John Leland Henderson.

Base ball is a good game. Base—well Newby sings bass with the quartet—September 8.

William J. Bryan will not be in Hood River September 8, but Knox will, and Bryan has heard Knox and complimented him.

Knox, when with the Menelys', was greeted with crowded houses in Hood River on two different occasions.

Hockett is an Iowa man—they say, the best tenor in the state.

Male quartet—Opera house—September 8.

Kantner has been director of conservatory of music for five years.

O-x spells ox. K-n-o-x spells Knox. Knox—the smileopathist.

Colonel Hartley on Saturday shipped three carloads of wood, bought 200 cords and bought a horse, and it wasn't his busy day either.

Mrs. J. P. Shaw returned from her Eastern trip Saturday evening. She came over the Canadian Pacific and was met at Seattle by Captain Shaw.

The school of music in the University of Oregon, at Eugene, has listed a catalogue, which is a gem of art. Irving M. Glen is dean of the school of music.

Monday morning, Mrs. E. R. Bradley and son Eldon, Miss Constance Bradley, and Mrs. J. W. left for Dayton, Or., where they will visit two weeks with relatives.

E. C. Wright has sold his interest in the tobacco and confectionery business of Wright & Tompkins to H. F. Jochimsen. Mr. Wright and family will go to Camas Prairie to rusticate for a month or so.

T. J. Canning and Frank J. Baker visited at White Salmon, Monday, Tuesday. Mr. Baker returned to his home at Colorado Springs, after a visit in Hood River with Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Canning.

Charles H. Jones, editor and publisher of the Oregon Teachers' Monthly, was in Hood River the last day of the month, soliciting subscriptions to his publication. The June number of the Monthly is a special institute number, and contains songs and music which were used by the teachers at the institute. Mr. Jones went to Heppner from Hood River.

J. I. Miller went to Portland last week and procured pipe for his spring to conduct water to his house and barn. He now has his water works in full operation and is a well-pleased man. The spring is located on the Bob Wright place and was reserved when Mr. Miller sold the place. He pipes the water 1,473 feet and has the water running into his house, barn, milk house and two sprinklers on his lawn. The cost of the pipe in Portland was $114. The cost of the water works complete was $122.

Martin Dodge and wife of Washington, D. C., were guests of W. R. Winans at the Forks last week. Mr. Dodge is director of the good roads inquiries. Mr. Winans took the party a drive over the roads on the East and West sides of Hood river, and they were delighted with the views of the scenery. Mr. Dodge has seen all the snow peaks on the Pacific coast but he awards the palm to Mount Hood as being the grandest in every particular.

Mrs. M. J. and son Chester, aunt and cousin to Mrs. E. R. Bradley, arrived last week unannounced from Boise, Idaho. Mrs. J. W. has purchased property in Hood River and will build a couple of cottages this fall for rent. Four of these lots are just west of the steps, and the others are in Parkhurst. Mrs. Bradley had not heard of her aunt for 14 years.

Frank Noble put in the past month on Mrs. William Foss' place, chopping his winter's supply of wood while rusticated. He cut up a fir tree 170 feet high and five feet over across the stump. It made 24 cords of 16-inch wood and one cord of bark.

L. C. Nealeigh and William Curran went to the Washington side Wednesday for a bear hunt. Mr. Nealeigh was in town Saturday to get Flint Bradford's bear dog. Leave your orders for bar meat early to avoid the rush.

W. H. Bishop returned last week from Newport, Or., where he attended the Indian institute. Mrs. Bishop and son Perrin, who accompanied him, will return later.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crockett returned Saturday from The Dalles and the interior of Wasco county where they visited for a week with old neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Spangler will leave about the middle of September for their old home in Missouri, where they expect to spend the winter.

A first class meat cutter and butcher is wanted by J. T. Holman, on the hill, Hood River. He will want his services by September 10.

Captain H. C. Coo returned last week from a trip to the Yakima country. He went from home to Gold Lake on his boat and car and from there on his bicycle. The captain at one time took up a homestead on the Atlatunna river. He found a university and quite a town on his homestead. Hop growers are a box of 18 bushels for picking hops and fearful that pickers will be scarce. In crossing the Simcoe mountains on his return his wheel gave out and it looked like he would have to foot it home, but luckily an Indian came along driving a team and gave him a lift. The Indian called attention to Mount Adams, which was found to be entirely devoid of snow on the north side, from the summit to the base of the mountain. The Indian said he had never seen the like before. The captain himself at one time was familiar with the looks of Mount Adams on the north side and has seen the snow hands of the mountain in the past. It was to be seen. Johnnie Slowter says he saw smoke issuing from the north side of the mountain a couple of months ago.

D. S. Kiser on Saturday received a pension check for $776. Mr. Kiser was formerly a pensioner, but during the second Cleveland administration it was learned that he had served in the Confederate army and he was dropped from the pension rolls. By special act of congress he is now placed on the roll of pensioners. Mr. Kiser was in the army from 1862 to 1865. He was in the Confederate army and he was dropped from the pension rolls. By special act of congress he is now placed on the roll of pensioners. Mr. Kiser was in the army from 1862 to 1865. He was in the Confederate army and he was dropped from the pension rolls. By special act of congress he is now placed on the roll of pensioners.

E. D. Resler, president of the Month state normal school, was in Hood River last week in attendance at the last day sessions of the teachers' institute. President Resler is beginning his second year as executive head of the Month normal, where he is meeting with deserved success. As an organizer, there is no abler educator in Oregon than Mr. Resler, who accepted the superintendency of the Eugene public schools in 1897, when the eighth grade was the highest grade taught in the schools of that city, and left the position in 1901 with a four year course thoroughly established. This high school is regarded as one of the best in Oregon. Mr. Resler was assistant professor of education at the University of Oregon before he succeeded President Campbell at Month.

A stroke of public enterprise worthy of emulation is a watering tank for horses put up on River street by Bone & McDonald. The Hood River Electric Light and Water company furnish the water free. The trough contains an automatic valve to keep it full all the time. The farmers of Hood River, and their horses, too, will indeed feel grateful to Messrs. Bone & McDonald for their kindly work.

Scott Boorman brought a potato vine to the Glacier office, Wednesday, which had four young potatoes, about the size of cherries growing on the vine. He says there are lots of them on the vines in the patch of five acres. Mr. Boorman has a fine patch of potatoes. He gathered 75 pounds from 16 feet of one row and says if the whole patch will hold out at this rate he will have 1,000 bushels of potatoes.

Workmen are laying the foundation for a two-story brick wall addition to S. E. Bartness' furniture store. This will be a full length addition, 30 feet wide, to the present building. When completed, Mr. Bartness will have over 10,000 square feet of floor space. Mr. Bartness says with a brick wall his insurance rates will be reduced sufficient to pay the cost of the brick within a few years.

J. B. Confer has been improving his place on River street and is now building a sidewalk to connect with Walter McGuire's. Mr. McGuire's stand looks lovely now that he has a fine stand of young clover. Mr. Confer has seeded his lot in clover, and is caring for it in many ways that will make it also a thing of beauty.

C. A. Morgan & Co., the enterprising and exclusive cigar dealers, receive daily bulletins of the Pacific Coast League ball games. They also post on the bulletin board a list of the results of the yacht races. The many people interested in sports appreciate this stroke of enterprise.

B. Warren has been confined to his bed by a severe attack of pleurisy and neuralgia of the heart, but has been improved since he was attended by Dr. H. H. who has been clerking in a hotel at La Grande, came home, Sunday, and will remain during his father's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bishop are in Hood River again after two weeks spent in Newport. Mr. Bishop attended the institute of the government of Indian school teachers. He will leave shortly for his work at the Warm Springs agency.

The congregational aid will meet in the lecture room of the church. Bring scissors and thimbles for work. This is the first meeting of the season, and a full attendance is desired. Do not forget the date, Friday, September 4, at 2 p. m.

J. T. Holman, on Hood River Heights, had Wednesday morning to clear the ground for a two-story building, 20x30—the lower floor to be occupied by himself for a business house, and the second story to be used as a public hall.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co. made sale, this week, to Captain H. C. Coo, of lot 11, block E, his third addition, to Right Reverend B. Wistar Morris, bishop of the Episcopal church of Oregon. This lot adjoins the new site for the Episcopal church.

George A. Snider of Lyle is stopping in the valley, the guest of his cousin, Mrs. James Lagalis. Mr. Snider has been a resident of Klickitat county for the past 25 years. He has been engaged in hay farming and stock raising.

The glacier is indebted to Mrs. John Cowley for a handsome bouquet of dahlias. Mrs. Cowley always has a fine lot of flowers in her garden. She returned from her outing at the bridge on the East Fork, Tuesday, last week.

It would be hard to find a more faithful and efficient public servant than City Marshal Cuningo, who is always ready to take the place of the absentees of the peace. Marshal Cuningo makes an excellent officer.

E. D. Calkins has gone into the bee business. He procured a queen bee from the East and now has several stands of bees. He recently got 50 pounds of honey from one hive.

Mr. and Mrs. Crockett, who have been in the city from Hood River visiting friends, returned home on the Regulator this morning.—Chronicle.

The Grapper school, postponed one week on account of the circus, began on Monday, August 31, with V. Everett, teacher.

Mrs. Max Hershey and two children of Ashford, Wash., near Mount Rainier, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bout.

Miss Edna Root of Mosier will attend high school in The Dalles this winter.

S. C. Sherrill of Bethany, Or., is in Hood River visiting his brother W. E. Sherrill. Mr. Sherrill has had splendid success with his school work in Washington county, and last year, by means of entertainments, put a $50 organ in the school house. He will teach the Bethany school again, beginning September 7. Professor Sherrill is also a leader in Baptist church work in his community.

Henry T. Crosby of Merrimac, Mass., is visiting the family of his brother, J. R. Crosby, at Odell. Mr. Crosby came West with the G. A. R. excursion and made a tour of California before coming to Oregon on the return trip. He served in a Massachusetts regiment in the war in the Philippines.

J. B. Confer says his son now at Gold Lake, writes discouragingly of the crops in that section. What is turning out two to eight bushels to the acre; oats about 15, and corn will be no crop at all. The heavy rains and drouths occurring alternately have ruined the crops.

John Groff of Mount Hood sent to the Glacier office by Jim Reis a bundle of oats stalks six feet high. This sample shows they can grow oats at Mount Hood. The sample sent is the kind Mr. Groff feeds his horses when he races with the cougars.

LONGLEY, LOW & ALEXANDER
and other find them wanting. If you care for a hat whose material is fadeless, whose shape is faultless, whose stitching is ripless and doesn't grow dingy, come in and look over these Longley, Low & Alexander's. They include the great "ELK" Brand goods.
They're guaranteed. They're modish. They're of long wear. They're honest hats at an honest price.
LONGLEY, LOW & ALEXANDER Gloves and Caps are excellent goods, too.
Come!

THE PEOPLE'S STORE

J. E. RAND.

J. C. Van Zant of Portland is holding evangelistic meetings in a large tabernacle on the hill near the ball ground. Several other workers are assisting Mr. Van Zant.

New Today.
Mary had a little lamb,
As he sits was white as cotton;
When Mary went to hear Knox read,
The lamb came a trotting.

It followed her to the opera house
And made the lambs laugh and play
The lamb came a trotting.

Kantner opera—play the piano.
Knox—opera house—September 8.
Knox and his company are billed on the star course of the Portland Y. M. C. A.

Knox—knocked the house down at lastly this summer. Thousands heard him.

Theodore Roosevelt is president of the United States, and Professor Knox, the impersonator, is president of his own company. He will be in Hood River, September 8, at the opera house.

I have just received a complete line of old glass-stemmed novelties, Rogers Bros. 1847 pattern, and a choice lot of white metal table ware. Ask to see them at Clarke the jeweler's opposite the post office.

Ask to see my new line of rings, Clarke, the jeweler, opposite the post office.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co. effected an exchange of S. T. Barnes' strawberry farm near town, with W. H. Perry of this city, for his house and lot on River street, last week. Mr. Perry has removed to his property in Winans' addition, and Mr. Barnes will move to Twin Oaks.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co. sold, last Friday to John W. Black and F. E. Runcorn the six acre tract of William Kennedy's near Odell.

The alliance of the Unitarian church will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. D. O. Entrican.

E. S. Olinger is agent for the steamer Spencer, the opposition boat between The Dalles and Portland.

Fred Alban Weil, the Unitarian minister, held services Sunday at Nicolai. The Unitarian choir accompanied him and rendered the programme of special music given at Hood River in the morning.

The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rand, Bert and Ethel Entrican, Miss Anne Smith, Miss Henrietta Eliot, George Slocom, A. P. Bateham, Ed Dunbar and Mr. Weil. Miss Eliot for a solo sang "Thy Will be Done." Returning the whole party took supper at Paradise Farm.

Milton Harlan, editor of the Stevenson Pioneer, was in Hood River Tuesday in the interest of the Chas. R. Spencer. Bro. Harlan is certainly a strong partisan of the opposition steamer, and is doing everything possible to a steady place for it in the estimation of the people. He left satisfied with the attitude of our people, though, having good mail service, Hood River is fortunately not so dependent on the good behavior of a single boat line as is Stevenson.

Mr. Harlan secured the pledges of the Stevenson people to patronize the Spencer, and visited also Carson, Collins and White Salmon.

Tuesday the Bailey Gatzert was put on against the Chas. R. Spencer. The latter made four stops before reaching Cascade Locks, while the Bailey made none; nevertheless the Spencer reached Stevenson first, where she was warmly greeted with three cheers. The Spencer was handicapped by a crack in her steam chest, necessitating decreased speed, but on today's up-trip she expected to be provided with a new casting, which will allow her to make a four miles an hour more. If the Bailey does no better than she did Tuesday the Spencer will be able to make all the stops and still beat her competitor into The Dalles.

The prohibition alliance will meet at the U. B. church Monday evening September 7, at 8 o'clock.

Fred H. Van Norden, the well-known jeweler of The Dalles, was a visitor in Hood River, Wednesday, and gave the Glacier a pleasant call.

C. E. Dunbar has taken charge of the Unitarian choir. Sunday, Miss Gladys Hartley will sing "The Golden Pathway."

C. L. Gilbert left Wednesday for Mount Blanchard, Ohio, where he goes to visit his mother for a month or more.

Robert Rand and his housekeeper, Mrs. Worley, returned from Collins hot springs, Monday, where they have been for the past two weeks. Mr. Rand says every day is Sunday at Collins, and that there are about 200 guests. He says the majority are composed of old chronic sufferers from all the ills incident to disipation and high living, and have come to the hot springs for rejuvenation. Mr. Rand climbed to the top of the Wind River mountains and says the scenery viewed from that point is magnificent. The Willamette Heights west of Portland can be seen from there. The greatest wonder of the locality are the shell rock terraces of Wind River mountain, built, probably by the Indians, ages ago, and used apparently as fortifications.

W. H. Bishop went to White Salmon Wednesday.

N. C. Evans suffered severely last week with neuralgia, and was confined to his bed for a couple of days. It was necessary for a physician to inject morphine to ease the intense pain from his tooth.

Mrs. Iris Markley has returned home from Seaside, where she has been spending the summer. She expects to be home all winter.

Barnes, the real estate man, sold last week, Mr. Pierson's 5-acre strawberry ranch at Belmont to Mr. Surface, who has moved onto the land.

Barnes, the real estate man, sold last week, lots 7 and 14, block 23, of the New Town site company, to Mrs. Margaret J. Barnes, the real estate man, sold last week, lots 8 and 32, block 23, situated on Sherman avenue, to Mrs. Margaret J. also, lots 9 and 33 of same block to Chester J. J.

Barnes, the real estate man, sold last week, Alfred Ingalls' ranch at Barrett, to L. C. Dart of Colorado Springs. Mr. Dart will move here this fall to take possession of his new home.

M. Lauffenberger left, Tuesday, for Brooks, Or., to pick hops. He expects to be gone about two weeks.

C. L. Higgins, wife and daughter, who have been living in Mrs. Windrop's house at Frankton during the summer, left Monday for Brooks, Or., to work in the hop fields. After the picking is over they will go to Albina for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rand of Portland came up Tuesday on a sad mission; it was to lay away in Idlewild cemetery the remains of their infant child, Helen, who died in Portland, August 31, aged 3 months and 3 days. The child was taken sick only last Saturday and died of stomach trouble.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co. sold, last Friday, to John W. Black and F. E. Runcorn of Walla Walla, Wash., the C. A. Wyman farm of 29 acres near Odell; consideration, $5,100. The purchasers will come to Hood River to make their home in the course of a few weeks.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co., as general western agents for the Hood River Fruit Land company, recently organized for the colonization of White Salmon lands, sold last week from their beautiful tract of Fruithome, lot 224, fronting on the White Salmon river, to W. H. Burke of Chicago, Ill. Mr. Burke made selection of a very fine tract, and the company will plant an acre of it in apples and strawberries for the owner this fall.

What is Life?
In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in constipation, headache or liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at Chas. N. Clarke's drug store.
