MAY BECOME AMBASSADOR. Henry White a Formidable Candidate for the Vacancy in Italy.

Washington, April 2 .- Henry White, at present secretary of the embassy at London, is the latest and most formidable candidate for the vacancy in the Italian embassy by the retirement of Ambassador Meyer. Mr. White is strongly urged by Senator Lodge, and has a most enviable record in diplomatic practice. He was secretary of the embassy when Mr. Hay was am-bassador, and consequently he has a warm friend in the secretary of state Bellamy Storer, now ambassador to Madrid, is going to Berlin as ambassador, to succeed Andrew D. White, when that officer retires, which probably will be next fall.
