

RIVERVIEW PARK AND IDLEWILDE ADDITIONS

Important Notice! June 15, Prices Advance 10 perc't

If you are looking for a place to build your home you do not want to make your selection until you have seen these properties.

The property has its own water system. Extensive street improvements will be made as soon as teams can be secured. A sewer system will be put in to connect with the system in the business part of town, for which the council is now making arrangements.

This property lies well, affords a magnificent view, is convenient to business, schools, churches, depot, and lies in a direct line of the growth of the town.

A $20,000 Inn, with cottages, will be built this season in Riverview Park, adjoining the western portion of Idlewilde, to accommodate the large volume of tourist and pleasure travel that wishes to visit Hood River, not only in the summer, but during the whole year.

Special Inducements to People who wish to Build.

Don't delay until it is too late. Buy now before the prices advance. For full particulars, prices, terms and plats call upon the

Hood River Glacier

THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1903.

Serve Lunch on New Hotel Site.

Lunch beneath the shade of the oaks and pines of Idlewilde was served Sunday to a party of Portland, Chicago and Hood River business men by Messrs. Batchelder & Erwin, owners of this beautiful estate. The dinner was spread on the site of the proposed $20,000 Country Club Inn, and was intended to acquaint the people with the scenic attractions to be enjoyed by the patrons of the inn. The luncheon was prepared and served in the usually excellent manner by the "Firs."

The guests were:

A. J. Capron, of the Bentley-Capron Building Material company, of Portland; L. A. McNary, city attorney for Portland; Hon. George McBride, ex U. S. senator for Oregon; Mr. Jackson, of Portland; Harry Pidgeon, of the weather bureau service, Portland; J. A. Westerland, of William Westerland & Company, land immigration agent for the Union Pacific, at Chicago; Mrs. D. Culbertson, of the real estate firm of Geo. D. Culbertson & Co., Hood River; G. E. Williams, of Williams pharmacy, Hood River; F. A. Crum, of the Up-to-Date dry goods store, Hood River; John M. Tolman, photographer for the occasion, Vancouver Wash.; J. F. Batchelder and R. R. Erwin, owners of Idlewilde and Riverview Park addition.

The Glacier man was out of town at the time and regrets very much that he could not accept an invitation to take dinner with the party.

Mount Hood School Report.

Following is the report for school district No. 3, Mount Hood, for the month ending May 22, 1903:

Number days taught, 20; number days attendance, 520; number days absent, 80; number times tardy, 14; average daily attendance, 26.

The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the month ending May 22:

Martin Gribble,	Violet Kelley,
Dave Cooper,	Nellie Wishart,
Donald Larwood,	Laura Miller,
Hattie Cooper,	Walter Larwood,
John Cooper,

Laura Hill, Teacher.

The new desks ordered about a month ago have just been put in. They are greatly appreciated by both pupils and teacher.

The pupils cleaned up the school house and yard Friday afternoon after recess and produced a decided improvement.

Wasco Trousers Hood River 20 to 10

It was Wasco's game last Sunday with the crushing score of 20 to 10. Honors were practically even until about the 7th inning, when all of a sudden the home team went to pieces and before things were fairly righted the visitors had 10 runs scored to their credit. The Wasco men are good players and hard hitters. The team left Monday morning by boat for Vancouver, where they played the next day. Before returning the Wascos will meet Mount Angel college and the Chemawa Indian school nine.

There was a large crowd at the game, and the best of feeling prevailed. The Hood River players were: F. Haynes, C. J. Castner, P. G. Fabric, C. D. Castner, C. D. Moore, W. Sheets, S. E. Hemman, H. DeWitt, L. C. Haynes. Jim Hunt officiated as umpire.

Police Court Notes.

These are strenuous times in police court circles, with drunken Indians in the cooler, saloon men paying fines for selling liquor to minors and young men under arrest for having played draw poker. Verily, Blacksmith Nickelson, in his capacity as city recorder and justice of the peace is kept busy.

Last Friday, Charles Hayward, proprietor of the Midway saloon, was fined $50 for selling liquor to Jesse Allen, a minor. The case was tried before the following jury: L. Henry, Bert Graham, E. M. W. Bracy, W. H. Perry, F. O. Bracy. A. A. Jayne appeared as prosecuting attorney and Nicholas Sinnott of The Dalles for the defense. J. L. Allen, father of the minor, brought the charge. The jury recommended the minimum fine. The same charge was brought against Harry Adams, bartender, who pleaded guilty and was fined $50.

The sequel was the arrest Tuesday of Jesse Allen, charged by Harry Adams of obtaining liquor by declaring himself to be 21 years old. Allen's trial comes off next week.

Tuesday S. R. Hunter, in charge of a railroad gang, swore out complaint against George Fox, bartender for Sen Fouts, charging him with selling liquor to James McDonald, a minor, and this case comes on for trial Saturday.

Monday L. R. James, Frank McIntosh and a young man who asked to have his name withheld were arrested on a charge of gambling. The young man's parents went to his bail while the other two are in the county jail. The Dalles Mountaineer says the men give this account of the incident which led to their arrest. James is running a restaurant in Hood River and McIntosh is his cook. On the evening of May 24, they with C. L. Clemons and Wm. Berry were in James' sleeping room playing solo and finally wound up with a game of draw. Afterwards Clemons filed a complaint against James and McIntosh charging them with gambling, and Berry who claims to belong to an eastern detective agency, figured as a star witness. James tells a true story, this man Berry is like unto that fabled snake the farmer took into his house and warmed, and afterwards showed his appreciation of its benefactor by biting him. James says that last winter at Westport he picked Berry up when he was broke and helped him to start a barber shop. Now Berry repays him by having him arrested.

Four drunken Indians were fined $2.50 each Wednesday morning. Not having the ready money they promised to pick strawberries and pay it later.

Mr. Hood Notes.

We had a nice rain last Saturday evening which did lots of good and cooled off the atmosphere some.

Robert Cooper left here last Monday on account of the weather being so warm the last few days.

Erna Henson of Mount Hood has received a pension as an Indian war veteran, for service in the Yakima war in 1856-6.

John Mathews and Peter O'Neil of Nansene are visiting friends at Mount Hood.

When it comes to a basket social this place is not behind in the best of places. Last Saturday evening a social was held at the hall for the purpose of buying a flag for our school house and the balance to go to the library. It opened with music and literary exercises, and at the close of the programme the baskets were arranged and our honorarary postmaster stepped to the front and acted as auctioneer. If any one thinks he didn't know how let them come up and see next time. Any way, Billy sold 23 baskets that brought $90 even up. That was not all owing to the auctioneer however. The community is indebted to Miss Hill, the teacher for getting up the social, and the directors of school district No. 6 wish to thank all who took part in arranging for it.

Worst of All Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newsom, Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. Improved at once and am now completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It is guaranteed by Charles N. Clark, Druggist.

Monday evening was regular meeting night for the city council, but owing to the strenuous times incident to the marketing of the strawberry crop a quorum failed to show up, and the punctuals went home for another two weeks.

While being conveyed to the asylum last Wednesday by Sheriff Sexton, Silas Baker came near dying on the train between Portland and Salem. He is a morphine fiend and when his "dope" ran low he collapsed.

Rev. J. T. Merrill will conduct the last quarterly conference of the U. B. church next Sabbath. Preaching both morning and evening. All are invited to these services.

Mrs. Knapp, mother of S. A. Knapp, one of the leading citizens of Hood River, was brought up from that place Monday for treatment at our hospital.—Chronicle.

Pastor H. C. Shaffer and Presiding Elder J. T. Merrill of the United Brethren church, went to the Mount Hood settlement last week and organized a United Brethren church. J. Groff, Sr., Mr. Groff, Jr., and Mr. Kellogg were elected trustees. A subscription paper is already in circulation and from present prospects it will not be long until a church building is erected.

Alfred Ingalls for the past year or more has had a gathering on his face that lately got to be very painful. It was thought to be caused by an ulcerated tooth. He was advised by physicians here to go to Portland and be examined by specialists. Last week he went to Portland, where physicians told him he had a sarcoma or cancer. He was operated upon and the operation was successful. Mr. Ingalls is now at the Portland Sanatorium. His son James was with him last week and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howe spent the day with him. They report him getting along as well as could be expected. Mr. Ingalls has been a resident of Hood River since 1875 and is 66 years old.

L. A. Herman of the East Side came to Hood River in April, 1902. He bought 40 acres unimproved land in the celebrated apple belt at Pine Grove and went to work clearing. He has built a comfortable house, doing most of the work himself, and has succeeded in clearing six acres of land, and this spring set out six acres of apple orchard. Besides he has cut saw logs on his place and had 11,000 feet on the river bank and 35,000 feet in the timber. Mr. Herman was unaccustomed to hard labor, but has hired very little help so far in improving his place.

William Kennedy of the East Side has purchased a gasoline engine spray pump from the Davidson Fruit company which he finds to work very successfully. With his own orchard Mr. Kennedy has charge of the Lacey ranch and it keeps him very busy giving the apple trees proper attention. The Lacey orchard will turn off a heavy crop of apples. In the fall Mr. Kennedy will have his gasoline engine to grind cider for the East Side people.

The Women of Woodcraft of the Cascade Locks circle unveiled two monuments, Saturday, to Mrs. Lena Schmid and Mrs. Mary Carlson. Professor W. C. Hawley, of Willamette university, Salem, delivered an oration for the occasion. A large crowd witnessed the ceremony.

Frederick & Arnold commenced W. M. Stewart's house, on State street, last Thursday. From the appearance of the work done on the foundations and the stone work on the front of the lot, Mr. Stewart will have the most imposing dwelling on this favorite residence street.

The ladies' aid society of the Congregational church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. D. Thompson, Friday afternoon, June 5. This is the annual meeting of the society and election of officers will take place. A full attendance is requested.

Miss Edna Sherrill was in Hood River Saturday, on a visit to her brother, W. E. Sherrill. She left that night for Baker City, where she has a position with the Pacific Mutual Insurance company, at a salary of $75 a month.

The Prather Investment company last week made sale of J. K. Powell's place, on Phelps creek, to G. R. Abernathy, recently from Iowa; consideration $3,500. Mr. Abernathy is a family man with a wife and little boy.

W. L. Clark, familiarly known as Louis Clark, visited in Hood River Sunday. Mr. Clark is now a member of the firm of Paget and Clark, located in room 38, Washington building, Portland.

Mrs. M. C. Miller, of Scholls, Oregon, came up on the noon train, Wednesday, on a visit to her several sons, the Miller brothers here. Later she will visit a daughter at Spokane.

Harry Pidgeon, an attaché of the weather bureau at Portland, was in Hood River Saturday. Mr. Pidgeon is an old newspaper man, formerly of Fort Worth, Texas.

A. E. Lake came down from The Dalles Monday and is tenting on his strawberry ranch. He will try to make a fall hand during the strawberry harvest.

George D. Culbertson, accompanied by his hired man, J. L. Loving, was up to his claim on the headwaters of Rock creek, last week. Mr. Culbertson says while spending the night in a tent amid the rumblings of thunder were heard and a wind storm began to spring up. Strange enough there were no clouds, except over the mountains to the west, nevertheless the campers felt uneasy in the deep woods with a threatened falling of timber. The storm passed in a short time. Mr. Culbertson is satisfied he has a splendid place. Forty acres contain some choice red fir timber. There are four springs on the 100 acres, furnishing an abundance of water. The land lies about 14 miles by wagon road from Hood River, and is about two miles nearer the Mosier settlement. Mr. Culbertson says several Dalles people have claims in this neighborhood.

Death of George Booth.

George Booth of Willow Flat met his death Thursday evening, May 28, 1903, by a fall from a wagon. The accident happened as he was driving home from work about 7 o'clock in the evening. The fall from the wagon produced concussion of the brain and he died in a few minutes. His daughter, Mrs. J. L. Atkinson, came up from Portland and took his body to the mortuary for burial.

George Booth was born in Scotland in 1839, coming to the United States in 1850, to California in 1860 and to Oregon in 1871. He was a California gold miner, having participated in some of the rich strikes and stampedes of early days and especially that of Eldorado. After engaging in various western enterprises Mr. Booth settled at Hood River 23 years ago, and started to cut a farm out of the brushy Cascade foothills, 9 miles from town. His efforts were crowned with success, and his exhibit of apples at the Buffalo Exposition was a gold medal.

He leaves one daughter, Mrs. J. L. Atkinson of Portland, and a wife, whom he married in 1900.

Pine Grove Clearings.

June 1.—Mrs. Jerome Wells left Thursday for her old home in Illinois to visit her aged mother and other relatives. She expects to be away several weeks.

Miss C. Carter and family have moved back to Salem, Or. We are sorry to lose Mr. Carter and family, but hope they will return here and make their permanent home.

C. A. Gilmore is building a new barn. We are pleased to note the many improvements that are being made in our vicinity this spring.

A representative of the Hood River Irrigation company was here yesterday to make week taking contracts for water to be delivered at the beginning of the irrigating season of 1903. They are to build all flumes and laterals and deliver the water on each subscriber's land.

J. Christner, brother of Mrs. U. A. Newman, was a guest of the Newman and Pike families over Sunday.

The ladies' aid society met with Mrs. W. Pike last Wednesday and will meet with Mrs. R. E. Harrison on Wednesday, June 10.

Mrs. H. E. Smith is planning to leave this week for Portland for a few days' visit with their son, Charles and family. They expect to purchase a new motor car from Green and will not move their goods until they decide.

Cheerful News.

George Wise is recovering from his severe sickness.

The Washington Lumber mill started up Monday morning and it is said some machinery would not work and the hands and family were very busy. Yesterday doesn't seem to suit some of the mill men.

R. C. Mills and wife were in Hood River on business Monday.

Felicity and Foley is still hauling goods from Underwood landing for the Washington Lumber company.

William Orser and wife spent Tuesday at Underwood visiting B. F. Beak.

Edging strawberries at the Huff place, near Amos Underwood's.

John Dye began shipping strawberries on Wednesday with the Davidson Fruit company. This is something new, and Cheasewell farmers propose to show Hood River people they can handle such business. The plants do not require irrigation and produce large, fine handsome berries.

The Social Star boarding house ran short on the bill of fare last week and it is said some of the regular boarders threatened to leave, but the chef, under the leadership of the chef, came out with some new cooking ideas and peace again reigns in the tall timber.

Mosier News.

Mosier, June 2.—The gentle breeze "fanning" to the west enjoyed following the intense heat of the past few days.

Ernest Fredericks, Jr., who has been a visitor in our valley, returned last week.

Wm. Akers returned to his home at South Bend, Wash., after a brief visit with the family of W. A. Starck.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett received burns last Tuesday which resulted in her death two days ago. It seems that Mrs. Bennett was walking on the railroad track at the time of the awful accident. Her clothes caught fire from burning berries, and before she could be rescued she was fatally burned. She died in a Portland hospital and her remains were buried at Hamilton.

A. Fugh returned from Portland, Friday.

George Sellinger and daughter, Miss Adeline, were Dalles visitors, Tuesday.

Charles Stark is numbered among the victims with measles. His attack being light he is not confined in the work room.

J. N. Mosier, E. J. Middlewast, C. E. Fisher and W. A. Starck are making daily shipments to the city.

Miss Tina Orser arrived from Hood River Friday. After a short visit with her parents she returned home Saturday afternoon.

Dick Evans, who spent a part of last week in The Dalles, returned Friday.

Miss Rachel Morgan, was a passenger Friday afternoon for Portland, where she remained until Monday.

Clarence Gilbert of Pine Flat, Wash., spent Friday afternoon at the beach.

Miss Lena Smith was a Portland visitor last week, returning Thursday.

Grandpa Friend, who has been confined to his bed, is now recovering from his illness.

Mrs. J. H. Hampshire of The Dalles arrived Sunday, and will spend the summer with her parents here.

Mrs. Anne Root is reported ill and under the doctor's care.

Mrs. P. S. Gunnung of The Dalles spent Sunday afternoon in this valley.

Carl Nickelson has accepted a position at The Dalles and left for that city, Saturday.

Wm. S. Frasier is visiting in this valley.

Miss Rose Coyle is now employed as teamster at the Fisher-Wood saw mill.

Miss Elsie Stewart, F. P. Weidner were Dalles visitors Saturday.

Mrs. A. Godderson and son Thomas visited in the city Sunday.

Mrs. Emeline Shaw spent Saturday and Sunday in Hood River.

Odell Notes.

The names of people at Odell contributing to the fund for the erection of a monument to German agriculturalists at Hood River are: Boyd, Lenz, Larson, McDonald, DeWitt, Long, Kroger, Bowerman, English, Odell, Cronan, Smith, Spriggs, Shack, Polk, Wood, Crockett, Avery, Flog, Rowell, Shelle, Dethman, Seever, Kropff, Lafferty, Coppel.

Arranging the prospective big red apple is now on.

A gentleman from the state of Iowa, whose name is not remembered, was in the party looking the country over with a view to locating. He is much pleased with this section, especially the East River valley.

E. T. Folta is picking as fine berries from his garden just across the road from the little village of Odell as he has ever seen. The writer counted 50 pickers this morning in the Lake & Bottom field. There are several small white villages of tents along the main road, those who must work during the summer, when the raspberries are doing the harvesting. The revival services, which have been running for a week, are well attended and are attracting a large number of converts.

I think the people of Hood River valley should unite their efforts and make the celebration as fine as the season has been. There are many attractions in W. Vinns, and much in the surroundings to arouse feelings both of reverence and patriotism. Let us all give it a lift.
