

Iowans Who Are Now Oregonians.

The junior member of the Glacier firm and wife enjoyed a visit Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hill, in the Pine Grove district, East Side. The adjoining fruit farm of Wilson Fike was also visited. Mr. Hill and Mr. Fike were neighbors in Iowa two years ago, but desiring a more congenial climate, both have located in Oregon. They are here to make permanent homes, are now loyal Oregonians and believe firmly in the flattering prospects of the fruit industry in Hood River.

Mr. Hill has 50 acres of land, all level, situated in the heart of the apple section of Hood River valley. Thirty acres are planted to apple orchard, chiefly of the Spitzenburg and Yellow Newtown varieties. The greater part of the orchard is only a year old, but it will not be long before Mr. Hill will be marketing 4,000 and 5,000 boxes of apples, which amount will be doubled in a few years. It is Mr. Hill's intention to clear the rest of his land and to put it all into apple trees. His soil is a clay loam, capable of producing golden medlar world's fat oranges. If irrigation is found necessary as the trees grow older, the gentle slope of the farm will make it very easy to water the trees.

Mr. Hill is a first-class workman with carpenter tools, and last week he moved into a neat cottage built by him during the winter months. About his house Mr. Hill has left standing a couple of fine specimens of the noble oak, and has a small orchard of cherries, peaches, pears, prunes, walnuts, almonds, etc. South from his house, Mr. Hill has a magnificent view of Mount Hood, while to the north, snow-capped Mount Adams is just as prominent. Mr. Hill paid $3,000 for his ranch two years ago and wouldn't sell today for $10,000.

New County Roads.

Judge Blakey and Commissioners Harriman and Hibbard wrestled with the road question last week. Among those disposed of were:

E. W. Winans and others petitioned for a road at Lost Lake. L. E. Morse, G. B. Castner and W. R. Winans were appointed viewers, to meet on the 12th of May.

H. Cox and others desire a road at Hood River, of which S. Copple, W. A. Slingerland, R. B. Tucker were appointed viewers, to meet on the 15th.

In the report of the appraisers of the F. W. Adams road, damages of $62.50 were allowed Roy D. Smith and $90 to L. S. Isenberg.

A prominent citizen objects to the big whistle of the Mount Hood Lumber company blowing twice in the morning—at 6 o'clock and again at 7. He aims to get up at the sound of the 7 o'clock whistle, but sometimes can't always tell which from the other. One morning he got up by the 6 o'clock whistle, thinking it was 7 o'clock, and lost a good hour's sleep. Next morning he failed to hear the first whistle, and when it blew at 7 o'clock, thinking he wouldn't be fooled when it glitters in the sun who have troubles of their own.

O. Fredenburg, the Mount Hood mail carrier, and a Glacier reader since volume I, was a printshop caller Saturday. Mr. Fredenburg says that the rush of new comers to Mount Hood has abated somewhat. Crops of all kinds are growing rapidly and look fine. Mount Hood settlement has 30 acres in strawberries this year, the growers are finding that berry culture pays, and Mr. Fredenburg says in a few years Mount Hood will be shipping strawberries by the carload. It takes 3 1/2 hours to take the fruit in spring wagons to the depot, but with even this long haul Mr. Fredenburg reports the experiment a success last year. The Mount Hood berries are highly colored, firm and require but little irrigation.

Uncle John Smith, who is staying with his nephew, C. A. Cramer of Mosier, came down Friday on a visit. He reports a good promise of fruit at Mosier. George Cramer and family, formerly of Hood River, are living in a house they built on C. A. Cramer's place. George Cramer has a contract to get out one million feet of logs for the saw mill being set up by Fisher & Wood. This is the mill that was owned by Frank Daventry and Carl Wood, and which was built on Hood River to cut lumber for the improvement company's flume. Fisher & Wood have a tie contract. Uncle John Smith is hale and hearty at the age of 81. His eyesight is poor; otherwise he is well preserved.

There will probably be two trains between Goldendale and Lyle when the road is fully opened, says the Sentinel. A passenger train will leave Goldendale in the morning and return in the afternoon. A mixed train will arrive up from Lyle in the forenoon and return in the evening. At present a freight goes up in the morning and leaves in the afternoon. People desiring to reach Portland or Goldendale by the river boats can get passage on this train.

J. S. Harbison is another of our old timers whose taste for farming required more room than he could get in Hood River valley. Since selling his farm on the East Side last winter to Wilson Fike of Iowa he has bought a highly improved farm four miles from Albany, in the Willamette valley, where he will engage in general farming and stock raising. His postoffice is Tangent, from which point he receives daily mail through rural free delivery.

In 1857, in Hancock county, Illinois, E. W. Winans bought 15 acres of land and had it surveyed by Warren Miller, county surveyor. The survey was certified to as being correct, and Mr. Winans has kept this certificate all these years. Last Saturday he met Warren Miller, grandson of the old surveyor in Illinois, and gave him the certificate of the survey made by his grandfather 47 years ago.

U. A. Newman father-in-law of W. Fike, the new owner of the Harbison place, called at the Glacier office last week and took a chance on the buggy. Mr. Newman came from the mountainous regions of Southern Pennsylvania and finds the country here something like his homeland. If he likes the situation here he will become a permanent resident of Hood River.

Frank Pruitt, recently of Portland, has located with his family in Hood River and is living in the H. L. Howe house on the hill. Mr. Pruitt is engaged in the plastering business and uses the Acme cement plastering, something new in these parts. He did the plastering work on E. W. Winans' fine residence, also on Truman Butler's house.

Dr. L. L. Pickens of Oregon City visited Captain Shaw Saturday and Sunday. Dr. Pickens was accompanied by his wife. Sunday Captain Shaw took the doctor to the falls and gave him a taste of fish. Dr. Pickens commanded company I during the Philippine campaign in the Spanish war.

Canby post and relief corps, at their meetings last Saturday, accepted the invitation of Waucoma lodge K. of P. to attend in a body the memorial services to be held by that lodge next Sunday at 11 a. m. in K. of P. hall. Rev. J. L. Hersberner will preach the sermon.

Joe Wilson dug up a root of the "old man in the ground" which weighed 70 pounds. Joe Parner hauled it to town and it is now in the show window of George D. Culbertson & Co. Bell Rand labeled it "Parsnip, raised by Joe Wilson."

Judge A. R. Byrckett of Bingen was offered $80,000 for his fine ranch near that place. He informed the editor that strawberry land was worth $1000 per acre in that vicinity.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Attorney W. H. Wilson was in Pendleton Thursday attending the supreme court, where in connection with G. W. Phelps he represented the defendant in the divorce case of Eleanor Potter vs. M. B. Potter, of Hood River.—Chronicle.

W. A. Slingerland wishes to announce to his friends and others interested that his home address is 209 1/2 Fourth street, and his business address is 49 First street, Portland, Oregon.

William Chipping has let a contract to J. L. Blount to build a story and one-half cottage on his lot on Oak street, opposite W. B. Shute's residence, to cost $700.

Emerson the painter is back again in Hood River. He is one of the striking painters of Portland, and is now working for Jim Hunt.

Miss Nora Smith of Hood River is teaching school at Lyle.—Klickitat Agriculturist.

mand for food products also on the increase, it is easy to see that the time is not far distant when farming will be considered the most honorable of all callings, and the business man will turn to the farm land as a means to a fortune. The old worn out farms will be built up and even the far Eastern farmers will have a profitable investment in their New England homes.—Pacific Farmer.

The street sprinkler started up last Friday. It was welcome, as the dusty streets on a windy day were becoming intolerable. Mr. Thompson failed to get permission to pipe the water down State street. He got permission from the city council to lay the pipe, but failed to get permission from the property owners below the road. Dr. Adams' corner to take water from the branch. They refused to allow it to be piped away, but the street sprinkler is filled at the same old stand.

The citizens of Goldendale raised over $800 one day last week for the purpose of organizing a first-class baseball team. It was expected that before the end of the week at least $1000 will have been raised for this purpose.

Mrs. F. K. Arnold of Portland was the guest of Mrs. Canfield last week.

Mrs. J. A. Childs of Portland is the guest of Mrs. Alma Howe.

Resolutions of Condolence.

Following are the resolutions of condolence adopted last week by the Hood River camp, Modern Woodmen of America, on behalf of Matt Russell for the recent death of his wife:

Be it Resolved that we, the members of Hood River camp No. 7702, M. W. of A., extend to our bereaved brother and family, our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement, and beseech God to comfort them in their loneliness.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes and a copy furnished the glacier for publication.

STRAWBERRIES.

Do not arrange for shipping your strawberries without consulting the HOOD RIVER FRUIT GROWERS' UNION. They have shipped more than half the strawberries grown in Hood River Valley the past 10 years. They lead in everything that has made the strawberry business so profitable. They have made complete settlement with their shippers when others were kicking for money to pay pickers.

Public Sale of A. J. C. C. Jersey Cattle.

MAY 15-16, 1903.

I will sell at public auction at Multnomah Fair Grounds (formerly Irvington Park), Portland, Oregon, about 100 head of pure bred A. J. C. C. Jersey cattle. Foundation stock all registered, remainder eligible to registry. All cows and heifers except two bulls. Head of herd Desev of the Glades, sire of the Glades, son of Naino's St. Lambert King 3345. ONLY EYE TESTER.

I wish to let the people of Hood River know that I have the only Eye Tester on the Columbia River between The Dalles and Portland. Come to me if you need spectacles, and have your eyes tested so that you can be suited in glasses. If your eyes are not both the same, it is sometimes necessary to have lenses ground, cylindrical and spherical. I have all my lenses ground by the very best optical company in America. They never fail to give satisfaction. And I can sell them for less than half what you would pay in Portland, as my expenses are small. I have a way of fixing rimless lenses that is my secret, by which they are not easily broken. For compound stigmatism no one can be suited with lenses unless their eyes are treated by a regular eye-testing instrument, same as I have in my store.

C. H. TEMPLE.
