FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1902.

Some More "Good Suggestions."

Hood River, July 28, 1902.—Editor Glacier: In last week's Glacier I noted with interest what Robert Kelly had to say to the honorable county court on the occasion of his retirement from office of sheriff. Your caption, "Good Suggestions," is in the main deserved, and what Mr. Kelly has said is no doubt strictly in accordance with the laws of Oregon.

On the risk, however, of running counter to all the legal talent in the state, I cannot but differ with Mr. Kelly in his statement that "notice of the meeting of the board of equalization should be published in every paper in the county, and if the taxpayer fails to appear and air his grievances, should have any, and to then entirely ignore his future enterprises." In my opinion, which ought to be worth 25 cents a yard to anybody, there is no reason why the meetings of the board should be advertised in a single paper. On the assessment slips each taxpayer will find plainly printed (it could be made plainer) an extract from the laws of Oregon informing him that the board of equalization meets the last week in August. If he has any quarrel with the assessor, he will naturally go to blame himself if he does not appear before the board and ask for redress. But how is it with the great majority of taxpayers who are in the habit of permitting the assessor on his rounds to place a fixed valuation on their property and are willing to let it rest at that. Has it come to this that every property owner in the county must saddle his or her horse and ride to the Dalles when the board meets and around the hotels for a week to learn whether his property has been singled out to be doubled, tripled, or quadrupled in value?

If our peers who settle these matters have reason to believe that certain individuals have dodged a certain assessment would it not be much cheaper and better to notify such persons to appear before the board and show cause why their valuation should not be raised? The officials comprising the board of equalization are all residents of the county and a day could be set for hearing these complaints at any convenient time. If hardly ought to be necessary to dwell long on the fact that the chief cause of dissatisfaction among the taxpayers in this valley last year was because of the one-sided arbitrary method which the board worked upon a few persons. The individual whom they sent through the valley to revise Deputy Nickelsen's work merely selected a few victims in each school district and greatly increased their values, letting dozens of others with property equally as valuable go at the first assessed rate. This blow in most cases fell on the old and well-known settlers who have borne the brunt of taxation and volunteer road work for the last half generation or longer. If these high valuations had been placed on all property alike the whole county debt could have been paid off and a handsome surplus left over to throw at the birds.

The first intimation that anyone had of what had been done came by way of tax notices sent out in February. Mr. Nickelsen's work was as evenly done as any assessment ever before made or ever likely to be made, and an increase in values on all alike would have left no reasonable cause for complaint.

Crupper Croppings.
(Received too late for last week.)
Hood River, July 23, 1902.—Editor Glacier: The social club was entertained at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey, July 15, with 20 members present. The quotations were from Emerson. After these had been given, an elaborate programme was rendered, as those taking part had seven long weeks in which to prepare themselves, and no "please excuse me" was heard. The evening was very warm, and we thought how kind and considerate our hostesses were when all were invited to take a fan. But alas, when we were told that on the back was a condom that to be answered before the fan could be used. This created a great deal of merriment. Following this was the "conversation party." Each gentleman was handed a card with a clock drawn on it and at each hour was written a lady's name, with whom he had to converse one half minute beginning at one o'clock, and on reaching 12 there would be that of the lady he should take to supper. This served to keep the conversation general and also caused lots of fun. After each gentleman had secured his partner, the company were seated at the tables arranged for them. Beautiful roses and sweet peas, decorated the rooms and tables, and a most delicious and dainty luncheon was served. The hour grew late, but no one seemed anxious to break up the pleasant event, and it was nearing 12 when the last good night was heard. Our next meeting will be held at Mr. and Mrs. Martin's July 29.

Mrs. F. S. Perry and two children have been visiting with Mrs. E. E. Lyons the past two weeks.

Fred Shoemaker who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kinsey, returned to his home at Tucserawas, Ohio.

Mrs. Ida Crapper has purchased the Sutton place and will soon move into her new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett made a trip to The Dalles overland last Sunday, returning Tuesday.

E. E. Lyons and Ernest Costa have gone to Mount Hood for a few days' outing. Mrs. Icky and I. K.

All Were Saved.
"For years I suffered such untold misery from bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnston of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to walk. Then, when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. My wife suffered intensely from asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best cough medicine in the world. A trial will convince you it's unrivaled for throat and lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Chas. N. Clarke's."

A Trip to Badger Lake.
A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. D. Riggs, Lizzie Cooper, Kate Gribble, Warren and John Cooper and Joe Dimmick, with eight horses, started for Badger lake at noon, June 21. They camped at Joe Dimmick's ranch that night, and started early the next morning. At about noon they reached E. R. Tucker's mine, where they met Peter Feldhausen and stopped for dinner. After dinner, accompanied by Pete and two horses, they started again reaching the lake about 4 o'clock. After spending the next two days exploring the lake and surrounding country, they started back Friday morning, and reached the mines before noon. After turning the horses to pasture and partaking of dinner, which is always the principal part of camping, Pete guided them to three of his eight miles. Each of the party tried his or her hand at the pick and securing a piece of ore, they returned to Mr. Tucker's camp for the night and the next morning proceeded on their way home which they reached that evening, each one thankful for the clear weather which enabled them to have so pleasant a time and such a splendid view of eight snow-capped mountains which were in view at one point. This is the first time women have gone to the lake from this side. The party saw few yellow jackets on the trail, and one bald-faced hornet?

The Wasco News says harvest is in full blast and harvest hands very scarce. Be sure to get a coupon and secure one of those elegant life-size photos of yourself that Rogers is giving away with each $5 cabinet. No charge for work.

The Prineville Review has changed hands. Wm. Holder, proprietor of the Shuniko Leader and Moro Bulletin, is the purchaser.

Edward Everett Young, the ex-newspaper man, has recently gone into the lumbering business at Klamath Falls, Klamath county.

Cascade Locks school district is soon to have a commodious school building that is being erected by John Gates. It will have two large class rooms, an entrance and a library room.

"Strange thing about Tracy and Merrill, the Oregon desperados," ventured Judd Fish, "let'er go," said Hobson. "Why, they were not only brothers-in-law, but brother outlaws."—Chronicle.

The Portland Evening Journal changed ownership last week. C. S. Jackson, of the Pendleton Tribune taking charge. The name and headline dress were also changed—for the worse. It is now the Daily Oregon Journal.

A contribution to the Wasco News says farmers are not getting any benefit from the rise in the price of meats caused by the meat trust. He advocates a vegetable diet, says it is very easy to get accustomed to, and cites instances of great endurance of men who never eat meat.

At the solicitation of The Dalles Fruit Growers' Union, Agent Ireland has succeeded in having the O. R. & N. put on a refrigerator car between The Dalles and Portland, to leave at about 7 a. m., in time for the market. Fruit to be delivered not later than 8 p. m.—Chronicle.

There are about 1000 persons who will be benefited by the recent Indian war pension act of the northwest. As the average age of these warriors is 35 years, it is very unlikely if Uncle Sam will have very many years to carry the remnant of the 7000 brave men who fought between 1851-6.—Yamhill Register.

The Cascade Locks sawmill is cutting 100,000 feet of lumber daily and employs about 75 men. The logs are principally from Wind river, in Washington, and are towed across by a steam launch. The company has a large body of timber on Wind river and has improved the stream so that logs can be floated to the Columbia.

The people of the town of Hood River have shown their confidence in the virtue of advertising by agreeing to supply the Harriman system with 100,000 circulars descriptive of Hood River valley for free distribution among the homesteaders of the East. Cascade Locks, do as well as Hood River.—Mountaineer.

The steamers Bailey Gatzert and Dalles City make trips from Portland to Cascade Locks every Sunday, and are carrying an immense number of excursionists every trip. Last Sunday both of the boats came up loaded to their full capacity with Portlanders who took advantage of the opportunity to get out of the city for a day.

That the human race has recently wonderfully increased in all the elements of civilization is shown by this stupendous fact, stated in an address by Mr. Robt. Giffen: "During the 19th century the number of European people rose from 170,000,000 to 500,000,000. If the same rate of increase continues during this century, at its end this population will have become 1,500,000,000 to 2,000,000,000." The remainder of the world's population will, so far as can be judged from the past, remain nearly stationary.

A Washington dispatch says: "As a physical 'scalp' thing the famous Declaration of Independence is no more. The stirring text and the sentiments of the members of the continental congress have faded away. This precious document is now in an cabinet in the state department library, but it is now practically nothing more than a large sheet of parchment on which no legible writing appears. Part of the words 'Declaration of Independence' which were written in large letters with many ornamental flourishes, are decipherable. Not a signature is visible to the naked eye. One hardly discernible stroke of John Hancock's pen is all that remains of his bold and vigorous signature, which he purposely made large so as to show the British government that he had no fear of being known."
