Work on the railroad at Lyle is progressing rapidly, and the owners of the road expect to be moving the fall crop of Klamath county wheat before snow flies. The incline at the Lyle landing is fast assuming shape. A wharf boat will be built to enable the rapid transfer of grain from the cars to the river steamers. There are a large number of railroad ties piled near the landing, and grading for the railroad bed is being rushed through with a large force of men and teams.

Captain Jack Bagley with his steam launch took a party of 20 excursionists to the Cascade Sunday. The boat turned in at the Little White Salmon and ascended nearly to the flume. While returning in the evening the flume proved too much for the boat, and she reached the Hood River landing considerably in the lead. Monday, Captain Bagley took a small crowd to the Dalles for the circus.

H. O. Everhart made sale of his grocery store, last week, to J. E. Hanna and will retire from active business until some future proposition presents itself. Mr. Everhart has been in the grocery business for the past three or four years, and the many friends he has made here during that time hope to see him remain among them and to cast his fortunes with a greater Hood River.

T. J. Canning has the foundation and cellar built for a palatial residence on the hill near the cannon house. The building, with a porch, will be 32x50, two stories. L. Bradley is the architect and J. L. Houtt will do the carpenter work. Mr. Canning will have one of the best buildings in this pleasant neighborhood, from which the view is superb.

The Lago, Harrison & Hinrichs threshing crew finished up threshing for this season on the Malcolm Moody place last Thursday morning. They threshed 939 bushels of wheat and oats on the Moody place, of which place H. F. Lago has charge. The wheat on the Moody place went 25 bushels to the acre and the oats 50. By weight the oats yielded at least 50 bushels to the acre.

W. P. Watson sold 300 tons of his property at Yaquina Bay last week. Mr. Watson reports 1000 tents at Newport and lots of new cottages. He says the bathing facilities at Newport are perfectly safe for men, women and children. No one has ever been drowned bathing at Newport.

J. L. Luckey is putting up a blacksmith shop on the property adjoining Jim Hunt's paint shop, on First street. Frederick & Arnold are doing the carpenter work. Mr. Luckey will have an extensive and up-to-date blacksmith shop, including a steam hammer and other like appliances.

Dr. C. H. Jenkins and family returned, Monday, from a three-weeks' outing on the Little White Salmon, and the doctor is again prepared to meet the wants of his patrons for all kinds of dental work. The Glacier is indebted to Dr. Jenkins for a string of big fat trout.

Rev. H. C. Shaffer brought to town from G. D. Woodworth's place some berries known as the tree strawberry. They grow on a bush and seem to be the fruit of a small tree. The berries are in flavor is something like the thimble berry.

L. H. Nichols went to The Dalles, Saturday. About the 1st of September he will start East to visit relatives in Iowa and Arkansas whom he has not seen for 27 years. Mr. Nichols is an old soldier and served in the 24th Iowa in the civil war.

Fred Bailey was in town Saturday receiving the congratulations of his friends over the arrival of a bouncing boy at his home last Sunday morning. This is No. 3 for Fred, and he is as proud of it as he was of his first born.

L. N. Blowers and wife left Monday morning for a visit with Judge A. D. Blowers, a cousin of Captain Blowers, at Seattle. Before returning, Mr. and Mrs. Blowers will visit Port Townsend and Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stadelman of Trout Lake spent last week in Portland and Vancouver on business and pleasure, and gave the Glacier office a pleasant call while on their way home.

Dr. J. F. Watt returned last Saturday from Gearhart Park. Mrs. Watt and daughter Ada, whose health is improving at the seaside, will remain there for some time.

The tax payers of the new school district cut off from Pine Grove will meet at Jerome Wells' vacant house, September 13, at 2 o'clock, to organize the district.

Mrs. L. Booth, son Hobart and daughter Leah, of The Dalles, who have been camping with Major Booth and mother at Mount Hood, will return home today.

Elmer Rand, Fred B. Barnes and Professor C. D. Thompson went up to the toll bridge, last Friday, for a fishing trip.

Mrs. H. K. Hines of Portland was in Hood River last week, the guest of Mrs. George P. Crowell.

E. A. Newby, state organizer for the prohibition state committee, was in the valley last week.

The Prather Investment company are proud of a new $135 Remington typewriter.
