

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1901.

The Prineville Review is very wisely agitating the establishment of a county high school in that town. By virtue of an act of the last legislature, upon petition of one hundred or more qualified electors, taxpayers of the county, the county court must submit the question of maintaining a high school to the legal voters at any general election, and if a majority of the voters so decide, the county court shall locate said school in some suitable place in the county. The county court shall levy a special tax upon all the assessable property of the county sufficient to raise the amount necessary for purchasing a lot, procuring plans and specifications, erecting a building and the cost of running said school for the next twelve months, or they can levy a sum sufficient to cover the cost of conducting the county high school in connection with some public school. The county judge, county commissioners, county treasurer and county school superintendent shall constitute the county high school board.

Such an arrangement ought to work very well in most of the counties of the state, but here in Wasco conditions are such that the location of a high school at the Dalles would be of little or no benefit to Hood River.

The Youth's Companion is undoubtedly the most widely read of any like publication in the world. In many families in the United States it has become almost a household necessity. Although the primary object of the paper is to interest the youth, the articles appeal to young and old alike. The literary style of the publication is of the highest, and among its list of contributors are found the leading men and women of the land. The Companion would make a most acceptable holiday present.

The Shaniko Leader will issue a special New Year's edition, with general write-ups of Sherman, Wasco and Crook counties. John H. Cradlebaugh is assisting in the work. W. F. Snodgrass, representing the special edition of the Leader, was in Hood River last week, securing material for the paper.

Council Proceedings.

An adjourned meeting of the common council was held Thursday evening.

Present—Mayor Broins, Aldermen Bell, Blowers, Barnes, Luckey and McDonald, Recorder Nickelson and Marshal Olinger.

Considerable debate was indulged in concerning the legality of the meeting. The adjournment on the regular meeting night was made by two members outside the council rooms, after they had failed to find enough aldermen to make a quorum. Alderman McDonald handed in a report of the adjourned meeting. Blowers and Luckey argued that the meeting could not be considered legal. The mayor was of opinion that the council was the only authority competent to decide the question. By a vote of 3 to 2 the meeting was declared legal and regular.

Committee on streets and public property reported they had employed a surveyor to give S. E. Barmess the line of the street grade for the extension of his building. Report accepted.

Special committee on extension of First street reported nothing done.

Committee on sewerage reported Surveyor Clark would be in Hood River in a few days.

Committee on leasing Columbia street reported nothing done and was given further time.

Ordinance 45, providing for the passage of ordinances, was read second time and passed.

Ordinance 46, providing for the construction of sidewalks on Oak street, in conformity with the established grade, was read second time.

Blowers moved an amendment, making width of sidewalk seven feet instead of eight. Rejected.

McDonald moved an amendment making the timbers 4x4 where 4x6 is mentioned. Adopted.

Blowers moved that the curb of the sidewalk be made 3x8 instead of 4x16. Adopted.

McDonald moved to amend section 5, giving the slope of the walk a fall of one inch instead of three. Adopted.

Blowers moved an amendment making the time 90 days for the completion of the sidewalks where there are now sidewalks on the line, and 60 days where there are none. Adopted.

Barnes moved the adoption of the ordinance as amended. Bell, Barnes and McDonald voted yes, Blowers no.

Bill of the Glacier, $4.25 for publishing ordinances, was allowed.

Barnes moved that the electric light proposition be taken from the table and acted upon. Adopted.

Bell moved that $20 a month be laid aside for electric lights in the streets and that the committee on streets and public property be instructed to contract for and locate the lights.

Blowers said there was no money in the treasury to lay aside. He was not opposed to lighting the streets if the city had the money. He favored a sewer system before street lights.

Bell withdrew his motion in order to amend. He then moved that the committee on streets and public property be instructed to make a contract with the Electric Light Co. for $20 worth of lights a month for the streets.

Barnes said he was in favor of lighted streets, at least some of them should be lighted. If $20 a month will give us good light, he was in favor of the motion.

Blowers opposed the motion. If adopted we do not know how much light we would get for $20 a month. He was opposed to leaving it to a committee.

Bell spoke in favor of the motion.

McDonald opposed the motion for the reason that he was chairman of the committee on streets and public property. The committee is composed of McDonald, Luckey and Davidson.

Bell said he thought the company would furnish thirty 32-candle-power lights for $20 a month.

On motion of Barnes, Bell's motion was adopted.

Communication from United Artisans, offering to rent their hall to the council for meetings at $1.50 a night and $1 a day for day use, was read.

Blowers moved the proposition be accepted. Adopted.

McDonald moved that after January 1st the marshal's salary be abolished. Adopted.

Adjourned.

Thos. Goss of Columbus will leave shortly for Hood River valley, where he expects to engage in strawberry culture.—Goldendale Agricultural.

More Free Lectures.

The Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip has arranged for two more valuable free lectures for the people of Hood River. Next Tuesday night, at the U. B. church, Professor J. E. Horner of the chair of Latin and history at the Oregon Agricultural College, at Corvallis, will deliver his interesting lecture on the famous Scottish poet, Robert Burns. There will be no admission charges, but at the close of the address a collection will be taken to defray expenses. It is not the intention of the society to make money on these lectures. They are given for the interest and benefit of the people of the town, and those who attend should appreciate the efforts of the society to the extent of a small contribution that will help pay the expense of bringing the lecturers here.

Professor Horner has delivered his lecture on Robert Burns in several of the leading cities on the Pacific coast, and it will be seen from the following newspaper clippings he was everywhere favorably received: "Greatly enjoyed,"—Corvallis Gazette. "A specialist,"—Pacific School Advocate. "1,000 present,"—Clatsopian. "Scholarly and able,"—Echo. "Enthusiastic and interesting,"—Compendium. "Never fails to interest,"—San Francisco Examiner. "Aroused much enthusiasm,"—Oregonian. "Delightful and entertaining,"—Evening Telegram.

On January 31st, Dr. Frank Strong, president of the University of Oregon, at Eugene, will lecture under the auspices of the Brotherhood on the subject: "Youth, the Time for Attainment." Dr. Strong secured his Ph. D. degree at Yale, and is a man of great depth and power as a critic and original thinker. During the three years he has directed affairs at the state university he has come to be recognized as one of the leading workers for higher education on the Pacific coast. As a speaker he is forceful and clear, and it is a pleasure and entertainment to listen to his lectures. Dr. Strong lectured in Hood River two years ago, before the Wasco county teachers' institute, and all who listened to that able address will be glad of the opportunity to hear him again.

The society of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip is a worthy organization whose object is the mental and physical development of its members. The Brotherhood is a national organization, with headquarters in New York, and having branch associations in all parts of the Union. The Hood River chapter was instituted last spring, and now has a membership of 20 young men. The Eastern chapters have a women's auxiliary, which the Hood chapter expects soon to organize.

Within the nine months since the Brotherhood has been instituted in Hood River, the organization has built a $1,200 gymnasium, furnished the same with athletic equipments valued at $100, and has acquired possession of the land on which the building stands, worth an additional $200. More of the material and work on the gymnasium building was donated by members and friends of the society, but the fact that the Brotherhood owns nearly $1,500 worth of property is well for the enterprise and stability of the organization. It is expected that the annual dues will bring in an additional $200, which will go toward securing further equipment for the gymnasium and for a reading room. The society is preparing to open the reading room to be located on the first floor of the gymnasium will be free to the general public. Books and periodicals will be secured by donation and purchase.

The equipment of the gymnasium consists of a horizontal bar, swinging and trick rings, mats, punching bags, indoor baseball, Indian clubs and dumb bells. Additional apparatus will be secured as the funds of the society permit.

The society is arranging for a ballroom with appliances for hot and cold showers. When the society can meet the expense the services of a physical director will be secured for a month or more.

The United Artisans.

The United Artisans held their regular meeting Christmas night and initiated 10 new members, after which there was a programme appropriate to the occasion, and the distribution of presents from three Christmas trees. The literary programme was for the entertainment of the families of the members, who after the business meeting, the Christmas trees were laden with gifts for everybody. After the distribution of the presents, the members enjoyed a couple of hours of dancing, and the evening's entertainment closed with a light luncheon.

Farmers' Short Course.

The Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis offers for the farmers and the farmer's boys an extended farmers' institute, to continue the four weeks from Jan. 14th to Feb. 14, 1902, when the instructors at the college will give a series of popular lectures and practical demonstrations on farm topics and kindred subjects. The whole course is free, there being no charge for tuition, fees, or books. Some of the subjects to be considered are Animal Husbandry, Problems in Agriculture, Agricultural Chemistry, Horticulture, Bacteriology, Making Bacteriology, Insect Pests and Plant Diseases, Vegetable and Flower Gardens. A circular from the college extends an invitation to the farmers to come and take advantage of this free course.

White Salmon News.

B. C. Hamilton came up from Stevenson to spend Christmas in White Salmon.

Mrs. Henderson and daughter, Miss Jennie, of Portland, are guests at the Jewett farm.

A very enjoyable time was had at the home of Miss Minnie Myers, Tuesday evening, the 24th, it being her 20th birthday. Games were played until 10:30 when a delicious dinner was served. The guests left at 12 o'clock, wishing Miss Myers many more happy birthdays.

Ed Eggen came home from Hartland Sunday.

R. F. Cox of Portland was in town Tuesday, and his way to Trout Lake to spend Christmas with friends.

William Kennedy of Hood River is spoken of as a successor of Emily Schaub on the state board of horticulture. If this paper had any influence with the appointing powers it would strongly recommend Mr. Kennedy as a man who would bring to the board a wealth of practical knowledge on all matters pertaining to horticulture that would be of immense benefit especially to the fruit growers of Eastern Oregon.—Dalles Chronicle.

Oregon Apples as Christmas Presents.

A good many boxes of Hood River apples were sent, during the past week, as Christmas presents to friends here and elsewhere. Some must have found their way to the far Eastern states, judging from the amount of the express charges. Few gifts could be more acceptable than a box of Juncos Baldwin's. So Chris Detman thought when he presented such a gift to the Mt. Hood hotel. The proprietor in turn placed them at the disposal of his guests, at Christmas dinner. Mr. Detman has also placed some fancy specimens of his fruit in the exhibit case in the hotel office.

Mrs. Henderson and daughter, Miss Jennie, of Portland, are guests at the Jewett farm.

A very enjoyable time was had at the home of Miss Minnie Myers, Tuesday evening, the 24th, it being her 20th birthday. Games were played until 10:30 when a delicious dinner was served. The guests left at 12 o'clock, wishing Miss Myers many more happy birthdays.

Ed Eggen came home from Hartland Sunday.

R. F. Cox of Portland was in town Tuesday, and his way to Trout Lake to spend Christmas with friends.

William Kennedy of Hood River is spoken of as a successor of Emily Schaub on the state board of horticulture. If this paper had any influence with the appointing powers it would strongly recommend Mr. Kennedy as a man who would bring to the board a wealth of practical knowledge on all matters pertaining to horticulture that would be of immense benefit especially to the fruit growers of Eastern Oregon.—Dalles Chronicle.

Oregon Apples as Christmas Presents.

A good many boxes of Hood River apples were sent, during the past week, as Christmas presents to friends here and elsewhere. Some must have found their way to the far Eastern states, judging from the amount of the express charges. Few gifts could be more acceptable than a box of Juncos Baldwin's. So Chris Detman thought when he presented such a gift to the Mt. Hood hotel. The proprietor in turn placed them at the disposal of his guests, at Christmas dinner. Mr. Detman has also placed some fancy specimens of his fruit in the exhibit case in the hotel office.
