She is the one thing needful, a per-petually recurring comfort and consola-tion, a whip and spur to success, the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. The words of her mouth are sweeter than honey and smoother than butter in than honey and smoother than butter in a lordly dish. She is a rod and a staff, she is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother, she is as good news from a far summer, there is said to be a big erop country, and as cold water to a thirsty this year. soul, her counsel is as the counsel of Doyou suf princes, her love is stronger than death, to surgery for relief. DeWitt's Witch Ha-and her hand is the right hand of fellow-ship. Her face is the outward and visi-ble sign of an inward and spiritual grace; she is fair as the moon, clear as the sun and terrible as an army with banners. A light which never shone on sea or land twinkles from her eyes, and like dew on the gowan lying is the fa' o' her fairy feet. For her are wars, peace, fire and sword. For her men spend their strength in gathering gains, and for her men spend their gains gathering strength. Thrones and dominions, principalities and powers, have bowed to her sway: she has crushed empires beneath her feet; the proudest of the sons of men have on bended knee besought her

She soothes the wrinkled brow of age with her soft caresses, she wipes the death dew from the brow of the dying. she performs a thousand acts of grace and gladness to friends and stranger alike, she causes the widow's heart to sing for joy, she kisses away the tears of the orphan. In the first flush of moth-erhood she is the envied of gods and men and all angels, she is a thing of divine beauty as she coos and cuddles to her breast her first born, the first-born among many brethren. Her heart throbs and she weeps tears of sorrow o'er the bed of suffering, her notes of angel sweetness ascends to heaven as she carols the yodlings of peace; they find echo in the outmost depths of perdition as she calls her sons to go forth beneath the banners of war.

It is hers to lift up the fallen, her way is the way in which light dwelleth, she unlooseth her sweet influences and the hands of devildom are unbound. Pub-lic policy, private happiness, domestic peace—everything from a good conscience to a good complexion attends up-on the will of a woman. She can quench the purple fire of love by a ladleful of lukewarm soup, the milk of human kind-ness she can turn into curds and whey by a dish of bony potatoes and Monday washday hash. Every mortal thing. from law, logic, literature and the proper washing of dishes, to science, art, medicine, and the fulfilment of prophecy, is made either better or worse because of her. She is the genius of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness which the framers of the Declaration of Independence declared to be the inalienable rights of man. Her reign is forever and ever. Her beauty knows no horizon Her love knows no limit.
