Grazing Privileges on the Reserve. Antelope Herald,

H. D. Langille, general forestry inspector, met a number of the stockmen's union here, last Friday, and discussed with them the question of pasturage in the forest reserve. Mr. Langille stated that the aim of the government was the greatest good to the greatest number, and that the greatest interest centered in the preservation and utilization of the timber supply. He pointed out that by the setting aside of the Cascade the land-grabbers, and the land-grabbers, and the lands had been preserved for the use of the people, subject only to proper restrictions. The chief inquiry made by the department is: What number of sheep will the reserve carry without in-juring the permanency of the grazing, and how can that number be apportioned days. with justice to all? These matters were thoroughly discussed, and before closing his remarks, Mr. Langille stated that as long as the sheepmen will do their utmost to co-operate with the govern-
