 The Oregon Fire Relief Association has now in force $10,000,000 of insurance in 30,000 separate risks. This is several millions more than is carried in the state by the largest of 50 old line companies operating here, and that notwithstanding the fact that the association takes no business risks. The average cost per annum for insurance in this association, during the nearly ten years of its existence, has been less than half the cost in standard companies, and always on the easiest possible method of payment. It has thus saved to its members, during the 12 months of 1903 alone, the enormous sum of $118,630.50, while during the same time it paid 180 losses and had cash left in its treasury nearly sufficient to pay 180 more. For further particulars address Hugh Gourlay, general agent for Wasco and Sherman counties, The Dalles.

 Public meeting April 2.
 Garden-making, clearing rubbish, plowing the garden patch, etc., are evidences that spring is near at hand.

C. R. Bone and N. C. Evans, leading Wasco county politicians, were down from Hood River yesterday.—Oregonian.

Captain W. M. Bentley of Los Angeles, uncle of Frank Chandler, is in Hood River and expects to spend the summer with his nephews.

Cox & Wallin on Saturday secured the contract for building the Fouts hotel. This building will be three stories and basement, built of brick, covering 43x75 feet, and will cost $12,000.

J. R. Nickelsen is building an addition to his warehouses, on Fourth and Columbia streets, 33x30. When finished, he will have one of the completest stores in the city to show his large stock of agricultural implements, wagons, buggies, etc.

The Prineville Journal tells of a girl baby born, last week, to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wisland, of Culver, which is a record breaker for weight, weighing at the time of its reception into this world just a pound and a half, while diminutive, is perfectly healthy and has a good thing about it.

The returning delegates from the republican county convention, says the Antelope Herald, walked into town about 11 o'clock Wednesday night and all of their proceedings still prevailed. While coming down Adams canyon the stage ran into a chuck hole and upset, spilling the delegates and wrecking the vehicle. As they trekked it into town a ballot was taken and the delegation was found voting as a unit on the proposition that "Staging is about all that is claimed for it."

L. N. Blowers, now United States deputy marshal, visited his family in Hood River, Sunday. Mr. Blowers' official duties take him to all parts of Eastern Oregon. He says that so far he is well pleased with his new work. It is, he says, an agreeable change to be allowed to go about over the country after being penned up in the mercantile business for years. Mr. Blowers is offering his residence property in Hood River for sale. If he sells he will build a larger house in Hood River and continue to make his home there.

St. Marks guild will hold a high tea, April 9, and will also have for sale many useful and valuable articles. The place of holding the tea will be announced later. The ladies are making great preparation for this tea and sale, and they invite everybody to come.

Judge A. B. Brickett of White Salmon recently purchased a thorough-bred short-horn cow of the famous Wads herd of Pendleton. He paid $500 for the animal.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Miss G. M. Stevenson, representing the Pacific Monthly, was in Hood River last week. Miss Stevenson took in the valley, and of course fell in love with it.

Hon. L. N. Blowers, while in Portland, the other day, saw a man peddling apples on the street. He had big placards announcing "Hood River apples, six for a nickel." Mr. Blowers took a look at the apples and found them to be a measly lot of worse than second grade hog apples. A crowd of people, mostly tenderloins, stood around the fakir's wagon. Mr. Blowers, addressing the crowd, said: "I lived 15 years in Hood River and know that these apples never came from there. Farmers of Hood River feed better apples to their hogs. The apple vendor made no reply but moved on to the next block, where he could strike another crowd of tenderloins."

W. A. Wendorf of Underwood was in town, Thursday. Mr. Wendorf sold his place of 100 acres to Keady & DuBois, last fall, and has since bought 80 acres adjoining. The new proprietors of the old Wendorf place have made great improvements during the past winter, and will have 500 fruit trees growing after they finish planting this spring, besides 3 acres more in new settings of strawberries. Mr. Wendorf will work out this summer with his team, and right here is a good chance for any one wishing a good hand with a good team to employ one.

F. Sinnott and family left last week for Roseburg, Or., where they will spend the next 60 days. Mr. Sinnott is section foreman for the O. R. & N. at Hood River, in which capacity he has served for years, and by the officials of that company is considered one of the most efficient and faithful on the road. Mr. Sinnott has leave of absence for 60 days, which is the longest period he has had off from railroad work in 17 years. He has a farm adjoining the town of Roseburg, which is now valuable.

A. R. Hogan of Mosier was in town Friday. Mr. Hogan says Mosier was a lively place during the coming summer months. Two dwellings have recently been erected. A Baptist church has been organized and will soon build an edifice. The box factory, to be run by water power from Mosier creek, will start up. Mrs. Hogan received the sad news, Thursday, of the death of her father in his home in Clackamas county that day, aged 86 years.

G. R. Baker of the Watts & Baker Marble and Granite works, was in Hood River last week, setting up some monuments in the cemeteries of the valley. Watts & Baker are known to turn out a fine quality of work, and orders entrusted to this firm will receive prompt and courteous attention.

F. W. Pribnow, a carpenter, from Portland, is a new comer in Hood River. His family, who came here last November, are living on the hill, next door to N. G. Tenold. Mr. Pribnow will hereafter be permanently located in Hood River.

St. Marks guild will hold a high tea, April 9, and will also have for sale many useful and valuable articles. The place of holding the tea will be announced later. The ladies are making great preparation for this tea and sale, and they invite everybody to come.

There is quite a good deal of activity in real estate transactions going on in and near our town, with prospect that ere long it will be greatly increased. This is the first pulsation of our prospective railroad.—Dufur Dispatch.

Ed Nicholson arrived last Friday from East Grand Forks, Minn. He will remain here until next August, having come to make his home for a time for the benefit of Mr. Coe's health. Their many friends wish them renewed health and safe return.

George S. Smith sold his 3 acres on the hill for $750, to D. E. Robertson of Minnesota. Mr. Smith will remain on his White Salmon ranch until about April 15, when he will go to Portland for the summer.

Davenport's planer at Belmont started up Friday last. C. G. Metcalf in charge. A number of cottages are being built for the accommodation of employes at the planer.

V. C. Brock has accepted the position of head clerk in the store of E. B. Bragg & Co. Will Streets, who formerly held this position, has joined Al Whitehead in the cigar business.

Mrs. J. E. Hanna and daughter Ruth left Saturday for their new home at Seapooose, Or. Miss Florence Hanna will remain in Hood River until the close of school.

Captain J. P. Shaw left Monday morning for Portland, where he goes to enter the real estate business with a former partner in this line of work, H. E. Cross of Oregon City. After April 1, the captain will be "at home" at 233 Washington street in the Labbe building near Second, where he says Hood River people will always be welcome visitors. Shaw & Cross will make a specialty of Oregon City real estate, Mr. Cross having some extensive holdings in that thriving Portland suburb including Chastanoga grounds at Gladstone Park. They will also deal in Hood River town and country property. Being located in Portland, where most of the buyers of Hood River realty come from, Captain Shaw will be in a position to do a great deal of good for Hood River. Ever anxious to promote the best interests of this town and valley, the captain intends to retain his residence here and will make weekly visits to his city on the Columbia.

David Jewell, who has been cutting wood on G. E. Bowerman's place up on Hood River, near James English's ranch, brought to town some evidences of prehistoric times in Hood River. He cut a pine tree that measured three feet 11 inches at the stump. The tree was about 150 feet high. At from 40 to 80 feet from the ground the ends of the limbs had been cut off evenly with an ax. The cuts show great age, one limb about 15 inches in diameter, showing that the ax had been used on the tree more than 100 years ago. The tree stood on level ground, away from other trees. There is no way to account for the limbs being amputated, unless it was done during deep snow. No one, not even an Indian, would be likely to climb 80 feet to cut off live limbs for fuel unless the dead timber in the neighborhood was all covered with snow.

We have heard of thespians watching their opportunity and "taking it afoot," but when it comes to school marm "counting the ties" between Hood River and Portland, a distance of 65 miles, it's a new one on us. Particularly so with the Hotel Portland, as to be in Portland by the last of June to be present at the meeting of the western division of the state teachers' association. No doubt these energetic pedagogues will prove that they are as capable of walking the ties as the school marm. Their pupils will be the chalk.—Chronicle.

The Woodmen of the World shadow social was a decided success, socially as well as financially. About 140 were present and everybody went away well pleased and well filled, for the committee had been on the job for some time. Miss Ida Bevan took the cake for being the most popular young lady in the hall, but A. C. Stated made a failure of cutting it, even if he did have to pull off his coat. The bidding on the shadows was really the best of the season. Mr. Davidson has got his money's worth and the proceeds will go a long way toward paying expenses. The members wish to thank their friends for their very liberal patronage. The total receipts were $25.36.

In the article last week describing the manufacture of strawberry ink by the Davidson Fruit Co. the reporter's chirography was too much for the devil at the case and the word "canta" was taken for crates, and one of the sentences read "the crates are being inked," which the halloos are cut which are boiled or steamed. At any rate, this little error did not rattle the proprietor of the factory and he is satisfied his new method produces a splendid berry box.

Chester Shute, who was sick with appendicitis a month ago and is now well enough to go to work, was taken with a relapse, last week, and Dr. Brosius and Henry Shute took him to Portland. He was operated upon, Wednesday, successfully, and is now in a fair way to recover. The doctor says he is able to come home about the latter part of this week.

Harry Bailey finds his injuries more serious than at first thought, and has been compelled to resign as carrier on R. F. D. No. 1. Mr. Bailey is confined to his house, and unless he remains quiet, performing his duties punctually and carefully. Patrons of the mail route will have difficulty in getting a carrier as good as Mr. Bailey.

Percy Shelley, who is a conductor on the City & Suburban railway in Portland, sent to Sherman county last week to bring down his horses. He found them too poor to bring down and was compelled to let them remain until they get in better condition. Mr. Shelley returned to Portland, Tuesday.

M. Muir, representing the Columbia River and Oregon Timberman of Portland, was in Hood River, Saturday. The timberman is the leading sawmill publication in the Pacific Northwest, and appears to be enjoying the prosperity of his publisher, George M. Corwell, deserves.

W. R. Hoole and C. L. Copple have opened a real estate office in the room formerly occupied by Charles Temple's jewelry store. These gentlemen are both well qualified for a business of this kind, and the Glacier building for the new firm a fair share of the patronage of those who wish to buy or sell real estate.

Last Sunday Dr. G. L. Taft, the superintendent of the Oregon anti-saloon league, spoke in the three churches of Hood River, and will speak again here on the next Sunday morning at Pine Grove, in the afternoon at the Valley Christian church and at night at the Belmont M. E. church.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Coe left yesterday for Ashland, Or., where they expect to make their home for a time for the benefit of Mr. Coe's health. Their many friends wish them renewed health and safe return.

J. F. RAND'S STORE

W. J. Baker has succeeded F. P. Friday in the real estate business. This is a new line of work for Mr. Baker, but his 20 years' residence in Hood River, extensive acquaintance throughout the state, thorough knowledge of fruit growing and general, affable address should bring him deserved success. Mr. Baker is the best of the season. Mr. Davidson has been seen by his list of bargains offered to land buyers in another column of the Glacier.

At Crapper school house, Friday night, April 1, will be given an entertainment and social that is expected to be the best of the season. There will be recitations, dialogues, music and supper. Some talent new to the work will be introduced. Everybody come, and if you drink coffee, bring along your own tin and also on the programme for a song.
 C. A. Hickie will be the star actor.
 M. L. Emry and J. W. Wright have been at work for the past two or three weeks on H. F. Davidson's place near Tucker. The former owner had the frame up for quite a large house but never finished it. Mr. Davidson has had the old house moved and fitted up for a barn. W. F. Smith has charge of the ranch.

C. B. James, traveling for Portland's well-known manufacturing collection, Sweetland & Son, was in Hood River, Saturday, and arranged for Tompkins & Jochimsen to handle their delicious ice cream and water ices. Watch for Tompkins & Jochimsen's announcement of first shipment when the warm days come.

F. E. Friday made sale last week of his house and lot 100x150 feet facing State street, in Blowers addition, to J. W. Morton for $2,000. Mr. Friday has disposed of his real estate business in Hood River to W. J. Baker, and will remain with his family to his farm in the Pine Grove neighborhood.

As will be seen by the county expense, published in another column, an Indian's coffin costs the county but $4, while a pauper's is worth $10. Lo, the poor Indian!

Miss Lenora Adams, who has been attending the Holiday school in Portland, is quite sick in that city, and will be brought home as soon as she is able to travel.

A dispatch in the Portland evening Telegram from Los Angeles says that Hood River apples are being in that city oranges for $1 a peck.

The Congregational ladies' aid society will meet Friday afternoon of this week with Mrs. F. C. Brosius.

Your presence is requested at the public meeting called by the mayor for Saturday evening, April 2.
 Next Sunday is Easter.

Farmers' Ditch is Making Progress.
 Money for ditch stock is pouring into Butler & Co's bank in a manner very satisfactory to the managers of the project. The first note of $10,000 to Butler & Co. was paid off a week before it was due, and money for the remaining notes will soon be on hand. Monday, N. C. Evans secretary of the company, had been just finished writing contracts for 50 of the stockholders. Many of the farmers had the ready cash to make payments for their stock, while the others find money lenders quite willing to advance loans on land that is to be irrigated.

The only bad feature is the continued rains which are delaying work on improvements to the ditch. Snow still covers the ground in places, and the ever excavating has to be done with work with horses would be impossible. Considerable repairing has been done on the lower laterals. As soon as the weather permits, N. C. Evans will run levels for straightening up the main laterals. Lumber for repairs can be secured from Frank Davenport's Mount
