Hood River Fruit Growers Union.
The annual meeting of stockholders of the Hood River Fruit Growers Union was held in Hood River November 9th. A good attendance of strawberry growers was present, and a quorum was secured at the first roll call. Many of the original stockholders of the union having moved away or gone out of the berry business, it is sometimes a hard matter to get a quorum for the transaction of business at the annual meetings. It was only through the efforts of members who procured proxies from disinterested members that the officers of the union were able to count a quorum this time. The question of how to eliminate enough non-resident stockholders from the roll to assure a quorum at the meetings created some discussion. It was decided by vote to instruct the new board of directors to levy an assessment of at least 50 cents a share. This assedering at least 50 cents a share with a subject to the command and to hand it also all states at the subject of the mail and to hand it to assure a food for the command when the stage arrives and at once begins to sort the mail and to hand it to assure a food for the command when the stage arrives and at once begins to sort the mail and to hand it to assure a quorum at the meetings created some discussion. decided by vote to instruct the new board of directors to levy an assessment of at least 50 cents a share. This as sessment will start a fund for the completion of the union warehouse and also seed their stock or allow it to be sold for them. The question of shipping apples in carload lots by the union was brought up and discussed. The union was brought up and discussed the union if they so desire. If the union handles anything near the full output of the apple growers to ship with the union if they so desire. If the union handles anything near the full output of the apple growers to ship will necessitate the employment of ahipping agent all the year round.
