

HON. OLIVER W. STEWART,

Who will address the people of Hood River at the Opera house, Tuesday, March 1. Remember the date, and make arrangements to attend. Admission free; hour of meeting and further particulars in the Glacier next week.

DAVIDSON FRUIT CO

Buy a Reversible Disc Plow and save your team half its labor, besides the time it takes to grade the ridges and furrows. We guarantee it to do the work. It turns the furrows all down the hill. Come and see it, and our many styles of walking plows.

The spray pump season is about here and you must remember that we are handling the best. If you buy the Sentinel, Jr., Pomona or Fruitall you will have the right kind and your trouble is reduced to the minimum. We are the agents and have them for sale.

We have some second-hand spring and farm wagons which we want to close out cheap and quick. Come in and see them. Your Money's Worth and more at

THE DAVIDSON FRUIT CO

J. P. Shaw's Address on Lincoln.

Lincoln day, Friday, February 12, was observed in Hood River by a half holiday in the public schools. In the afternoon, members of the G. A. R. met with the pupils in Miss Schuniger's room, where addresses and talks were made by Captain J. P. Shaw, Comrades A. C. Buck and F. E. Kellogg.

Captain J. P. Shaw's address on the "Life and Character of Lincoln" was in part as follows:

Not since the birth of that divine character at Bethlehem has there appeared on earth a character so Christ-like as that of the immortal Lincoln. In the lives of these two men—the one who died on Mount Calvary for the sins of the world, the other whose life was sacrificed because of his love for every human being of whatever nation, creed or color—we have the achievements of all that goes to make up the highest type of man.

Conceive, if you can, some lowly conditions under which these martyrs came into the world—the one being the light for the first time in the manager of a stable, the other born in a rude cabin built of unburned logs, the scenes of his birth a dense and gloomy wilderness, surrounded by poverty, hardship and poverty to an unusual degree, and we have the beginning of the life of Christ the savior and Lincoln the emancipator.

Before attempting to place an estimate upon the character of Abraham Lincoln, let us turn back the pages of history and draw therefrom, if we can, some comparisons of events that molded great characters, to those enacted in our own day and by men whose lives were contemporaneous.

Since the dawn of the Christian era, five momentous events have taken place in the world's history for the betterment of mankind. Standing at the head of these was that awful tragedy enacted on Mount Calvary, fifteen hundred years ago. Then, following on down through the centuries of time, an epoch extending through twelve centuries to the 19th day of June, 1215, the second took place at Runnymede, a little island of the Thames, here King John was forced by the English people to sign the great charter which gave to them liberty. The third occurred on the 4th day of July, 1776, when the American Declaration of Independence was signed, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fourth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic. In fancy we may see the watchman with his hand held aloft, grasping the rope with his skin, the first of the great American patriots, who with his own hands tore away the shackles which fettered the third occurrence took place, this time on American soil, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fifth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic.

Before attempting to place an estimate upon the character of Abraham Lincoln, let us turn back the pages of history and draw therefrom, if we can, some comparisons of events that molded great characters, to those enacted in our own day and by men whose lives were contemporaneous.

Since the dawn of the Christian era, five momentous events have taken place in the world's history for the betterment of mankind. Standing at the head of these was that awful tragedy enacted on Mount Calvary, fifteen hundred years ago. Then, following on down through the centuries of time, an epoch extending through twelve centuries to the 19th day of June, 1215, the second took place at Runnymede, a little island of the Thames, here King John was forced by the English people to sign the great charter which gave to them liberty. The third occurred on the 4th day of July, 1776, when the American Declaration of Independence was signed, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fourth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic. In fancy we may see the watchman with his hand held aloft, grasping the rope with his skin, the first of the great American patriots, who with his own hands tore away the shackles which fettered the third occurrence took place, this time on American soil, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fifth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic.

Before attempting to place an estimate upon the character of Abraham Lincoln, let us turn back the pages of history and draw therefrom, if we can, some comparisons of events that molded great characters, to those enacted in our own day and by men whose lives were contemporaneous.

Since the dawn of the Christian era, five momentous events have taken place in the world's history for the betterment of mankind. Standing at the head of these was that awful tragedy enacted on Mount Calvary, fifteen hundred years ago. Then, following on down through the centuries of time, an epoch extending through twelve centuries to the 19th day of June, 1215, the second took place at Runnymede, a little island of the Thames, here King John was forced by the English people to sign the great charter which gave to them liberty. The third occurred on the 4th day of July, 1776, when the American Declaration of Independence was signed, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fourth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic. In fancy we may see the watchman with his hand held aloft, grasping the rope with his skin, the first of the great American patriots, who with his own hands tore away the shackles which fettered the third occurrence took place, this time on American soil, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fifth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic.

Before attempting to place an estimate upon the character of Abraham Lincoln, let us turn back the pages of history and draw therefrom, if we can, some comparisons of events that molded great characters, to those enacted in our own day and by men whose lives were contemporaneous.

Since the dawn of the Christian era, five momentous events have taken place in the world's history for the betterment of mankind. Standing at the head of these was that awful tragedy enacted on Mount Calvary, fifteen hundred years ago. Then, following on down through the centuries of time, an epoch extending through twelve centuries to the 19th day of June, 1215, the second took place at Runnymede, a little island of the Thames, here King John was forced by the English people to sign the great charter which gave to them liberty. The third occurred on the 4th day of July, 1776, when the American Declaration of Independence was signed, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fourth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic. In fancy we may see the watchman with his hand held aloft, grasping the rope with his skin, the first of the great American patriots, who with his own hands tore away the shackles which fettered the third occurrence took place, this time on American soil, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fifth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic.

Before attempting to place an estimate upon the character of Abraham Lincoln, let us turn back the pages of history and draw therefrom, if we can, some comparisons of events that molded great characters, to those enacted in our own day and by men whose lives were contemporaneous.

Since the dawn of the Christian era, five momentous events have taken place in the world's history for the betterment of mankind. Standing at the head of these was that awful tragedy enacted on Mount Calvary, fifteen hundred years ago. Then, following on down through the centuries of time, an epoch extending through twelve centuries to the 19th day of June, 1215, the second took place at Runnymede, a little island of the Thames, here King John was forced by the English people to sign the great charter which gave to them liberty. The third occurred on the 4th day of July, 1776, when the American Declaration of Independence was signed, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fourth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic. In fancy we may see the watchman with his hand held aloft, grasping the rope with his skin, the first of the great American patriots, who with his own hands tore away the shackles which fettered the third occurrence took place, this time on American soil, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fifth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic.

Before attempting to place an estimate upon the character of Abraham Lincoln, let us turn back the pages of history and draw therefrom, if we can, some comparisons of events that molded great characters, to those enacted in our own day and by men whose lives were contemporaneous.

Since the dawn of the Christian era, five momentous events have taken place in the world's history for the betterment of mankind. Standing at the head of these was that awful tragedy enacted on Mount Calvary, fifteen hundred years ago. Then, following on down through the centuries of time, an epoch extending through twelve centuries to the 19th day of June, 1215, the second took place at Runnymede, a little island of the Thames, here King John was forced by the English people to sign the great charter which gave to them liberty. The third occurred on the 4th day of July, 1776, when the American Declaration of Independence was signed, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fourth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic. In fancy we may see the watchman with his hand held aloft, grasping the rope with his skin, the first of the great American patriots, who with his own hands tore away the shackles which fettered the third occurrence took place, this time on American soil, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fifth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic.

Before attempting to place an estimate upon the character of Abraham Lincoln, let us turn back the pages of history and draw therefrom, if we can, some comparisons of events that molded great characters, to those enacted in our own day and by men whose lives were contemporaneous.

Since the dawn of the Christian era, five momentous events have taken place in the world's history for the betterment of mankind. Standing at the head of these was that awful tragedy enacted on Mount Calvary, fifteen hundred years ago. Then, following on down through the centuries of time, an epoch extending through twelve centuries to the 19th day of June, 1215, the second took place at Runnymede, a little island of the Thames, here King John was forced by the English people to sign the great charter which gave to them liberty. The third occurred on the 4th day of July, 1776, when the American Declaration of Independence was signed, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fourth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic. In fancy we may see the watchman with his hand held aloft, grasping the rope with his skin, the first of the great American patriots, who with his own hands tore away the shackles which fettered the third occurrence took place, this time on American soil, an event of transcendent effect on the destinies of our nation, which has been born. The fifth day of July will ever be celebrated in commemoration of the dawn of the American republic.

the people in all sections of our country lost their best friend and the freed slave his best friend and benefactor. His name will ever be sacred to the American people.

Lincoln Day at Pine Grove. Your humble servant had the pleasure of visiting the Pine Grove graded school, Friday afternoon, February 12. It was Lincoln day throughout our union, and our school children in Pine Grove realize what that means. They rendered a splendid program. Their singing of patriotic songs such as Red, White and Blue, Star Spangled Banner, Marching Through Georgia, etc., would inspire any true American citizen. Their salute to our flag was nice, and shows training in the right direction. Their reading and recitations were all well rendered, and related to the life and noble work of our martyred hero. Their quotations from Lincoln, rendered by the entire school, were excellent.

Some of our visiting patrons made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. Peter Mohr, in his usual German-American tongue, made a nice talk and brought out the superiority of the American soldiers over those of his native country, stating that one was made to fight; the other volunteered or wanted to fight. How true this is. Our revolutionary and our late civil war proved it. In the latter they were volunteers on both sides, hence the bloodiest war of modern history.

A. I. Mason gave a short talk and told some anecdotes relative to Abraham's height, his Black Hawk war service, and his peculiar tactics as a lawyer.

The entire entertainment was excellent, interesting and inspiring. If there was a soul who did not feel profited by going there, he was surely void of any patriotism or parental pride of our school children.

After the entertainment was over the visitors had the pleasure to look over the educational exhibit for the St. Louis fair, prepared by our school children under the instruction of their teachers, Miss Mabel Riddell and Miss Mara Smith. It is remarkable to see the neatness and ability shown in this exhibit. In fact it makes one who is older feel like a child again.

Our board of directors deserves praise for securing such efficient and energetic teachers. The teachers seem to please every one, both old and young, and if there is any one who wants a "scrap," just let him torment one of our school children about his teacher. He is ready to fight for them at all times. That's right, little ones, just love your teacher and study diligently and your reward will soon lead you to a successful education. I don't want to make other school children jealous, but I must remind them that Pine Grove has held since last September, and is still holding that banner bearing the motto "Never Lose a Moment of Time." Their percentage of punctuality in attendance will average about 98 since the beginning of school.

This school in connection with the certificate issued by the county school superintendent for punctual attendance, and the stars of honor given by the teachers for perfect lessons all show their result in an educational exhibit going to the St. Louis fair.

With a better feeling of patriotism and a deeper interest in the success of our school, we departed for another sleigh ride.

How Other Cities Aid their Band. The following clipping appeared in the Portland Evening Telegram under a Eugene date line of February 2:

A committee of business men has secured subscriptions to the amount of $50 per month for six months to keep the Eugene brass band together, their annual salary being $3,000. This scheme in connection with the certificate issued by the county school superintendent for punctual attendance, and the stars of honor given by the teachers for perfect lessons all show their result in an educational exhibit going to the St. Louis fair.

Who Delivered the Principal Address on Lincoln Day. Best books. Nature, with which he was surrounded, made him familiar with common everyday facts. He knew the heart beatings of the hardy pioneer, of which he was one, and appreciated his honesty. In the language of the gifted Ingersoll, who I take the liberty to quote "Lincoln was an immense personality, firm but not obstinate. Ordinary is egotism, hardness, ferocity. He influenced others without effort, unconsciously, and they submitted to him as men submit to Nature, unconsciously. He was sure with himself, and for that reason lenient with others. He appeared to apologize for being kind, but he never did. He did useful things as stealthily as others committed crime. Almost without a word of tenderness, he said and did the noblest words and deeds with that charming confusion and awkwardness that is perfect grace of modesty. He was an orator, clear, sincere, natural. He did not pretend. He did not say what he thought, he said what he felt. He knew others because he was perfectly acquainted with himself. He cared nothing for place, but everything for principle, nothing for money, but everything for independence. He hated slavery, but he did not defend it, but he defended that which attacked the right wounded themselves. He was neither tyrant nor slave. He neither knelt nor scorned. With him, men were neither great nor small; they were either right or wrong. Nothing disclosed their character like the use of power. It is easy for the weak to be gentle. Most people can bear adversity. But if you wish to know what a man really is, give him power. This is the sup test. It is the glory of Lincoln that, having almost unlimited power, he never abused it except upon the side of mercy. Wealth could not purchase, power could not buy, and he was sure with himself, and for that reason lenient with others. He appeared to apologize for being kind, but he never did. He did useful things as stealthily as others committed crime. Almost without a word of tenderness, he said and did the noblest words and deeds with that charming confusion and awkwardness that is perfect grace of modesty. He was an orator, clear, sincere, natural. He did not pretend. He did not say what he thought, he said what he felt. He knew others because he was perfectly acquainted with himself. He cared nothing for place, but everything for principle, nothing for money, but everything for independence. He hated slavery, but he did not defend it, but he defended that which attacked the right wounded themselves. He was neither tyrant nor slave. He neither knelt nor scorned. With him, men were neither great nor small; they were either right or wrong. Nothing disclosed their character like the use of power. It is easy for the weak to be gentle. Most people can bear adversity. But if you wish to know what a man really is, give him power. This is the sup test. It is the glory of Lincoln that, having almost unlimited power, he never abused it except upon the side of mercy.

Valley Christian Endeavor Society. The Christian Endeavor society of the Valley Christian church has entered upon what promises to be a very successful year, judging from the series of successful meetings already held. The members are awake to the necessity of thorough work all along the line. A more zealous and aggressive set of Christians is not often met with. The membership is steadily increasing, and the personal efforts of the lookout committee.

Miss Cora Cople has been chosen to represent the society at the state convention to be held this month at Pendleton. Miss Cople is a earnest worker and will make us a creditable delegate.

The society is now supplied with some neatly arranged topic cards, containing the topic and leader for each week, names of the members, and officers. These will be of value in keeping the different lines of work well in the minds of the members, and in promoting individual interest and preparation.

Perfect Confidence. Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of the cough, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Pooleville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a word of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by all druggists.

Escaped an Awful Fate. H. Haggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe it all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by Chas. N. Clarke, druggist, Price, 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

From the Banner G. A. R. Post. Eugene, Or., Feb. 10, 1904.—S. F. Rytche, Hood River, Or.—Dear Comrade: As the time is going fast toward the holding of our state encampment, and I am getting ready to raise strawberries with cream, sugar and a spoon, we are looking forward to a grand old time on that occasion.

I see you have several Iowa boys in your post. Tell them that the Iowa soldiers will hold a short reunion some time during the encampment.

Has our department commander been up to visit your post since his election? I think a department commander should pay more attention to the weaker posts, for the larger ones can take care of themselves.

Many of the posts have a camp ground, but I am asking these questions by request of others, as a great many here are interested. Another thing: I think we should all join hands and send our next encampment at Ashland next year. If they ask for the posts that have been paying their per capita tax right along and have a large number of old comrades who have never been at an encampment. Ask the commander to kindly give this matter a thought. You are, F. C. and the other hand, comrades should all go to work and tell the old fellow that we need him in the post. And he certainly needs us. Nine times out of ten he will join you. Now in the future, if ever, we need them. Let us stand together, shoulder to shoulder, closer than ever, and we can accomplish wonders yet.

Have you a hall in which all societies pertaining to the Grand Army can meet? Or will there be a camp ground? I am asking these questions by request of others, as a great many here are interested. Another thing: I think we should all join hands and send our next encampment at Ashland next year. If they ask for the posts that have been paying their per capita tax right along and have a large number of old comrades who have never been at an encampment. Ask the commander to kindly give this matter a thought. You are, F. C. and the other hand, comrades should all go to work and tell the old fellow that we need him in the post. And he certainly needs us. Nine times out of ten he will join you. Now in the future, if ever, we need them. Let us stand together, shoulder to shoulder, closer than ever, and we can accomplish wonders yet.

State Convention April 14. At its meeting in Portland Friday, the republican state central committee selected Portland as the place and April 14 as the date for holding the republican state convention; fixed the apportionment of the delegates to sit in the state convention to be held at the county fair grounds at large, one delegate for each county for each 150 votes cast therein at the last election, and one additional delegate for each fraction thereof over 100 votes; decided to recommend to county clerks that primary elections be held Saturday, April 2, and that in case this recommendation was acted on, county conventions be held April 7.

The apportionment of delegates is as follows: Baker, 14; Benton, 7; Clackamas, 18; Clatsop, 10; Columbia, 7; Coos, 9; Crook, 5; Curry, 3; Douglas, 14; Gilliam, 4; Grant, 7; Harney, 4; Jackson, 12; Josephine, 7; Klamath, 4; Lake, 4; Lane, 10; Lincoln, 5; Linn, 14; Malheur, 5; Marion, 23; Morrow, 5; Multnomah, 71; Polk, 9; Sherman, 5; Tillamook, 5; Umatilla, 10; Union, 10; Wallowa, 6; Wasco, 12; Washington, 13; Wheeler, 4; Yamhill, 11. Total, 361.

Extends Thanks for Kind Assistance. Hood River, Feb. 9, 1904.—Editor Glacier: I take this means of especially thanking Mr. Carmichael for the free use of the hall and for other favors, and the Abbott family, from Granddus Abbott down to Baby Lucie, who did everything in their power to make the social a success. We are even more gratified over the good will that was shown us that the money that was taken in. We were made to feel that while the post and corps may have to take the initiative in the matter of entertaining the state encampments, as a rule the people seem to think the members of the encampments will be the guests of the people of Hood River valley. The corps expects to give other entertainments in the way of lunches and literary exercises, but will always try to give the people the worth of their money. Yours loyally,

ALMA SHOEMAKER.

D. N. Byerlee in Scientific American. The Scientific American of February 6, 1904, contained an article on "Pullman Cars in Railroad Accidents," and with it a communication from D. N. Byerlee of Hood River, who takes exceptions to some of the theories of Messrs. Mann & Co. The point at issue was that Pullman cars stand up better in collisions than ordinary coaches. Mr. Byerlee asserted this was true because trailer cars were so placed as to act as buffers for the Pullman. The Scientific American pictured the article with two illustrations. Later, Mr. Byerlee received a letter from a Michigan railroad man commending him for his stand that the remedy for wrecks lies not so much in the strength of the cars as in the manner of operating the road. D. N. Byerlee is now a Glacier office contributor. He spent 21 years in the service of the Burlington and Union Pacific railroads.

Articles of incorporation of the Echo Lumber Co. have been filed in the county clerk's office. The Echo Lumber Co. is a corporation being A. W. Robinson, J. H. Dunlap and Clark W. Thompson. The principal place of business of the company will be at Cascade Locks.

Two hundred to $5,000 to loan on real estate. If your security is good, your money is ready. Frasier Investment Co.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY LADY OR YOUNG MAN, experienced in this country and adjoining territory for house of solid financial standing, ready to cash salary and expenses each Monday direct from headquarters. Expense money advanced; position permanent. Address Manager, 316 Mason building, Chicago.

See them. Wear them. Appreciate them.

Having been appointed Selling Agents for the famous

Hand Made Bradley Logger

We invite those interested to call and examine a

Strictly First Class Shoe

We Guarantee the Price and Wearing Qualities

MT. HOOD LBR. CO

Mattings Linoleums Oil Cloths Carpets Rugs

We are showing assortments in these goods that enable the most particular buyer to select with satisfaction. Repeated assurances of the fact induces us to publish an invitation to inspect our stock NOW. Prices are strictly in line with department store sales day figures. The goods can't be bought for less.

STEWART, the Home Furnisher.

Our lines in Building material, Hardware, Fencing, Netting are now arriving, and pricing is far below any figure of past two years. Stoves, Ranges Furniture, Paints, Oils, Glass Everything for Building and Furnishing the Home

NEW STEAM

PARADISE LAUNDRY

Is now ready for business. The machinery is working nicely, and is turning out first-class work. Prices the same as Portland

D. A. COLE, Prop.

Delivery wagon will call Monday morning and deliver goods on Saturday. Leave orders at Whitehead's cigar store, or phone Laundry, Main 491.

COE'S 3d ADDITION

Without question the most beautiful residence location in the city. High and slightly, no mud no dust. Supplied with the purest spring water. You are cordially invited to come up and investigate, see the water plant, enjoy the fine view and have a good drink. No trouble to show lots: Always at home. Now is your chance.

H. C. COE - - - HOOD RIVER

STUMP PULLERS.

We carry a complete stock of W. Smith Grabbing Machines, wire cable, rope shortens, blocks, root hooks, etc., for which we are general agents for Oregon and Washington. Write for catalogue.

SEXTON & WALTHER, THE DALLES, OR.

New Stock Wall Paper

ABOUT March 1st I shall add 5,000 rolls of paper to my present stock. People looking for fine wall paper can find what they want from 10c to $5 a roll.

Hunts Wall Paper Shop

We have the trade in Fire Cigars

WHY? "La Integridad" "Henry the Fourth" "El Sidelo" C. A. MORGAN & CO

S. J. FRANK,

—DEALER IN—

Harness and Saddles,

All Repairing Promptly Attended to Hood River, Oregon.