Uncle Oliver Bartness fell in the river while fishing on Tuesday. He went in over his head, but being a good swimmer came out all right, and came home with "fisherman's luck."

Uncle Oliver is nearly 83 years old but doesn't look a day older. When he was a boy he descended the bluffs along Hood River when he goes fishing. It was rather a cold day to take a bath in the ice cold water of Hood river, but a little thing like that doesn't worry Uncle Oliver.

Bernard Jakway of Portland was in town Sunday. Mr. Jakway is chief clerk in the store of J. G. Mack & Co. and recently located a home on the White Salmon country, near Huxum, where he expects to locate and some day become an apple king in that section.

There is a rivalry Hood River in the production of the king of fruits. M. P. Iensen has a 13 foot well with an unlimited supply of water. He wants to know if he can build a water tank elevated 25 feet, and from this tank supply water to motor to run a mill in the well into the tank to run the motor and keep the tank full.

Will some one kindly give him the information. A thunder storm visited Hood River last Monday afternoon. The precipitation came in the shape of hail, and in a few minutes the ground was white.

Boys were out coasting on the sidewalks, and a few minutes later hail fell they knew something was up. The hail rolled from the roofs. A good many strangers are in Hood River looking for work. They came about four weeks ago.

They are here for the season for hoeing berries and setting plants is about over, and there will be no demand for labor till shipments of corn commence, which will be in about four weeks. The season is very late.

L. G. Pyatt came over from White Salmon, Tuesday, to procure a coffin of S. E. Bartness for Mrs. John Hoffman, who died Tuesday morning of diphtheria at the Hoffman home about seven miles out from White Salmon. The family came from the Willamette valley last fall.

The ladies of Canby Relief Corps are doing all in their power to keep up interest in and help the post, and they have gathered the gratitude of every member.

Members of the post are agitating the question of going to the state encampment at Astoria in a body. The encampment will be held on the 4th and 5th of June—dates of the relief corps conflict with our strawberry harvest, but most of the comrades have pledged themselves to go and take their wives if nothing more than business prevents.

The post has at least one dozen past commanders, who will have a seat in the encampment, besides two delegates elected. All members of the relief corps are asked to notify the adjutant. Reduced rates will be secured.

Expert timber men say that there is yet a vast amount of choice timber lands—equal to anything yet taken—in the country north and northwest of Goldendale. Just why you should take hold of this land is a puzzle. It is easily worth from $800 to $2,000 per quarter section when cleared, and costs about $400 to lay it outright. Probably our people are waiting until an Eastern syndicate comes in and gobble the best of it, as a company did on the Big Kluckit last summer.

Exchange agents are waiting for the firm from the Sound country, is working the Cedar valley this spring and it is stated that some 50 or 60 claims will be taken by them during April and May in that section and the side of the mountain from that valley. Probably after it is too late, our people will take a "umble," and realize that they have missed a good thing.
