FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1903.

Senator Smith of Umatilla has introduced a bill which is in line with the suggestions of some of our East Side citizens—the levying of a special tax for building permanent roads. The bill provides that a majority of the freeholders owning land lying in any road district may petition the county court asking the appointment of viewers to lay out and establish a road between any points in such county and stating that they desire the county to levy a special tax of not to exceed 10 mills on the laud in the road district.

Calling to the watter he said, "these are California apples are California apples are California apples," the gentleman continued, admiringly twirling the big red beauty in his flogers. "I'll inquire of the steward, air," said the watter.

He soon returned with the information that perhaps the apples are they not?" "I mills on the land in the road district for a specified period of -not more than 10 years. The petitioners must satisfy the court that they have published a notice of such intended application in some newspaper in the county for four consecutive weeks. The court must then appoint three freeholders who reside in the road district, who shall lay out the road and return a map thereof, showing the property that will be liable to the tax for the building of the road. The court shall then direct the clerk to levy the amount of tax for the cover the valley, and the hills as well, number of years petith ned for, upon to a depth of 10 inches by night. all real property located within one all real property located within one mile of the road. That is the of having gone upon the land to examine each quarter section. Salling's grantor filed later but went on the land and so proved before the register and receiver, who gave him the land. On appeal to the courts the ruling was reversed and the land was given to Mrx. Hoover. This is a very important decision, and the court is next in authority to the United States supreme court.
