

BLANKETS!

FRANK A. CRAM,

Always Up to Date,
Is now Showing the Best Blanket Values in America.

We have everything in color, weight, size and price from the 50c Cotton Blankets to the best Eastern and Western mill productions at \$10. We buy in bale lots direct from the mills and can give you the jobber's profits, which the small retailer has to pay. We pool our blanket buying with two large concerns in other cities, and thus use the quantity. Hence our seemingly ridiculous prices. Cotton Blankets, regular size—10 $\frac{1}{2}$ x 11 $\frac{1}{2}$: 50c, 60c, 75c, 85c, 1.00, 1.25, 1.35, 1.50, 1.75, 1.95. Wool Blankets—10 $\frac{1}{2}$, 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ and 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ —we offer at the following prices: 2.60, 2.95, 3.00, 3.50, 3.95, 4.40, 4.95, 5.00, 5.80, 6.00, 6.50, 6.95, 7.50, 8.00, 8.50, 9.50, 10.00.

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY.

Our comforters are the best that money and experience can buy, and are also bought without the middleman's profit, direct from the Eastern mills in such quantities as allow us to sell at a small profit for less than the small dealer can buy them in the regular way. Large sizes, double Bed Quilts, assorted colors, sold at following prices: 75c, 85c, 1.00, 1.20, 1.35, 1.50, 1.65, 1.85, 1.95, 2.20, 2.40, 2.65, 2.95, 3.50, 3.95. White Bed Spreads, figured or plain pearl hemmed, all prices—75c to $4. Bed Sheets, Pillow Slips, etc. Our new stock of Tabel Linens soon due from European Linen centers.

Yours truly,
FRANK A. CRAM.

Mrs. R. S. Williams and sister-in-law, Miss Maude Williams, of Portland came up Saturday and spent 8 days with the family of C. H. Stranahan, where Mrs. Harlan, the mother of Miss Williams, has been visiting for the past week.

Blowers-Smith

A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of R. B. Bragg, uncle of the bride, at high noon, Sunday, September 20, 1903, when Ollie Lee Smith was married to Samuel Mauries Blowers; Rev. J. T. Merrill, officiating. Only relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present.

Miss Blanche Blowers, sister of the groom, played the wedding march from Lohengrin, as the bridal party entered the parlor. The bride looked charming in a gown of white organdie over white silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The rooms were handsomely decorated with Oregon grape, asters, smilax and potted palms.

After congratulations a dainty wedding breakfast was served. The happy couple were the recipients of many costly and useful presents consisting of cut glass, silverware, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Blowers departed on the afternoon train for Portland. Upon their return they will make their home in Hood River.

Hood River Captures a Medal.

Hood River captured a gold medal on fruit exhibit at the national irrigation congress at Ogden. Joe Wilson gathered the apples, which he carefully packed in three boxes and shipped them to the irrigation congress at his own expense.

The apples were gathered from three orchards, and for this reason they were sent in Mr. Wilson's name. Mrs. J. L. Atkinson furnished the Yellow Newtown, Noah Bone the Wolf Rivers, and Joseph Jarvis the Kings. Mr. Wilson says he could have gathered a better exhibit of apples from non-irrigated orchards, but the offer of premiums called for irrigated fruit. The requirements also demanded that there be three varieties of 24 apples each.

Box Social.

A box social will be given at the Crapper school house, Friday evening, October 2. There will also be a candy booth and fish pond. The fishing will be good. The entertainment is given for the benefit of the school, to purchase song books and other supplies for the school.

Died.

In Hood River valley, September 18, 1903, Mabel Pearl, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Barnes, aged 2 months.

R. Siddall and J. Eaton of Nevada, Iowa, were visitors in Hood River Tuesday. They are touring the coast, looking at the country, and having heard of Hood River stopped off to see it.

Base ball returns every evening at the Morgan & Co. cigar store.

The Dufur Dispatch Says Dufur Will send an exhibit of fruit to the Dalles fair that will make Hood River green with envy. Hood River fruit growers should see to it that an exhibit is sent from here that will make the Dufur exhibitors go way back and sit down. The gold medal won at the irrigation congress should be an incentive to further effort and a chance to win prizes and first premiums should never be missed. The Dalles will expect Hood River to make a full exhibit of fruit and they should not be disappointed if Hood River's exhibit makes a good exhibit at the Dalles fair will be Hood River's loss.

The Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip will open their rooms for the winter, Friday evening. Prospects are good for large attendance. All who have books and magazines for the reading room please save them. Fred East Bartness. The library, though small, has been doing good work. Any person giving $1,000 to the library may have the naming of it. Library hours are from 2 to 4 Saturday evening. All who have books left at the library two weeks are requested to return them.

Claude E. Copple writes from the North Pacific sanitarium that he was operated upon, September 10, for a very peculiar trouble. It started on the outside of the umbellicus and went through the abdominal wall. Gangrene set in, and he was almost dead, but he has now been proven fatal. But he is now out of danger, only has to wait for the wound to heal, and will be home in a couple of weeks. His wife is with him.

Snow & Upon have purchased the blacksmith shop and business of J. R. Nickelson, and are moving into the building occupied by Nickelson. In the trade, Mr. Nickelson took the building occupied by Snow & Upon and will move it. Snow & Upon will be glad to meet their old customers in their new quarters and all others who have business work done in the blacksmithing line.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Byrket, accompanied by their Eastern visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Freshour, spent last week at Trout Lake. Mr. Byrket says he fished for seven days and didn't get over 100 fish. He thinks the lake has been pretty well fished. Mr. Freshour, Mr. Freshour got a dozen fish, beating his record fishing in Hood river, where his fishing for several days amounted to one little white fish.

Mrs. Entrican, who has charge of the boarding house on Paradise farm, has had a good run of custom during the season. Her customers are most reasonable, the situation the most desirable in Hood River, and being only 10 minutes walk from the business part of town, Paradise farm boarding house is bound to hold its own as a favorite resort.

Barnes, the real estate man, has been doing a good business. Since the last issue he has closed up several deals and has also sold ten acres on Methodist lane to W. J. Ross of North Dakota and 19 acres in the Pine Grove district to Mr. Hoover of Oklahoma territory. Several more Portland parties are likely to buy here.

O. G. Chamberlain was down from Athens, last week, looking after his ranch. He hopes to again become a resident of Hood River sometime next year. He is now in the insurance business and is justice of the peace and city recorder for the city of Athens.

Mrs. F. R. Absten and Miss Lulu Absten returned last Friday from their trip to the Wap-tiki fields of the Willamette valley. They had a pleasant outing and visited for a week in Portland on the way home.

J. C. Cole of the Dalles was in Hood River, Monday, posting bills for the Dalles fair and carnival. He did a good job of billing the town, and if Hood River people don't learn of the Dalles fair it will not be the fault of Mr. Cole.

Carl P. Ross was in Hood River for several days first of the week. Mr. Ross is now clerk at Walla. He will build on his place at Hood River next week and move his family here to make their permanent home.

Mrs. S. L. Pollock went to Portland Monday. After visiting in Portland for awhile, she may conclude to go to Seattle to spend the winter. But before she goes to Seattle she will return to Hood River to visit friends.

Guy, Seely and Bent Band from University Park, are camped up on Hood river, where they put in their time during the summer. They will make a stay of three weeks.

J. W. Black and F. E. Runcorn, who recently purchased the C. A. Wyman place at Odell, moved down from Walla Walla last week. They have some thoroughbred horses.

Mrs. E. L. Adams of Clay Center, Kas., visited Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gunnung last week. She was delighted with Hood River and hopes to make it her home some day.

C. B. Hayward of Iowa, an old soldier who served in the 12th Iowa in the civil war, accompanied by his wife is visiting the family of M. M. Hill of the East Side. Mrs. Hill is in Hayward's niece.

Frank A. Massee is building on his place at Willow Flat. His house is 24x27, with a six-foot porch front and back, and a good bay cellar.

Fred Miller, who is baling hay this year, reports a better hay crop than usual in the valley, and hay is also a better price. Clover hay is worth $16 a ton.

Mrs. F. B. Barnes, Mrs. A. B. Canfield and Mrs. E. E. Savage went to Canton Monday to take in the carnival and other sights of the gay metropolis.

W. E. Simonton and Miss Alma Schmidt were married at the Dalles, September 16. Mrs. W. S. Fortable of Mount Hood attended the wedding.

The office of the Prather investment company has been moved to the La France block in the room formerly occupied by G. F. Coe & Son.

The Proper Growth.

School begins next Monday, and we have been puzzling ourselves what we ought to say to induce parents to send their children to the first day and keep them there till the close. Education is a growth. The gutter snipe of our large cities is a pupil of the school of crime and misery. How different should be the result with our boys and girls in school, surrounded by the beautiful, (such should be the condition of every school room) and from day to day coming over the best thought of the world. From such a place we should expect to spring a growth of men and women that will honor us and bless our race. Parents, see to it that your children have the proper growth and on Monday, next, see that they start to school.

The ladies' missionary society of the U. B. church will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the lecture room of the church.

HOLD-UP O. R. & N. TRAIN

Four men attempted to hold up the east-bound passenger train when three miles east of Troutdale, last night. Express Messenger Korner managed to kill one of the robbers, but at the same time to seriously wound Engineer Barrett, who was this morning reported dead. Later reports also say the dead robber was found last night. No clues to the remaining robbers have been obtained, as they became alarmed at the shooting and fled.

Mistake to Pool All Fruit.

Rural Northwest.

The men in California who are taking the lead in co-operative movements in fruit selling have come to the conclusion that the plan of pooling all fruits of the same kind is a mistake. If a member of an association or a local exchange wishes to get out a superior article let it do so and let the article be sold on its merits. It was formerly held that all fruits handled by an association should be graded when received and the grower credited with his proportion of each grade. Then when sales were made each grower would receive his proportion of the amount sold. This plan was thought to be necessary to avoid charges of favoritism and to prevent dissatisfaction. If a co-operative association can handle fruit on an individual basis it will be much better for the industry in the long run because it will encourage individual growers to work for a special reputation for their individual brand. It will make quick sales for the men who produce the better fruit and slow sales for the men who produce poorer fruit. This is really as it ought to be, and yet it has been in the past thought better to give the producers of poorer grades some advantage than to have them stay out and sell their product to men who would use it to hammer down prices with. The fruit growing associations of today are not, however, trying very hard to raise prices in the monopoly plan, but are seeking rather to give their members the advantages which result from doing business on a large scale.
