

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1902.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

F. B. Barnes, Notary Public. Money to loan on real estate. A. A. Jayne Ask your grocer for Pure White Flour. Write your insurance with Friday & Barnes. For good results in bread making, use Pure White Flour. The Born range is the best high grade range for low price. Pure White Flour is the best flour sold in Hood River. For loggers' shoes go to Bone & McDonald's. No. 1 baled hay for sale at the Transfer & Livestock Co. Cross-cut saws, axes and all woodmen and loggers' tools at Savage's. Bargains in watches for the next 30 days at Chas. Riggs' the jeweler. If you want good bread, use Pure White Flour. Friday & Barnes will write deeds, mortgages, leases, etc. Buy your hay, grain and flour of the Hood River Feed & Commission Co. Bed bugs are holding indignation meetings all over the valley, all on account of Bartness' iron bedsteads. Wanted—The party who wrote to Mrs. Frohman, Portland, Dec. 16th, about Lund baskets, to write at once; they forgot to sign name. Lost—A collarless. Finder will please leave at this office. Dr. M. F. Shaw, formerly of Hood River but now of a suburb, spent Tuesday in town, returning Wednesday. The Dalles football team defeated the Hesper seven in a well-played game, last Monday, by a score of 14 to 0. Letters remained unclaimed in the post office, Dec. 31st, for Ellis Baker, Hugh McKee and W. T. John F. Hillstrom was remembered Christmas day by a gift of $5 from his old friend Judge Erikson of Eugene, Wash. John F. Hillstrom finished building an addition to George Booth's house last Monday. The addition is 14x20, story and one-half. Miss Grace Litch and Earl Sanders (The Dalles) spent Saturday and Sunday in Hood River, the guests of Clara and Ned Blythe. William J. Gerlach of Forest Grove, traveling salesman for Allen Gilbert's music store of Portland, was in Hood River during the week. John Leland Henderson of the Real Estate Emporium announces that the price of the late Spang's addition has been reduced from $2 to $180 per lot. Grant Evans sold his residence property to Wm. Boorman, consideration, $500. The Real Estate Emporium of John Leland Henderson made the transfer. The party who got a black hat Wednesday night at the Arlington hall, with initials J. S. on the band, can exchange it for his own by calling at Booth's store. The glacier was in error last week in stating that Mrs. Peter Mohr had drawn a sewing machine at The Dalles Catholic fair. Mrs. John A. Mohr was the fortunate one. Mrs. C. H. Gordon of Des Moines, Iowa, and children, Fay and Harper, arrived Tuesday morning for an extended visit with her brother and family, Mr. C. H. Gordon. Deenberg & Son made C. R. Deems happy, December 31st, by transferring to him a home in our valley. Mr. Deems is a young man at Boyd, Oregon, but expects to make his home in our valley. W. J. Holman came down from Moro to spend the holidays with his parents and relatives. He has been helping to build some of the big brick buildings in that progressive town and sprained himself. E. L. Bradley, Hood River's up-to-date job printer, found his increasing business to be so much of a tax on his feet and has installed a motor for the operation of his two jobs. Joe Wilson, a well-known printer, if you don't find your contribution for the Glacier in this week's paper it may appear next week. There is a large stock of books to fill the Glacier. And some of it is the editor's choicest production, but it will not keep. The Sunday school children of the Valley Christian church rendered a good program on Christmas eve. The school house was well filled with gifts and remembrances for all. The house was crowded and a good time is reported. Mrs. J. S. Elison spent Christmas with relatives in Hood River. Mr. Elison came up Saturday and spent the night with his family. He is now working in the general office of the O.R. & N. in Portland, having recently been promoted. C. D. Moore of White Salmon, the man who is always ahead of everybody else in raising garden truck, remained in Hood River on the Oregon side with liberal allowances of apparatus for their New Year's dinners. And the Glacier was not forgotten. Hood River lodge, No. 105, A. F. and A. M., initiated the following list of officers, last Friday night: Wm. Adams, president; Wm. Adams, W. W. Cole, J. W. D. McDonald, Glen C. Thompson, sec. Truman Butler, S. D. Green, F. A. D. L. Phelps, T. Wednesday evening, January 8th, Rev. W. G. Elliot will hold his regular monthly service in A. O. U. E. hall. His subject will be "The Teachings of Jesus Concerning Human Happiness." Mr. Elliot's sermons are growing in favor by Hood River people, and his audiences are larger every meeting. The program of the Christmas exercises, held last week at the Trapper school house, has been received but lack of space prevents its publication. The entertainment was gotten up by Professor Arness and the pupils of the school. The program was printed by means of a micrograph and made very creditable sources. The Valley Christian church will begin a protracted meeting Sunday, January 6th. Rev. J. B. Lister of Eugene, state evangelist for the Christian church, will preach each evening with the meeting continues. The singing led by Jesse Ensmel, will be an attractive feature of the meeting. The services will begin at 7:30 each evening. C. J. Metcalf who purchased the Hayden place at Belmont, last summer, and whose family now reside on the place, returned from North Dakota Monday. Mr. Metcalf has been employed as engineer on the Northern Pacific in Dakota. He finds an agreeable change in the weather, from 30 and 20 degrees below zero in Dakota to 60 above in Hood River. He came to Hood River this time to visit. Chas. F. Warren of Portland, assistant manager of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company, of Springfield, Mass., was in Hood River during the week. Mr. Warren was recently promoted to his present position from that of cashier for the company's agency in Portland. The Glacier publishes the receipt of a handsome calendar, the compliments of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company. The oak tree that stood in the sidewalk by the Langille house is no more. Like those in the night, vandals, came early Monday morning, before good citizens got down town, and removed the thing of beauty. This tree stood in the middle of the sidewalk, where it interfered with no one. The sidewalk could have been built just the same if the tree had been allowed to stand, and no one would have been inconvenienced by it. In the least, some people seem to think our town will never amount to much till its beauty is destroyed by the removal of the oak trees.

The citizens of The Dalles gave an elaborate banquet, Saturday night, to the members of the Wasco Warehouse Milling company, the occasion being a celebration in honor of the enterprising company that had succeeded in bringing electric power into the city, from White River, 30 miles distant. The affair took place in the spacious dining hall of the Umatilla house, where covers were laid for 160. Mayor Farley presided and toasts were responded to by prominent citizens and business men of the town. The immediate use of the power will be the operation of the Wasco Flouring mill. It is expected that other enterprising ventures will be developed in the near future. Professor J. B. Horner, dean of the state agricultural college at Corvallis, while in Hood River Tuesday, was a caller at the Glacier office. Professor Horner was on his way home from LaGrande, where, Monday night, he attended to the people of that town. The professor says his college has as fine a lot of students from Hood River as from any part of the state, and he spoke in complimentary terms of them all. Miss Carrie Byrbee, a member of the sophomore class, has been one of the brightest students in the college. The Davidson Fruit Co. sent out circulars to its patrons, January 1st, containing the following statement: "In taking another inventory we find the principal item in the available surplus to be a large fund of thanks and good wishes from our many customers and show our full appreciation of your courtesies and patronage, have declared a dividend from this year in favor of our customers and inclose a draft herewith for the amount due you, and hope you will realize upon it fully." The draft was a slight demand on the bank of prosperity for 36 happy days. Hon. Leslie Butler was in attendance at the banquet held at night, given by the citizens of The Dalles to the members of the Wasco Warehouse Milling company. Extra copies of the Glacier of this date for sale at 5 cents a copy.

Lodge-Lamon. A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bradley on New Year's day, the contracting parties being Mr. Henry F. Lage and Miss Violet Grace Lamon, both of Hood River. The ceremony which united the happy couple was performed by Rev. F. J. Spaulding at 2 o'clock, with the relatives and friends of the groom and best man, and the bride and bridesmaids. The groom is a young farmer of the East side and is universally respected for his sterling worth and character. The bride is the youngest sister of Mrs. E. R. Bradley, and arrived in Hood River from her home about a year ago. The young couple were the recipients of a number of beautiful and valuable presents, one of which was a beautiful china-ware from Representative M. A. Moody of The Dalles. Mr. and Mrs. Lage will be at home at Pine Grove after January 10th.

Resolutions. Whereas, Our heavenly Father, always loving and wise, on the morning of Nov. 23, 1891 took to that temple, "not made with hands, eternal in the heavens," our beloved brother, Edward Everett Sanders, a devoted husband, father, friend and neighbor, and a true patriot, whose life was ever a noble and heroic one, and whose death was a loss to his still heavier bereavement and loss; Resolved, That we hereby record our appreciation of the high moral character and estimable worth of our departed brother, whose kindly graces as an ardent Mason, an upright citizen, and a loving husband and father were ever radiant and rare. Resolved, That his life, which was ever ready to be sacrificed for the welfare and prosperity of his country, and his noble and heroic character, be forever remembered and honored, and that we strive to emulate his noble and heroic character, and to be true to his memory and to the principles of his life. Resolved, That we strive to be true to his memory and to the principles of his life. Resolved, That we strive to be true to his memory and to the principles of his life.

Death of P. F. Bradford. Putnam F. Bradford, whose death occurred at his late residence in this city, at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, Dec. 30, 1891, caused by a complication of diseases incident to old age, was born in the famous Berkshire Hills at Sheffield, Mass., on May 25, 1827, making his age at death, 74 years, 7 months and 5 days. Mr. Bradford came from the most honored ancestry of our country, being the seventh lineal descendant of Governor William Bradford of Plymouth colony. All his ancestors bore an honorable part in the development of our national life. His father was a congregational minister, and for 40 consecutive years was the stated pastor of one church, at Sheffield. In 1849, Mr. Bradford, associated with others, purchased a small ocean craft, and in it sailed from Boston around Cape Horn to San Francisco, the trip occupying six months. After mining in California several years, he returned to Oregon and soon became interested in the Oregon Steam Navigation Co., doing business mostly on the Columbia river. This company did a large transportation business during the 50's and 60's, and was one of the largest of that era. During many years of traffic, Mr. Bradford was a familiar figure at Portland, Oregon City, Vancouver and other places, and besides superintending the work of a large transportation company, was the principal mover in building the railway on Washington side from the lower to the upper cascades, and also the historic river steamer Hassalo, Oneonta and Mary P. Flint, the latter being the maiden name of his mother. He was associated in business enterprises with such men as Jacob Kamm, Capt. Ainsworth, R. R. Thompson, W. S. Ladd and others who became the leading capitalists of the Northwest. In 1865 the Oregon Steam Navigation company was disposed of, and thereafter Mr. Bradford lived for some time in Massachusetts, as well as in California. He also developed and carried on large mining enterprises in Idaho, and near Baker City. For about 25 years previous to coming to Hood River, in 1896, Mr. Bradford lived near Portland, and was engaged in fruit growing. On March 28, 1862, deceased was joined in marriage at Cascade Locks with Miss Helen B. Palmer, who died very suddenly Dec. 21, 1897. Five children were born to this union, four dying in infancy. Mr. Bradford was a man of high and noble ideals, a kind husband and father, generous and noble in his bearing to others, well informed on the general topics of the times, and an interesting and forceful personality. Religiously, he had deep convictions, and firmly believed in the God, his father, and in that abiding faith entered into his heavenly reward. An aged brother, A. G. his son, P. F. Bradford, Jr., and Mrs. A. B. Canfield, who lived in his home many years and whom he tenderly regarded as a daughter and a sister, as well as other relatives in New England and California, deeply mourn the loss of a loving brother, and father and our city one of its most honorable and upright citizens. Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. L. Hersher, at the Congregational church on Wednesday, at 10 a. m., with interment in the family plot at Idlewild cemetery.
