

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1901.

A "Chief" Among us Takt's Notes.

E. H. Woodward, editor of the Newberg Graphic, who was in Hood River for several days, a short time ago, has this to say of Hood River in his paper: "Four hundred dollars an acre sounds like a pretty stiff price for land but they ask it here without a shrug of the shoulders and then catch their breath in time to make a raise in price before you close the deal. About the best you can hear little else but 'strawberries' and 'big apples.' Growers made good money this season on berries and it is expected next season's crop will be one-third larger. An elderly gentleman from the East, who talks 'smokes,' is showing his faith in the business. He owns extensive apple orchards in Colorado and also in Arkansas, and has had long experience handling fruit. He has invested in extensive apple lands here and talks like a veteran of Balwin's and Ben Davis. Then there is 'Hood River Smith,' who is known all over Oregon as the champion heavy weight in an argument in favor of Hood River apples. Just now he is not doing by back talk but is out of town six or seven miles up the valley looking after his crop. He has a fine home in town and is one of the fortunate ones who got in on the ground floor and helped lay the foundation for the present prosperity of the place. There are lots of Smiths in Hood River but very few localities have a 'Hood River Smith' and there is where they miss it. Wm. Yates, who has looked after the U. S. mail at this point for the past four years, is a relative of the late Governor Yates of Illinois, a very efficient public servant. The office was in the fourth class list when he took charge of it but it has been advanced to the third class and now pays a salary of $1,500 a year. Mr. Yates has a very neat, up to date office and the significant notice, 'No Smoking,' adorns the walls. S. F. Blythe, editor and publisher of the Glacier, gives the people a first-class local paper which seems to be appreciated, as his subscription list is large already and still growing. Mr. Blythe worked at the case in Portland in pioneer days but of later years he finds life at Hood River more to his liking, where he alternates between the Glacier office and a little farm and fruit ranch a little ways out of town. He also owns an elegant home in town overlooking the Columbia and surrounded by massive oaks, for which Hood River is noted. The most widely known character of the little city is Dr. W. L. Adams, a pioneer of 1848, who got his start in old Yamhill. In company with the Glacier scribe, the writer spent an hour in the home of Dr. Adams, and listened to him tell of ye olden time and of the early political history of Oregon, with which the old pioneer, who is now 82 years of age, is very familiar. At one time he published the Argus, at Oregon City, in opposition to the Oregonian which was edited by Thos. Dyer, and the war must have been carried on after the Western style, as Mr. Adams says he carried two revolvers and a big knife at all times, in order to be ready for all emergencies that he thought were liable to be met. Speaking of the present city of Newberg, he said he sold some property at Astoria for $3,400 in an early day, and coming up the river he landed here and footed it across the country with the hard cash stuck in his boot legs, which made walking rather heavy. Before leaving Yamhill county he sold what is known as the Thompson farm, over beyond North Yamhill for $28,000. Dr. Adams has a wonderful memory for names and dates and he has been urged many times to write a history of the early settlement of Oregon, which he is fully competent even at his advanced age to do. When you have a little spare time to spend away from home, by all means take a trip up the Columbia, and a stop-off at Hood River will not be out of the way.

Hood River Grows It.

They raise a strawberry in Oregon of so firm a texture that it stands a five-day trip from the coast and is placed up on the markets of the central West in perfect condition. These berries come on after the home product of the central Western states is gone. We should like to know something more about this berry.—Iowa State Register.

Medals for Hood River.

The following named fruit growers of Hood River and Mt. Hood received medals at the Buffalo exposition, as follows: Gold Medals.—E. L. Smith, Wm. Ehrke, Geo. Booth, W. P. Watson, Silver Medals.—G. L. Rogers, W. W. Nason, G. J. Gessling, E. L. Smith, Bronze Medals.—W. J. Baker, Fred Knudson, D. R. Cooper, G. A. McMurtry, B. R. Tucker, F. G. Church, H. C. Bateham, W. W. Nason. W. P. Watson received honorable mention for corn exhibited. The state of Oregon received medals in the horticultural division as follows: Gold medals, 17; silver medals, 18; bronze medals, 51; honorable mention, 22.

County School Superintendent Gilbert

is making his semi-annual visits to the various schools in the county and hopes to make the rounds of all the districts between now and the holidays. He says from the information at hand the attendance of schools throughout the county is better than it has ever before been during the fall term. New districts are being created wherever necessities demand, and Mr. Gilbert says it is evident to him that there is increased interest being taken in educational matters throughout Wasco county. Hood River's school has an attendance of over 300 and six teachers are employed. This school is doing very excellent work and is the best in the county outside of the Dalles. The attendance in the school at Pine Grove, in Hood River Valley, has so increased that it has been found necessary to employ a second teacher.

Temperance Conference.

Rev. Quincy Lee Morrow of Indiana will preside at the temperance conference to be held at the M. E. church Monday afternoon and evening, Nov. 25, at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m. Rev. F. R. Spindling and Mrs. H. C. Shaffer will also address the meeting in the evening. Good singing. Admission free.

Election Notice.

Notice is hereby given that on the third day of December, 1901, at the O. A. W. hall in the city of Hood River, county of Wasco, state of Oregon, an election will be held for city officers, namely: one mayor, to serve one year; two aldermen, to serve one year; three aldermen, to serve two years; one recorder, to serve one year; one treasurer, to serve one year; which election will be held at 9 o'clock a. m. on the third day of December, 1901, in the afternoon of said day. Judge of Election—J. H. Dukes, L. Clark, Thos. Clark, Clerk, and C. J. Hayes. Dated this 22d day of November, 1901. J. R. NICKLSEN, City Recorder.

Death of E. L. Savage.

Edward Everett Savage died at his home in Hood River, Oregon, at 6:40 o'clock a. m., Nov. 21, 1901. The cause of his death was cancer of the stomach. He took his bed Oct. 12, for the last time. He leaves a widow and two sons—Charles Savage of San Francisco, and Ralph Savage of Hood River. Mr. Savage was born in Augusta, Maine, September 15, 1848. In 1869 his parents moved to Butler county, Iowa, where the subject of this sketch grew to manhood and engaged in business. Among other enterprises he published a newspaper at Parkersburg, Iowa, and also at Shell Rock, Iowa. He was married March 17, 1869, to Mary Elizabeth Burdick, of New Hartford, Iowa. For a number of years he was in the employ of the New England Loan and Trust Co., at Sioux Falls, Des Moines and Omaha. He came to Hood River in February, 1894, and engaged for several years in farming and fruit growing. For the past 15 months he was engaged in the hardware trade in Hood River, and in that time had built up a good business. He was a member of Hood River Lodge No. 105, A. F. and A. M., in which order he was a past master.

Mr. Savage was universally respected, not only for his many noble qualities as a man and a citizen, but also for his great abilities and general knowledge. He was self-made and a remarkable man in many respects. An accomplished parliamentarian, he presided gracefully and with dignity over a deliberative body, or was at home at the blacksmith's forge, or in a carpenter shop, or in a printing office. He was learned in the law, had mastered several languages, could report a speech in shorthand and was an adept at the dead and dumb alphabet. At all times reserved, he never put himself forward, and a stranger might not have taken him to be the erudite scholar and accomplished gentleman that he was. He was a man that would have done honor to himself and a constituency in the halls of congress. In politics he was a life-long republican. In the death of Mr. Savage Hood River loses its most accomplished and useful citizen. Funeral at 2 o'clock, Friday, November 23d, from Masonic temple.

White Salmon News.

Mrs. A. H. Jewett went to Portland Tuesday for a short visit. Miss Mary Cheyne has accepted a position in Spokane as a teacher, and will leave for that place next week. The Artisans will give a dance in Lauterbach's hall on Thanksgiving evening. T. Wyers and daughter, Miss Minnie, went to Fulda, Wash., Friday morning. Miss Francis Hendryx and Wesley Locke were married Sunday afternoon at the home of P. Grosbong. Frank Moore of Trout Lake was in town Tuesday, on his way to Portland. Don't fail to come to the social, to be given at the Congregational church Friday evening, Nov. 23d. W. F. Stadelman was in from Trout Lake Wednesday, and went to The Dalles before returning home. Mrs. Nellie Stewart and her father, A. Cheyne, were here this week looking for a house to rent. They expect to move in two or three weeks. Rev. Dillingham will preach in the Congregational church Sunday, the 24th. Frank Moore went to Portland last Monday and returned the latter part of the week. He reports a very enjoyable trip. Messrs Anna Wetherell and Anna Reynolds returned home Monday evening after a short visit at Carson, Wash. X.

Trout Lake Items.

R. A. Snider, the celebrated dentist from Portland, was out last week to pull teeth. He extracted every tooth in Trout Lake with the exception of two, which were eye-teeth. They were so long that Dr. Snider was afraid the eyes of the patient might be injured. He made his stopping place at W. F. Stadelman's. August Wagnitz, who has been quite sick for a while, went to Portland about two weeks ago to see a doctor. We hope he is improving. Fred Moore is taking care of the family while August is away. The Artisans gave a social dance last Saturday evening, Nov. 23d, at D. F. Morrow's. A good time was had by all present. W. F. Stadelman was a White Salmon visitor a few days ago. Nine new Artisan members were initiated last Saturday, Nov. 10th. Charles Marble informs us that he will no longer drive the meat wagon up to Trout Lake. He made his last trip Saturday.

A Great Circus.

The Masque Skating Carnival to be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 27, the greatest and most amusing affair ever given here. The costumes will all be new, and the many novel features introduced will make it worth your while to attend. The laughing you will do will give you a good appetite for your Thanksgiving dinner. Take the children, go and enjoy yourself; you want regret seeing the coos do the cake walk on skates, or the grand scramble for the yellow-legged chicken. Each speaker will give a numbered ticket and the one holding the lucky number will get a fine fat turkey. Remember, next Wednesday night, Nov. 27th.

Quincy Lee Morrow.

Great reform movements produce great orators. The abolition movement gave us Beecher, Sumner, Phillips, Lincoln. The temperance reform has given to the country a galaxy of star orators—Gough, Finch, Frances Willard, Woolley, Dickey. Our community is fortunate in the opportunity to hear one of the foremost of the younger generation of advocates of this great reform in the person of Quincy Lee Morrow of Indiana, who speaks in the M. E. church Monday, Nov. 25 at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m. The Evening Telegram of Providence, R. I., says: "Mr. Morrow delivered the greatest lecture heard here in twenty years." Admission will be free and the public cordially invited.

Temperance Conference.

Rev. Quincy Lee Morrow of Indiana will preside at the temperance conference to be held at the M. E. church Monday afternoon and evening, Nov. 25, at 2 p. m. and 8 p. m. Rev. F. R. Spindling and Mrs. H. C. Shaffer will also address the meeting in the evening. Good singing. Admission free.

Election Notice.

Notice is hereby given that on the third day of December, 1901, at the O. A. W. hall in the city of Hood River, county of Wasco, state of Oregon, an election will be held for city officers, namely: one mayor, to serve one year; two aldermen, to serve one year; three aldermen, to serve two years; one recorder, to serve one year; one treasurer, to serve one year; which election will be held at 9 o'clock a. m. on the third day of December, 1901, in the afternoon of said day. Judge of Election—J. H. Dukes, L. Clark, Thos. Clark, Clerk, and C. J. Hayes. Dated this 22d day of November, 1901. J. R. NICKLSEN, City Recorder.

The barn of R. Hesting at Lyle, containing 100 tons of hay, was destroyed by fire November 10th. Loss, $1,000.

There are very few apples suitable for shipment sold in Portland. Some pretty fair apples are sold at retail at $1 per box, but the bulk of those for sale would in ordinary years be unmarketable and they retail at all kinds of prices from 50 cents a box up. For really good apples, properly packed, the retail price is from $1.25 to $1.75 per box.—Rural Northwest.

Great Luck of an Editor.

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed," writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kas., "then I was wholly cured by Buckle's Arnica salve." It is the world's best for eruptions, sores and skin diseases. Only 25c at Chas. N. Clarke's.

Busy in Country, Too.

Hood River, Nov. 14, 1901.—Editor Glacier: I noticed in last week's Glacier that you spoke of Hood River being such a busy town. Now, I am more than glad to hear this; but I want to call attention to the fact that the surrounding country is also very busy. If you don't think so, just take a spin around the block some fine day and notice the new houses being built up every side. This with the improvements lately made in some portions of the road, makes a very pleasing sight for those who enjoy the building up of Hood River valley. HAYSEED.

What Throbbing Headache.

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by Chas. N. Clarke, druggist.

WALL PAPER, Paints and Brushes, Oils and Glass.

We have ready-mixed Paints, made by the oldest manufacturer in the world.
