Miss Veda Thomas of Kelso spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Thomas, returning on Saturday's boat.

Earl Emmons has gone to Iowa City, Ia., to attend the wedding of his brother, A. Leroy Emmons. Mr. Emmons and bride will make their home in White Salmon, and expect to arrive here March 1.

D. Humaker and family spent Saturday in Hood River.

E. M. Peck has sold his hotel to the Heyting Bros. of Glimmer. They will take charge next week.

Mrs. A. H. Jewett is visiting in Portland.

Mrs. Waldo, Sr., who has been very sick, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harlan are visiting in Portland. When they come home they will be surprised to find the Enterprise office moved. The office is now in front of the city park.

Friday noon at school was a busy time. All the children were working hard cleaning the school yards and piling up the snow.

Captain Cook is still improving in health.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lauterbach have returned from Portland.

L. J. Wolfard returned to White Salmon last Friday morning, after being gone a month. Mrs. Wolfard visited in Walla Walla, Stites, Idaho, and Greenwood, B. C., before returning.

Underwood School Notes. By the School Children.

Will Underwood is hauling lumber for Joe Sullivan's ranch on Buck creek.

Miss Lena Kelleendonk left for Portland Monday, where she will spend the balance of the winter.

Professor Cronwell has been having some blasting done on his Clifton ranch. He has had fine weather for clearing his land thus far.

A surprise party was given in honor of Will Kelleendonk, the occasion being his birthday. A large crowd attended and a pleasant time is reported.

A cougar has been getting away with some of the chickens in the neighborhood. He was seen by Mrs. Lusk running up with one of her chickens.

Some of our Chenoweth neighbors were seen passing through town, on their way to Hood River.

Amos Underwood left on the boat Saturday morning for Portland.

John Dark returned the first of the week from his mines at McCoy Creek, Wash. where he has been for the winter. He expects to remain at home for awhile.

Mount Hood Notes. The weather is fine. All the snow is gone and it is as warm during the day time as in the good old summer time.

E. Hanson went to Oregon City last Saturday to visit with his daughter, Mrs. E. Graves. He will be gone three or four weeks.

Amil Schiller met with a painful accident last Saturday, at the Davenport mill. He jumped on a board that broke and let him fall about eight feet, and striking across a log, he was put on the retired list for a time. Fortunately no bones were broken.

C. E. Owens met a timber wolf, one day last week, and gave it a charge of bird shot but did not kill it. He says the wolves have been in the numerous around Bald butte this winter.

With the change of postmasters at this place the people are enabled to get their mail without bothering the postmaster. Mr. Gribble got a new cabinet and the rest are all boxes. It is a great improvement over the old way.

The Mount Hood literary and debating society is getting along nicely. The society at its last meeting voted to move from the hall to the school house. A newspaper is published in connection with the society, known as the Mount Hood Journal, gotten up by that veteran newspaper man, H. C. McKaney.

Notice is given to all the members that the King's club has removed to the new club rooms near the Koonitz & Kelly saw mill, and all members are requested to be present at all regular meetings on Saturday evening. By order of the old king.

Barrett District. BARRETT PRIMER. When is a guinea hen not a guinea hen? I'll give you the answer when I find one of those pestiferous fowls.

When is a bachelor not a bachelor? When he builds a two-story house and makes no provision for a stairway.

When is a hunter not a hunter? When he has to sneak home after night so we could not see how much powder he wasted just to get one measly rabbit.

When is a farmer not a farmer? When he comes to Hood River. He's then a fruit grower.

When does a truthful man become a liar? When he writes about his Hood River apples and berries. His virtue prevents his making the story big enough.

When does a man visit when he don't visit? When he gets to his friend's house and finds a yellow flag on the gate. This latter doesn't apply to Hood River.

When do old maids and bachelors become beautiful? When they settle in the Barrett district. Natural results follow, which, to them, makes every thing beautiful.

Brother Blythe, editor of the Glacier, accompanied by his estimable wife and daughter, were visiting in the Barrett district last Sunday, personally verifying the statements made by the correspondent from this much favored section. We regret exceedingly that circumstances were such that we were deprived of this visit, but we have his promise that it will be repeated in the near future, so we can enjoy the anticipation of a double allotment of pleasure when he comes again. He found that his correspondent had not described the half of the beauties of the Barrett section, and expressed his unbounded admiration for this lovely valley, and his great surprise at the wonderful improvement that had taken place since his last visit here. Come again, brother, and be surprised some more.

S. A. Skinner of Methodist lane has purchased three acres more land from Ike Nealeigh, part of which is in strawberries. This will give Ves sufficient employment to keep him at home. Query, who will care for the widow now?

C. L. Cochran, who has been visiting with his parents, S. Cochran and wife of Pleasant Grove, returned home last Wednesday after a very enjoyable visit. Mr. Cochran is a prominent attorney of Union, Or.

The Christian Endeavorers are out looking for work now. One young lady desires to contract for wood splitting. She'll fill the contract, too.

At the installation of the officers elect of the ladies' aid society of the Valley Christian church, which was held at the home of Mrs. J. J. Emmons, the members and their friends were treated to a most agreeable and pleasant surprise in the shape of a delicious luncheon, served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter Hazel. It is needless to say that a most enjoyable time was had, and all expressed their desire to permanently hold the meetings at the home of this agreeable lady and her equally agreeable daughter.

G. W. Ruckman and wife of Alice, Or., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. Cochran, Mr. Ruckman being a brother of Mrs. Cochran. They are delighted with the Barrett district.

Mrs. E. E. Register left Monday evening for Athena, Or., to assist in the song service at the Christian church during a revival that is now in progress there. Thus it is, all sections of the state draw upon Barrett district for talent in all lines, and we never fall them. Great is Barrett.

There was a genuine case of misplaced confidence played upon the school children by the school directors last Saturday. The children have been counting the hours until the stove pipe should be cleaned, thus insuring them another delightful holiday. But, alas on coming to school, Monday morning, they found the board, headed by that undoubted warrior, Frank Sherrieb, and armed with a 17-foot ladder, assisted by that renowned soldier, Thomas Bishop, had stolen a march on them and on Saturday had cleaned the pipe and fixed up the stove, thereby shattering all the bright anticipations of happy youth. We can sympathize with them, as we also failed to receive any contributions from the school children this week, and feel that is all due to the unwarlike action of the school board.

Mrs. W. R. Hoole has been indisposed for the past week, but is now on the mend.

To save bloodshed we want to warn Comrade Perry that several of the bashfuls of this district are on his trail with double-twisted shot guns.

Pine Grove Gleanings. Mrs. J. L. Davis of Newburg, Or., is here for a week's visit at the Davis home.

Mrs. William Seabee is home from The Dalles, where she has been for a short time taking treatment at the hospital.

Miss Riddell was compelled to give up teaching three days last week on account of sore eyes. She went to Portland for treatment, and was able to take up her work again this week.

L. E. Clark is at Wasco, Or., looking after his milling interests at that place.

Frank Stanton moved the carpenters from Peter Cox's place to the Davenport mill Monday. Mr. Cox has his house completed.

Mr. Pierce of Hood River has taken the contract to put about 400,000 feet of logs into the river for L. A. Herman.

Rev. Hershner has built a new barn on his place.

Mrs. L. Davis brought up 50 different varieties of rose bushes to plant in this place here. She has over 150 varieties at the old home in the Willamette valley. Mrs. Davis expects to come here to remain after a few weeks.

Several in this vicinity are contemplating drilling deep wells in the spring for irrigating purposes. A good idea. The writer has seen large tracts of land in Southern California, irrigated from wells 300 to 400 feet deep, and they furnished an abundant supply of water.

Odell Notes. At a meeting last Thursday the special road tax proposition was defeated 20 to 7. Better make it unanimous.

Rev. D. Morris of the U. B. church preached last Sunday at the Union church here.

Glenn Young, son of B. T. Young, had the misfortune to get an arm broken last Saturday, while driving the horses attached to a wood saw on W. V. Johnson's place.

On account of the condition of the Tucker hill, Mr. Bailey, our obliging mail carrier, traveled the Crockett grade last Saturday, which made a slight change in his regular route.

Monday he followed the regular route on account of frozen ground, but will probably use the Crockett grade until the road gets better. Uncle Sam is not compelled to travel any old road.

J. H. Eggert returned, Saturday, from a visit to his old home at Lawrence, Kansas. He reports nice weather and good roads there. He had been absent since January 1.

L. M. Wilson is blowing out stumps on the Busey place for Mrs. Shelley, preparatory to planting trees.

Rev. A. A. Beery will preach in the Union church Sunday, at 11 o'clock.

What a fine winter we are having! We are pleased to note that C. H. Crockett has been appointed supervisor in district No. 7.

E. Hendershott has taken a job of grubbing for C. L. Rogers on Willow Flat.

The many friends of Mr. Black are glad to see him out again.

Win Hibbard intends moving back on his place here in a short time.

Mrs. C. G. Roberts arrived home Tuesday from a visit with friends in Portland.

Charles Davis, who has over 100 Angus goats, says he has not had to feed them any hay this winter, and they are doing well. Not only is he making a nice profit on the flock but is also getting his land cleared with them.

Among those who are improving their places and are having grubbing done this winter are L. D. Boyd, J. S. Callison, Mr. Black, Ross Miller, J. S. Gull, John Lane, Mr. LaBerty, M. D. Odell, Dan Smith, John Tucker, Charles Davis, James English and Mr. Bowerman. Also many improvements are being made at "Netherby" ranch.

Frankton News Notes. By the School Children.

A serious hold up took place Friday evening. Two men were coming down the road when they were confronted by two very large black and two very large voices calling them to halt. The foremost of the two threw up his hands and said: "Come and get what I have." The little boy who was behind told the voices to go to where the climate is warmer than in Hood River, and moved on down the road.

George Wilson visited the Frankton school Monday afternoon.

Professor C. H. Cronwell visited his home on the Washington side, Friday.

Miss Nina Noble, who has been sick with the smallpox, is convalescing.

Frank Rogers has been visiting his parents near Belmont.

Miss Flossie Phelps has finished her school at Butler, Wash.

Elmer Isenberg and Ray Roomman, who have been quite sick, started to school again last Monday.

Clyde and Jennie Clement started to school at Frankton Monday morning.

F. L. Davidson & Co. put the eaves-troughs on the Frankton school house the first of the week.

The 7th, 8th and 9th grades have completed their work for the St. Louis exposition.

Chenoweth News Notes. Mr. Duram is again up and around.

R. A. Snyder of Portland is in our camp at present.

Miss Maud Duram and Mr. McCall went to The Dalles Tuesday.

Charles Hill is mending and will soon be able to be around again.

Fred Kautz was at Frankton Sunday. The weather is fine.

The W. L. Co. is finishing up their work here at this setting.

Mosier Items. As your former correspondent from this place seems to have "broken his pen," I will endeavor, occasionally, to give you items from this locality.

Charles D. Morgan of Idaho and Mr. Haake of North Dakota have completed a purchase of property from R. Friend, formerly Mr. Ditchenmuller's ranch, and we understand both gentlemen will at once erect residences on their respective purchases. We are glad to welcome such people to our community, and trust their settlement among us may result in others doing likewise.

Mrs. N. Hunter and daughter Nora were passengers on No. 2 for The Dalles, Saturday, returning on No. 1, Sunday.

The telephone line connecting the residences of J. P. Carroll and his sons, J. M. and G. L., is in the working order, and we predict that it will not be long until the benefits of a telephone system will be so patent to the people of the surrounding country that a phone will be "the thing" in every residence in Mosier.

The party at the hall last Friday evening was well attended and everyone present was loud in his praise of the pleasantly spent evening.

Our willom friend, W. W. Stevenson, was a visitor at Hood River, Saturday.

V. C. Young and family have returned from Portland, where they have spent some time past in the hope of benefiting the health of their infant child.

CLARKE, the Druggist.
