

WHITE SALMON NOTES.

Mrs. P. A. Tranna has been taken to The Dalles for special medical care. James Hancock is the latest one to begin building a residence.

Mrs. A. H. Jewett and Edna have returned from Portland, where the latter has been under the best medical care. We are glad to say that Edna is improved.

Ira Rowland, our ferryman, is building a boat 16 feet long, 4 1/2 feet beam and of the round-bottom variety.

George A. Thomas, wife and child went to Cottage Grove in Southern Oregon on a visit to friends last Sunday. They will remain for about two weeks.

It is reported that Mr. Jacobson, former owner of the Main & Bowman place, will return from Norway to White Salmon to invest again in property here.

Rumors of another opposition line on the Columbia river are floating about and the Oregonian reports that the steamer Ione may be the new candidate for public favor. Guess she won't cut present rates unless she offers free chocolate caramels to lady passengers and free cigars for the men.

The editor of the Enterprise advertises that he will practice in all courts, state and federal, including the supreme court of the United States. Good for you, Bro. Harlan.

Some unprincipled or else careless persons, "without the fear of the Lord," are endeavoring to stir up the "old bogey" of the "devil," as the old Pilgrim Fathers used to put it in their indictments, smashed a large window pane in the front of the Enterprise office Halloween night. Whether an accident or not the man who did it ought to have the manhood to come up and pay the bill. This community doesn't endorse that kind of fun.

Monthly report cards are to be used in our school at once. This system will make it possible for every parent to know the standing of his or her child in each branch taught. The system ought to help the pupil, the parent and the teacher.

To the quiet music of the first snow fall of the season, a procession of friends and neighbors marched to the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Monday evening, taking possession for the time. The hours sped away under the spell of games, music and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Main and their daughter Gertrude have fitted very gracefully into the social life of White Salmon.

A brother of George A. Thomas, formerly of Missouri, with his family, has adopted this as their home and are living on what is known as the Lane place. Mr. Thomas likes the climate so far as he has seen it.

UP AGAINST THE REAL THING.

Your correspondent dined at one of Hood River's leading hotels the other day. We did the two-step into the dining room and after gracefully gliding into a chair and tucking our napkin lovingly inside of our neck, or rather, inside of collar in front, we rolled our gazelle-like eyes about from embarrassment and hunger, and espied some little apples on the s. e. 1/4 of the s. 1/4 of the table. Now, Hood River apples are world renowned, but these little wrinkled, wizened, measly apples we chomped on were the kind Hood River people have left after shipping the other kind that make them famous. They were about the size of a backward Hyslop crab and no amount of biting would fetch the juice. We gnawed on ours faithfully and sincerely searching for nutriment, while we wondered if there were better ones for snare and more imposing looking guests, and incidentally, to give the fawn-like waitress time to return from Cloud Cap Inn, where she had evidently gone for our order. But no, so far as the eye could reach were dishes of these same little apples. They were of the variety known as "Hale's Wrinkled Beauty," sometimes improperly called "Hale's Mealy Cork."

Well, by and by, possibly a few minutes later than that, when we had forgotten our order and were wondering how large the children would be at home by the time supper was over, while the front and back of our "stomach" were grating like two worn-out pieces of corrugated iron from roof to order arrived, the waitress having been compelled to walk all the way—that is to say, the order arrived all but a glass of milk, Hood River being short of milk now that the cows are being compelled to "keep off the grass."

Well, we removed from the aperture in our countenance, the measly little apple by a side swipe of our dimpled hand and stored it away in our pants' pocket when nobody was looking. We shall use it to put with other bric-a-brac on our hen-house floor to prevent rats from gnawing up through.

Now, this is no laughing matter. It's a solemn, serious, nefarious, indigent, and parasitical fact that people from all over this great country, from Goble and Skamokawa to Cape Cod and return up against the measly spavined apples that Hood River don't ship. They are not firm enough for nesteggs and they won't chew up or mash up. They won't bake nor stew. They would make passably good jerked beef if the skin could be removed, but that is impracticable, so there we are. Why, a White Salmon man won't look at an apple less than ten inches in diameter unless he can't get the ferry and is hung up in Hood River.

He Took It Hard.

White Salmon, Wash., Nov. 9, 1903.—Editor Glacier: We see from your last week's paper the White Salmon critic, or California tramp, took the pill of truth we gave him down hard, and it caused him to vomit up a lot of corruption—coyotes, squirrels, a forked-tailed animal of some kind, and even an old shack of a school house, and in his straining to get them up he pulled the wart off the back of his neck that he used to button his shirt collar on. When he tackles an old moss-back, a peevish citizen, who has been helping to build up this country for twenty years, he must expect to have a hard pill to take once in awhile. But we sincerely hope he will live through it and be a better man, if not a wiser one, in the future. W. O. Cox.

Notes From Underwood.

Will Underwood came home last week from the lower country to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Underwood. He will return to his work the latter part of the week. Fred Lathy expects to go to Portland, Wednesday, on a business trip.

Miss Kate Kellendonk and Miss Elma Luthy made the postmistress a pleasant visit Tuesday.

There is to be a dance Tuesday night in honor of Will Underwood.

Mrs. Joe Tomas of Warm Springs has been visiting with her husband's aunt, Mrs. Ann Underwood, for a week. A. Y. Marsh and family of The Dalles spent a week at M. Thornton's, returning home Saturday. They brought their wagon and team and had a pleasant time while here. Mr. Marsh went to Trout Lake, then to Portland, and on his return, Saturday, his family met him at the landing and they all returned to The Dalles.

John Dark and Bruce Locke left for the mines two weeks ago. They expect to stay six months and do quite a bit of tunneling this winter.

J. R. Rankin is a guest of Amos Underwood's this week.

By the School Children. Maggie and Bennie Cline have returned to school, after an absence of a week on account of sickness.

The logging camp has moved to the Big White Salmon above the Falls.

Miss Elizabeth Kellendonk came in contact with poison oak, and now she goes around with "too much cheek."

Benjamin Beals spent Sunday with his boys, returning to Stevenson Monday.

Miss Selma Finley gave a very pleasant birthday party, last Sunday, to her friends.

Fred Bueche returned to Portland after a short stay with his sister, Mrs. Fred Luthy.

Miss Lena Kellendonk came home Sunday on a visit and returned Monday.

Will Underwood arrived last Friday from Etta, Wash., where he has been working. He expects to return in a few days.

Major Hendrick visited at Robert Cline's, last Monday.

Ed Lyons is confined to his bed, suffering from rheumatism.

Mr. Frost passed through Underwood on a trip to Trout Lake, this week.

Joe Sullivan was seen in Underwood, Saturday.

Chenoweth News Notes.

Mr. Bilderback and J. A. Hughes were in The Dalles Saturday and Sunday to see Frank Barracks, who is in the hospital. They got word that he was about to die. But when they got there he had improved. He cut his knee, about three weeks ago, and it developed into blood poison.

F. Arnold visited his family near Hood River Sunday.

Chenoweth people have seen their first snow for the season. The ground was white Monday morning.

Grant Allen visited his sister and brother-in-law, near Lyle, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Oliver, one of the chief promoters of the proposed irrigation system, was in our camp last week. The surveyors went away with him but will return in the near future.

B. F. Fuller has rented the Mary A. Torgeson place for the coming year.

Mrs. E. Willard is again on the sick list.

Clarence Hill will be home from the hospital in about two weeks.

We have organized a literary here and will meet Tuesday evenings. Everybody is aiding to make it a success.

BY CHENOWETH SCHOOL.

It is winter in Chenoweth. The snow was two inches deep at the mill.

Melvin Raper received quite a fall yesterday, but there were no bones broken.

Fred Kautz' pupil in his dancing school went to Hood River, last Monday, and hasn't returned.

Mr. Lane started the fad of taking cold baths in the flume Sunday morning. Mr. Newton followed his example Monday evening.

The Chenoweth school is progressing nicely.

There was a lively dance in Chenoweth Saturday evening.

There is to be a basket social in the Chenoweth school house two weeks from next Saturday evening. Every one is invited.

Miss Lillian Jones leaves camp in the morning for Stevenson.

Mr. Hughes returned from The Dalles yesterday.

Mr. Spriggs went hunting yesterday; didn't kill anything but trapped a tooth-ache.

We have a broken-hearted boy in camp. He hasn't had any one to dry dishes for him since his dear little Greek went to Portland. He can get there this week. His name happens to be Harry White.

Happenings at Nicolai.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Butler of Hood River visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cameron Sunday.

Miss Myrtle McLane, our genial postmistress, intends making Portland a visit this week.

L. P. Day has moved his family down here for a couple of weeks. He is struck with the place.

The Menominee Lumber company's foreman, Louie Kresse, is getting up a hunting party to hunt through the woods north of us, and if all the predictions of "what I am going to shoot" come out true, all the bears, elk, deer, cougars, etc., will be killed throughout the country. I am already looking forward to a fine pair of antlers and sincerely hope my expectations will meet realization.

Oscar Johnson received a phone message from Portland last Tuesday to the effect that his baby had diphtheria. We hope not badly.

IMPROVEMENTS TO SAW MILL.

The Menominee Lumber company has closed the mill for two weeks on account of shortage of logs but expect to have the dam at Trout Lake finished by that time, and get 3,000,000 feet out of the White Salmon. When this dam is finished logs will be attainable at any time of the year.

Though the mill is not running, the planers are working and a crew is filling orders promptly for Eastern Oregon towns.

The company has just finished building seven new houses for the crew's families. We are a little crowded yet for room, but in a few days the carpenters will be laying foundations for more houses. There are 23 families here now, and when the mill runs again the population will be over 60.

Last month was fairly good, our shipments averaging two cars of lumber a day besides 20 cars of ties. The demand for lumber has not been as good as it might on account of the harvesting, but better times are looked for next month, as the wheat is beginning to move.

Improvements to the plant are going on daily. Next month our steam field will be here and the output increased 10 per cent or more. The loading platform is to be enlarged, the planer housed in and the east side of the mill widened 20 feet.

The mill people have just completed laying 300 feet of six-inch wooden pipe throughout the mill and 1300 feet in the yard with hydrants every 200 feet for better fire protection at a cost of $600, and a new Marsh pump of the latest pattern has been installed, and a hand hose cart with 300 feet of hose valued at $550.

Barrett District.

The rainy season is with us with a big R, and the school boy is delighted, as he can now sit down on the boom end of his overalls and slide all the hills down; don't it?

A New Furniture Stock.

So entirely was our stock cleared out the past 60 days that we feel amply justified in this heading, and in the assurance that never before has this market displayed such goods as are now on our floors.

Quite a number of children have been transferred by a change of district boundaries, from the Crapper school to the school in this district. Of course, we don't object, only why not include all the valley at one swipe and not increase us by piece meal? It is so trying on the teachers' nerves, to say nothing of compelling the boys of this district to keep in training all the time so as to be in condition to meet new comers.

Recognizing the superiority of this section, strangers are constantly purchasing property on every road leading out from the Barrett school house, all aiming to secure homes, where, while enjoying the country air, they yet have all the conveniences of the city, viz: a graded school, two churches, telephones, daily mail delivery, a first class general store, and a class of citizens that are the peer of any people in the valley. Amet here is room for more. A good blacksmith who is industrious and obliging can find an opening here that cannot be surpassed anywhere.

Comrade Tweedy is finishing up his house, so as to deliver the property to the purchaser of his 16-acre tract. We are sorry to lose brother Tweedy, but as he expects to remain in Hood River we can still josh him up once in a while.

Mrs. E. B. Miller, of Moro, Sherman county, and her two children, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Bishop, and are kept busy, renewing old acquaintanceships, as Mrs. Miller was formerly a resident of this section. We trust that her visit may prove so pleasant that it will be prolonged indefinitely.

S. A. Skinner has begun the erection of an addition to his house, and when finished, if I have it, he will have one of the coziest homes in the valley. Query: What does he want of any more house than he has? He says it is not for him, and when we look at him, we are certain that it would take more than a new house, but we propose to investigate and report later.

Found—By S. A. Skinner, a large bundle of paper, supposed to be apple paper. The owner can have the same by applying to Mr. Skinner, quarter of a mile north of the Barrett school house.

R. B. Bragg, the Hood River merchant, was a visitor in Barrett Sunday, and attended service at the Valley Christian church. Come again, brother.

We understand that Miss Bodine, who clerked at the Paris Fair in Hood River, is a victim of the smallpox. Miss Bodine has the sympathy of a large circle of friends who one and all sincerely trust she may soon recover.

The new store has invested in a new delivery rig and understand will deliver goods free anywhere this side of Mount Hood and White Salmon.

The new houses go up so fast in this section that it is impossible for your correspondent to keep track of them. We notice a new one being erected near L. Morse's, but could not learn to whom it belongs.

Mrs. S. Cochran was called to Washington by the severe illness of her brother. We trust that she may soon return with the information that he is out of danger, and his speedy recovery assured.

We ran up against a bunch of fruit trees the other day in Hood River, and found I. K. E. on the push end of them. We found out where he got them, but we were too late as they had put guard over them. We always were unlucky.

CARD OF THANKS. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hoole desire to express their sincere thanks to friends and neighbors who were so kindly attentive to Mr. Hoole during his late illness, and especially to the ladies' aid society of the Valley Christian church, not alone for their sympathy, but for the gift of many beautiful flowers, whose delicious fragrance filled the sick room, and aided to a considerable degree in his recovery. May God bless you all. Respectfully, MR. AND MRS. W. R. HOOLE.

Pine Grave Gleanings. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harrison and daughter Mary visited at S. H. Harrison's of Albany, Or., last week, and from there went to Elmira, Cal., to visit another brother and family.

Miss Mary Hunt goes to Lyle, Wash., to teach a term of school near there.

Mrs. Marcellus of Hood River was a guest at the home of L. E. Clark over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Goodrich and Mrs. A. M. Youm from Government Camp are visiting at Mr. Rhoades' Mrs. Youm is a daughter of Mrs. Rhoades.

A daughter was born last Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jarvis. All are doing well.

Miss Gleason has gone to teach a term of school near Vancouver, Wash.

Mrs. Shonquest has returned from a trip to British Columbia.

Notes From Fulda.

Goldendale Sentinel. Mrs. H. Palmer's three sisters are here from Portland visiting this week.

Homer Lee and wife of Goldendale visited at Diamond's last week, also called on a few other neighbors.

Peter Shockey and wife are moving on their homestead this week.

William Leaton purchased 70 head of cattle of L. Ekert of Trout Lake—cows, two-year-olds and yearlings.

Mrs. Myers, Mrs. O. P. Kreps' mother, is here. She has been spending the summer with a son below Portland. We are all glad, as everyone likes to meet Grandma Myers.

The new school house is ready for the roof; expect to have school there in the spring.

Trout Lake News Notes.

Goldendale Sentinel. Miss Lydia Hyting of Gilmer was in Trout Lake visiting Mr. and Mrs. Blue last week.

Charles Moore has been confined to his bed for several days.

W. E. Miller, of Goldendale, began teaching the advanced grades of the Trout Lake public school on the 19th.

C. H. Pearson bought eight head of cattle from T. Evans.

Mrs. T. Evans of Trout Lake and her little son and daughter went to The Dalles last week. They will spend several days there visiting relatives.

H. Boze exhibited at the Chapman Bros. store a rutabaga turnip raised on his ranch weighing 10 1/2 pounds.

The Trout Lake postoffice is about to change hands. The new postmaster will be Charles Moore.

Mosier Items.

Miss Edith LaPier left last Monday for Portland on a visit.

Mrs. J. P. Harvey returned home from McClay, Or., last Saturday, where she has been the past three or four months. Mr. Harvey, who has been working at Viento, also came home last week.

V. C. Young and Sen George went to Portland last Wednesday, where they will remain during the winter. Mrs. Young has been in Portland for some time.

Mrs. John Evans and family moved to Portland last week.

Mrs. J. L. Yarnell of Portland was here last week visiting her mother, Mrs. J. P. Carroll.

O. A. Ramsey and wife were here visiting relatives, the Carrolls, last week.

J. L. Divers and wife of Blockhouse, Wash., are here visiting Mrs. Divers' brothers and sisters. Her father, T. P. (Continued on Page 2.)
