

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1903.

Beautiful moonlight nights.
Koberg's butter, 65c a roll, at Mc Guire's.

Geo. F. Coe is on the sick list. His trouble is indigestion.

S. B. Egbert went to Portland and Woodburn Monday for a few days' visit.

The Saint Mark's guild will meet next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frazer came home Saturday from Portland, where they spent the holidays.

Miss Vera Jackson will return to Forest Grove tomorrow and resume her studies in Pacific university.

The glacier will pay cash for a load of fir, pine or oak wood, cut to 16 inches. It must be dry wood.

A. K. Fuller and family will leave next week for their new home at Lexington, Oregon, where Mr. Fuller has bought a farm.

Miss Sadie Orr of Wasco spent New Year's with Miss Vera Jackson. Saturday she went to Fairview, where she is teaching school.

Harry DeWitt, recently from Portland, is assistant book-keeper in the office of the Davenport Bros. Lumber Co. in Hood River.

Geo. D. Culbertson and Co. sold lots 4 and 36, block 23, of Hood River proper, for J. E. Wilhelm last Wednesday to E. W. Winans of this city.

Supreme President Terry of order of Washington will be up from Portland to conduct the installation ceremonies in the union of that order Saturday evening.

County Commissioner Hibbard is attending the commissioners' court at The Dalles, where he went Tuesday. The principal business at this session will be the tax levy for 1903.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cook recently presented at the Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip with a complete set of Chambers Encyclopedia, for which the members are grateful.

The glacier is indebted to T. C. Dalles for the present of a new broom. The glacier office has a complete set of nine years with the same old brooms and knows how to appreciate a new one.

Mrs. B. F. Moses, who came home three weeks ago from Woodburn, returned to that place Monday. Her aunt, Mrs. J. L. Egbert, is in quite feeble health, and Mrs. Moses is taking care of her.

W. H. Macomber will go to his ranch in Morrow county next week. He has taken a homestead on sage-brush land. Last year he put in 30 acres of wheat, as late as the first of May and harvested 83 sacks of wheat.

Davenport Bros. Lumber Co. have recently had two carloads of lumber shipped up from the planer to meet the demands of the home trade, while the roads between the planer and town were too bad for hauling.

The Davenport Bros. Lumber Co's mill at Odell commenced work last Monday, after being shut for the holidays. The mill will soon be enlarged and a platform built to the road, for convenience in handling lumber.

Coe & Son, at the Golden Rule Bazaar, are giving a year's subscription to a favorite family magazine with every sale of a pair of Racing Feet at 10 cents a pair. This is the most generous offer yet made. We can all afford to wear socks at this price.

Booth's Little Store with Little Prices has been enlarged and now fronts on Fourth street as well as on Oak. Mr. Dallas gave up his bachelor quarters in the building and now rooms in the Jackson block. The Little Store with Little Prices keeps well up with the procession.

Sunday night E. H. Murrison, an employe of the Dalles saw mill, came to The Dalles hospital with a very bad arm. Two weeks ago he scratched his thumb, but not badly. Not receiving proper care, blood poisoning developed and the arm is in a dangerous condition.—Chronicle.

Rev. U. S. Drake was in town Monday. He said the sun was shining brightly at White Salmon when he left town in the morning, and Mount Hood showed up in all its dazzling beauty, while covering the Columbia river and the town of Hood River was a sheet of fog that looked like an immense lake.

Miss Mary Sabin, who has been the guest of the Misses Lulu and Helen Absten, returned to Portland Saturday. Miss Sabin relates that while residing in Eugene, last summer, a groceryman found her had a crate of strawberries about to spoil on his hands, so labeled them "Hood River berries," and they all went before night.

The weather is fine. The thermometer ranges about 44 in the daytime and down to about 32 at night. The roads are drying off, and another week will find them dusty if this fine weather continues. Frogs are croaking and Pussies willows are putting forth. Farmers are plowing—at least one of them. Ike Wilson has been turning over a field of clover during the week.

The telephone company is making some changes in the work in Hood River. After February 1, it is expected that rates for private residences will be reduced to 8c. At this price they expect to have many more phones, enough to make up for their loss in making the reduction. J. G. Thatcher and Wm. V. Merrill of the telephone company are now in the city. It will be well for those wanting phones at the dollar rate to call on them at the hotel before they leave the city.

County Commissioner Harriman and Commissioner Hibbard went out to Harrison's on New Year's day and inspected the new bridge on Neal creek erected by Cook & Cox. The bridge was found o. k. and will be accepted by the county. The original contract called for $448, but additional expense amounting to $130, was found necessary. Commissioner Hibbard informs the glacier that other bridges in Hood River valley, including Indian creek bridge, Pole creek bridge and the bridge over the East Fork at the Koonitz mill, will soon need looking after.

Flu is Way to Live Long.
The startling announcement of a discovery that will surely lengthen life is made by editor O. H. Downey, of Chubbuck, Ind. "I wish to state," he writes, "that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is the most infallible remedy that I have ever known for coughs, colds and grip. It's invaluable to people with weak lungs. Having this wonderful medicine in one need dread pneumonia or consumption. Its relief is instant and cure certain." Chas. N. Clarke will guarantee every 50c and $1.00 bottle, and give trial bottles free.

A Card.
I desire to say that, though my wife and I cannot agree to live together, nor agree in business relations, I never suspected she had done anything criminal. I believe her morally pure in character. M. B. Fortna.

Annual Meeting and Dinner.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church was held last Thursday at the church. The annual dinner was given on the afternoon of the same day at A. O. U. W. hall.

The pastor of the church, Rev. J. L. Hershner, presided at the annual meeting. The financial exhibits, representing five departments of the church, showed a surplus in the treasuries of over $150. The Ladies' Aid society alone has a surplus in its treasury of $126.30. A small deficit in one department of the church will soon be met. The church owes a valuable property—church and parsonage—on which there is no indebtedness at all.

The officers chosen for the ensuing term were as follows: Deacons, W. H. Perry and C. J. Hayes, with Geo. P. Crowell and J. H. Dukes, will constitute the full board; clerk, John S. Booth; treasurer and financial secretary, E. Barnes; trustees, G. R. Caster, J. H. Dukes and J. S. Harbison.

At the annual Sunday school meeting the officers chosen were: A. C. Stalen, superintendent; F. B. Barnes, assistant superintendent; Grace Prather, secretary; Ferdinand Struck, treasurer; Mrs. Ethel Buton, organist. President of the U. E. society, Carrie Booth; vice president, Eva Nicklason; secretary and treasurer, Carl Coon.

Seventy-five persons sat down to the annual dinner and partook of a feast of good things prepared by the ladies of the church and society. All the relations of the church are harmonious and happy.

Odell Notes.
The recent sale of J. S. Harbison's place, two and one-half miles from here, has had a stimulating effect upon the people of this neighborhood. This is partly the result of a well improved and well kept place. Property in Hood River is in demand at a good price, either with or without improvements, but like its famous apples and strawberries, will always bring a fancy figure when properly cared for. Moral, Fix up your homes.

J. N. Wright, who lives above the bridge on the Mt. Hood road and outside the wood market, is engaged in cutting wood for H. C. Crockett. David Dodson and Fred Crockett are also making the splinters fly.

Mr. Emil and Mr. Lockman, who have places near town on the west side, are engaged in clearing land for Mr. Copple. They will also have a lot of fine wood, consisting of oak and yellow pine. This is good working weather, and there is no excuse for idlers here.

School resumed Monday and is doing excellent work under the leadership of G. W. Brown. Mr. Brown makes a business of teaching, not so much for the money there is in it, but because his heart is in the work, and that is the only kind of work that tells for the future.

B. F. Young returned home on the first of the year from town, where he had been managing the Davenport stable.

On the morning of January 1st, just break of day, there was a blockade in the street at Odell. The writer discovered a horse and buggy in the only broken track in front of the little white store. The rig was drivenless and the faithful horse standing still. Stepping quietly as possible through the crusty snow the writer peered cautiously into the buggy, and then came a sound like the roaring of the wind through the trees. Not dead, but sound asleep. Poor boy! He had spent the night-down town at a dance, and on account of his personal appearance and graceful dancing the ladies choose proposition had proven too much for him.

New Year's day was a glad one at Wm. Ehrek's, it being his birthday and that of Chris Dethman. For several years they have celebrated New Year's and their birthday together. It fell to Mr. and Mrs. Ehrek to do the honors and furnish the entertainment this time, and for days prior the work of preparation by the good housewife, Mrs. Ehrek, went steadily on. Grooming and the faithful horse standing still. Stepping quietly as possible through the crusty snow the writer peered cautiously into the buggy, and then came a sound like the roaring of the wind through the trees. Not dead, but sound asleep. Poor boy! He had spent the night-down town at a dance, and on account of his personal appearance and graceful dancing the ladies choose proposition had proven too much for him.

John R. Crosby's black horse Grant met with a serious accident Wednesday morning. Feeling the effects of clover hay he was running and playing and plunged into a barbed wire fence, almost severing one of his front feet.

At the annual business meeting of the Union church the Rev. C. A. Wyman was elected trustee, succeeding Wm. Ehrek. The church is nearly finished inside, and is much more comfortable than formerly.

A Birthday Party.
Tuesday evening, January 6, Miss Eleanor Coe was given a birthday party. It being the 15th anniversary of her birth. The following named her little friends were present and enjoyed the evening: Grace Prather, Georgia Prather, Leila Hershner, Pearl Bindley, Anna Jackson, Lenore Adams, Eva Connell, Nellie Hear, Florence Hanna, Gertrude Wharton, Florence Cox, Mabel McVinn, Virginia Crow, Harold Hershner, John Connell, Ellsworth Hanna, Howard Hartley, Estee Brosius, Claude Thompson, Freddie Bell.

Divorces in Wasco County.
During the year 1902 there were more divorces granted by the circuit court for Wasco county than during any previous year in the history of the county, the total number being 33. However the matrimonial business was not dull, there being a little over four weddings for every divorce. The total number of marriage licenses issued during the year was 146. So it will be seen that there were very many more given in marriage than those who had their marriage vows "busted." At this rate Wasco county shows at least an average in the matrimonial business.—Mountaineer.

Notice to Water Consumers.
Applications for water must be filed at the office of Davenport Lumber Co. Upon receiving the application we will inform parties what they may expect. Parties not fully paid up for water received in 1902 need not apply.

Letter from Judge Henry.

Santa Monica, Cal., Jan. 3.—Editor Glacier: We thought to know for sure we passed the Locks until we got onto the Siskiyou mountains, where there were about two inches; then we saw no more until we got in sight of Mt. Shasta, and we only saw that at a long distance. We passed Mt. Shasta in the night, and arrived at Sacramento next morning at seven o'clock, where we found it quite cool, as they had been having a good deal of rain. After we crossed the Siskiyou mountains we had sunshine all the time, and it has been clear and calm since we have been here, with only one night of strong easterly wind.

I find that rent of rooms and cottages has about doubled since we were here last year. As near as I can learn the resident population of this city is about 4000 and the tourist population 1500 at the present time. It is built on a nice level prairie, 34 feet above the sea. Nearly all the streets have concrete sidewalks, and some of them are graded. There is not much building going on at present. We have five buildings from the wharfs and piers; went out this morning and caught enough for ourselves and some of our neighbors.

We had a good time on Christmas day. There was a party of twelve of us went to East Park, Los Angeles, a distance of 22 miles, where we made coffee and ate our dinner in the shade, the thermometer registering 79 degrees. The nights are quite cool, so need a fire in our room. I am sitting out on the porch writing to-day. There was a week of rain just before we got here and the mountains to the east and north of Los Angeles were covered with snow, but has all disappeared, except one peak which they call "Old Baldy." Flowers of all kinds are in full bloom. There has not been any frost here yet to show on the tomato vines, or anything else. L. HENRY.
