Don't raise cull strawberries, but force them into large sized fruit by an application of No. 4 fertilizer to be had at the Davidson Fruit Co. Strong in potash and nitrogen. It pays well and should be applied as early as possible after February 1.

R. E. Harbison finds the Glacier a good advertising medium. At one time he advertised a piece of land for a neighbor. The first man to reply to the ad bought the land, and replies kept coming along after the ad was taken out. Among the latter came a proposition from a newspaper in the East, with Mr. Harbison's ad cut from the Glacier, offering to run the ad for a number of months at a very low price. Another neighbor desired to sell some land and asked Mr. Harbison to advertise in the Eastern paper. He did so but failed to find a buyer.

Lyman Smith is finally convinced that it pays to advertise. About six months ago he lost a valuable gold ring, a keepsake in the family. He put a little notice in the Glacier advertising his loss, which ran its four weeks at a cost of 25 cents. The ad was taken out by Mr. Smith, and the ring was found by the advertiser in his washbowl. He says he couldn't have been pleased if he had found a $20 gold piece instead.

A slide on the O. R. & N. track near Wyeth, Sunday night, delayed the late passenger train about five hours, and instead of pulling in at 10:55 it didn't get here until 3 o'clock in the morning. This is an uncommon occurrence this year. In fact, since the improvements which removed the track from the path of the slides were made, the company has experienced but little trouble between here and Portland.

The farmers who held their hay this season for higher prices have failed to realize their expectations. For awhile in the early part of the season it looked as if prices would be very high, and in fact prices did go up, but the unusually mild winter has changed the expectations of those who were looking for a high spring price. There will not be the need for hay on account of the highest bidders. Lumber served at 10 o'clock. All are cordially invited by the Committee.

R. R. Smith and wife came down from Granite, Or., last week, on their way to Newberg. Mrs. Smith is a sister of Mrs. L. C. Haynes of Hood River. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were recently married and are on their wedding tour. They will make their home at Newberg.

John W. Brown of Connecticut, who is touring California, Oregon, Washington and Montana under the direction of the national socialist party, will give an address on socialism at the Dalles, the evening of February 29.

County Clerk Lake and Deputy Bolton were down to Hood River yesterday and took 40 shares in the new irrigating company, that amount representing their strawberry farm in the valley.—Mountain.

Mrs. H. M. Abbott and daughters, Dorothy and Lucile, spent last week in the country visiting Mrs. B. F. Shoemaker and Mrs. Blount.

Miss Mary Lou Beck of Portland visited Hood River the past week, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Shaw.

Miss Mabel Riddell, principal of the Pine Grove school, spent Sunday at her home in the Dalles.

Hear the band at the Barrett school house, Friday, March 4.

Harvey A. Stauffer and family are expected to arrive in Hood River about April 1, from Canton, Ohio. Mr. Stauffer expects to make his home in Hood River valley. He is a cousin of A. L. and C. F. Stauffer of the East Side. The sister of the Stauffer brothers, Miss Ella, who was for a time a resident here, where she has many friends, is now married to L. C. Yoder, and lives at Easton, Ohio. She, with her husband, expect someday to make their home in Hood River. A. L. Stauffer and L. C. Yoder served in the same company in the 8th Ohio in the Spanish war and were together in the Cuban campaign.

A. L. Stauffer came to Hood River five years ago. He bought 40 acres of land there in the Pine Grove district for $15 an acre. He has 20 acres cleared, 500 growing apple trees and will set 250 more this spring. Mr. Stauffer now considers his 40 acres worth to him $300 an acre, and nothing under this price would tempt him to sell. The Stauffer brothers are among Hood River's most industrious and estimable citizens.

The burglars who broke into Frank A. Cram's store last Thursday morning were arraigned that afternoon before Justice Nickelsen. Waiving examination they were sent to the Dalles that night in charge of Deputy Sheriff Olinger and placed in the Wasco county jail. The men gave the names as Fred White and Al Foote. Before examination it was the general opinion that these were the wrong men and they would have to be turned loose for lack of evidence. If so, the gentlemen saw a good chance to secure three months' board at the expense of the county and took it up. They will appear before the circuit court the first Monday in May. Mr. Cram was not inclined to prosecute the men as he had suffered no loss, and thought the men perhaps needed some dry goods worse than he did.

The Scappoose Lumber Co., of Scappoose, Or., has purchased of J. E. Hanna his saw mill, logging engine, two miles of line, timber contracts, etc., for the sum of $13,500. The new company was incorporated February 9, by local capitalists for $25,000. J. E. Hanna retained a one-fifth interest in the new company and was elected secretary. The new company has an abundance of fine yellow fir on the north side of Scappoose creek, where their mill is located two miles from the railroad. They expect to install a planing mill and box factory at the end of the flume where it reaches the railroad, and will have one of the best paying plants in the state.

Carpenters are busy enlarging the office room of the Mount Hood hotel. A new counter will be installed, a telephone booth, drinking fountain, window seats and chairs put in, and the office otherwise fixed up to accommodate the constant rush of business at this hotel.

In tearing out one of the partitions, carpenters came upon a late marked shipping ink to E. L. Smith. This building was started in 1881, when Mr. Smith was Hood River's pioneer merchant.

Everything seems to be full of water. The talk is about all water, the papers are full of water, the farmers and even the very air seems to be full of water, for at the Woodcraft meeting, Friday night, the women had nothing but water in the coffee-pot, and so it came nothing but water in the cups on the table at lunch, but all enjoyed themselves, and after one initiation, went home at a very late hour.

Pay Your Taxes Now.

Last Thursday the tax roll for 1903 was placed in the hands of the sheriff for collection, and it will be his duty to collect $180,407.21 distributed among the several funds as follows:

State and county tax	$125,391.79
Local taxes	25,000.00
Special road tax, dist. No. 6	1,047.09
Special city tax	7,131.49
Poll tax	967.00

Only three incorporated towns in the county have levied special taxes—The Dalles five mills, Dufur five mills and Heppner one mill.

Sheriff Sexton is now ready to receive and receipt for taxes. Taxpayers who make payments before March 15 will be allowed a three per cent discount. The taxes become delinquent, April 1, and a 10 per cent penalty will be added.

To Cloud Cap Inn on Snow Shoes.

J. Wesley Ladd of Portland entertained a party of friends in a novel way Saturday and Sunday. The party consisting of J. Wesley Ladd, Harry Corlett, J. K. Kollock, Morton Inley and John Carson left the city at 5:30 Saturday morning in a sleigh, riding as far as the city of Cloud Cap Inn, eight miles from the side of Cloud Cap Inn. There they put on snow shoes, and accompanied by Peter Felthousen and William Edick, who acted as guides, they started on the long climb. Harry Corlett took the lead and broke trail the entire distance.

The party started at 11 a. m. on the snow shoes and arrived at the Inn at 6:30 p. m.; cooked supper, and after a good night's rest and a good breakfast all were ready to start on the return at 9:30 a. m. The run down was made in three hours, when they met the sleigh and they were given the ride of their lives into Hood River. Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. Kollock and Mrs. Inley among many, very many, was the noted one of the "Bridge of the Gods" and how his great grandfathers used to paddle his canoe through the wonderful arch, the greatest natural wonder on the face of the earth, and of his uninterupted canoe trips to sea and return, and how Mount Hood and Mount St. Helens became angry at each other, and after a great deal of preliminary swearing, went to work in food earnest, throwing stones at one another until finally they knocked this mighty bridge down and drenched the river, overflowing much land and killing many Indians. Of the absolute truth of this tradition I never had any question, and I dare say many was the one who has stated. He claimed that his paternal grandparents were very long lived, and allowing them 70 years each, it would have placed his great grandfather, or the date of the Williams' Trial in May.

Bert Stranahan and Caleb Richardson were in the Dalles Saturday, and Monday they will give evidence in the Norman Williams case. Saturday was the date for Williams' preliminary examination, but he waived this proceeding and will answer to the charge of murder at the first term of court. Attorney Henry E. McGinn was up from Portland to appear for the defense of Williams, but finding more work than money before him didn't care to take up the case. The Dalles attorneys have also all refused to defend Williams. District Attorney Menifee will prosecute the case. Saturday he gathered evidence from Stranahan and Richardson as to the date when Williams started on his midnight ride with the Nesbett women.

Doug Langille, who was connected with the stable in March, 1900, will be called from the East to give testimony in the case. The report comes from Seattle that a woman by the name of Zimmerman declares that she can produce the women. Mr. Nesbett, son and brother of the missing woman, was in Hood River three weeks ago gathering evidence. He left Saturday night

Rheumatism Cured by Pain Balm.

The efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheumatism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Balm gave him permanent relief from rheumatism in the back when everything else failed, and he would not be without it. For sale by all druggists.

Pianos and Organs.

If you are thinking of buying, you can save your fare to Portland by calling on Stuart's confectionery and oyster parlor. They sell for that well and favorably known firm, Allen & Gilbert, successors to Wiley B. Allen Co.

Born.

In Hood River, February 21, 1904, to Mr. and Mrs. Perry McCrory, a daughter.

In Hood River valley, February 16, 1904, to Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Shelley, a son.

Jim Langille is expected home from Portland the latter part of the week.

Miss Cora Copple and Miss Clara Blythe attended the Christian Endeavor convention at Pendleton as delegates. In Pendleton they were guests of Rev. Robert Copple and family. Mr. Copple fills a pulpit of the Christian church at Walla Walla every Sunday.

Minstrel at Barrett School.

The Hood River cornet band will give a minstrel at the Barrett school house, Friday evening, March 4. Admission, 25c; children, 15c.

The 22d at Crapper.

Washington's birthday anniversary at Crapper was very fittingly celebrated by the people of Crapper district. In the school house a number of pupils, after which the boxes were sold and the school work and adding $11.90 to the library fund. A short programme of songs and declamations, all of a patriotic nature, was given by the pupils, after which the boxes were sold and the school work and adding $11.90 to the library fund.

Hon. Oliver W. Stewart.

Chairman of the national prohibition committee and member of the Illinois legislature, will speak at the opera house in Hood River next Tuesday afternoon, at the county prohibition convention, at 2 o'clock, and in the evening at 8 o'clock. Everybody earnestly invited to attend. It does not matter whether you favor prohibition or oppose it, you cannot afford to let this opportunity pass without hearing Mr. Stewart. He is one of the ablest speakers before the American people today and a spoken of by the press everywhere, irrespective of party, in terms of highest commendation.

Hood River Indians.

Old John Slibender, the last of the original Hood River Indians, and a staunch friend of the early settlers in their battle with the Red Skins, is dead. The old fellow had seen almost a hundred summers, and appeared good for another century of this life. But cruel fate would not have it so. The old man was struck by a passenger train as he walked on the track at the Dalles, Wednesday of last week. He lived but a few minutes after the accident.

It is to be found iron works, silver works, enamel works, plating works, furniture works, steel mills, plate glass window works, bedstead factories, and—why even the baby jumpers sold by Mr. Hartness are made at Muncie, Ind. The state is especially rich in stone quarries. The Bedford stone is found and used everywhere. At New Albany is the largest cement works in the United States. The managers of these works are now proposing to take a contract to furnish all the cement used in building the Panama canal.

One county in the northern part of the state boasts of a lake used entirely for the hatching and breeding of gold fish, it being the largest industry of its kind in the world. The life and growth of the gold fish is most interesting. In hatching season millions and millions are hatched out daily. Whole carloads of toasted bread are shipped in for food. A great many die, of course, but they are much harder than one would suppose. The lake freezes over in winter without ever affecting them. One could watch their different habits, shades and changes of color, etc., for a season through and never tire of it.

Tippecanoe county is to my well-born and interested Hoosier a source of pride from the fact of its being Tecumseh's battle-field. Among the picturesque and historic spots in the state are the groups of Indian mounds found in the southern and northern parts, supposed to have been built by the original Indian mound builders; these groups of mounds, I think, being found in but two of three other states. One group is a lovely spot along White river.

But here we must stop. We have lived again in dear old Indiana's history, have praised her men and boasted of her works, but without a selfish thought. We must confess that she has no scenery to compare with that of Oregon, no river to compare with the Columbia, no hills to compare with the Cascades. Her history is made, practically, her works are established, her cities are well nigh full. In Oregon we see signs of coming history, we hear the distant call of a state's prominence, we here breathe the clear pure air of unlimited space. So, though we cherish with the deepest love our home state in the East, still we acknowledge our present home as acceptable, profitable and pleasurable to us in all degrees. Though unacquainted there were we still the more are we drawn together here by the bond of a common birthland. And reminded of Whittier again, we are tempted to paraphrase:

Blessings on thee, grown-up man,
Hoosier boy, with cheek of tan;
With thy turned-up pantaloons,
With thy merry whistling tones,
With thy kind heart, kinder still,
Raising strawberries on the hill.

Let the manufacturer ride,
Farmer, trading by his side,
Thou hast more than he can buy
In the reach of ear and eye.
Mountainous strabine, a fruitful land—
Blessings on thee, Oregon man.
