

Hood River Glacier.

THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1904.

The Quarterly of the Oregon Historical Society, No. 1, Vol. 4, for December, 1903, has reached the Glacier exchange table. This is the closing number of the volume, and with the three preceding numbers, makes 416 pages of carefully prepared historical matter directly relating to the "Oregon Country," which cannot be found in any other form. The contents of this number are—History of the Origin and Authorship of Bancroft's Pacific States Publications; a History of a History, by W. A. Morris; Pioneer Newspapers of Puget Sound, by C. B. Bagley; Sketch of Willard H. Rees, a pioneer of 1844, by John Minto; Sketch of Joseph Holman, a pioneer of 1840; Letter of Smith, Sablette and Jackson, of October 29, 1830, descriptive of a trip into the Oregon Country. In addition, several extracts from newspapers in the early 40s referring to Oregon. Full particulars about the Quarterly may be obtained from George H. Himes, assistant secretary Oregon Historical Society, city hall, Portland, Or.

To Divide Wasco County. The Dallas Times-Mountaineer. Although very little is being said about it, a move is on foot to divide Wasco county into three or more counties, and the coming election will have considerable bearing on the division question. The people of Antelope and vicinity still cherish the dream of Stockman county, a bill for the creation of which has been before the past two sessions of the legislature. They expected their cause to be carried by the late legislature, but were disappointed. However, their ardor has not been cooled by defeat, and they will try again in 1905.

The people of Hood River also have aspirations to be the seat of government to the west of the western portion of Wasco county, and it will be no surprise if they have a bill before the next legislature to create a new county. In the event of the Stockman county bill becoming a law, and a county being created to include part of Wasco lying west of Mosier, Wasco, which once comprised all of Eastern Oregon, and a good portion of Washington and Idaho, would represent a decidedly small scope of territory.

Whether this bisecting of the county would be beneficial to what would be left of Wasco is a question. It would in some respects decrease county expenses, but it would at the same time materially reduce the volume of taxable property. If this immediate section is proposed in county division, it is time now to begin considering the question. In the next legislature Wasco county will have one senator and two representatives. These legislators will have much to do either creating the county or preventing their creation. Suppose the senator and one representative should be chosen from Hood River, and the other representative from Antelope, it would be a very matter for them to pool interests, and divide the county on lines acceptable to their respective localities.

If this vicinity is opposed to county division, it would be well to consider the matter before the caucus for the legislature are nominated.

H. C. Bateham and family returned, last week, from an extensive trip in the Eastern states. They spent the winter at Fairview, Ohio.

Mrs. N. Harris of the well-known drug and clothing store of The Dalles offers her entire stock of goods for sale. Those interested should read her ad in another column.

Miss Grace Hobson, stenographer in the office of the Eastern Oregon Land Co. at Moro, spent the week in Hood River visiting Miss Clara Blythe and Mrs. Edward Blythe.

A large number of communications reached the Glacier office last week to late for publication, notwithstanding repeated announcements that all such matter should be in by Monday.

The papers on pioneer days in Hood River, by Captain H. C. Coe and John Marden, will be worth more than the admission price of Oregon night at the Unitarian church Monday evening, March 21, at 8 o'clock. Price 15c.

David Irwin and wife and daughter from Michigan, are visiting the family of George F. Coe. Mr. Irwin is the brother of Mrs. Coe. They come to Oregon prepared to stay a year and may conclude to make it their permanent home.

M. R. Noble was in town Wednesday for the first time in ten weeks. During all this time he has been laid up at home from the effects of blood poisoning after vaccination. For a week or more he was at the point of death. His many friends are glad to see him about again.

O. A. Wolverton of Mouthouth, Or., is visiting his brother-in-law, J. H. Herber, and family. Mr. Wolverton is brother of Justice Wolverton of the Oregon supreme court. This is Mr. Wolverton's first visit to Hood River, and he found a much larger, more thickly populated and highly developed valley than he expected to see.

R. Reed, proprietor of the Spot Cash grocery, has made sale of his business to the late and the Vanon M. Reed, in retiring from the grocery business asks the Glacier to thank the many people who were his customers the past year. He is undecided just what he will do next, but says he expects to remain in Hood River.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Blythe was well filled last Monday evening with the members and friends of the Congregational Christian Endeavor society, who conducted a highly successful social. Games were indulged in which were interestingly interspersed with recitations and musical selections. A delicious luncheon was served.

The young men of Hood River are manifesting much interest in the Sunday night meetings conducted by Rev. W. G. Eliot at the Unitarian church. Elderly men, too, are attracted by the counsels of Mr. Eliot, and at last Sunday night's meeting there was such a sprinkling of gray beards in the audience that, on motion, it was unanimously voted to open the two concluding meetings to all men, irrespective of age.

The W. W. M. Co. base ball club of The Dalles recently elected the following officers for the year 1904: H. F. Temple, president; J. T. Thompson, secretary; J. W. Miller, treasurer; C. F. Savage, manager. Manager Savage expects to put out the best team in The Dalles, composed of local players, and will arrange for match games with the clubs of surrounding towns. New suits have been ordered, which were presented by E. O. McCoy, manager of the W. W. M. Co.

Jesse Moore, racketeering at the Mesoniere mill, met with a serious accident Monday morning, an accident which came within a hair's breadth of being fatal. He was caught between the log carrier and roll way, and the muscles of his hip were badly lacerated. Had the wound been the least bit deeper, a main artery would have been severed and death from loss of blood might have been the result. Drs. Watt and Brosius took a dozen stitches in the wound. At last reports the patient was resting easy.

WILLIAMSON MEN WIN OUT

Yesterday's republican primaries resulted in a sweeping victory for the Williamson supporters, or Mitchell republicans, as they styled themselves. East Hood River, with 18 majority, was the one precinct which went for Mr. Moody. The majorities for the Williamson tickets in the other Hood River precincts were: West, 17; South, 8; Mountain, 3; Puget Sound, by C. B. Bagley; Sketch of Willard H. Rees, a pioneer of 1844, by John Minto; Sketch of Joseph Holman, a pioneer of 1840; Letter of Smith, Sablette and Jackson, of October 29, 1830, descriptive of a trip into the Oregon Country. In addition, several extracts from newspapers in the early 40s referring to Oregon. Full particulars about the Quarterly may be obtained from George H. Himes, assistant secretary Oregon Historical Society, city hall, Portland, Or.

Reports to the Glacier from Barrett and Mount Hood say the contests in these precincts waxed long and hot. The result throughout the valley is a repetition of the vote two years ago. Moody is said to have carried The Dalles.

Following are the delegates from the Hood River precincts:

EAST HOOD RIVER.
Chas. Detman, E. N. Blythe,
C. G. Roberts, H. H. Bailey,
Hans Lager, J. H. Dukes,
F. H. Button.

WEST HOOD RIVER.
F. Davenport, J. E. Cameron,
A. Foley, E. Locke,
A. C. Staten, F. C. Brosius,
A. W. Boorman.

BALDWIN (MT. HOOD).
A. M. Kelley, G. M. Wishart,
O. H. Rhoades.

VIENTO.
Phil Warren, J. W. True.

SOUTH HOOD RIVER.
Fred Newby, E. E. Lyons,
Fred Miller, Jesse Inubler.

Great Mitchell Victory in Portland. (Special to the Glacier.) Portland, Mar. 17 (2 a. m.)—The regular Mitchell republicans carry Multnomah county by a majority of about six to one. This gives Williamson 71 votes almost certainly.

The Wasco county convention will be overwhelmingly for Moody, with Columbia, Clatsop and Morrow also carried by Williamson. Moody has a fighting chance to carry the rest of the district. Wheeler is claimed by Moody, though the country districts are not yet heard from.

Made No Untruthful Statement. White Salmon, Wash., March 14, 1904. Editor Glacier: We saw in the Golden-dale Sentinel a statement that was said by a correspondent in the Glacier in regard to persons voting for school bonds in White Salmon not owning the houses they lived in was not true. We challenge them to prove anything we said in the Glacier at any time as untrue. We always aim to tell the truth, knowing full well that falsehood is a very weak argument at all times. If we have said anything during this controversy that was not true it was certainly not our intention. But we are sure all we have said is true that we are willing to give them a chance to test it. So far we have been merciful with them, but when we come again we will lay all things bare.

Subscribers. Judge Prather tells the Glacier that while he was in The Dalles, Tuesday, he saw a letter in Sheriff Sexton's office from E. Barnes, who writes that he regrets now that he decamped with a bad record behind him, and is coming back on his own volition. Barnes' decampments have cost up to $4,000 or $5,000. Compliments have been filed against him with District Attorney Frank Menefee, charging embezzlement from school district No. 3 of $167. Oleta assembly of the United Artisans got the same charges for something over $300.

From a Portland paper it is learned that Attorney W. T. Hume, attorney bringing suit against the city of Hood River, provided the municipality refuses to pay him for his services in the prosecution of the saloon men last October. Some of the council members do not believe he deserves any recompense; others feel that he could bring no legal suit against the city, while some go so far as to assert that Hume sold out to the liquor men. The whole thing causes a great deal of trouble. Ex Mayor Coon believes Hume has a case against the city, and should he win, the former executive will have a smile that won't come off.

New Today. For Sale—Household goods; cook stove; lounge; linoleum, etc.

Mrs. J. E. Hanna. The W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church will hold an open meeting March 20, at 7:30. A special programme. All are invited.

Buy a Benicia steel HILLSIDE PLOW of the Davidson Fruit Co. They are all right on level as well as hillside ground. No ridges nor dead furrows, and cost no more than an ordinary plow.

The Oregon Fire Relief Association has now in force $16,000,000 of insurance in 30,000 separate risks. This is several millions more than is carried in the state by the largest of 55 old line companies operating here, and that, notwithstanding the fact that the association takes no business risks. The average cost per annum for insurance in this association, during the nearly ten years of its existence, has been less than half the cost in standard companies, and always on the easiest possible method of payment. It has thus saved to its members, during the 12 months of 1903 alone, the enormous sum of $118,830.30, while during the same time it paid 180 losses and had cash left in its treasury nearly sufficient to pay 180 more. For further particulars address Hugh Gourlay, general agent for Wasco and Sherman counties, The Dalles.

Christian Endeavor Notes. The Sunday evening meeting of the Endeavorers at the Valley Christian church was one of unusual interest. The subject, "Destructive Appetites," was ably set forth by Miss Norman, the leader, who made a special address to the younger members, on the pernicious effects of narcotics upon the growing child. Mr. Cash discussed the influence of the will in overcoming the animal appetites, but admitted that without divine aid most people would fail to keep their passions in subordination. Mr. Register, in an excellent talk, continued the same theme, calling attention to some of our lesser, but more prevalent, faults. The writer, in his awkward way, suggests that perhaps too much prominence is given to the appetite for liquor thereby obscuring other evil habits that come home closer to Christians. His suggestion, however, was lost upon Mr. Wilson, who followed with some extended remarks along prohibition lines. Mr. Wilson is right at home on the subject of local option and temperance in general, and said that it is necessary for us to vote as well as to talk, if we accomplish anything. Brother Beery closed the discussion by a few remarks on local option on which he was advertised to speak; but owing to the encroachment by the Endeavorers upon his time and to a disquieting telegram received from his sick ones at home, he was constrained to touch the subject briefly. The subject for next week is: Great Little Things, Frank Parker, leading Correspondent.

A Strong Affection for Hood River. Portland, March 12, 1904.—S. F. Blythe, Hood River—Dear friend: I enclose a little poem with the request that you publish it for me in your paper, as a memorial of my life and experience while in Hood River. I have a strong affection for that little spot, though I was not happy there. When I awoke on the morning of the 8th inst., this poem was in my brain clamoring for expression. I arose and wrote it down, and now would like to see it in this way, if you do not object.

I expect to visit your town in a week or two, and I shall be compelled to close out the mercantile business in The Dalles.
