Raine feet at Coe & Son.

A. E. Wells, who is working for William Kennedy, picked 16 boxes of Spitzberg apples from one tree on the J. Lacy place. Mr. Kennedy has the lacy orchard leased this year. Mr. Wells, when he arrived in Hood River last July from Texas, was inclined to doubt some of the stories he heard of the productiveness of Hood River orchards and the prices received for apples. For instance the story of Sears & Porter having received $20,000 for 20 acres of their orchard, with the lacy buildings included, 18 months ago. He now knows the 20 acres are worth it. Sixteen boxes of Spitzberg apples—that is, Hood River Spitzbergs—are today worth $32.
Frank Cuddy was blasting out some stumps and trees on his place last week. He put three sticks of dynamite under the stump of a large pine tree. When the blast went off a large piece of root went through his neighbor's wood shed, about ten rods off. The neighbor came out to see what he was doing. The big tree was toppling, and the neighbor thought it would soon fall. "Do you know," said Frank, "where that piece of root went?" Frank thought it went out in the field somewhere. "No, it went clear through my wood shed," Mr. wife said when she heard the racket, "that foot will kill us all yet!"
Mrs. C. J. Crandall accompanied her husband from The Dalles Monday. Mr. Crandall is architect for several buildings now in course of construction in Hood River. Mrs. Crandall is a native Oregonian and deeply interested in collecting for her scrap book everything written that pertains to the early history of Oregon, and especially of the settlement along the Columbia. She saved the glacier a call and procured copies of Captain Cole's story of "Hood River 50 years ago."

Mrs. S. C. Wheeler returned from California last Friday. She had been at Riverside, Cal., for about six weeks, where she was caring for the small children of her daughter, who died suddenly in San Francisco while on her way to Riverside. Mr. Lovegrove and the children came with Mrs. Wheeler as far as Oregon City, where they expect to make their home.
F. S. Hill of Ridgefield, Wash., was a guest at Mrs. Alma Howe's last week. Mr. Hill, who has traveled a great deal, says: "Hood River is the most beautiful valley I ever saw." He was so well pleased that if he can dispose of his property at Ridgefield he will locate here.
Sherman J. Frank of this city has purchased the harness business of J. G. Wagner at Hood River and taken charge of the shop. Sherman is a first-class workman and Hood River may now get her harness making done at home.—Chronicle.

The ladies' aid society of the Congregational church will meet Friday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. Come early; a large amount of work to be done.
Mrs. Scammon and Mrs. S. I. A. ever camp up from Portland last week. They returned Saturday to visit the family of C. H. Stranahan.
Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKay of Portland, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Frank McCarthy, are guests at the Country Club.
Mrs. Anna Knapp has sold her home-stand on the coast and invested in business property in Hood River.
Mr. and Mrs. Phil Mathews went to Portland Saturday to hear Nordic, returning Sunday morning.
Miss Ethel Robards is teaching school at Snook. Her school began some two weeks ago.
Mrs. J. P. Shaw went to Portland Wednesday. She will return Sunday. J. I. Miller is building an apple house 15x24.

Important Fruit Growers' Meeting.
The Northwest Fruit Growers' association, the most important of all our horticultural gatherings, will have their annual session in Portland in January next. It will add to the good name of Hood River valley if our apple growers reserve for that meeting plates of five apples each. A couple of hundred plates of our choicest apples will begood to look at.
It is expected that the National Live Stock association will also meet at Portland on the same date, and that not less than a thousand members of this organization will be present. E. L. S.
Circuit Court Jarars.
Following is a list of the jurors drawn for the November term of circuit court for Wasco county:
J. B. Connelly; A. M. Harriman; C. J. Phillips; Hans Landi; E. Froelich; Peter Agidias; J. W. Elton; W. H. Cushing; J. W. Koutz; A. W. Fargher; The Dalles; A. B. McKamey; J. N. Knight; W. S. Greib; Mount Hood; A. I. Mason; E. J. Ellis; J. I. Langille; Joseph Henget; C. Evans; Hood River; Peter Fournier; W. Knowles; Duffer; J. P. Carroll; Gust W. Johnson; J. M. Elliott; Mosier; I. D. Driver; Wamic; Frank Irvine; Antelope; Joseph Means; J. W. Cover; Endersby; James Darnielle; Boyd; C. W. Emerson; W. D. Farrington; Wrentham.

Church Notices.
Union.—Rev. Troy Shelley will preach next Sunday at 11 o'clock.
Lutheran.—Services next Sunday, Sunday school at 2 p. m. Preaching at 3 p. m. Catechetical instruction for confirmation next Saturday morning, October 31.
United Brethren.—There will be no services of any kind at the U. B. church until further notice. H. C. Shaffer.
Teachers' Institute Postponed.
The local teachers' institute, which was to have been held at The Dalles on Saturday, October 31, has been postponed until a later date.
Early Closing Notice.
All stores have agreed to close at 7 p. m. instead of 8 o'clock after November 1, except Saturdays, and two weeks before holidays.
The beneficial result of good roads leading to the Klickitat grain fields is shown by the number of wheat teams coming from that section every day. It

William Westerlund and his assistant, Fred Lundahl, of the William Westerlund & company of Chicago, Western immigration agents of the Harriman railway system, arrived in the city on No. 5, Tuesday, in charge of a party of home-seekers consisting of the following: William Westerlund, Fred Lundahl, A. Ossowski, Otto Anderson, Edward Anderson, Saul Johnson, S. Rosenberg, John Nelson, Charles Weeks. William Westerlund & company being the Eastern agents of Geo. D. Culbertson & Co., of Hood River, the party was taken in charge by the latter gentleman and given a ride over Hood River's famous valley, viewing its vast fields of strawberries and the big red apples that hang from the trees. The party crossed the Columbia Wednesday morning to visit Hood River Fruit Home Colony to get a view of that section of the country. There will be a party of eight Dowieites, members of the Western party to arrive today, Wednesday. These gentlemen are bona fide seekers after homes, not only for themselves, but should they be suited with our country, many families will soon follow.
E. D. West and family returned from Morrow county Tuesday, and went out to their homestead, where they will remain until they make final proof. Mr. West went to Morrow county and rented a wheat farm, hoping to make enough money to come back to Hood River and improve his homestead as he would like. He did better than he could have done here working in the mills and lumber camps, but he thinks he had to work too hard to make what he did. He says Hood River is good enough for him and he will under no circumstances find it no easy job to get up before daylight, feed and hitch up eight horses, load 70 sacks of wheat and haul 25 miles to Arlington over heavy grades, alkali dust and with poor water to drink; then, at a late hour at night, roll up in his blankets under the wagon. The reality of such a life doesn't lend the enchantment it might at a distance—at least not for him.
McGuire Bros. have a brand new sausage mill, a Brecht, one of the best in use. The mill will grind 75 pounds of meat in 15 minutes. All their sausages will now be made in their own shop. People who have favorite dogs had better look out for their canines. This dog was a new top for their delivery wagon, which was smashed in a runaway last week. H. F. Davidson did the proper thing by making the delivery wagon good as new. Snow & Upon made the new top, which shows their good workmanship. E. L. Road did the painting and lettering.
The sad news of the death of Lloyd Cole, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cole, was received in Hood River last Saturday by a letter from Mrs. Cole to Mrs. Edgar Wright. He died at Los Angeles, Cal., on July 17, 1906, of scarlet fever and diphtheria. He was a bright little boy, loved by all who knew him. His parents have the sympathy of their many friends in Hood River.
Mr. and Mrs. U. D. Shafer of Wabash, Indiana, are visiting Hood River on an excursion to see a view of making Hood River their home should they develop a liking for our valley. So far they are well pleased with what they have seen of the valley.
C. S. Wheeler presented the Glacier with samples of the Rome Beauty apple, grown on his place. They are handsome apples and good as they look. Mr. Wheeler claims to have the only trees of this variety of apple in Hood River.
Dr. O. A. Shaw, graduate optician, is in the city this week, stopping at the Mount Hood hotel. Dr. Shaw is an old neighbor of our townsmen, Colonel W. B. Perry, when he was living in Nevada.
The ladies' aid society of the Congregational church will meet Friday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. Come early; a large amount of work to be done.

was a good investment for The Dalles merchants to repair the Klickitat road, and would be still better if the repairs were extended further. Klickitat farmers prefer bringing their wheat to this market than to the railroad if means for reaching here are equal to those for reaching the railroad.—Mountaineer.

Crosier's New Store.
A. B. Crosier & Co. will occupy their new store next door to the Glacier office, Monday morning, November 2. Mr. Crosier has hoped to be settled in his new quarters several weeks ago, but was prevented by delays incident to the work of carpenters and painters. Neatly papered and painted, supplied with modern fixtures and conveniences, and stocked with fresh goods, this new store justifies the statement that it is the best of its kind in town.
Mr. Crosier came here less than three months ago, purchased the stock and business of O. B. Hartley, and by energy, enterprise, courtesy and fair treatment has built up a paying business. With a bright, capable wife an active assistant in his work, no wonder his efforts are rewarded. Mr. Crosier is a firm believer in the efficacy of prior's link, as the pages of the Glacier readily testify.
Though young in years, Mr. Crosier shows evidence of acute business sagacity. From Portland, he comes highly recommended by the leading business men of that city. New firm, new store, new goods—the people of Hood River wish the trio success.

Trout Lake News Notes.
Goldenstate Review.
Beatrice, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Byrket, has been sick for several days.
Mr. Peters went to Portland the 28th on business.
Rufus Byrket lost a fine cow the 27th. The cow died of eating green clover with a heavy dew on.
James Coate, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coate, while hauling wood for Mr. Smith, the merchant, was thrown from the wagon, by the wood sliding forward; he fell between the horses, frightening them; they ran away dragging him for some distance. The wagon ran over his foot, smashing it, was all the injury he sustained.

John Peterson and daughter, Amanda, went to The Dalles the 28th. From there they will go to Portland.
Mrs. Chapman of White Salmon was in Trout Lake this week giving music lessons. She has four pupils at present.
The Trout Lake chess took the premium at the Oregon state fair at Salem.
The ball given in honor of Miss Mary E. Byrket's birthday, September 26, will be long remembered by her many friends. Miss Byrket received a number of valuable presents.
Card of Thanks.
Myself and family desire to express our sincere thanks to the kind neighbors and friends who assisted during the funeral obsequies of our dear child, Fannie E. Hillstrom. J. P. HILLSTROM.
Married.
In The Dalles, October 26, 1906, William Kinnick and Estelle M. Ramsey, both of Hood River.
George W. Joseph, a Portland attorney, accompanied by Surveyor Gordon and A. Wheeler, of The Dalles were in Hood River Wednesday on business connected with the right-of-way for the proposed railroad from the Columbia river. They left in the afternoon down the creek, accompanied by T. H. Johnson, and had not yet returned when we went to press. The prospects for building the road are very promising.—Dufur Dispatch.

KNAPP'S.
THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Good Merchandising Does It.
There is only one criterion by which the people go, and which causes them to give their patronage to any store, and that is honorable, honest merchandising methods. In the 15 years that I have been in business in this city, none can honestly say that I have ever yet failed in my duty toward the public. I may make mistakes—everyone does—but I am more than willing to rectify any error.

While I try to serve you faithfully both in quality and price, if there is any suggestion a patron can make as to where we can serve you better, I will cheerfully give such suggestion my earnest attention.

You will find our large stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Underwear, Hosiery, Skirts, Cloaks, Waists, Blankets, Hats, Crockery, Groceries, Stoves, Hardware, Flour and Feed complete in all its departments. Having bought for spot cash, and taken advantage of the markets, you can buy better goods from us this Fall for less money than ever before.
