

WHITE SALMON NOTES.

No man or woman with a soul for the divine in nature ever visited White Salmon without being impressed with its matchless view of mountain and river.

for Fred Chandler and started from the house to the orchard about ten rods distant, and when about half way he ran across a large badger.

Nevertheless, such a process is slowly going on at White Salmon, and he who loves the solitude must, in a few years, move on or adjust himself to a more complicated condition.

Several of the neighbor boys took a trip to Green Point on a fishing excursion. Some were quite lucky, and we understand one of them caught 230 fine trout.

P. A. Traus's new residence is going to be one of the handsomest and most homelike at White Salmon.

The Christian Adventists are holding a camp meeting in the grove east of their church. Quite an interest is taken, there being a large attendance every evening.

Judge Arthur L. Fraser and family of Portland are sojourning at Trout Lake for the summer.

Miss Olga Norman, our school teacher, was calling on her friends in Dukes valley last week. She has the primary room in the Barrett district, and we congratulate her in securing her as a teacher.
