

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1902.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

F. B. Barnes, Notary Public.
$10,000 to loan by Friday & Barnes.
Money to loan on real estate. A. A. Jayne.
Write your insurance with Friday & Barnes.
A light and heavy wagon to trade for wood or sell at the Transfer Co.
Money to Loan—In sums from $75 up to $4,000, by Friday & Barnes.
For loggers' shoes go to Bone & McDonald's.
No. 1 baled hay for sale at the Transfer & Livery Co.
List your property with Friday & Barnes.
For flour and feed go to Bone & McDonald's.
Ladies' underwear extra sizes at Bone & McDonald's.
T. Goss found a mackintosh and left it at this office for the owner.
Cross-cut saws, axes and all woodmen and loggers' tools at Savage's.
Friday & Barnes will write deeds, mortgages, leases, etc.
Don't buy your wall paper elsewhere when you can get it at the Wall Paper Emporium for 3 cents a roll up.

For Sale—New house and lot; lot 50, 1/2 good well and 30 fruit trees; price $250. Inquire of Friday & Barnes.
Bed bugs are holding independent meetings all over the valley, all on account of Bartness' iron bedsteads.
Order your dressed chickens for your Sunday dinner at the Kerk's meat market. They are the best and the prices are right.
We are now making a line of fancy cakes, almond macaroons, cream puff, etc., at Boyle's Bakery.
Just received, a fresh lot of T. M. Sinclair smoked meats, breakfast bacon, hams, dry salt pork, bacon, backs, etc. We guarantee our meats and give prompt service at McGuire Bros' market.

Life seems not so full of promise, when the frost is in the meadows and the wood pile's half spent.

Feifer's Union Seegar at W. B. Cole's. Frankton school district levied a tax of 7 mills.

The best to smoke in town—Feifer's Union, at W. B. Cole's.
S. J. LaFrance of Portland was in town Monday on a short business trip.

McGuire Bros' meat market will be closed hereafter on Sundays during the winter months.

Lists of candidates for county offices in Hood River but none of them are bold enough to announce their candidacy. Letters remaining in the post office, January 27th, for Mrs. B. E. Westland, Clayton S. Cook and S. R. Winans.

The Knights of the Macabees will meet at Artisan's hall Friday evening. The attendance of every member is earnestly desired.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Rand and son Harvey will move to University Park in a few days, where they will make their home temporarily.

The attendance at the public school is rather light during this spell of weather. But there is a good turnout on the coasting hills, and the skating is good.

Next Sunday is groundhog day. If that much-told of animal is as wise as he is credited with being by some people he will never venture out in weather like this, shadow or no shadow.

The firm of Cole & Graham dissolved partnership. W. B. Cole purchased Wm. Graham's interest and will go it alone. He will continue to furnish the rest of everything in his line of goods.

At the meeting of Canby post, G.A.R., last Saturday, a committee to make arrangements to properly observe Lincoln's day was appointed. The committee consists of T. J. Gunning, A. S. Blowers and E. D. Calkins.

The cold snap is severe on house plants, and many of the choicest are now in the care and yellow owing to Jack Frost's visit. The tenderest plants that were left in the windows the first night of the freeze.

Dallas, the plumber, is reaping a harvest. Bursted water pipes all over town make loud calls for Dallas. His chuckle of satisfaction when listening to a tale of woe from the owner of a bursted pipe is worth going a mile to witness, except to the victim. Looks like Jack Frost and Dallas were in cahoots.

Bert Rand was up from Portland during the past two weeks helping to care for his brother Harvey, who is recovering and is about as usual. Their father, M. V. Rand, has also been sick. He had a severe attack of the grip, but was out last Saturday for the first time in ten days.

No examinations of applicants for common school certificates will be made in the state of Washington during the month of February for the reason that funds appropriated for this work have been exhausted. The next examination will be held in May, and in the meantime temporary certificates will be granted to teachers who may need them.

Grant Evans and family moved to Portland last Saturday. They went away rather unexpectedly, as the family had expected to remain here three weeks after Mr. Evans sold his business. Mr. Evans is in the Sound country, looking for a place to locate, but he may conclude to locate in Portland. The family will be missed by their many friends in Hood River.

Marshall Leberg received a telegram from Representative Malcolm A. Moody, on Monday, stating that the house had passed the urgent deficiency bill, increasing the rural mail carriers pay $100 annually from February 1st. This is a pretty good starter and Mr. Moody will have the thanks of all rural mail carriers, but it is not enough yet. Marshall Leberg will now get $600 a year, and out of this limited salary he has to keep and feed a horse.

The cold snap shut off the electric lights in Hood River Friday morning, about 7 o'clock, and since then the light of other days has been brought again into use by patrons of the Electric Light Co. The slash ice running into the company's ditch clogged up and checked off the water. There seems to be no way at present to prevent the ice forming in the ditch, and we'll have to grope about in the dark at night till the backbone of winter is broken by the visit of a chinook.

At a meeting of the woman's missionary society at the Congregational church, last Sunday evening, Mrs. C. H. Gordon of Des Moines, Ia., made a very able and forcible address on some of the moral issues of the day. The speaker departed in a most interesting manner the evils of the sabbath desecration. Her gifts of mind and heart and earnestness of purpose entitle her to a place among the foremost workers in our land. Mrs. Gordon is a sister of Dr. F. C. Bronius.

J. H. Gorde, the efficient janitor for the Hood River school building, showed the Glacier man through the basement of the building last Friday, and showed the workings of the two furnaces which heat the building. The furnaces are giving good satisfaction. About 30 cords of wood are required to heat the building for the term of eight months school.

The basement is the playground of the pupils in stormy weather, and here they assemble to eat their lunches. Some more excavating is needed to give the school children more room in the basement.

Ed Berdan, wife and boy of Jefferson, Ore., are visiting Oscar Stranahan and other relatives and old friends in Hood River. Mr. Berdan and wife were formerly members of Hood River, but have been gone from here something over 10 years. Mr. Berdan, although a constant reader of the Glacier, was much surprised to see the changes that has taken place in Hood River. He finds there are still some of the old-timers left, but most of the people are new strangers to him. He thinks Geo. P. Crowell doesn't look a day older than he did ten years ago. Mr. Berdan is now a fruit grower. He has a ranch near Jefferson on which is 111 acres in all kinds of fruit.

F. B. Braze had the misfortune to be run over by a falling scantling two weeks ago. He has since suffered severely with the hurt. His steam wood saw has arrived and is now in use. Tuesday, while eating his supper, the lubricator bowl on his machine froze up and bursted, necessitating his sending to Portland for another. Call upon the steam wood saw when you have wood to cut. He can saw your wood while you wait.

A prohibition alliance has been organized in Hood River with a large membership. J. E. Hanna was elected president of the organization. His secretary is H. C. Shaffer, assistant secretary; H. H. Feak, chaplain; L. Butler, treasurer; Harry Lewis, marshal. Next meeting will be held at the M. E. church next Monday evening at 7:30. Everybody invited to be present.

Bert Graham gets his rations of milk from his neighbor, J. R. Nicks. The milk is left in a tin bucket on Friday post, and Bert calls every morning to take it home. One morning recently he found the bucket empty. He went with a taste for the lactical fluid, and who, evidently, had never been weaned, came along in the night and drank the milk.

The Valley Christian church is filled every night by people interested in the debate between Elders J. W. Jenkins and A. M. Chase. They are coming from all parts of the valley. It is said to be the coldest of the season. It's a cold day when Dukes Valley gets left.

Frank A. Gram is having his new store room in the Otten block prepared for his full line of up-to-date goods. He will open up in fine shape in his new store room, but in the meantime his clearance sale goes on at his old stand, offering large bargains to get more money to buy more goods.

Tuesday Geo. Wood was brought to The Dallas hospital from Hood River, and this morning Dr. Ferguson operated on him for abscess of the kidney. The patient was in a bad condition, but seems to be doing nicely this afternoon.

Eight diplomas for pupils of the Frankton school arrived last week, have been signed by County School Superintendent Gilbert, and are now at the Letters remaining in the post office, can be had by those who earned them.

Williams & Brosius hoped to get into their new store room in the Otten block by February 1st, but owing to a failure to get lumber for the shoving, etc., their removal will be delayed till later in the month.

B. E. Prather, 15th infantry, Co. H, who was mustered out in Manila last long ago, arrived in Eugene yesterday to spend a day or so with friends here before going to his home in Hood River. Eugene Register.

Geo. D. Culbertson on Wednesday received the news of the death of his father, who died suddenly at his home at Savanna, Indian territory. He was 78 years of age.

The teachers of the public school report that the building has been warmed during this cold spell, with an even temperature of 68 degrees.

Indian Nellie was found at her home Thursday morning, sick and dying. She was taken to Dr. Adams' store, where she will remain until after the storm.

The same old chronic who kicked about the heat of last summer are now found in the woods about this "heavily cold weather."

Miss Alveta Hoadley has a typewriter in the office of Friday & Barnes, where she is prepared to do typewriting and bookbinding work.

Driggs, Culbertson & Co. will soon remove to the office formerly occupied by Prather & Barnes, corner Second and Oak streets.

Dallas Knights are preparing to entertain 200 visitors during the convention which is to be held there on February 1st.

Miss Laura Hill, who is attending high school in Portland, is home on a couple of weeks vacation.

It is now fashionable among Hood River's 400 to hire a hall in which to entertain their friends.

Barrett school district voted a 12 mill levy, and decided to have seven months of school.

Friday & Barnes moved into their new quarters across the street on Tuesday.

Mrs. Bishop of Pendleton is visiting her niece, Mrs. A. B. Canfield.

The man who borrowed Dallas' snow shovel is requested to return it.

Pine Grove school district voted ten mills. Odell district six mills. Crapper district six of five mills.

Coming Out All Right.

Our Richard M. Hunt, who was arrested and taken to Portland about six weeks ago by a deputy U. S. marshal and confined in the city jail, has made a full confession, and will come out all right. After telling several conflicting stories about his army service and former life, he finally got down to the truth. He acknowledged that his name was not Hunt, that he had assumed that name after deserting from the regular army in 1867. He gave as a reason for desertion the cruelty of his captain, who had punished him for some little infraction of discipline by having him tied up by the thumbs.

He now confesses that his name is Benjamin Franklin Snyder. He enlisted in the 18th Missouri regiment in 1864 and was honorably discharged therefrom in 1865. He then enlisted in the regulars and deserted as before stated. Because of his desertion he assumed another name to avoid detection. He labored under the impression all these years that he was liable at any time for arrest and punishment for his desertion from the regular army. Besides having served more than a year as a volunteer in the civil war and been honorably discharged, he did not want it said about him that he was a deserter.

United States District Attorney Hall of Portland took his confession and communicated with the department at Washington, where it was found that his record was straight as he had told it. It was also found that Benjamin Franklin Snyder had deserted from the regular army and at the time stated. The district attorney says Snyder's case now does not look so bad, and that he may not be prosecuted further. He may expect Snyder home in a short time. If Snyder had made application for a pension under his true name, he might have been on the pension list years ago. His old soldier friends will be glad to learn that he is coming out all right. With them the fact that he was honorably discharged after serving over a year in the civil war will cover a multitude of sins. He will be forgiven for the many war stories he filled us with of his service prior to 1864.

The School Meeting.

The school meeting last Friday, called for the purpose of voting a tax for school purposes for the coming year, was probably the smallest attendance of the kind ever held in Hood River. There were present the three directors, Capt. Blouers, D. McDonald and T. R. Coon; Clerk Geo. T. Prather, and E. L. Smith, N. C. Evans, Capt. J. H. Dukes, Rev. J. W. Right and the Glacier reporter. Clerk Prather had placed his report of the receipts and expenditures of the district for the past year on the black-board, which read as follows:

From county school fund	$1,130.34
From state school fund	473.36
From tax	2,421.67
From rents	80.00
Paid out
Interest on bonds	280.00
Salaries	2,715.21
Insurance	68.00
Books	173.80
Wood, incidentals, clerk	175.00
Furnace	313.50
Cash on hand	388.76

N. C. Evans stated that the assessment for this year was $229,000, against $129,000 last year, the levy of last year could be cut in two, or more, and still there would be sufficient to pay all expenses of the district. He moved that 2 1/2 mills be levied to pay interest on bonds. Carried.

E. L. Smith moved that 4 1/2 mills be levied for school purposes. Carried.

Last year the tax levied in this district was 18 1/2 mills.

Trout Lake Items.

About thirty friends and neighbors gathered last Wednesday evening to surprise Miss Anna Martz, the occasion being her 17th birthday, and the surprise was complete. Games and dancing were indulged in until about midnight. After an excellent supper the participants departed for their respective homes, hoping that Amelia may have many such happy birthdays.

Dr. Griffin and Miss Anna Martz have been in Trout Lake for about a week, but owing to Dr. Snider's recent visit, they did not get many patients.

The county superintendent, C. M. Ryan, was out here visiting the schools a few days last week.

Crupper Croppings.

You can hear the sleigh bells in all parts of the valley now. Snow fell to the depth of about six inches on Friday last. The young people are making good use of their sleighs while they can.

Several sleighing parties out Saturday night met at the home of J. H. Shoop and enjoyed themselves with a dance until midnight, when all started on their homeward trip, none the worse for wear.

Chas. Stranahan and Milton McClellan are talking of going to California soon on a pleasure trip, and if they like the country they will probably stay a few months.

Mr. Strang has taken a contract for grubbing and getting ready for planting of 25 acres of land on the Jones place. Mr. Blocher is figuring on a ten acre contract on the same place. Six months ago this land was covered with under brush and oak and pine timber. Dodge Bros. slashed 65 acres last fall and graded out several acres of pine and oak this winter. Mr. Scroggins and some have also grubbed several acres on this land, and there is a large amount of work to be done yet before the place is in shape for a fruit ranch as intended. Being situated on the river bottom, it is sheltered from the high winds and will make a fine fruit farm when gotten in proper shape.

Rev. D. D. Dodge preached at the Crapper school house Sunday. He will preach at the same place the fourth Sunday in each month hereafter.

E. E. Lyons is on the sick list.

Sunday night a party of young folks went out for a sleigh ride, when down about Indian creek, the sleigh was nearly overturned and the occupants were chilled out in the cold snow. Fortunately no one was injured. Whether the driver had been to town that day or not we will mention no more.

J. R. Carnahan was breaking his mare to work single on Monday.

Tommy Bishop says it is too cold to keep bachelor's hall now and is over. Ike.

Barrett School.

Following is the report of Barrett school for month ending January 24, 1902:

Whole number of days' attendance, 1072; whole number of days' absence, 90; whole number of times late, 9. Those neither absent nor tardy were:

Waldo Emerson, Harry Richardson, Lena Newton, Elsie Lewis, Viola Wilson, Laura Hinrichs, Carl Galligan, Ernest Smith, Jesse Short, Bertha Copley, Zel Bridges, Howard Schumaker, Freda Hinrichs, Hulda Hinrichs, Ben Gerking, Alma Hinrichs, Willie Gibbons, Carl Ellington, Lee Steverson, Clifford Helms, Emma Gibbons, Charlie Sonniksen, Lavona Moore, Joe Gerking, Kent Shoemaker, John Wiersch, Lloyd Bishop, Arner Copley, Armer Tanney, Elaine Short, Wesley Markham, Floyd Arnold, Mabel Jenkins, Erling Ellingsen, Orland Moore, Leslie Sherrick.

L. E. BRIDGES, Principal.
COXA COPPEL, Assistant.

Prineville has a small pox scare. Two men with the disease came in from a camp and all persons known to have been exposed by them are quarantined. The schools were closed. The Review says: A guard was placed at the northern approach to the city, with instructions to allow no one to enter the city who had been exposed to the small pox.

This disease first started on Johnson's creek, some 7 or 8 miles from Prineville, and also on Mill creek, and those who had it in Prineville were exposed to it at those places.

We have no doubt but that this disease is small pox in a very mild form. It seems to be the same disease that infected Eastern Oregon in various places for the past two years. Some of the cases are not small pox, but a specimen of Manila itch, or something else, but all realize the fact that it is contagious, and not a very good thing to have in your neighborhood. It is being made by the city authorities to stamp out this disease and prevent its spreading.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to express through the Glacier my thanks for the sympathy and kindness shown by the Workmen lodge and the good people of the community during the sickness and death of my dear wife, the late H. L. Crapper.

Mrs. IDA CRAPPER.

A Dying Man's Request.

"You are dying," said the doctor to the man on his death bed.

"And do you really think I am going?" asked the man.

"Yes, I know it," said the doctor.

The dying man turned his head and looking at the lawyer who had come to make out his last will, said: "And do you think I am dying?"

"Yes, I am sure," said the lawyer.

The dying man then said to the doctor: "How much do I owe you?"

"About $100," said the doctor.

He had been in attendance about three days.

Then the dying man turned to the lawyer who had given about three hours' attention to making of a will. "How much do I owe you?"

"About $100," said the lawyer.

"Well," said the dying man, "will both of you kneel on each side of my bed when I am dying?"

"Why do you make such a request?" said the doctor and lawyer.

"Well," said the dying man, "it will be a great satisfaction to me to die in the same manner that my Saviour died—between two thieves."

Samuel B. Jones, an old employee of the O. S. N. Co., and later the O.R.N. at the Cascades, died in Portland January 28th. He was 70.

A Successful Affair.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season occurred last Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bone, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Graham entertained in the Artisan hall. The evening's entertainment began by playing whist. Ladies first prize was awarded to Miss Anne Smith—a silver pickle fork; second prize, Edwin J. Hartman—a china plate. Gentlemen's first prize was awarded to J. S. Booth—a silver-mounted collar-button box; second prize to Mr. Otten—a magnifying cutter. A delicious lunch was served, after which dancing was indulged in for a couple of hours. The following were the invited guests: Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bone, and Mrs. G. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Friday, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rand, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Crum, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Butler, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Dumble, and Mrs. W. B. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Davidson, and Mrs. W. M. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jayne, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rand, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gilbert, Dr. and Mrs. Brosius, Dr. and Mrs. Carns, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Wharton, Mesdames J. E. Connell, W. R. Nicks, E. Reid, E. B. Canfield, the Misses Mella White, Agnes Dukes, Mella Olinger, Carrie Butler, Caroline Booth, Alveta Hoadley, Master Lewis, Anne Smith, Lizzie Roberts, Clara Blythe, Messrs A. P. Bateham, Will, Louis and Arthur Davidson, D. E. Rand, C. A. Bell, Mr. Otten, Ralph Savage, Wm. Graham, J. S. Booth.

Death of H. L. Crapper.

Harvey L. Crapper died at Salem, Ore., January 23, 1902. He was born in Webster City, Iowa, April 19, 1855.

Deceased was an old resident of Hood River valley. He came here from Portland in 1885 and followed farming in the Crapper district till about a year ago, when his health failed him.

He leaves a widow and three children. He was a member of Riverside lodge, A. O. U. W. of Hood River. Funeral services were preached in the Valley Christian church on Saturday, and he was buried in Idlewild.

The Portland Telegram tells of a man in East Portland receiving a box of perenniums from Kansas and distributing the same to the people of Hood River. Hood River has a perennium tree he received from his old home in Virginia. It has been growing on his place for years. It blooms every year but has a scant bearer. It may be that it needs fertilizing trees of the same kind to fertilize the bloom. The Telegram says: "Besides their value as a potted plant, the wood from the big perennium tree is said to be very hard and fine grained, and makes excellent mallets and chisel handles. When properly seasoned it is so tough that a thin layer of the wood will pound out without splitting. Trees attain a height of 40 feet and a maximum diameter of 12 inches."

Our Closing Out Line of Shoes

Include dress shoes, loggers and heavy shoes for men, dress shoes and every-day shoes for women and children. In fact, bargains for everybody. We want our money out of these goods to put into Spring goods.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Death of H. L. Crapper.

Harvey L. Crapper died at Salem, Ore., January 23, 1902. He was born in Webster City, Iowa, April 19, 1855.

Deceased was an old resident of Hood River valley. He came here from Portland in 1885 and followed farming in the Crapper district till about a year ago, when his health failed him.

He leaves a widow and three children. He was a member of Riverside lodge, A. O. U. W. of Hood River. Funeral services were preached in the Valley Christian church on Saturday, and he was buried in Idlewild.

The Portland Telegram tells of a man in East Portland receiving a box of perenniums from Kansas and distributing the same to the people of Hood River. Hood River has a perennium tree he received from his old home in Virginia. It has been growing on his place for years. It blooms every year but has a scant bearer. It may be that it needs fertilizing trees of the same kind to fertilize the bloom. The Telegram says: "Besides their value as a potted plant, the wood from the big perennium tree is said to be very hard and fine grained, and makes excellent mallets and chisel handles. When properly seasoned it is so tough that a thin layer of the wood will pound out without splitting. Trees attain a height of 40 feet and a maximum diameter of 12 inches."

Our Closing Out Line of Shoes

Include dress shoes, loggers and heavy shoes for men, dress shoes and every-day shoes for women and children. In fact, bargains for everybody. We want our money out of these goods to put into Spring goods.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Death of H. L. Crapper.

Harvey L. Crapper died at Salem, Ore., January 23, 1902. He was born in Webster City, Iowa, April 19, 1855.

Deceased was an old resident of Hood River valley. He came here from Portland in 1885 and followed farming in the Crapper district till about a year ago, when his health failed him.

He leaves a widow and three children. He was a member of Riverside lodge, A. O. U. W. of Hood River. Funeral services were preached in the Valley Christian church on Saturday, and he was buried in Idlewild.

The Portland Telegram tells of a man in East Portland receiving a box of perenniums from Kansas and distributing the same to the people of Hood River. Hood River has a perennium tree he received from his old home in Virginia. It has been growing on his place for years. It blooms every year but has a scant bearer. It may be that it needs fertilizing trees of the same kind to fertilize the bloom. The Telegram says: "Besides their value as a potted plant, the wood from the big perennium tree is said to be very hard and fine grained, and makes excellent mallets and chisel handles. When properly seasoned it is so tough that a thin layer of the wood will pound out without splitting. Trees attain a height of 40 feet and a maximum diameter of 12 inches."

Our Closing Out Line of Shoes

Include dress shoes, loggers and heavy shoes for men, dress shoes and every-day shoes for women and children. In fact, bargains for everybody. We want our money out of these goods to put into Spring goods.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Death of H. L. Crapper.

Harvey L. Crapper died at Salem, Ore., January 23, 1902. He was born in Webster City, Iowa, April 19, 1855.

Deceased was an old resident of Hood River valley. He came here from Portland in 1885 and followed farming in the Crapper district till about a year ago, when his health failed him.

He leaves a widow and three children. He was a member of Riverside lodge, A. O. U. W. of Hood River. Funeral services were preached in the Valley Christian church on Saturday, and he was buried in Idlewild.

The Portland Telegram tells of a man in East Portland receiving a box of perenniums from Kansas and distributing the same to the people of Hood River. Hood River has a perennium tree he received from his old home in Virginia. It has been growing on his place for years. It blooms every year but has a scant bearer. It may be that it needs fertilizing trees of the same kind to fertilize the bloom. The Telegram says: "Besides their value as a potted plant, the wood from the big perennium tree is said to be very hard and fine grained, and makes excellent mallets and chisel handles. When properly seasoned it is so tough that a thin layer of the wood will pound out without splitting. Trees attain a height of 40 feet and a maximum diameter of 12 inches."

Our Closing Out Line of Shoes

Include dress shoes, loggers and heavy shoes for men, dress shoes and every-day shoes for women and children. In fact, bargains for everybody. We want our money out of these goods to put into Spring goods.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Death of H. L. Crapper.

Harvey L. Crapper died at Salem, Ore., January 23, 1902. He was born in Webster City, Iowa, April 19, 1855.

Deceased was an old resident of Hood River valley. He came here from Portland in 1885 and followed farming in the Crapper district till about a year ago, when his health failed him.

He leaves a widow and three children. He was a member of Riverside lodge, A. O. U. W. of Hood River. Funeral services were preached in the Valley Christian church on Saturday, and he was buried in Idlewild.

The Portland Telegram tells of a man in East Portland receiving a box of perenniums from Kansas and distributing the same to the people of Hood River. Hood River has a perennium tree he received from his old home in Virginia. It has been growing on his place for years. It blooms every year but has a scant bearer. It may be that it needs fertilizing trees of the same kind to fertilize the bloom. The Telegram says: "Besides their value as a potted plant, the wood from the big perennium tree is said to be very hard and fine grained, and makes excellent mallets and chisel handles. When properly seasoned it is so tough that a thin layer of the wood will pound out without splitting. Trees attain a height of 40 feet and a maximum diameter of 12 inches."

Our Closing Out Line of Shoes

Include dress shoes, loggers and heavy shoes for men, dress shoes and every-day shoes for women and children. In fact, bargains for everybody. We want our money out of these goods to put into Spring goods.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Death of H. L. Crapper.

Harvey L. Crapper died at Salem, Ore., January 23, 1902. He was born in Webster City, Iowa, April 19, 1855.

Deceased was an old resident of Hood River valley. He came here from Portland in 1885 and followed farming in the Crapper district till about a year ago, when his health failed him.

He leaves a widow and three children. He was a member of Riverside lodge, A. O. U. W. of Hood River. Funeral services were preached in the Valley Christian church on Saturday, and he was buried in Idlewild.

The Portland Telegram tells of a man in East Portland receiving a box of perenniums from Kansas and distributing the same to the people of Hood River. Hood River has a perennium tree he received from his old home in Virginia. It has been growing on his place for years. It blooms every year but has a scant bearer. It may be that it needs fertilizing trees of the same kind to fertilize the bloom. The Telegram says: "Besides their value as a potted plant, the wood from the big perennium tree is said to be very hard and fine grained, and makes excellent mallets and chisel handles. When properly seasoned it is so tough that a thin layer of the wood will pound out without splitting. Trees attain a height of