

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1923.

The move for a new county, to be named Stockman, taken from the southern part of Wasco and part of Crook county, is gaining headway, and we may expect to see it succeed at this session of the legislature. J. N. Burgess of Antelope, one of Wasco county's representatives, has been canvassing the territory of the proposed new county and of course will champion the bill for Stockman county in the legislature. The Antelope Herald figures that the new county will carry off $516,000 of assessable property of Wasco county and assume $7,000 of the indebtedness. If the petition for the new county of Stockman is granted it will probably be the last division of Wasco county, a county that 50 years ago embraced all of what is now known as the Inland Empire.

The weather has been cool for the past few days, with the thermometer down to the freezing point and a biting east wind. Hood River people grow and complain of the cold weather, but we are fortunately situated here compared with our friends in the Eastern states. In the Middle Western states the thermometer is ranging below zero, while the price of coal, when it can be had at any price, is beyond the reach of the poor. In the big cities many deaths are reported from the effects of the cold. Here in Oregon we have plenty of the best of fuel, and there is no suffering from the want of it.

The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. announces that it has concluded contracts for a daily service of news telegrams to a British mail steamer sailing from Liverpool for New York at the end of the current month. The vessel will be equipped with a complete staff and plant, which will enable the publication of a daily newspaper on board during the voyage.

Thomas H. Tongue, representative in congress from the first district of Oregon, died suddenly in Washington City last Sunday. Mr. Tongue was a man of good ability and untiring in his work for Oregon in congress. The death of no public man in Oregon has ever aroused more universal sympathy.

Balloting for United States senator will begin at Salem next Monday. A dispatch to Wednesday's Oregonian says Fulton will have 30 votes on first ballot, Geer 20, and C. E. S. Wood, democrat, 17. Other candidates will develop, and we may look for a hot contest if not another deadlock.

A member of the Missouri legislature recently blew out the gas when he went to bed for the first time at the state capital. He didn't know it was loaded. The legislator from the rural districts and his wife were rescued in the nick of time to save their lives.

Advertising.
The advertising problem is one of the most serious with which a large part of men of business are called on to deal. Many millions are spent annually by advertisers. There are establishments conducted on the largest scale where by far the greatest item of expenditure in the running of the business is an advertising—more than rent and clerk hire and the cost of the machinery generally. And this outgo is not periodical and occasional, but a steady daily expenditure.

The first great necessity to successful advertising, of course, is to have something to sell which the public wants and to have it as described in the advertisement—that is, to tell the truth in the advertisement. For a short, spasmodic pull a deceitful advertisement conspicuously placed may serve, but in the long run it does only damage. Accordingly, the public may usually take it for granted that a large and persistent advertiser is a safe man to deal with. He cannot afford to advertise misrepresentations. The valuable reputation of his house depends on his ability to make good his advertised promises, the cost of which may be the greatest item in his expenditure on his business. He must justify the publicity he invites.

A great waste of money spent on advertising has just been brought to the attention of people generally. It is when costly circulars are sent by thousands through the post. The number and variety of these circulars are always great during the holiday season, and it seems to have been especially large this year. Some of them were so elaborate in their ornamentation that the expense laid out on them must have been very heavy. Besides, the cost of postage was great. Almost invariably, of course, such circulars are tossed into the fire, unread. If a man has on sale an article or articles of which information is desired by a limited number of collectors of unique objects, generally known to him, a circular may serve his purpose; but, after all, not so well as an advertisement in a newspaper as a part of the news of the day, for then he sticks his notice on the bulletin at which all society looks.

Still another great waste in advertising is due to failure to discriminate between the value, actual and relative, of the mediums employed for it. As a general rule, of course the more respect a newspaper commands from its readers the more respect they have for the advertising in it. A bulletin posted in a disreputable quarter does not tend to enhance the reputation of the concern using it.

The readers of newspapers have reason to feel much gratified by the improvement which has taken place in the business and art of advertising. More and more the advertising columns of a paper of high class have become both useful and interesting. Its advertising is now an important feature of the chronicles of the day, a valuable directory, which is tending to grow still more attractive as reading—New York Sun.

White Salmon Items.
There comes to the writer reports of a "rumor" which occurred at Bingen last week. We have not been to the trouble to personally investigate the matter, nor have we talked to an eye witness, so we give the facts as they are currently reported: In the first place it seems to be an open secret that liquor is kept and at least drunk, if not sold, in town here. What this had to do with the fight we can only guess, but it seems that two citizens became involved in a quarrel and so far forgot themselves as to draw knives. At this point John Dethman, Jr. interfered in the interest of peace, and the result was that he now carries his right hand in a sling, while the others are more or less cut and scratched. Though no one is seriously hurt, the whole affair is bad business and does not redound to the honor of either the victors or the place.

Some boys, whose names are known, have been making themselves a nuisance to their neighbors lately by putting tick-tacks on windows of their houses, frightening the children and starting the grown people. Not satisfied with that, when the boys were removed with on last Saturday night one of them procured his gun and went to shooting; some of the bullets passing so close to some parties that they could hear them sing. This shooting took place within two or three rods of the post office and public road. Such conduct deserves the severest condemnation. Perhaps a good dose of old-fashioned lickerly oil energetically administered by the parents might be quite beneficial, and perhaps save the boys from greater trouble.

At the meeting of Assembly No. 47, United Artists, last Saturday night, the following officers were installed: Master Artisan, William Hyberger; Superintendent, R. Lauterbach; Junior Conductor, Mrs. Wm. Hyberger; Treasurer, Mrs. R. Lauterbach; Secretary, M. I. Kast; Inspector, Mrs. Frank Groshong; Master, J. P. Egan; Past Master Artisan, Mrs. P. Egan. Senior Conductor S. C. Zeigler being in the East on a visit, was not installed. After the installation the members sat down to a beautiful lunch. This being disposed of, the remainder of the evening was spent in a social way and all went away well satisfied with the pleasantly spent evening.

The Riverside Pleasure club will give an invitation dance in Lauterbach hall on next Friday evening.

The Grangers of White Salmon held a meeting on Friday afternoon last. We are informed that the county court has ordered the road between J. W. Adams and C. D. Moore's places closed. This has been a bone of contention in this neighborhood for some time.

J. P. Jones has sold his ranch to F. W. Balesger of Jone, Morrow county, Oregon. Mr. Balesger expects to make White Salmon his home.

We noticed the genial face of W. A. Orser of Chenoweth, on our streets the other day.

Phelim Matthews and family have moved from Portland to White Salmon. He is engaged in cutting wood.

Mr. Maine and daughter, Mrs. Bowman, made a trip to Hood River on Monday.

Good Pollenizers.
There has been so much discussion among Hood River fruit growers as to what varieties of apples are strong pollenizers and which kinds are weak, or need cross-fertilization, that perhaps a few facts would be of interest, at least to beginners.

It has long been known that certain varieties of strawberries called pistillate need to have other varieties of strong pollen (staminate) planted near them or they will not bear profitably. The Hood River berry is staminate sufficiently if given good care. It has only one or two seasons had a record of late date of blooming, etc., of several of our standard apples with the following result:

Variety	Full Bloom	Leafhopper	Grasshopper	Plum	Apple	Keen
Y. Transparent	May 15	Apr 20	Apr 15	Apr 10	Apr 5	Apr 20
Baldwin	May 15	Apr 20	Apr 15	Apr 10	Apr 5	Apr 20
Spitzenberg	May 15	Apr 20	Apr 15	Apr 10	Apr 5	Apr 20
Y. Newtown	May 15	Apr 20	Apr 15	Apr 10	Apr 5	Apr 20
Jonathan	May 15	Apr 20	Apr 15	Apr 10	Apr 5	Apr 20
Gravenstein	May 15	Apr 20	Apr 15	Apr 10	Apr 5	Apr 20

No doubt many will be surprised that the Yellow Newtown blooms at the same time practically as the other varieties. The bloom of the Newtown is notably "only small" and insignificant, while the blooms of the Baldwin and Ben Davis, our best pollinizers, are large and keep in bloom a long time. Of course here and there the absence of severe storms at blooming time are great aids in pollinating.

Spraying for codlin moth should never be begun for ten days or two weeks after blooming season.

Geo. E. Hart with a buck as a lion at Ontario, in Fairbairn county, last week. His sheep, which are being wintered near that place, strayed away from the herd one night and the band getting on the O. S. L. track, was struck by a train and about 400 of the animals were killed. Mr. Hart returned from Ontario last Thursday, where he went to see about the loss. He has filed a claim with the company for the amount of the loss—Condon Globe.

The Oregon State Journal, H. R. Kincaid's paper, is 29 years old. Kincaid has been editor and manager continuously all these years. He remembers when there were but three houses in Eugene, and when, as a boy, he saw United States District Judge George H. Williams hold court under an oak tree, when lawyers Delavan Smith, Day, Logan and John Kelsay did the sparring. He says Eugene has grown and improved more in the last five years than ever before.
