The Glacier is in receipt of a letter from Charles B. Prather, who is now in Washington City looking after his increase of pension. Himself and wife have been sick with a fever but have recovered. Charley says he has hunted the city all over for a day's work but succeeded only in earning 35 cents for carrying in coal for a woman. He will now try the country and look for a job. He very much desires to sell his team and wagon because he needs the money. The team can be seen at Andy Prather's, on Rock creek.

The beautiful snow has disappeared from Hood River valley. It covered the valley about a foot in depth for about two weeks, with rain nearly every day, and a'ash in the roads and streets; but the warm chinook winds came along last Friday and Saturday, and by Monday morning the fields were bare. Sunday was a spring-like day, and many promenade took advantage of the sunshine to stroll beyond the confines of their door yards for the first time in a month. The weather has since been warm and pleasant.

The Epworth League of the Belmont M. E. church held their monthly business meeting at the home of Mr. F. G. Church for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The following is the list of officers: President, Alice Church; 1st vice president, Mr. Sparks; 2d vice president, M. H. Nickelson; 3d vice president, Mrs. Barrett; 4th vice president, Edwin Barker; secretary, Ethel Church; treasurer, Marsh Isenberg.

H. J. Byrck caught a salmon trout the other day that had swallowed a young salmon about 2 1/2 inches in length. These salmon trout are said to be very destructive on the young fish turned out by the government hatcheries. When the young salmon were turned into the Columbia river at White Salmon, about a month ago, hundreds of salmon trout could be seen diving after the young fish.

The good roads committee, consisting of T. Steinhaiber, C. Dethman and William Kennedy, canvassed the city and country during the week for subscriptions for repaving the road to Pine Grove. They were very successful and feel that they have done a good work. The total subscriptions up to date amount to $900. Several of the big fruit growers and farmers of the Side have not been called upon yet, and the amount will be increased considerably. The committee went to The Dalles Wednesday evening, where they will ask the county commissioners to give as much more as has been subscribed toward the improvement of this piece of road. Next week the Glacier will publish a complete list of the subscribers and the amounts pledged by each.

"Throw up your hands." Such was the greeting which met Jim Stranahan last Friday, early in the evening, as he was on his way home. Jim had just reached the top of the hill and had stopped to catch his breath, when he was saluted by a crowd of men who were waiting to ask any questions he obeyed, and three bold highwaymen proceeded to relieve him of his watch and what loose change he had, then let him resume his homeward journey with the understanding that he would not return to town or notify the police station. Jim was feeling pretty blue over having lost his watch, when in walked the three highwaymen, who proved to be high-women, who had been waiting to rob him, and handed him his valuables.

Early Christmas morning, while every one was busy preparing for the entertainment of two or three families from town at the residence of H. C. Bateham a little stranger arrived in great haste from the north. He was waiting to rap at the door, but burst through the window, scattering glass over the floor. As he was suffering from a severe headache and a cut on the back he decided to remain for the day and take dinner. The next day he was taken to the barn and went on his way rejoicing. His name was Bob White.

For several years H. C. Bateham of the Columbia nursery has been supplying other large nurseries with apple clones from bearing orchards in Hood River valley. These clones are used for grafting purposes have evidently given good satisfaction as orders have increased until now inquiries have already been received for over 60,000.

Those who are going to have good clones straight varieties might turn an honest penny by corresponding with him. Frank Caddy was in town Saturday for the first time since he recovered from the small pox. He had a light attack and did his chores as usual until his feet got too sore to walk about. The sore was taken through the siege. What has been termed chicken pox, is now known to be small pox in a mild form—the Mania itch. The disease has gone pretty well through the Frankton community. Children are most subject to the disease more than adults.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Water Supply company, Saturday, the following board of directors were elected: F. C. Sherrier, president; H. J. Hibbard, vice president; C. E. Markham, secretary; G. J. Coasting, treasurer; F. G. Church, R. J. Ellis and Chas. Chandler.

Harry B. Teal of Portland, made a flying trip to Hood River, Sunday, to bid his sister, Miss H. Teal good bye. Mr. Teal for the past three years has been employed in the United States national bank at Portland, and starts East very soon to accept a position in Kansas City.

H. S. Richmond drove down from Mount Hood Monday, bringing his partner, W. W. Nason, back to the city. While here one of Mr. Richmond's horses was taken sick Wednesday, and then had to take a lively horse to get home.

The voters of Frankton school district will meet at the school house, January 24, to vote a tax for school purposes. The question of building a new school house will also come up. To build a new school house will require bonding the district. A full attendance is desired at this meeting.

H. J. Byrck caught ten sea trout and a steel head, weighing 7 1/2 pounds, Tuesday, in Hood river. C. E. Hennam was out on the day caught ten sea trout and steel head weighing 18 pounds. They report great fun hauling in the fish from the swift waters.

Geo. Boorman and Ray Ellis were up from Portland last week visiting relatives and friends. George is working in a furniture factory and learning wood carving. Ray is becoming an expert violinist and is a rare treat to hear him manipulate the strings.

A. J. Emerson sold two dressed hogs to the Commercial Co. Wednesday, one of which weighed 345 pounds and the other 326 1/2.

George Stranahan was so unfortunate as to have his shoes stolen at the dance at the K. of P. hall last Wednesday night.

Bert Stranahan went to Portland last Thursday to attend the wedding of Elmer McVay, well known in Hood River. Mrs. Harrell went to Portland last Monday, where she expects to make her home in the future.
Fresh today—Celery, sweet potatoes and honey at Hartley's.

At White Salmon, Washington, December 30, 1902, to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brannaman, a son.

In Hood River valley January 6, 1903, John Tyler and Miss Hatue Caroline Purser, both of Hood River.

At the Congregational parsonage on January 2, 1903, by Rev. J. L. Herzhorn, Herman Wheeler of Hood River and Miss Annie Bannell of Cascade Locks. The happy pair will reside at Cascade Locks.

Obituary.
Annora E. Nelson was born near Glenwood in Mills county, Iowa, in the year 1868, her father dying when she was not quite five months old. When she was three years old she and her mother went to Kansas to live. At the age of nineteen she was united in marriage with Edwin DePre and moved from Lincoln county to Hawley, finally locating at Hoxie, where they lived till Mr. DePre was made assistant secretary to the State secretary. His death occurring a few months later Mrs. DePre returned to Hoxie, and a short time after she was offered her late husband's position, which she accepted and duly filled as long as her health would permit. She returned to Hoxie a second time, and soon after she united with the Church of Christ, and was a faithful Christian the rest of her life. Three years ago she moved to California, hoping for the change of climate would be beneficial, but receiving no benefit she came to Hood River last June. Her health gradually failed, until the night before Christmas when she was taken much worse and never rallied, but failed rapidly. She died the 20th of December and was buried New Year's morning in Lidewide cemetery. She leaves five children, a mother, two brothers and five sisters to mourn her loss.
