $10,000 are now due. The board of directors expect to receive the same, as the holders desire to have them redeemed.
Bert Rankin, who has been in Coos county for the past two and one-half years, engaged in farming and sawmill work, arrived in Hood River, Monday.
R. V. Short and daughter, Mrs. Eva Shaw of Portland, are visiting R. Rand. Mr. Short is father of Captain Short of the Regular line.

E. W. Uebel is working at his trade as stone mason at Wasco. He reports plenty of work and came home Wednesday to procure an assistant.
Travel to Cloud Cap Inn never was better. So far this season the Mt. Hood Stage Co. has taken over 250 people to Mt. Hood.
J. W. Connell, from Portsmouth, Va., arrived in Hood River Monday morning on a short visit to his family.
J. J. Luckey and family, who have been in camp at the East Fork bridge, returned home Saturday.

Miss Rose Wonderly of Portland, who has been visiting Mrs. Geo. P. Crowell, returned home, Tuesday.
A dance will be given at Bingen Hall, Bingen, this Friday evening. Hood River is invited.
Mr. Richmond tracked a bear in the road near Foss' place on the East Side, Tuesday.
Miss Iva Vorbeck, after a two-week's visit with Miss Pearl Cox, returned to her home in Portland, Wednesday.
Mrs. W. P. Watson and Mrs. R. R. Erwin are in camp at Collins landing.

Alfred Ingalls returned overland last Thursday from Wasco with the body of his son who was drowned last week in the John Day river. The funeral services were held the same afternoon at Idlewild cemetery. It is supposed by those who saw the accident that the boy was dead before he fell beneath the water, for, had it been simple drowning, the body would have reappeared. The boat at the time was intense. After drifting in the river, the boy rained on the sand with his companions, and being overheated the sudden shock of the cold water caused his death.
R. E. Harbison sent the following report to the Climate and Crop Bulletin for the week ending Monday, August 12: "The hottest weather known in this valley for 15 years occurred during the fore part of the week. On Sunday the temperature reached 103 degrees in the shade; on Wednesday the hot spell was broken by a most welcome shower; for two hours rain fell quite heavily and the soil was wet to a depth of three or four inches. Crops of every kind were immensely benefited by the rain. The hot spell scorched a few apples, but no serious harm resulted."
Improvements are being made on the store building occupied by J. E. Rand, the building will be extended on both streets to the sidewalk grade, and a new front will be made to face Oak street. The warehouse in the rear on Third street will be fitted up for part of the store room. J. H. Middleton, who owns the property, will expend about $1,000 on the improvements. When completed the building will be one of the best business sites in town.
A tame gray squirrel lives in the front yard of Rev. Troy Shelley on the East Side. The squirrel was caught when quite young and placed with the family cat and her kittens. The cat adopted the little stranger and fondled it with even more care than she did her own young. She was much exercised when the squirrel grew old enough to climb to the top of the big trees. The squirrel is now about grown, is quite tame and eats from the hands of the people of the house.
The Davidson Fruit Co. will begin next week canning peaches. The company expects to put up about four carloads of the fruit. Most of the peaches this season are of the variety known as "Red Haven" and will come from The Dalles and a few from Mosier. The bulk of the blackberry crop was shipped this season, the prices being too high to admit of canning any quantity. The company's box factory is filling an order this week for 100,000 boxes and crates from The Dalles, the mill has 100 such trees, within 1000 feet of the donkey engine, which will make 400 worth of lumber. Both the Davidson mills are running full force now and are turning out 60,000 feet of lumber per day, most of which is marketed in Salt Lake and Ogden.

Davenport Bros. will expend about $4,000 in constructing an irrigating ditch from the mills at the head of Pole road to the north fork of Green Point, a distance of three and one-half miles. With this ditch they expect to supply the fruit growers in the Crapper district who are above the Valley Improvement Co.'s ditch. They have already made contracts with R. B. Lindsay, J. L. Miller and others.
Mrs. Rose McCoy, accompanied by her son, Elmer McCoy, returned to Hood River, Monday, after a protracted visit in the East. Mrs. McCoy left here last October. A big part of the time she spent in Michigan and Buffalo. During the severe hot spell they were at Hot Springs, Ark. They returned to the coast by way of the Canadian Pacific and had a very pleasant journey.

Good summer apples are in demand just now, but Hood River has none this year. The majority of the summer apples here are of the Gravenstein variety, and as the trees were permitted to over-bear last summer, they are bearing no fruit at all this year. Hood River shipped about 5,000 boxes of summer apples last year.

PLANING MILL BURNED.

THE Davenport planing mill and box factory at Haynes, three miles west of town, burned to the ground early Thursday morning, August 15th. The fire, supposed to have started through spontaneous combustion, was discovered by the night watch at about 1 o'clock in the morning. A force of men quickly answered the alarm, but the flames, starting in the fine cut lumber and sawdust under the mill platform, were beyond control in a moment, and it took but an hour and a half for the fire to complete its work.

A rough estimate of the loss places it at $6,000, with no insurance. The fire consumed nine freight cars that were standing on the siding, 20 cords of wood, 15,000 cedar posts, 10,000 feet of dressed and 40,000 feet of rough lumber. By hard work the fire was kept within bounds of the mill platform, and the lumber in the yards was saved. Frank Davenport was in Portland at the time of the fire, and it has not been decided yet when the factory and planer will be replaced. The mill gave employment to about 30 hands.

No damage was done to the main track of the railroad, although the heat was so intense that the early passenger trains were delayed a couple of hours in passing.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Shane of West Salem, Wis., old friends of J. S. and R. E. Harbison, are visiting at the homes of these men on the East Side. Mr. Shane and wife are touring through California, Oregon and Washington with a possibility of soon settling in the West, and are greatly pleased with Hood River. Mr. Shane is a lumber dealer in his home town and finds a great deal to interest him in the lumbering interests of these states. From the culls and scraps that are furnished on orders from the Eastern mills he concludes that the whole United States will soon be looking to the Northwest for all their building material.

The Royal is undergoing still further changes and improvements, two living rooms being added in the rear and a bathroom and a ladies' toilet room, now being prepared for, will be opened about August 24th. The last-named adjunct will be for the accommodation of people coming in from the country to do their shopping and want a quiet place to rest and procure refreshments for a nominal sum, and also for business and office people who desire a light lunch at the noon hour. Hood River needs such a place and Mrs. Goddard proposes to fill that need and to have a place that will meet the wants of the people in every respect.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fulton returned last week from a trip to the Inland Empire. They left here two or three months ago and traveled in their own conveyance to Prineville, Canyon City and through Idaho to Washington, where Mr. Fulton put in the time prospecting and found some gold but not in paying quantities. At Desolation creek, Grant county, on June 23d, they met with an inch of snow. They found good fishing in many places but very little other game, seeing only four deer on the trip.

Miss Lillian I. Ackerman, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Boorman, and well known in Hood River, was married to Edmund F. Carleton, at Salem, Monday, August 13th. The young couple will reside at Joseph, Oregon, where Mr. Carleton has the principalship of the public school.

Dukes & Brown, who have the contract for the excavating and foundation work on the Friday & Otten building, will begin their work next week. This two-story brick, 50 x 90, will contain store rooms on the first floor and office rooms on the second. It will add much to the improvement of the town.

Case of Small Pox.
J. A. Knox, of Dukes Valley in the Mt. Hood settlement, is confined in the Hood River post house with a case of small pox. Mr. Knox contracted the disease about the 1st of August, and the last three weeks. He returned last Thursday, and on Sunday, the eruptions having appeared, he came to town and consulted Dr. H. L. Dumble, who immediately pronounced it a case of small pox. Mr. Knox, as deputy sheriff, Walter H. Holt and F. L. Possett, of Portland were camping near by when the trout was taken. Holt took the photograph herewith produced, and Possett made the measurement.

Thirty-three Inch Trout.
Sunday's Oregonian contains a picture of Bert Rand and his 33-inch trout, that he caught in the west fork of Hood river. Accompanying the picture are the following remarks:
The largest and finest specimen of rainbow trout ever caught in Hood River was landed by J. J. Rand of Hood River, Or. He is a successful fisherman, but the landing of the 33-inch trout was one of the most difficult feats of his angling career. He was fishing in a deep pool in the west fork of the river, when the big fish rose to a Professor H. Walter H. Holt and F. L. Possett, of Portland were camping near by when the trout was taken. Holt took the photograph herewith produced, and Possett made the measurement.
