WHITE SALMON NOTES.

A. H. Jewett was in Goldendale last week on business.

William Coate, W. F. Stadelman and W. M. Campfield of Trout Lake were in White Salmon last week.

Fred W. Halsiger and wife have gone to Portland to attend the funeral of Mr. Halsiger's sister, Miss Halsiger, who died in a Portland hospital.

J. R. Rankin of Goldendale visited friends in White Salmon Saturday and Sunday.

Joseph Aerni has returned from Portland, where he went to visit his brother-in-law, Samuel Bochi, who has been sick with pneumonia.

Maine & Bowman will give a dance, Friday evening, March 4, in Lauterbach hall.

S. W. Condon is sick with a severe cold.

Mrs. A. E. Glass, who has been at the Jewett farm for the past year, has returned to Portland.

The people of Pine Flat are planning a new church. Arthur Emmons was in town, Monday, getting subscriptions to help in building the church.

Mrs. C. W. Moore came in from Trout Lake, Tuesday evening, to help in caring for her son Fred, who is sick at A. R. Byrket's. The sick boy is reported to be better.

Wade Dean, the popular stage driver on the Trout Lake route, was in town Monday night.

Notes From Underwood. By the School Children.

This is the evening for leap year parties. What big parties the young moon ought to wear. First chance in eight years. Don't refuse, boys, as you may not have another chance for four years.

Tomorrow is the first of March. We will not know before this goes to press how the old adage will prove about March coming in like a lion or a lamb. This remains to be seen.

The attendance in school is on the increase. Perhaps examination has something to do with it (?).

Little Hazel Lyon was absent from school today on account of illness.

Frank Larson left this morning for Portland, where he expects to look for work.

Amos Underwood is still confined to the house on account of illness.

School election next Saturday at the school house; two directors will be elected.

Barrett District. Minstrels, minstrels, minstrels! The Hood River cornet band will give a first-class minstrel performance at the Barrett school house next Friday evening, March 4, 1904.

There are 17 in the troupe and that each one is a star in his particular line. We are assured they will give a very amusing and at the same time moral entertainment. The proceeds of the show are to be used to assist in providing new instruments for the band. Every body turn out. Admission, 15 and 25c.

The Christian Endeavor society on the evening of Washington's birthday was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bridges, and a large assembly of young people participated. A delightful time was had. Games, conversation and speculation engaged the young people's attention until quite a late hour, at which time the game of speculation was taken up, and after settling it, all departed for their homes, wishing that all the Christian Endeavor entertainments might be held at Ned's home.

E. E. Register was moved into the house on the place of J. W. Emmel, deceased, known as the Nob Hill farm.

Frank Davenport's bulgine made a flying trip through the Barrett district last Thursday afternoon. Frank took it just right and arrived in front of the school house just as school was dismissed, and Skinner and the other kids were as tickled as when they got their first pair of boots with red tops.

The Neislight has entirely recovered from malnourish and was reading in the streets of Hood River last Saturday. We gave the marshal a tip, but he said he had been keeping an eye on him all day.

The Endeavor society held a taffy pulling, last Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Coyne, and we understand had a jolly time, which was to be expected from the well known hospitality of the host and hostess. We are not informed how many took taffy home in their pockets, but we learn that several couples on their way home had their hands stuck together.

The Hoosier social should have been called the Barrett Hoosier social, as Barrett was in evidence in all parts of the house. A. B. Cash gave the oration, E. E. Register was secretary and poet. George Wilson was the emcee, while three-fourths of the music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Register and A. B. Cash, and the tables were crowded by Barrett Hoosiers who had been fasting for the past two weeks in anticipation.

The president of the ladies' aid society has given notice that at their next meeting, to be held Thursday, March 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Garner, an important matter will be brought up, and that all the ladies can have their say on the subject. The president did not state the length of the session, but we presume it would be as well for those who attend to take their blankets, a sack of flour, a bag of potatoes along, so as to be prepared for contingencies.

Some of our friends object to Rocky Run and suggest Rockyford avenue. Well, so be it. "A rock by any other name would be just as hard" of a dark night.

Miss Laura Wilson of The Dalles is paying a short visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wilson, coming down Monday and returning Thursday. We trust that on her next visit Miss Laura will remain long enough to give her friends a chance to renew acquaintanceship.

The minstrels were unfortunate in their selection of Friday night, as any kind of an entertainment has no attraction for our lodge ladies on that evening.

Mrs. W. R. Hoole is again confined to bed with scrofulous ulcers, the disease having attacked her left side.

The ground hog is still in evidence.

In spite of inclement weather, there was an immense audience in attendance at the morning services at the Valley Christian church last Sunday morning.

Are you going to the minstrel Friday evening? Is all you can hear among the school children.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Underwood have returned from their trip to the Hoosier social. Did you meet them?

Miss Hazel Emerson is improving in health and her many friends hope soon to see her out again.

We are pleased to be able to state that the family of Rev. A. G. Beery have all recovered from the smallpox. The congratulations of all the people of this district are sincerely extended to this family on their escaping with such a slight attack of this dread disease.

A marriage in high life is on the tap in this district. We speak for a big slice of cake.

Did any one hear Rev. A. A. Beery tell his story at the Hoosier meeting?

Again Barrett is called upon. Miss Grace Wilson was elected secretary of the Hoosier society, and with all the talent in this district, we know of no one who will grace the position with more dignity and grace. Miss Wilson, verily, great is Barrett!

We are indebted to Miss Nettie King for the following items. Thanks, Miss Nettie:

Mrs. Mahoney and her mother, Mrs. Smith, moved last Thursday to their homestead near Lone, in Morrow county.

Bernie Phelps and family have moved into the new house, recently vacated by Mrs. Mahoney.

We understand that Mr. Thornberry has sold his five-acre tract to Messrs. Curtis and Smith; consideration, $130 an acre.

Mrs. Peter Harsh has been having quite a siege with poison oak, but we are pleased to say is now getting the better of it.

Odell Notes. The entertainment last Friday at Sears' hall given by the Jolly Jokers was very creditable, but rendered to a small audience, owing to weather conditions that could not be foretold.

The Odell school has a light attendance since its opening after a close-down of 10 days.

Otto Ehrek went to Portland last Sunday for a few days' visit with his sister, Mrs. McCoy, who resides there.

William Ehrek is somewhat indisposed, but nothing serious is anticipated.

And still the working man is tied up on account of inclement weather. About the only occupation now is that of shoveling snow and breaking roads for Bailey, the jolly mail carrier.

Mr. Tracy and wife from Maine spent a few days, recently, with Messrs. B. T. and Sherman Young, Mrs. Tracy being a sister of the Young brothers. They returned to Portland a few days ago.

The work on the Bone ditch is necessarily postponed on account of weather conditions. Just now we are long on water.

Rumor has it that soon another store will be started at Odell. There is ample room to build store buildings here, so come along.

Mr. Kellogg, formerly of the Mount Hood settlement, has leased the C. L. Rogers place at Willow Flat for several years and will soon move there.

Mrs. Booth is visiting friends in The Dalles this week.

About the only man here who is profiting by this stormy weather is L. M. Wilson, who has added down from Mount Hood, lumber sufficient to build a house. It is a cold day when Wilson gets left—or words to that effect.

It does not require a prophetic finger to bet that the West is on the eve of a wonderful tide of prosperity, which will last, no doubt, for several years. The result of the Russo-Japanese war, together with the Lewis and Clark fair puts into the hands of the farmers of the Northwest a hand, which, if played, should prove a big winner. The war conditions have stimulated prices and with the probability of Russia's inability to export wheat, the result is an easy problem to figure out.

What's the matter with the Hoosier club organized seven weeks ago? Why not have a rousing meeting? Almost every day a crowd gathers at the Little White Store to await the coming of the mail, and politics and war in the far East are the absorbing topics. Roosevelt, as chief of the nation's affairs, is prominent. The fact is, I haven't heard a single man, regardless of political faith, that opposes his candidacy. There are no true here, as Roosevelt is surely and easily the people's candidate.

Frank Neff has a beautiful collection of stereoscopic views on display at the Little White Store. The views are local, all being scenes along the wild, rushing waters of Hood river, west of Odell.

James Egert informs me that a friend of his in Kansas, having recently sold out his farm there, is only waiting the time when he can secure a house to move his family into here, and he will start for Hood River.

Mr. Hollowell, who lives at Eggermont, is also looking for friends from Indiana in early spring. There is room and opportunity for many more enterprising people in the famous valley of Hood River, and while as a rule, it is unsafe to advise friends concerning a location for investment and a home, Hood River is an exception as an exception. And the longer the matter is deferred, the greater will be the cost of a home site.

Moster Items. Intended for last week.

Having been snowed in, last week, your correspondent failed to give you any news. Will try and make amends by reporting what has transpired during the past two weeks.

J. M. Carroll returned from Portland much improved by treatment from Dr. O. C. Hollister.

G. L. Davenport, who has been spending several days at the old home, returned to Portland on No. 1, Tuesday.

Lee Hunter is shaking hands with old friends, having been a resident of Los Angeles, Cal., for several years past.

Cook & Co are placing their machinery in their box factory, and will soon have everything in shape for business, and being equipped with cheap power will be able to compete with the best of them.

L. L. Goodwin arrived from San Francisco on Sunday, and will spend some time on his ranch.

Quite a number of our people were attendants at the circuit court at The Dalles, last week, as witnesses and parties to actions before that tribunal.

Fred Evans and bride arrived from their wedding tour on No. 1, last Saturday, and were given a genuine, old-fashioned charivari by "the boys." We heard that Fred did the proper thing, and the boys all say "Fred is all right."

Alfred Evans, who is attending school at The Dalles, spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Memorials Items. A dance was held in the city hall the evening of the 24th. After the dance the select sat down to an oyster supper. The musicians have been hungry ever since.

The Menominee mill will be sawing in a few days. A large number of logs is on hand with more coming in.

Mr. Cross, the Menominee millwright is home from the hospital, and is getting the new steam feed ready for operation.

Mrs. L. P. Day is visiting in Hood River.

Mr. Irby is confined to his bed. The doctor was called to wait on him. We hope to see him out soon.

A surprise party was given Mrs. Moore on the evening of the 27th, the occasion being her birthday. Mr. Moore says he hopes they will come again, as he has grub enough to last a month. Those present were: Mr and Mrs R. W. Cameron, Mr and Mrs Lewis, Mr and Mrs Talley, Mr and Mrs Larson.

In the Odell District. Mr. Guy from Portland was up to his ranch last week.

A piano agent left a fine piano at Mr. Rupporn's on trial recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Roberts returned from Portland last Friday. While in the city they attended the wedding of a friend.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, over 400 boxes of apples were hauled from this neighborhood within the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tracy from Maine were visiting relatives here last week. Mrs. Tracy is a sister of B. T. Young and Mrs. Cushman of this place.

Mrs. Booth returned from The Dalles Monday and while getting in the back in town on her way home, slipped and fell, although her injuries are nothing serious, yet caused her some pain for a day or two.

Mr. Kellogg moves, this week, on the C. L. Rogers apple ranch on Willow Flat. Improvements will be made this spring. Ten acres of Newtown apples were set last year which made a good growth. Mr. Rogers will plant trees as fast as the land can be cleared until the whole 40 acres are in fruit.

Orrie Sloenn has homesteaded the quarter-section of land southwest of Odell recently relinquished by Las Odell. Mr. Sloenn is a young man of energy and intends putting his shoulder to the wheel, and will someday have a good, paying ranch.

Chenoweth News Notes. Ed Kautz was in Hood River Monday.

Ed Kautz went to Nelson creek, Monday, to see what was needed to begin sawing there, as he contemplates sawing out what timber is convenient there.

School is out here on Wednesday, March 3. Miss Jones, the teacher, will then return to her home in the Willamette valley.

Literary on Tuesday night. Question for debate: "Resolved that Intemperance is the Cause of more Suffering than War." J. A. White champions the affirmative and J. A. Hughes, the negative.

R. T. Mills has been keeping tab on the snow fall this winter and reports a seven-foot fall and it is still snowing, but he says it will go as soon as the moon changes, which is today, Tuesday.

Let us watch the countenance of the moon and sea.

We have a school election here Saturday, for the purpose of electing two directors, one for two years and the other for three.

New Ruling on Timber Claims. The register and receiver of the local land office and the special agent assigned to the Hood River district have been instructed by a circular from the general land office to make a change in the cross-examination of timber land claimants making final proof. During the past year the cross-examination in final proof on timber claims has, under instructions from the department, been conducted by a special agent. The new ruling requires the officers before whom proof is made to make the cross-examination on the blanks provided by the department. If a timber land claimant makes his proof before the register and receiver those officers will conduct the cross-examination. In cases where final proof is made before a United States commissioner or clerk of a state court, that officer will cross-examine claimant and witnesses, reducing their testimony to writing, to be submitted with final proof papers.
