

Ordinance No. 56.

An Ordinance granting to the Hood River Spring Water company the right to lay pipes and mains through the streets, alleys and public grounds of the city of Hood River for the purpose of carrying water into, through and throughout the said city, and to supply the inhabitants thereof with water and for providing means of extinguishing fires. The City of Hood River does ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the Hood River Spring Water Company, a corporation organized under the general laws of the state of Oregon, be and it is hereby granted the privilege and right of laying mains and pipes in or through the streets and alleys of the city of Hood River for the purpose of conveying water into, through and throughout said city for supplying the inhabitants thereof with water and for furnishing water for extinguishing fires, and for other public purposes under the conditions and rights hereinafter set forth.

Sec. 2. The Hood River Spring Water company shall never charge greater rates for water for domestic purposes than are now charged for the same in the said city of Hood River, and whenever the water rates charged by the Hood River Spring Water company are exorbitant or unreasonable in comparison with the company's revenue, the common council can declare the same by ordinance and cause a copy of such ordinance to be served upon the president or managing agent. At the next meeting of the said common council they may appoint two freeholders, residents in said city of Hood River as commissioners who in company with the president and secretary of the said Hood River Spring Water company may examine into and ascertain the amount of the net income of the said company, and if it then appears that the rates charged by said company are exorbitant and unreasonable in comparison with the company's revenue, the Hood River Spring Water company shall within ten days thereafter appoint two freeholders not connected with the said company, and the commissioners so appointed by the said common council and by said company shall constitute a commission with power by a majority vote of all said commissioners to regulate or fix the water rates to be charged by said company, but no change of water rates shall be made by said company within one year from the time the same shall be fixed by the action of said commissioners as herein provided.

Sec. 3. In case such commission constituted as is provided in Section 2 of this ordinance shall be unable for any cause to agree upon an amount at which water rates shall be fixed, such commission shall select one freeholder, a resident of Wasco county, to act with said commission and a majority of the commission so constituted shall fix the maximum rates to be charged by said Hood River Spring Water company as provided in section 2 hereof; and provided further that if the Hood River Spring Water company shall neglect or refuse to appoint commissioners as herein provided, then the common council of the city of Hood River may make the commission out by the appointment of two persons with the qualifications herein before mentioned, to act with the two commissioners originally appointed by said council and the commission so constituted shall have power to act.

Sec. 4. As soon as such commission shall have agreed upon and fixed the water rates the same shall be reported to the common council of said city of Hood River, and filed by the recorder who shall cause notices to be published in said city for a period of ten (10) days, but if at any time there shall be no one paper published in said city then notices shall be posted in at least five (5) conspicuous places within said city, after which it shall be unlawful for said company to collect higher charges for water than the rate fixed by said commission, as provided in section 2 of this ordinance.

Sec. 5. The said Hood River Spring Water company shall commence work within a reasonable length of time after the approval of this ordinance and shall have the said system in working order within one year, of sufficient capacity to supply a good working pressure for fire extinguishing purposes, and acceptable to the board of fire underwriters for a reduction in insurance rate from 15 to 25 per cent, to not less than twenty-one (21) hydrants to be located at the following named points in the city of Hood River: On State street at the intersection of First, Third and Fifth streets, and (250) feet west of intersection of Irving street and at intersection of Park street; on Oak and River streets at the intersection of First, Third and Fifth streets, and (250) feet west of intersection of Irving street and at intersection of Park street; on Columbia street at intersection of Third and Fourth streets and two (2) on Park avenue, one at the intersection of Oak and Second streets, and one at intersection of Second and River streets in Waucoma. All of the same to be two (2) plug hydrants suitable for use with two and one-half (2½) inch hose, all of said hydrants and all other hydrants hereinafter ordered by the common council of the city of Hood River, to be supplied with water for fire extinguishing at the rate of Two Dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per month for each and every hydrant (said amount payable monthly) until said rates are adjusted by the commission provided for in this ordinance.

The city may use water from said hydrants not to exceed one hour per week for flushing city sewers. The Hood River Spring Water company shall furnish a flow of water sufficient to supply a drinking fountain for man and beast. Said fountain shall be erected by the city of Hood River near the business center of said city. The water so supplied for fountain and for flushing sewers as herein set forth, to be free of charge so long as said city fulfills all requirements as herein set forth.

Sec. 6. The reservoir of supply shall have a capacity of not less than three hundred thousand (300,000) gallons, and such reservoir shall not be less than two hundred and eighty (280) feet above the grade now established at the intersection of First and Oak streets in said city of Hood River. Such reservoir shall not contain less than one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) gallons of water at all times, except when it is being cleaned or repaired. The mains leading from the reservoir to State street shall be ten (10) inches for not less than the first one thousand (1,000) feet, then reduced to eight (8) inches running down State street to First and from State street to River street on Park, and on River Street the main to First street shall be six (6) inches in diameter and the mains on First, Third and Fifth streets and the main on Irving, Oak and First streets in Waucoma addition to Hood River, connecting the mains on State and River streets shall be (4) inches in diameter and the main from State street to River Street on Second street shall be six (6) inches in diameter; and the main on Third, Columbia and Fourth streets shall be four (4) inches in diameter; and a failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall work a forfeiture of all rights and privileges granted by this ordinance.

Sec. 7. Whenever the common council of the city of Hood River shall order six (6) or more additional fire hydrants placed in any part of the city not protected by the twenty-one (21) hydrants hereinbefore mentioned, the said company shall within ninety (90) days thereafter lay a six (6) inch iron water main to such places. Such additional hydrants to be not more than three hundred and fifty (350) feet apart, and on the west side of the stream of Hood river, and the said Hood River Spring Water Company is hereby granted the privilege of building, constructing and maintaining in said city of Hood River and provided further that all mains or the necessary reservoirs as hereinbefore provided to furnish water for fire extinguishing purposes, together with the necessary machinery and appliances to supply such reservoir with water, pipe for conducting water which may hereafter be laid shall be laid not less than one and one-half feet below the grades of streets as now established and whenever excavations or trenches are opened for the laying or repairing mains or pipes in or through any street or alley in said city, such trenches shall be refilled at the expense of the said company and without any unnecessary delay, and such street put in as good condition under the supervision of the street commissioner of said city as the same was before said trench or excavation was made.

Sec. 8. The said Hood River Spring Water Company shall file its acceptance of the provisions of this ordinance and file a bond satisfactory to the common council within thirty (30) days after its approval by the mayor. And the city of Hood River, in consideration of the furnishing of water for fire protection and for flushing sewers, and for a drinking fountain, and as in this ordinance provided agrees to take water for fire protection from not less than the number of hydrants specified herein and all others which at any future time may be placed in said city by order of the common council, for a period of ten (10) years from the date of completion of said water works and system as in this ordinance specified, provided that said company shall during all of said time comply with all of the conditions of this ordinance. Provided further that the rates for domestic use and for fire extinguishing purposes may be adjusted by a commission as provided in section 2 and section 3 of this ordinance once every two (2) years after the date of the completion of said water works.

Sec. 9. The Hood River Spring Water company shall have the reservoirs completed and mains laid as hereinbefore provided and in working order within twelve (12) months from the date of their acceptance of this ordinance, and a failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall work a forfeiture of all the rights and privileges granted by this ordinance and also a forfeiture of the bond hereinbefore provided. Nevertheless the city of Hood River hereby reserves to itself, any provision to the contrary notwithstanding, the right to establish and maintain on its own account works in and throughout said city for the supplying of the said city with water and to that end may at any time upon such terms as may be reasonable purchase from the said Hood River Spring Water company and the said company may sell to said city all works and appliances for supplying water to said city then owned by it, and in case the common council of said city and the said company shall fail to agree as to a reasonable price and terms for such purchase and sale a commission shall be appointed and constituted for such purchase and sale in the same manner and with like effect as is provided in this ordinance to regulate and fix water rates to be charged by said company, and when such reasonable price and terms have been agreed upon, fixed and determined in the manner hereinbefore provided, and the city of Hood River shall tender payment and performance on its part, the said company shall and will make to said city a full and complete conveyance of all and every part of its property rights and materials and interest in and to the works of said company for the supply of said city with water within thirty (30) days from the date of such tender by said city through its common council, and the said Hood River Spring Water company shall be entitled to all the rights and benefits conveyed to them by this ordinance for the whole term of years as hereinbefore provided, unless the said city of Hood River purchases the waterworks from said company prior to the expiration of the term specified.

Passed the common council, June 16, 1902, and approved by me this 20th day of June, 1902.

F. C. BROSIUS, Mayor.

Sold Whisky to Indians.

Frank Wilson, a stranger, was arrested, Sunday, by City Marshal Dukes, charged with selling whisky to Indians. Wilson was given a preliminary hearing, Monday, before U. S. Commissioner Geo. T. Prather, and the evidence was deemed sufficient to justify notifying the authorities at Portland. Deputy U. S. Marshal Proebstel came up Tuesday and took the prisoner to Portland. The evidence is strong against Wilson, and conviction will probably mean a year in the penitentiary.

There have been numerous cases of drunken Indians in town of late and several arrests have been made of white men charged with selling liquor to the Indians, but convicting evidence against the offenders has been hard to secure, and the men had to be turned loose. Wilson was arrested once before for this offense, and promised to leave town when turned loose, but he showed no intention of doing so when let out of jail, so Marshal Dukes kept strict watch of the man Sunday, and finally caught him in the act. Wilson was noticed wending his way towards the railroad bridge, so Percy Wells and Ben Thyson took a position in the woods and awaited developments. The man was seen to supply some Indians with a bottle, when he was immediately placed under arrest.

County Superintendent C. L. Gilbert left Tuesday for Eugene, to attend the meeting of the Western division of the State Teachers' Association which holds a three-day session from June 26 to 28 inclusive. Superintendent Gilbert will discuss the question before the teachers, whether or not a teacher may take the examination in one county and have the papers forwarded for correction to the county board in which the teacher applied for certificate to be granted.

The Hood River Spring Water Company has increased the capital stock of the corporation from $12,000 to $30,000. The company expects to increase the number of stockholders by a sale of shares. If the city's proposition for fire protection is accepted, it will necessitate an expenditure of $10,000 for the laying of mains, placing of hydrants, etc.

Hon. W. B. Presby, U. S. commissioner at Goldendale, is the nearest officer before whom proofs for timber claims and homestead entries can be made in the inland section of Klickitat county. Mr. Presby is a lawyer of ability, and all legal business intrusted to him will be carefully and promptly attended to.

D. E. Wand, Horace Mecklin and Johnnie Roberts went to Cloud Cap Inn Tuesday, to plow the snow from the road, for half a mile or so this side of the hotel. The snow is reported five feet deep in places, but by plowing it will melt sufficiently to admit passage to the Inn by next week.

Jim Langille on Monday received a photograph of his son Will, who is now in Nome, where he is in the employ of a large mining company. Will is a stayer. He went to Alaska during the Klondike stampede. He will probably come home when he makes a sufficient stake.

Rev. H. C. Shaffer and S. E. Bartmess left Wednesday morning for Irving, near Eugene, as delegates to the annual state conference of the U. B. church.

The Regulator line has made a flat rate of one fare for the round trip between all points on the river July 3 to 6 inclusive.

L. Bradley, the scenic photographer, accompanied by Meigs Bartmess, made the trip to Lost Lake last week, leaving town Thursday and returning late Saturday night. Friday night was spent at the lake, where Mr. Bradley thinks he secured a good moonlight picture of Mount Hood and the lake. Other views were also taken. It is a beautiful trip to the lake at this season of the year. The trail from the desert to the lake presents a most beautiful floral effect with acres and acres of blooming rhododendron. Numerous wild flowers are in bloom. Meigs gathered 25 distinct varieties and says it is possible to find at least half a dozen more blooming within reach of the trail. They report good fishing at Sandy Flat and the lake.

Tuesday's fire in Portland destroyed the bakery that furnishes Mrs. Baldwin with the nice bread that has found such a ready sale. But the bakery has been re-established and the bread was received by the noon train today and will be a regular thing hereafter.

Captain A. S. Blowers, Hon. E. L. Smith, W. A. Slingerland and H. C. Stranahan, visited The Dalles Masonic lodge, Monday night, to assist in some degree work and the Hood Riverites report a good time and a grand banquet.

J. H. Gerdes has been making extensive improvements in his house near the depot and has fitted it up for a hotel, which will be known as the Gerdes House.

Circuit Judge W. L. Bradshaw was married Wednesday, June 26, 1902, to Miss Agnes Cook of Portland.

Mrs. Langille arrived home last week from her protracted visit in the Eastern states.

Van Johnson's Cat.

The following was related by our old friend Van Johnson and caught for the Glacier by our shorthand reporter. We give it to our readers because of its interesting parallel of the traits of character of the human race often shown so clearly in the lives of the lower orders of animals:

Old Blue is dead. She was a good cat. The most intelligent I have ever known. She was of fine appearance, having long, fine, silky fur, of the most aristocratic mottled blue. She displayed her intelligence by learning so many things without any training whatever, for I never attempted to teach her anything. When she was outside and the door was not latched she would push it open with her head and come in. If the door was latched she would scratch on the door and wait for me to open it. When inside and she wanted out, she would catch the lower corner of the door with her paw and pull it open. If it was latched she would come to me and catch me by the knee or wrist until I spoke to her, then would run to the door to be let out. When she was hungry she would pull my knee or hand and look up in my face; but when she wanted to be petted she would take hold of me in the same way and hold her head down and look towards the floor until I stroked her head. If I did not do so at once she would repeat the operation, gently pulling me until she received the attention she desired. She was very shy of strangers and w. mankind she did not like at all. When any other man was stopping with me she soon became acquainted with him and treated him the same as she did me. She was a great hunter, and in the spring season when the diggers and chipmunks had their young, would stay in the fields for weeks living upon them, never coming to the house to be fed, and she kept the house and barn free from rats and mice. Many men have told me she was worth $500, and I would not have given her away for $5 at any time.

Now for her bad traits of character, for, like the best of men, she was not all good. She was very sly and if she was in the kitchen alone and the cupboard door was unlatched, if she was hungry, would open the cupboard door in the same way she did the door of the house and help herself to anything she wanted to eat; but if any one came in suddenly, she would slip quickly away looking as innocent as possible and endeavor to draw our attention to some other place. I had forgiven her all her shortcomings, and although the hired man called my attention to Blue's full, sleek condition and accused her of taking my young chickens, I could not believe that she had caught my 19 missing chicks until I met her in the path with one of them in her mouth. She knew it was wrong to kill my little chickens, for she dropped it and ran into the house, and when I came in asked me for something to eat. I was sorry to kill her, but there was no alternative, and when she came to me, I took a stick of stove wood and with one blow ended her career. So Blue is dead. Peace to her ashes.

WALL PAPER EMPORIUM.

Wall Paper 5c a Roll Up.

There is a man in our town,
And this man is a daisy,
He turns the prices upside down,
And drives the merchants crazy.
He decorates your walls with grace,
For dust and dirt he leaves no place,
Crowds all others out of the race,
This brilliant blooming daisy.
He keeps the finest stock in town,
And marks his prices all 'way down,
And is a workman of renown,
And to his business freezes.

Now, shall I give you this man's name,
Possessor of this enviable fame,
Whose encomiums are all too tame,
Why, Jackson's the man who pleases.
