

White Salmon Items.
Mr. Clide moved this week to the place lately purchased from E. Groshong.
Mr. and Mrs. Art. Ward went to Portland on Monday. Mrs. Ward will undergo a surgical operation while in the city.
The g. ad leading to the wharf is now undergoing repairs; it having been declared unsafe for heavy teams. So the wood hauling is at a standstill.
Some genius, hitherto unknown to the citizens of our village, has evolved from his fertile brain a new punishment. One of the young ladies who was absent from the meeting of the dancing club last Friday night, found a bunch of grape tied to the front gate on Saturday morning. We only guess at the intent of the notice.
F. Groshong moved into the Fine house, on Tuesday of this week.
Miss Cora Cameron, teacher of the Ringer school, met with a slight accident while driving down the hill from White Salmon to Bingen last Friday morning. When on the steepest part of the hill the harness gave way and the horse began kicking. She jumped from the buggy and was somewhat bruised about the face. Friends came to her rescue and assisted her home, and she expects to be able to resume her school work shortly.

Crappier Croppings.
Snow has been falling off and on for two weeks, and still it snows. There is about six inches of snow on the ground at present, and about six inches more under that; consequently we hear no sleigh bells singing yet.
A. T. Dodge was seen one day the first of the week with his horse and sleigh out hunting for a piece of road solid enough to sleigh ride on, but the further he went the deeper he got in the mud. He finally gave it up as a bad job and put his sleigh under the shed.
H. E. Blocher is home again and making improvements on his place, in the way of building sheds, walks, etc.
A. T. Dodge and James Carnahan have taken a contract to clear 11 acres of land on the Jones place and will begin work as soon as the weather permits. There will be a good many acres of land cleared around here as soon as the snow goes off, but clearing is out of the question at present, the snow and ice sticking to the trees and braving making it almost impossible to do anything in the timber now.

Hot Stuff.
From the Portland Journal's Tobacco column.
Greece and Persia fell out 491 years B. C., when Darius sent ambassadors demanding earth and water as symbols of submission. Since that time no Persian ambassador has been sent to Greece. Now diplomatic relations are about to be resumed after a lapse of 2,393 years. This teaches us that with a little forbearance the worst of quarrels may finally be patched up.
In consequence of the fifth eruption of La Soufriere, Chateau Belaire and Georgetown, the two principal towns, have been evacuated. That the inhabitants treat the infernal eruptions of mankind and explains why some married men have the courage to go home.
Edgar Saltus wants to know, we suppose, for he asks, "Would you be sorry to die?" So much depends on future conditions that—well, we know some people we think will be sorry when they die.
Verestchagin got $18,000 for his picture showing Roosevelt and his rough riders charging at San Juan hill, but in commenting on the price just think the painter had to write that name in one corner.
The strike of the Havana cigar makers does not interfere with the majority of Havana cigars. Some of them are made with a Scappoose wrapper and a Green Bay filler.
Edward Everett Hale solemnly inquires in the New York American, "What do women need?" That's a hard one, Edward, and we suggest that it be left to arbitration.
She swept along the pavement
And she showed the pride she felt,
But she spoiled the whole effect of it,
When she reached back for her belt.
President Roosevelt's charge at San Juan hill was not any more strenuous than that of Verestchagin, who got $18,000 for the picture of it.
An exchange says, "avoid whiskey and water, it is a dilution and a snare." If you can't do that, anyway avoid the water.
It is all right to raise the educational standard of the working classes, but most of them would prefer a raise in wages.
Ella Wheeler Wilcox says: "God made no thing in vain." Excuse us, Ella, but didn't he make women vain?
Ex-Mayor Hewitt says he is neither a republican nor a democrat. Maybe he's the long sought gnostic.
President Castro ought to put a "turned rule" between his revolutions so outsiders wouldn't get them mixed.
Some of those long family lines you hear people brag about were those where wear was hung.

Odell Notes.
December 10, 1902.
By authority from the postal department, Sherman Young, the carrier, served notice on the residents of Odell last Monday that unless the road connecting the East and West side roads south of here was fixed in a few days, our splendid mail service would be cut off. This is as it should be. The government is not required to furnish mail over almost impassable roads when there is no good excuse for their being in such condition. This should prove a lesson that ought to be remembered. Wherever the surface water is drained off there are no bad roads, and to do this requires little work if done at the proper time. Road supervisors should be required to give bonds, and held responsible for such condition of roads as now exist.
Ross Winans was down at the little white store on Monday. He is sanguine concerning the future of this country, and says when the magnificent water power of the falls is harnessed by electricity, a railroad up the river will be possible, and the country along the line will be revolutionized in a manner that will surprise the most sanguine old residents. The large timber deal that Mr. Winans put through this year is a pointer that non-residents understand the situation. It requires no prophetic finger to point out a brilliant future for this section.
A lady's jacket was recently found in the road near the Tucker bridge. It can be had by inquiring of Theodore Smith.
The saw mill at Tucker's has closed down for the winter.
A very good entertainment was given at the school house last night by Chas. A. Caroon of the Washington volunteers, showing pictures of the Philippine Islands.
A Deserved Tribute.
Salem Journal.
Rev. W. G. Elliot, Jr., who has so acceptably filled the pulpit of the Unitarian church in this city for the past two years, has been compelled to resign that position owing to the pressure of denominational work in different points of the state and Northwest. Mr. Elliot, under the auspices of the American Unitarian Association, has been active since March last as a superintendent of field work in the Pacific Northwest. The latter department of his work has now developed to such proportion to where he feels it impossible to do justice to the local work. For this reason he has resigned the care of the parish in Salem, in order to devote himself solely to the field work. He expects to continue his headquarters in Salem for a few months. At an adjourned meeting of the First Unitarian society, held last evening, Mr. Elliot's resignation was accepted and Rev. Frank A. Powell called to succeed him to take charge December 1.
A resolution was offered and spread upon the minutes tendering Mr. Elliot the society's appreciation of his labors among them and expressing profound regret that circumstances made necessary his withdrawal.
During his two years incumbency Mr. Elliot had endeared himself in the hearts of his congregation by his lofty character and gracious personality, and his high culture, as well as scholarly attainments have marked him as one of the ablest divines in the city. In his work as field superintendent Mr. Elliot has built up the Unitarian movement in Oregon with gratifying success, and church organizations are likely to grow out of his efforts at Albany, Hood River and Corvallis.

Patent Medicine Ads Couldn't Save It.
After an existence of three years, the Ukiah Sentinel, with its last week's issue, died a natural death. Its editor states his reasons for quitting as follows:
"With this issue, the Ukiah Sentinel expires. This is the last gasp of a weakling that was brought into the world of journalism against its own will by a man whose bump of ambition was many times larger than his bump of business judgment. We are not going to lie about it, and say that other business will require our attention henceforth. It won't. Neither did we quit because we were making more money than we knew what to do with. We simply tried and failed. The Sentinel has grown weaker almost hourly since its birth; in fact, we have sometimes thought its birth was premature by several years. We have given it copious doses of patent medicine ads, such as colic, cholera, diarrhea remedy, electric bitters, Bucklin's pile salve, cascara, catarrh remedy, no-to-bac, and a dozen different kinds of pills, but all to no avail. Its circulatory system was all out of whack, and we were unable to get it in whack. We have stood by it through thick and thin; we have hoped great things for it; we have scratched for it like a mother hen scratching for her only chick. We have worn so many patches on our breeches that we could hardly tell which was patch and which was breeches. And we don't propose to do it any more. But we are not going to kick about the people. The town and surrounding community is full of good people. Some of them have given us much advice about how to run a paper, and we do not doubt that it was well intended. We believe it came from the bottom of their hearts. Perhaps it would have been better had we followed some of this advice. True, we would have come to grief sooner, but the agony would have been sooner over, too.

We are sorry to hang up in this fashion, but running a newspaper for glory is a mighty poor job, and we long for a full stomach once more. If any other fool ever starts a paper here we will, as the old Scotchman once said, "admire his pluck, but don't his judgment."

A Buggy, Like the One Represented Here, Will be Given to a Subscriber.

The Glacier has a brand new Oxford Buggy it desires to give to a subscriber. The Buggy has fancy panel, hand painted; body 24x55 inches; round corners, well ironed; extra deep seat; solid panel spring back; axles 15-16x8 1/2 inches; axle beds glued to axles; Bailey body loops; double reaches ironed full length; wheels Sarsen patent; 1 1/4 inch round edge tire; leather quarter top; Pegannoy leather trimmings; fancy binding and welts; double line nickel dash rail; nickel lay back rail; full length fancy carpet; side carpet and toe rug; body black with neat decorations; gear dark green; with shafts.
One thousand tickets, numbered consecutively from one to one thousand, will be given out, one to each subscriber paying $1.50 on subscription. Subscribers in arrears who pay up will get a ticket for each $1.50 paid, as well as those who pay in advance.
A number under 1000 has been written on a card, sealed in an envelope and placed in Butler & Co's bank in Hood River. Every precaution was taken to keep the number in the bank a secret. No one knows the lucky number. A dozen cards were taken, numbers under 1000 written upon each; the cards were then shuffled, one picked up at random and placed in the envelope, sealed up, and the balance thrown immediately into the fire. The number upon none of the cards were seen except by the person writing them.
Every Subscriber Has a Chance
To get this handsome vehicle. If the subscriber is in arrears he can pay up and get tickets entitling him to a chance. All subscribers who paid as much as $1.50 during this month of November will get tickets.
The tickets given to subscribers are all in sealed envelopes, sealed up by the printer, and no one will know his number until he opens the envelope.
When the tickets are all given out, the subscriber holding the number corresponding with the number in the bank will take the buggy. Subscribers should preserve their tickets.
The proprietor of the Glacier has always aimed to send out a good local paper, worth the price of subscription. He is grateful for past patronage and a big list of subscribers. The paper will not deteriorate in usefulness, and subscribers who fail to get the buggy will get value received for their money in a good local paper.
The buggy can now be seen in the big red barn of the Hood River Trading Co. It was bought through the agency of Ralph Savage, who can sell you one just like it if you can't wait till the Glacier's buggy is given out.
