

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1901.

The secretary of the interior has handed down a decision of great importance relative to the tenure of homestead claims. He holds that the homesteader must actually live upon the land filed of his entry will be null and void. A person who has a homestead entry can go to some place and work to earn a living for a time, if necessary, but his home must be on the land, as nothing else will take the place of residence and improvement. Those who tell homesteaders that they need only go to the land occasionally and stay over a night or two in the cabin erected as an excuse for a dwelling, do injustice to the entry-men, who must lose their claims by accepting it. Because some entries are made and the land patented under such circumstances, when no contest is entered, it must not be inferred that the law requires nothing more than a cabin, a little fence, or clearing and an occasional visit to land embraced in a homestead entry.

The disaster suffered by our troops in the island of Samar, Sept. 28th, is the worst defeat that ever happened to our armies in the Philippines. The dispatch says "officials were not prepared for news of just this character from Samar." Some one has blundered. If news of this character was expected, why was not more precaution taken? Four hundred Filipinos never before were able to route 72 American soldiers. The surprise must have been complete.

The suggestion that a special session of the legislature be called to vote an appropriation for the Lewis and Clarke expedition is generally opposed by the press of the state, not on the grounds of opposition to the expedition, but for the reason that extra sessions are too costly.

The good people of The Dalles are to be congratulated upon the fine weather prevailing during the carnival week. With perfect weather, good exhibits and large crowds in attendance, everything is moving along auspiciously to make the carnival a grand success.

Anarchist Czolgosz will be executed within two months after committing the crime. Giteau was allowed to live, by the law's delays, one year after his assassination of Garfield.

This week Hood River people should attend The Dalles carnival. Next week the other big show, we can go to see the other big show at Portland.

Mr. Hood Notes.
John B. Brl has started up his logging camp and expects to run four teams all winter. He expects to put from six to eight hundred thousand feet per month in the swim.

Thos. Larewood's mother and two sisters arrived in Hood River last Saturday and came out to Mt. Hood for the winter. They came from Reno.

W. H. Edick went out of the sheep business with a rush last Sunday. Some dogs got among his sheep and killed three out of four. Any one having such dogs had better take care of them hereafter.

Most of the sheep herders have started for the bunch grass country, the rain having driven them out. One neighbor over on Neal creek had better be on the look out.

Arthur Dishrow's brother from Iowa arrived at Mt. Hood, with his wife, last week. Not having seen his brother for over 16 years, Arthur was jumping sideways when last seen.

Joseph Dimmick got home from Walla Walla last Friday, where he has been harvesting and threshing. Joe is glad to get back to old Hood again.

Douglas Riggs went to The Dalles last Friday to attend the carnival. Nothing like being on time.

J. R. Steel has moved back to Mt. Hood and is going into the sheep business, as every farmer should do. Nothing more profitable on a small ranch than a small bunch of sheep.

Save the Huckleberry Patch.
And now it is reported that sheep have been driven into the huckleberry patch, have eaten and trampled down the bushes so that the patch is entirely ruined. This should not be allowed by the forest reserve authorities. Indians go up there by the hundreds every year to gather their winter's supply of this delicious fruit, and the authorities ought to see to it that sheep are not pastured on this particular spot. There is room enough on the reserve for sheep pasture without encroaching on the rights of the Indians to this, the finest huckleberry patch in the whole United States, and it ought to be reserved for the Indians and such white people as choose to go there to gather berries. If it should be let alone by the sheep now the berries will come again in two years, but if it is pastured again next year the patch will be ruined forever. Something ought to be done to preserve this spot, so rich in Indian legends and huckleberries.—Skamania Pioneer

A Mistaken Theory.
E. B. Dunn, formerly an officer in the U. S. Weather Bureau, in a recent article in the Washington Star, advances the rather startling theory that the severe hot spell which occurred in the Middle West last July was due to the increased area now under irrigation along the east slope of the Rocky mountains. Mr. Dunn puts the blame for the burning up of the corn crop on the shoulders of the irrigation companies and the small farmers who are trying to make the desert bring forth sustenance for man and beast, and he argues that the farmer who raises small crops by means of irrigation must be suppressed that the farmer who raises large crops without irrigation may prosper.

He says that low pressure, trough-shaped areas occupy this semi-arid region and that the moisture evaporated from the soil is commensurate for their existence but insufficient to propel them onward, and warm air is thus drawn from the South which for days at a time flows over the corn belt and withers the crops.

This theory is illogical and is condemned by the scientific staff of the Weather Bureau. It is, in fact, unworthy of serious consideration and its publication is calculated to injure the cause of irrigation not only in Eastern Oregon but in all of the rapidly growing states in the sub-rid West.

The weather of the United States is controlled by the passage of low and high pressure areas and these disturbances are carried eastward by the general movement of the upper atmosphere. The general movement of the upper atmosphere is controlled by the difference in the temperature between the poles and the equator. When these differences, as in the winter time, are great, the upper currents move rapidly, but when they are slight, as is the case during the midsummer season, they move slowly, sometimes become stagnant. Last July the upper air currents were sluggish and the high and low areas drifted very slowly, their inaction was not in any way caused by the moisture element they contained.

Severe droughts and heat waves have occurred in the past, long before irrigation was practiced and they may be expected in the future as long as the difference between the temperatures at the poles and the equator decreases, in the summer time, as it now does, and no effort on the part of man can change the order of events. EDWARD A. BEALS, Forecast Official, U. S. Weather Bureau, Portland, Oregon, Sept. 24, 1901.

A Fiendish Attack.
An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him till he tried Electric Bitters, which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at Chas. N. Clarke's drug store.

The personnel of the Hood River Glee Club which has its first rehearsal Thursday evening, Oct. 3d, at the U. B. gymnasium, is as follows: Mesdames Canfield, Cook, Jackson, and Agnes Dukes, Messrs. Dr. Brosius, Chas. N. Clarke, E. E. Savage, John R. Nickelson, Sam M. Blowers, Meigs and Earl Bartmes, Sam E. Bartmes and Elmer Rand.

Look over your harness and see what's needed, and you can get what you want at Holman & Son's. Lewis Ockerman, Goshen, Ind., DeWitt's Little Early Risers never bend me double like other pills, but they do their work thoroughly and make me feel like a boy. Certain, thorough, gentle. Chas. N. Clarke.

The state fair was a grand success notwithstanding the rain that kept up all the week. The live stock exhibit is said to have been the best ever seen in the Northwest.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They are safe, prompt, gentle, effective in removing all impurities from the liver and bowels. Small and easy to take. Never gripe or distress. Chas. N. Clarke.

Regular communication of Hood River chapter No. 25, O. E. S., Thursday, Oct. 8th, at 7:30 p. m. All members are requested to be present. Work.

Do you suffer from piles? If so do not turn to surgery for relief. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will act more quickly, surely and safely, saving you the expense and danger of an operation. Chas. N. Clarke.

W. J. Campbell, last week sold his house and lot near the school house to Robt. Rand.

C. M. Phelps, Forestdale, Vt., says his child was completely cured of a bad case of eczema by the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of all counterfeits. It instantly relieves piles. Chas. N. Clarke.

Geo. M. Webster, the Portland artist, and L. Bradley returned from a trip to Lost Lake last Friday.

W. T. Wesson, Ghosonville, Va., druggist, writes: "Your One Minute Cough Cure gives perfect satisfaction. My customers say it is the best remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles." Chas. N. Clarke Secretary.

Secretary Hey has had the unique experience of being in close relations to the three murdered presidents just before their death. He was secretary to Lincoln, he stood as friend and comforter at the bedside of Garfield and he was McKinley's chief of cabinet.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives their little ones it has saved. Strikes at the root of the trouble and draws out the inflammation. The children's favorite Cough Cure, Chas. N. Clarke.

A Hood River poetaster says the original Indian name of Hood river was Lo-le-pam-ne, and that certain pioneers of '44 christened it Dog river, from having to kill their faithful dog for food while in a state of starvation. This latter affirmation is probably just poetry and nothing else.—Dalles Chronicle.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is not a mere stimulant to tired nature. It affords the stomach complete and absolute rest by digesting the food you eat. You don't have to diet but can enjoy all the good food you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure instantly relieves that distressed feeling after eating, giving you new life and vigor. Chas. N. Clarke, Glacier Pharmacy.

Hood River orchardists are coming here with splendid exhibits of fruit, and expect to carry off some big prizes. They certainly have the material to do it.—Mountaineer.

"I had long suffered from indigestion," writes G. A. LeDeis, Cedar City, Mo. "Like others I tried many preparations but never found anything that did me good until I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. One bottle cured me. A friend who had suffered similarly found relief from the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. He is gaining fast and will soon be able to work. Before he used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure indigestion had made him a total wreck." Chas. N. Clarke, Glacier Pharmacy.
