

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1903.

Tom Pierce died at Viento March 4. George Knapp went to Sherman county Monday.

H. J. Byrket is sick with the grip and pleurisy and under the doctor's care.

Lost—a purse containing a post office key. Finder will please leave at the Glacier office.

The De Moss family will give an entertainment March 28 for the benefit of the public school.

Friday and Barnes sold on Monday 10 acres of the Newton Clark tract, to Rev. Jenkins consideration $1,250.

Miss Orpha Markley left Saturday for Antelope, where she is engaged to teach a four-month school, to commence March 2.

H. Hennagin will sell his household goods, implements and stock, at auction on the old Harborson place Monday, March 23.

The drawing of the silver tea set to be given with Peeries Mash, at Hartley's took place Tuesday. A. A. Jayne was the lucky man.

I have for sale the celebrated Seth Thomas alarm and mantle clocks, which are known to be the best in the world. C. H. Temple.

I have a nice lot of onions which I will deliver any where in town in quantities not less than half a sack at one cent per pound. W. E. Sherrill.

Holman's meat shop on the hill has recently stocked up with a good supply of meats, and hereafter will keep the best of everything in the market line.

Rev. F. A. Weil of Meadville, Penn., has accepted the invitation of the Unitarian Society of Hood River to supply the pulpit of that church for the summer months.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co. sold last week a very desirable two acre tract of the A. H. Jewett property at White Salmon to P. A. Trana for a home site, consideration $300.

A. N. Hoar, late station agent at Hood River, died in Portland hospital March 4. The afflicted family, he leaves have the deep sympathy of their many friends in Hood River.

At the meeting called to organize the union of the mechanics of Hood River, Monday evening, without transacting any business, adjourned to meet Friday evening, March 6.

40 acres, in the White Salmon, famous strawberry district, 4 acres cleared, 75 bearing fruit trees. Situated near school, post-office and boat landing. Price, $600, terms. Call on or address, Geo. D. Culbertson & Co.

Newton Clark has cut his farm into small tracts and has placed the sale of same in our hands. So if you want a small tract of good strawberry land close to town, call on or address the Prather Investment company.

G. E. Williams has resigned as manager of the Hood River exchange of the Pacific States Telephone Company and Miss Laura Cramer succeeded him. Mr. Williams will continue to run room for the central office in his drug store.

145 acres, 9 miles from Hood River; 3 acres cultivated; 80 acres fine fir and pine timber, accessible. Springs that will irrigate 20 to 40 acres; 100 acres tillable. An excellent bargain. Price $1500, terms. Call on or address, Geo. D. Culbertson & Co.

The ladies' aid of the United Brethren church will give an evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hartley on Oak and Fourth streets on Friday evening March 6. The committee promise some bright interesting games and sweet music. An invitation is extended to all.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co. made sale last Monday of one of those choice residential lots in the Coe Addition, fronting on State street, to E. A. Soule of Ilwaco, Wash., consideration $400. Mr. Soule will build a handsome modern residence on his lot and make Hood River his future home.

The regular Artisan social will be held Wednesday of next week. We propose to make this a pleasant and profitable one. A good programme is being prepared. An hour or two will be given to dancing. No admission fee will be charged and no collection taken. Artisans and their friends.

Notice to Berry Growers.—Before making any contracts for crates see us. We own our factory, employ Hood River labor, furnish good crates, on reasonable prices, and intend to supply all requirements and will make it decidedly to the interest of all growers to ship in crates furnished by us. Davidson Fruit Co.

R. E. Harborson, having sold his home place last week on the East Side, immediately repented and tried to buy it back. Finding the purchaser could not be persuaded, he did the next best thing and bought another farm adjoining his old place. H. Hennagin offered to sell, and Mr. Harborson gave him $9,700 for 80 acres. He sold his own place for $8,400. We are glad to know that Mr. Harborson and family will remain in the valley. We can't afford to lose many of their kind.

Sam Harborson having sold his farm auctioned off his goods to go soon with his family to Grant's Pass, where his wife and children will visit with her parents while he travels over the country looking for a place that will suit him better than Hood River. Last Saturday evening neighbors and friends to the number of 45 called upon Mr. and Mrs. Harborson and showered blessings and good wishes on them, hoping that good fortune might attend them wherever they may roam.

A. B. Cash, Secretary pro tem.

Moster, Fruit Growers Organize.

Saturday, February 28, 1903 the fruit growers of Moster met at that place and organized themselves into a union to be known as the Moster Fruit Growers' Union. J. P. Carroll was elected president; E. M. Hunter, secretary; George Sellinger, treasurer; G. Wm. Johnson, J. N. Mosier and A. Stewart, committee on by-laws.

Mr. Ingram of the Pacific States telephone company was present and proposed to furnish the people their phones at 50 cents a month if the people would build their own lines. The matter was laid on the table, and action will be taken next Saturday on the subject.

Then the fruit growers resumed their deliberation, and J. P. Carroll said this meeting was called to see whether we want to run our own business or hitch in with Hood River.

Mr. Mosier—the question arises as to whether we are well enough known and advertised to market our own product. I am not speaking for nor against it. They claim, of course, that we get the benefit of taking Hood River on our product.

Mr. Root—I can't see why we cannot organize and market our own fruit just the same as they do down there. There is often a great advantage in organized effort, and it is often very expensive, but I believe it would be a great advantage to us here to be organized. I am in favor of organization whether you let me into it or not.

G. P. Carroll—I believe that we ought to be organized, now, today. When I came down on the train I met a gentleman from Minnesota, and he wanted to come in here and wanted to locate several other families, and I didn't know where to send him. We have no real estate men here, so one in the business, and I did not know what to tell him. If we were organized we could send him to the head of the organization.

J. P. Carroll—Everybody here I guess knows that I have been in favor of an organization ever since I came to Moster. An organization was then effected as above. E. Umm.

Serious Accident.

Last Saturday, while H. Grosser of the East Side was operating a grubbing machine, he met with an accident which was at first feared would prove fatal. His son had been driving the team, but owing to an exceptionally hard pull, the father, fearing some mishap, took the lines and started to drive. Suddenly the clevis in the doubletree broke, freeing the sweep. As the pawl failed to catch in the first notch of the ratchet plate, the sweep struck the unfortunate man a terrible blow in the lower abdomen and glancing downward severely bruised the flesh of the left thigh about midway between the body and knee. The shock was so great that unconsciousness soon came, and his family, after conveying him to the house in a vehicle, telephoned to Hood River for Dr. Dumble, reporting that the father's thigh was dislocated. Dr. Dumble requested Dr. Watt to assist him in the case, and the two went out together. They found the case a very serious one, but fortunately dislocation of the thigh was not added to the painful injury. At this writing Mr. Grosser is resting easier and seems to be out of danger, but it was a narrow escape—all of which goes to show that the best of grubbing machines are a deadly thing and should be operated with extreme caution.

Land Office Appointments.

From the Mountaineer. About 5 o'clock last evening dispatches were received here from Washington stating that President Roosevelt had sent to the senate for confirmation the appointment of M. T. Nolan to be receiver of the Dalles U. S. land office. The announcement came as a surprise to everybody, as it was not known that either of the appointees were applicants for the position, and as a matter of fact Miss Lang had never applied for the place or even thought of making application. During the entire evening both the appointees were the recipients of congratulations, their friends apparently being as much pleased over their good fortune as were they.

In the selection of the officials good judgment has been exercised, and the public may rest assured that if the appointments are confirmed the affairs of the office will be conducted acceptably to all.

M. T. Nolan is a native of New York, and came to Oregon when about 23 years of age, and located in The Dalles in 1888, and during his 15-years residence here has taken an active part in public affairs. He served the city as councilman for three years, then was twice elected mayor, closing his second term in 1900. In 1896, he was appointed by President Harrison postmaster here, and served four years in that position, giving universal satisfaction to the patrons of the office. He has always been an active republican and a hearty supporter of Congressman Moody, and it is through his influence that Mr. Nolan was appointed.

The appointment of Miss Lang to the important position was made, however, not as a political reward, but because of her competency for the position, her familiarity with the office and her ability to handle the business of the land laws, but familiarity with general land laws, she being as well posted on the land laws perhaps as any attorney in the state, and a knowledge of these facts, obtained through the reports of inspectors who have examined the office duties during the years she has been clerk, was evidently the incentive that moved the president to make the selection. And when Miss Lang shall assume the duties as receiver she will enjoy the distinction of being one of only three women in the United States holding a like position. The other two being Minnie Williams, receiver at Lauder, Wyoming, and Martha C. Brown, receiver at Gunnison, Colorado.

Miss Lang was born in Vassalboro, Maine, and came to Oregon with her parents, Col. T. S. and Mrs. Lang, in 1874, and to The Dalles the following year. Her education was had in St. Helen's High, Portland, and at the Wasco Normal Preparatory Academy. When her father was receiver of the local land office she was his clerk from October, 1892, until July, 1894, and in 1897, under Register Moore and Receiver Biggs she was again made clerk which position she has held continuously since under Register Lucas and Receiver Patterson, a schooling that has fitted her admirably for discharging the more responsible duties to which she has been called.

A Times-Mountaineer representative called on Receiver Patterson this morning, asked for an interview concerning the appointments. He stated that he was not so surprised to him, and as to the qualifications of Miss Lang he did not think a more competent official could have been selected. She had served as a clerk under him for four and a half years, and he had found her competent in every respect.

Register Lucas was out of the city, being in Baker county at present, and could not be interviewed.

Ex-Register J. F. Moore, being asked as to the appointments stated he believed both were excellent, and while Miss Lang was clerk under him he found her accurate and well qualified. He predicted that she would make a most efficient and obliging officer.

From The Dalles Chronicle.

While Dalles people were aware that the appointment of a new register and receiver of the land office would be made in a few days, somehow our people had conceived the idea that both Mr. Patterson and Mr. Lucas would succeed themselves and were unprepared for the surprise which came to them in the announcement that the president had sent to the senate the names of M. T. Nolan for register and Miss Anna M. Lang for receiver.

The first news reached the city about 5 o'clock when both of the appointees received telegrams from friends in Washington and later came confirmatory reports from the Oregonian and telegrams of congratulations from friends far and near. Most of our citizens, therefore, heard the news before the Telegram reached the city containing a dispatch from Washington to that effect, and the beneficiaries have been heard, heavy receiving congratulations today.

The terms of the present officials, who have served so well that they require with the commendation of all, expired last June.

Wan Lung Makes a Cake.

I'm reminded of a little experience a neighbor of ours had some years ago, with their Chinese servant. This particular Chinaman, Wan, or one Lung by name, was employed as cook. He could speak little English, but was ambitious and anxious to please and learn Mexican ways.

One day he was instructed in the mysteries of making a certain kind of cake, which was intended to be taken to an entertainment. His mistress, after putting the flour in the pan and measuring out the proper quantity of sugar, ordered Lung to bring her the eggs. This he did, and hovered about his mistress with eager air. The cake called for six eggs. The lady commenced breaking the eggs and putting in the cake mixture. Out of an eye-jump, six were bad and as the egg was broken the lady would smell of it and if bad, toss in into the slop pail. Lung watched the operation with hated breath. To him the breaking and smelling of the eggs was the all important process of cake baking. After that, every time Lung baked a cake he smelted of the eggs and cast every other one into the slop pail.

In the evening when it came time to take the cake to the entertainment the main looked for this cake, but could not find it. She asked Lung where the cake was. "Don't know," he replied, and went about his work. Again he was asked what he had done with the cake, still he professed not to know of its mysterious disappearance. Finally it was found hidden away in a wash boiler down in the basement.

When confronted with the cake, Lung declared that the cake was too good to be taken to the poor, thinking that was where the cake was to be taken.
