The horticultural display is a surprise to most visitors, few knowing anything about the vast horticultural resources of the state, possibly because Oregon is so far west. Oregon has carned the sobri-met at The Dalles Saturday morning Harry Blace user of the "Land of Red Apples." with a full attendance of delegates. Upon plums, prunes, peaches, quinces, aprices and berries, all of which are on exhibition, show why Oregon are on exhibition, show why Oregon fruits have met such a sympathetic market in America and Europe. These are the fruits which came into compe-tition with the finest fruits of America tition with the finest fruits of America and Canada at the meeting of the Pom-ological Society of America, held at Buffalo in September, 1901, and were awarded the world-famed and much coveted "Wilder medal" for the display of the most perfect fruits.

of the most perfect fruits. Oregon is the only Pacific coast state represented at the exposition, and is en-titled to a great deal of credit for bring-ing nine cars of exhibits 4000 miles, which earned 235 gold, silver and bronze medals—more than any other state—at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. —Charleston (S.
