

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1902.

White Salmon Items.

James Greaves of Oakland, California, is visiting S. W. Condon.

White Salmon is to have telephone connection with the outside world at last. The wire was put up one day last week.

Frank Grohng moved his blacksmith tools from his ranch into the new building lately erected in Salmon. Now the business is greeted with the musical ring of the hammer and anvil.

The latest subject for discussion on the street corners is the formation of a dancing club. It seems that there has not been dance enough to satisfy some of the young people; hence the move for a club.

Some object to the public, free for all, dances as not being select, hence a dance "tryst" as the latest "combination of industries."

Some of our local politicians do not seem to be satisfied with affairs supposed at least to be settled by the last election. This judgment is based on discussions heard about the stores. What the town needs is a public hall in which these issues could be settled.

The almost continuous rain of the past week hindered work on the new reservoir from which the town is to get its supply of water. Mr. Jewett has a force of men at work on it this week. This improvement will soon be completed, then the electric lights will receive attention.

S. W. Condon is having the finishing touches put on the interior of his new dwelling.

Crupper Croppings.

Rain, rain, rain. This is enough to disgust an old Web-footer. Snow fell to about the depth of an inch here last Wednesday morning but has all gone by 3 o'clock, and it has been raining ever since.

You can hear the cry all over the valley "I wish it would hold off a couple of weeks longer. I haven't got my apples picked, or I haven't got my potatoes dug, I haven't got my corn fodder in, or this ain't done or that isn't done." The farmers must be two weeks behind time or the rain two weeks ahead of time, one or the other, or perhaps they are both a little out of whack. Several parties were intending to set more berries this fall but this kind of weather would put a damper on setting out anything. (Man is a queer, a queer, friend Joe, if we all manage to squeeze through the pearly gates, dollars to dough-nuts some of us would have a kick coming about the condition of the golden streets, the water supply, the weather the crops, the suits and arrangements, and perhaps the style of wings the angels wear. Man is a "dreadful queer creature.")

Chas. Chandler contemplates taking a trip to Texas soon, to visit friends and relatives. He expects to be gone most of the winter.

Mrs. J. H. Shoemaker will start for Pendleton next week on a visit; she will be gone several weeks.

S. N. J. Cox is taking music lessons on the guitar from Mrs. Goddard. Jim says he is learning very fast and will astonish the natives one of these days.

John Stranahan is building an addition on his already spacious residence and expects to keep bachelor's hall in grand style this winter.

Some of our young folks went to town last Friday night to attend the dance at the K. of P. hall; but owing to the bad night, the dance came near being a fizzle with a big F.

Odell Notes.

The recent heavy rains are playing havoc with the roads in several places. The surface water is cutting them up, where a little work would drain it off. The road supervisor of this district is like the average policeman when trouble comes, he is off on some other beat. If there has been a lick of work done on the roads in Odell district this year I am not aware of it. Yesterday a team stuck on Charley Dyer's and Dan Smith's place, and winter scarcely begun.

It was a real treat to receive the glad hand of the Editor of the Glacier while in town yesterday. Glad to see you home.

Hon. J. M. Shelley, brother of Troy and Rowell Shelley was a guest of Troy's over Sunday and on Monday called at the little white store. Mr. Shelley owns a half interest in a 75 barrel flouring mill at Eugene, where he has made his residence for many years. He is a member of the legislature from Lane county. His wife accompanied him. They are charmed with Hood River. Monday evening they took the train to Boise, Idaho. On the way to town over the West Side, so many delightful pictures unfolded themselves to their view in clover meadows and heavy laden apple orchards so richly colored that it seemed as if the hand of some artist had figured here. This, together with the uplifting scenery on every hand, proved a perfect revelation to them. But there is no use of trying to describe Hood River valley with its wealth of scenery and its boundless resources. It must be seen to be appreciated.

On Monday Frank and Bernice Wyman returned from Walla Walla, where they were attending college. A til Frank came ill with typhoid fever. It must have been a close call for Frank, judging from his appearance. Glad to see you back, but regret the cause that led to your return.

Mrs. C. G. Roberts returned last Friday from Portland after several days absence.

If it is not wood hauling it is something else that keeps the road lined with teams. Now it is the apple wagon that sheds its fragrance along the way. Instead of the breath of the pine wood.

The Rev. C. A. Wyman left for Portland today on business connected with his brick and tile factory.

Mr. Wyman's work reaches beyond the pulp in more ways than one and Odell is to be congratulated on the fact of his having withdrawn his place from sale and his conclusion to remain permanently here.

A distinguishing feature of the programme at the literary club last week was the song of little Johnnie White. It brought forth a storm of applause and an encore, and Johnnie was loaded for bear and responded in a manner that would have done credit to a more pretentious place than Odell.

Business at the little white store has grown to such proportions already that a freight team is indispensable. Today, the proprietor was seen handling the ribbons over a pair of the Englishshires purchased from B. T. Young. Mr. Young has sold 40 head this season, most of them being from one herd, and branded figure 8. They have all proven good and frettable, and Mr. Young is to be congratulated on his horse sense.

A potato weighing four pounds can be seen in the window of the little white store. It was grown in the garden of Troy Shelley. John Kroeger has also fine exhibit there.

Duke's Valley Items.

We are having plenty of rain at present, and last Thursday morning we were reminded that winter is near, as the ground was white with snow for a short time.

The rain caused William and Dennis Doodson to quit logging, and they have returned to their home in Dukes valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanton went to Portland last Saturday and returned Tuesday.

J. A. Knox has some fine beef cattle to butcher for sale.

James Malcom has sold his home-stead to Thomas Broderick; consideration $100. Mr. Malcom and family will start for Kansas City some time this week. They will leave the rattlers and coyotes and go to a land where the 'possum and porcupine grow. Duke's valley's loss will be Misses M. and J. G. Thomas Broderick has moved upon his place he bought here and intends to make a big clearing this winter.

Lafe Little's smiling face was seen in our valley this week.

We have been granted a school district at last. Saturday was held the first meeting in the district, when we organized by electing W. G. Dodson, C. R. Bone and A. J. Kessell directors and J. A. Knox clerk. Two hundred and fifty dollars were subscribed to build a house, and the place thought best to build it was on the southeast corner of P. B. Thompson's place. Now if someone would come into our valley and build a store house we would be up to date. If some one with lots of capital wants to go into business here he could do a big credit business, or the whole valley would patronize him, I think, until pay day anyhow.

Agreement for Interchange of Tracks. Portland Journal.

It transpires that within the last few days an agreement was reached between the Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, O. R. & N. and Great Northern roads, regarding an interchange of track between the O. R. & N. and Columbia River divisions, and the papers to the agreement have been signed and are now in force. The agreement gives the Northern Pacific equal rights over the O. R. & N. tracks from Walla to Portland, and the Great Northern equal rights over the Spokane to Portland and the Union Pacific and Great Northern will have a similar privilege over the Northern Pacific tracks to Sound cities. It further provides for the running of Northern Pacific trains over Snake River agricultural purposes, and to establish his names as witnesses, W. C. Cass, Jr., Chittie, A. G. Wright and James Egger, all of Viewport, Oregon.

Any persons claiming adversely the above described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said day of January, 1903.
