williams of the Hassalo club called the matering to order and the matter was discussed at length. Truman Butler then moved that a committee of five be appointed by the chair to take charge of the matter and consult with Mr Paquet as to the best route, right of way and cest of construction. This was adopted and the chair appointed to act on this committee, Mesers F C Brosius, Leslie Butler, A S Blowers, Geo T Prather and J L Henderson. This committee was also to take catire charge of preliminaries and to solicit subscriptions to build the road.

It was voted that each and every one in Hood fliver and in Hood fliver valley should act as as a committee of one to push the matter in any way within their power to its fai-fillment Mr Seeley then made a few remarks in which he said we must now take stops towards the opening of one of the most import ant gateways within our reach, i. e. gateway to the river and he was satisfied that from what he had seen that we would push the matter and that the White Collar Line would give whatever assistance we should ask of them and that they were for it and would stay with us from start to finish.

After a few more remarks which, however, did not bear directly on the subject, the meeting adjourned to give the committee a chance to estifer with Mr Paquet as to routes, plans and cost of construction as nearly as possible. Chas. N. Claakk, Sec., pro. tem.

The Social club met at Mr. and Mrs Reed's April 15th with a goodly number of the members present. After the quotations from Oliver Wendell Holmes, had been given, a short but good programme followed. Mr. Reed gave some good advice to the young people, in a selection from Josh Billings, entitled, "How to Court." Miss Wickham gave a recitation called "The Dutchman's Spook." Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey favored us with a comic song, "The Dutchman's Proposal." Then came the horrors. Each one present same the borrors. Each one present had brought their special aversion, and some queer ones were seen, to be sure. Every package was numbered, and these drawing corresponding numbers, were partners for supper. Mrs. Martin had a box of files; Mr. McCurdy, a dagger, Mrs. Kingan, a till and washboard. Mrs. Wickham, a till and washboard. Mrs. Young, a holey stocking; Mr. Lyons, a holey stocking; Mr. Lyons, a brokey stocking; Mr had brought their special aversion, and
