

Franklin News Notes.

By the School Children. G. B. Tompkins, wife and daughter Ruth, of Portland have been visiting friends in Hood River for the past week.

Mrs. Tompkins and Ruth returned home Wednesday. G. B. Tompkins and George Boorman went to Mount Adams, Wednesday, to work in the lumber camp.

Rev. W. L. Dillinger began revival meetings at Crapper, Sunday evening. Mrs. W. H. Austin of Mount Hood, who has been visiting with her aunt, Mrs. R. Jones, returned to her home Monday.

Flint Bradford harvested a 11 pound carrot on the place he recently purchased of M. Luffenberger, and it was taken to the Glacier office, Monday, for the vegetable exhibit.

R. Jones of Belmont made a business trip to Grass Valley on Tuesday. The many friends of Burns Jones will be very sorry to learn that it was found necessary for him to return to the hospital, and sincerely hope that he may soon regain his health.

Mrs. Jones is with him and is also under treatment. They are deserving of, and have the sympathy of the entire community. Flossie Phelps returned to her school after spending Thanksgiving at home.

Miss Maud Noble, when she returned from her visit to Iowa, brought with her a lot of the Iowa hazelnuts, and with her usual generosity has been treating some of her neighbors. Mr. Noble and family spent Sunday at the Oakdale ranch and brought with them some of the hazelnuts. They tasted just as good as they did 40 years ago when the old folks at Oakdale were little barefooted youngsters, and gathered hazelnuts and walnuts in the fall to feed on during the winter.

The only thing the Hawkeys really "bunker" after in the old state is those old hazelnut patches, and an effort will be made to get a start from the supply of nuts Miss Noble brought.

F. G. Church and Marsh Isenberg killed a calf and two pigs Monday. Mrs. Eakin, who has been visiting R. Jones, returned to her home Tuesday.

The ladies' aid of Belmont will meet at the home of Mrs. M. H. Nickelsen, Tuesday afternoon. Miss Alice Church is visiting her uncle on the East Side.

Miss Mabel Reiman and W. E. Hanley were married at the home of the bride's parents, Monday. The bride was tastefully dressed in white silk organdie. They took the afternoon train for their home in Hillsboro, Or.

Howard Hoover, Ed and Fred Barker have been clearing land on Howard Hoover's place on the East side. G. D. Estinger has several men clearing land on his place.

Elmer Isenberg had a relapse last Saturday, but is some better now. Father Ostrander held services at the Belmont church Sunday.

Dukes Valley Notes.

The snow is about all gone, and the sun has appeared again, and Thanksgiving came and gone, and every one is happy. We all have much to be thankful for. We have the finest place up here in the world to live in; good water, plenty of wood, fine pasture, good neighbors, good school, a good literary society and everything else to make a person happy, so why shouldn't we be?

Mr. Shelley, wife and little grandson, were seen on our streets last Sunday. Miss Ellen Dodge returned Sunday from a short visit to her parents in the Crapper district.

W. H. McClellan, father of Mrs. A. T. Dodge, was visiting old friends and relatives during Thanksgiving week. Mr. McClellan thinks we have a fine country here, and he intends to return sometime in the spring and make this his future home.

Billy Dolson butchered two hives Thursday, thus supplying the valley with fresh meat for awhile. We did not get any of it, but then we know it was fine, because those said so who did get some.

Miss Ellen Dodge lost a fine cow last week. The cow was picked out on a rope and became tangled in such a way as to draw her nose down into a water hole, thereby strangling her. This is quite a loss to Miss Dodge, as it was a fine young cow and the only one she had.

The snow is all gone and we are having spring-like weather. The farmers are going about their work whistling and singing and all seem to be happy. J. A. Knox went to Portland last Monday.

The writer in last week's paper made quite a mistake in writing up the basket supper, as it is December 3 not January 7. We were sorry that the mistake was made, but we think that all understood that it was to be on Thursday of this week. All are invited.

Massee and sons have started to cut wood on their place. They intend to cut 300 ricks. The clover looks fine in Dukes valley and we think there will be lots of hay here next summer. The fall wheat does not look anything extra.

Our school was dismissed from Wednesday evening until Monday morning on account of Thanksgiving, and our teacher, Miss Daisy E. Thomas, spent Thanksgiving with her parents at Mount Hood.

Mount Hood Notes.

Mrs. A. Leroux returned to Portland last week to spend the winter. The snow has about all gone off once more, but the roads are very muddy.

Charles Helmer has taken a contract of logging of the Mount Hood Lumber company to log all the timber on a quarter-section of land, and put it on the river below the dam on the East fork.

Joe Patterson has been busy the last few days ironing a pair of bob-sleighs to log with. The sports here organized a literary and debating society and it would do a man of the old school good to drop in on Friday night and hear some of the eloquence displayed. It won't cost anything unless you happen to be in when we pass the hat.

There will be a Christmas tree at the Mount Hood hall on December 24, and all are invited to be present. There will be a programme and speaking, after which Santa Claus is expected to arrive with presents. When they are distributed there will be an old-fashioned supper served in the hall. Come one, come all.

Mrs. H. S. Richmond arrived home last week from a trip to Boston, Mass., where she went last summer to her old home. We learn Mrs. Richmond is glad to get back to her home in Oegon once more.

Lost, strayed, or perhaps, kidnapped and held for ransom—some of our leading young society men. Description: ear marks and brands can be had at any place in this city. A suitable reward will be given for any information leading to the rescue of the same.

P. S. Will state that this prodigal has returned. He was neither in Bulgaria nor L'Anama. Crapper Croppings.

We are having some fine weather since the snow went off. Those who still had potatoes in the ground are getting in and digging them. Captain Atwood has several acres of the finest kind of potatoes still in the ground and is wanting men to dig them. Fortunately none of them were frozen during the cold snap.

In spite of the bad weather last week several parties were out in this vicinity looking for locations. Whether any sales were made or not we did not learn. Miss Ruby Chandler is visiting friends in Dukes valley this week.

Charles Chandler will have quite a lot of land cleared this winter. The Dodge brothers have a contract for clearing several acres. Gillis Hubbard and Fred Chandler will also clear some land for Charles.

The masquerade ball at Blocher's hall Thanksgiving night was a success, 26 numbers being sold, while many attended who did not buy numbers. There will be another dance at Blocher's hall on Thursday, December 11 and also one Christmas eve. Every one cordially invited to come.

Mosier Items.

W. C. Stuart's and Mr. Wood's families moved last week, back on their homesteads. They say the snow was only two feet deep when they got home. They are from Portland.

C. W. and A. B. Craft from Grass Valley was here Monday, visiting relatives. Captain J. P. Shaw of Hood River spent two days last week looking over the prospects of our country.

Leo Evans started for California on last Tuesday morning, where he expects to spend a month or so hunting with A. L. Swaney.

F. M. Hunter and wife and G. P. Hunter and family left for California, last week, where they expect to remain for some time.

School has closed in all the districts except 32, which district has decided to have another month's school.

I see notices are up for a special school meeting in district 32, at which they expect to levy a tax to improve the school house and grounds. Let every one turn out and show how much he is in for improving the country schools.

The protracted meeting is progressing with very good success under the management of Revs. Bailey and Dutton. Good attendance and very much interest manifested.

The Thanksgiving ball given at Mr. Root's was a success in every way. A Root received two cars of lumber from Bridal Veil last week, material for finishing his house and building a barn.

W. T. McClure and daughter Jessie went to The Dalles last week to have the smallpox. They had been exposed and did not find it out until they had come home. As soon as they found out
