Oatie Young, step-son of J. L. Gordon of White Salmon, Sunday, visited his old chums. He says Mr. Gordon is putting up a barbed wire fence around the new goat ranch and getting ready for the goats which will bring up into the Willamette valley later. M. Lauf-fenberg is helping him build the fence.
Mrs. Harry Bailey and Mrs. Frank Chandler had an exciting experience last Thursday evening with a revolver which wasn't supposed to be loaded. The women were preparing to take a picture of Master Louis Bailey decked out in cowboy attire. The little boy began to examine the gun of course, and to assure Mrs. Bailey that the weapon wasn't loaded, Mrs. Chandler started to open it, when the pistol discharged, the powder scorched Mrs. Bailey's hand and the bullet just missed Mrs. Chandler's cheek. The reporter forgot to ask if the picture was finally taken.

Miss Effie Burns, whose home was in The Dalles until late last spring, when she left for Hood River, was brought up from that place yesterday suffering with a bad case of appendicitis. She is under the doctor's care and is reported better.—Chronicle.

S. L. Taylor and wife were up from Latourelle last week. Mr. Taylor found things on his ranch very satisfactory under the management of H. M. Wood, and has rented again for another year to Mr. Wood. Mr. Taylor is living on his son-in-law's place on the east bank of the Sandy river, just five miles south of Corbett station. Mrs. Taylor is always in better health at Latourelle. Last winter the snow was not over three inches deep at one time, during the forest fire last fall, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor remained for three nights fighting the fires about them. They managed to save everything except one barn.

Professor I. E. Caldwell of Philomath college was in Hood River last week on his way home from a canvass of Sherman county in the interest of his college. Professor Caldwell found the people of Sherman county very anxious that the college should locate at Hood River, and secured the names of 100 young people who would attend if the institution moved here. Many of the families declared they would have their children while their children attended the college.

W. H. Hershey and wife, after an extended visit with their son, A. O. Hershey, left last Saturday for Pendleton, where they will visit awhile with Sam Smith and then returning to their home in Lafayette, Ind. Mr. Hershey lives on a 240 acre farm in Indiana, where he is one of the prosperous citizens of his community. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hershey express themselves as highly pleased with the fruits and scenery of Hood River.

F. W. Angus takes exceptions to the fish story told of him by Thos. J. Cunningham. He says that the story was all true except that this fish was a salmon and its length was 28 inches instead of 20 inches as reported by Mr. Cunningham. Mr. Angus says Mr. Cunningham should allow some growth for the fish after it is caught.

Every member is ex-

A week ago last Friday a horse-biting rattle was in the pasture west of Mr. Eastman's house. When the horse came home in the evening his nose and the lower part of his face was swollen until it was as wide across as his forehead, and the animal was suffering severely. Mr. Eastman remembered the egg and salt remedy published in the Glacier a week or two ago, and put plasters of this mixture on the bite, changing them frequently until midnight, when he placed a good, big plaster on and left it until morning. Nearly all the swelling was gone then and the animal was able to take his food, and is now thoroughly recovered. That egg and salt remedy is evidently worthy of a place in the family pharmacopea.

J. E. Rand and family returned Saturday night from their outing at Maple Dell. "Ye gad, but that's the place to have fun," remarked Mr. Rand. There were about 50 people at Maple Dell and at the ford, and they all are enjoying themselves immensely. Mr. Rand and Charles Estamer went fishing up the lake branch. Elmer returned with 105 and Charley with 98. This was Mr. Rand's first day of real fishing. He had gone to the woods to rest, and would only dabble around a few minutes each day, catching a half dozen or so. He finally couldn't stand the hard joking on his catches, so went out just to show that he is still the crack fisherman.

J. O. Haynes, formerly night operator, is now O. R. & N. station agent for Hood River, while E. W. Quarles is enjoying his vacation. Mr. Haynes has been doing railroad work for six or seven years, and in his capacity as night operator in Hood River has made many friends who will be pleased to know that E. A. Kippel, the superintendent of telegraph, warmly praises Mr. Haynes for his satisfactory services. The rain, several days ago, from a canoe from a near-by branch. Elmer returned with 105 and Charley with 98. This was Mr. Rand's first day of real fishing. He had gone to the woods to rest, and would only dabble around a few minutes each day, catching a half dozen or so. He finally couldn't stand the hard joking on his catches, so went out just to show that he is still the crack fisherman.

One hundred Congregational Sunday school children and patrons attended the picnic last Friday at Clifton Park, Frankton. Luncheon was served at noon on tables erected in the beautiful wooded grove. Ice cream was presented as a surprise to the children, and cold, sparkling lemonade came from a nearby branch. The children amused themselves at baseball, croquet and other games. The officers of the Sunday school desire to thank Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Noble for their hospitality, and to say they feel grateful to Mrs. C. D. Tomson, who generously supplied all present with delicious pop corn.

Mrs. M. P. Isenberg returned from her Eastern trip last Friday, and in the evening there was a pleasant gathering of her friends and neighbors. Those who enjoyed the occasion were: Rev. and Mrs. Dillinger, Mr. and Mrs. Chubb, Mrs. John Groves, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Anderson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Franz, Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf, Mr. and Mrs. Nickelson, Mr. and Mrs. Lindes, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Boorman, Mrs. Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Isenberg, Mr. and Mrs. P. Miss Leah Boorman underwent a successful operation for the removal of a tumor from her side, last week, and is recovering nicely, and her many friends will be glad to learn that she will soon be able to return from the sanitarium. The operating surgeon said the tumor was caused by Leah permitting the bombardment to strike her side while sweeping. Our housekeepers should take warning and not sweep.

J. R. Steele was in town from Mount Hood Tuesday. He reports an excellent second crop of clover in the Mount Hood district, which will be better than the first crop and will be ready for the sickle in about two weeks. Mr. Steele has eight acres in clover. His garden, one of the best in the country last year, is doing as well this year. He brought in garden truck.

This morning Secretary Bayard ordered a car load of lumber from Hood River to be used in building new stalls and shed on the race track for the accommodation of stock that will be exhibited at the district fair—Mountaineer.
