WHITE SALMON NOTES.

M. C. Fox was in Portland last week. Miss Merrill of Portland is a guest at the Jewett farm.

Miss Susie Wolford entertained a number of young people at her home on First street, in honor of Miss Clara Blythe of Hood River. The evening was spent in playing cards, and at 11 o'clock a lunch, a best feature of the evening, was served. Those present were: Miss Blythe, Miss Wiers, Miss Susie Wolford, Miss Egan, Misses Mary and Anna Wolford, Messrs. Frank and Ed Egan, Mearle Fox, William Beaman and Roy Crowe.

Harvey Dunn of Portland is visiting Miss Blythe of Hood River, who has been visiting friends, returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Members Groshong, Adams and Chapman will give a dance in the Lauderbach hall Friday evening, April 8. Cortland Chapman and William Adams will furnish the music.

Fred Rosenkrantz and family arrived last week from Seattle.

Miss Anna Henderson of Portland is visiting her brother, J. A. Henderson of Bingen.

E. M. Williams of Husum was in White Salmon Saturday on business.

At the republican primaries Saturday, delegates to the county convention at Goldendale, April 9, were elected as follows: White Salmon—H. C. Cook, J. P. Egan, Frank Groshong, T. Wiers, Sr., Trout Lake—William Coste, W. E. Miller, Alden Kingman.

Husum and Canas Prairie received no notification for holding primaries, and have chosen no delegates.

Barrett District.

Spring, so long looked for, is here at last.

Mr. Stafford of Portland and Thomas Bishop, sr., started out last week to hunt up that pesky ground hog. They were well prepared, we are told, from the fact that they carried an extra supply of snow shoes, a flask of brown sugar and a block of condensed water. Mr. Stafford carried, slung from a strap over his left shoulder, a leather case that held a very familiar look, and upon endeavoring to make its acquaintance, imagine our disgust when we found, instead of the image of a long-time friend, it was simply a leek that he was taking along, as Bishop had promised him a shot at the ground hog. They struck off in a northerly direction, and after traveling a few moons they struck the trail and followed it through Wasco county and into the cattle range of Klamath county, where they found the herds driving out bovines in the valley outside of the snow limit, and leaving numbers of them that were so poor they could not travel. At this point the trail got so hot that an extra pair of snow shoes became necessary, and Stafford unslung his leather case and took a pull at the little leek so as to be ready for a shot. Bishop wiped the sugar and condensed water, baited the trail with a report of the prohibition convention and a copy of the local option bill, then hid behind one of the upturned snow shoes, on the side of which was a notice of the democratic primary in Barrett district, and waited. It was but a short time when a sad, sweet voice was heard carolling, "The flowers of spring, 'tis a," and a beautiful specimen of a weather prognosticator hove in sight. He sampled the sugar, waded through the local option bill, even survived the report of prohibition convention, Leslie Butler's picture and all, but the call for the democratic primary in Barrett district was too much for him, and before Stafford could get a shot at him he gave up the ghost, and lo! spring is here.

We are sorry to hear that there is some hitch in the arrangements for the marriage in high life that was to have taken place last Sunday. One of your correspondent's bright visions of dead oodles of bride's cake, etc., etc., have gone glimmering.

The Valley Christian church have filed articles of incorporation.

Charles Sturgis, who works on Fair Oaks farm, is becoming a valuable aid to Road Supervisor in Woodworth. In fact, Methodist lane cannot spare Woodworth's right-hand man.

Rev. A. A. Beery, pastor of the Valley Christian church, was absent from his charge last Sunday on account of having to move his family to their new home at Mouthout, Or. A. B. Cash occupied Mr. Beery's pulpit and gave a large congregation an excellent Easter sermon. Every opportunity given to Mr. Cash only demonstrates the latent possibilities that in him lie only waiting development. We sincerely hope in the near future to see him occupying a position for which he is so preeminently qualified.

E. E. Register says he has so arranged his affairs that he can move at any old time.

Barrett's latest—Coppie and Hoole are making things hum in their new office in Hood River, and are giving premiums of silverware with every piece of property they sell.

Road Supervisor Woodworth is entitled to a great deal of praise for the excellent road he is building through Methodist lane. We are even glad that we waited for the road until so able a supervisor could take charge of it; and we are also glad that he has not declined it that we were enabled to provide him with such a valuable assistant. A fine and lasting thoroughfare is now assured.

P. H. Sparks was a visitor to the Barrett school last Thursday.

T. A. Reavis has erected a new gate on his place with posts that rear up so high in the air it would afford a suggestive point for a Millerite looking for the Millennium.

George Wilson has returned from the prohibition convention with a suspicious redness on the forehead end of his proboscis, which he says is due to cold contracted from listening to cold water speeches. George is chuck full of interesting reminiscences of the grand time had while in Portland, and to listen to him makes one realize what they miss by not belonging to the prohibition party and participating in all the good things they seem to enjoy.

Frank Sherbell has also returned from the cold water diet in Portland. He says that the great feature of the convention was that after the exorcises were over there was no tobacco fume on the floor. We do not see much feature in that. How could it be otherwise where there was such an abundance of water? It had to be clean. What will he do with the school house after April 9?

Ed Dreke of White Salmon was a welcome visitor in this district Sunday. Come often, Ed.

Mrs. Margaret Reid of Hood River sang a beautiful solo at the Valley Christian church, Easter Sunday night, entitled, "The Palms." Mrs. Reid's rendition of this beautiful selection was fully appreciated by the large concourse of people in attendance.

The restoration, "Mary at the Sepulcher," rendered by Miss Amy Brosius in a pleasing and creditable manner,

DAVIDSON FRUIT CO. ON THEIR WILLOW PLANT RANCH.

Mr. Gray had leased the John Tackler ranch near here, and leased it, with his own ranch, to George Sanders.

Dr. Brosius was called out to B. T. Young's last Thursday to see Miss Sadie Young, who has been sick for a number of weeks. He pronounced her case typhoid fever. Miss Sadie is getting along quite nicely.

After being without our daily mail for nearly two weeks, we gladly welcomed noon mail carrier, Clarence Coppie, last Friday morning. We are sorry Mr. Bradley's health is so poor, and we miss his genial countenance; but we feel sure our new carrier will give general satisfaction.

Odell Notes.

It is gratifying to note the improvements on the West Side by the new water company. We had hoped by this time to be able to record a similar improvement by the Bone people here, but report now has it that there will be no further extension of the laterals this summer. If this is the case, it will soon be up to the farmers as they did on the West Side—put in their own plant.

Mr. Poole of The Dalles is a frequent visitor of late at Odell. There seems to be a strong attachment here. But Hood River attracts people from all over the United States, and they are welcome, so come along.

The Little White Store was neatly and appropriately decorated with Oregon grapes and wild flowers in commemoration of Easter Sunday. The church was also decorated.

M. D. Odell went to Portland last week to attend the state prohibition convention. Hood River was well represented.

Hubert Morton was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd of the West Side at dinner last Sunday. Mr. Morton put in 7 acres of vetches and oats last week. Vetches are being used as being a great sheep crop in England, and is also being largely cultivated in the Willamette valley. As a forage plant it is evidently the coming crop.

L. A. Clark and family, friends of James Eggert from Kansas, arrived in Hood River last Friday, and moved into Chris Dethman's old house. He is very much pleased with our valley and will invest in a home here.

C. G. Roberts is moving his household goods this week to his summer home at Tanglewood. He has an ideal home sight there, and when his place is improved to a revenue producing point he will certainly have a nice permanent home. His many friends here regret his leaving Odell, where he has been such a prominent character for so many years.

was one of the features of the Endeavor service at the Valley Christian church, Easter evening.

Miss Viola V. Wood has contracted the measles, and is confined to her house. Brace up, Viola, we've all had it.

Mrs. E. E. Register is confined to the house by sickness, and the Valley Christian church choir miss their leader. All extend sympathy, and trust Mrs. Register may soon be her happy self once more.

Frankton News Notes. The family of John Hinrichs is wrestling with the measles. It has downed two of the boys and we understand it has Mr. Hinrichs going. Trust they may all win out in the long run.

Harrington Gregory, brother of Frank Gregory, has returned to Hood River after a year's absence. He is surprised at the wonderful change in Hood River made in that short time.

Florence Byrchie is on the sick list this week. The changeable weather of the past few days is the probable cause. Even the devil has been whirling around with a cold and other ailments due most likely to that fine Easter dinner he helped punish at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Noble, Sunday.

Served him right for trying to eat a week's supply of provender at one sitting, simply because he had run up against something extra nice and good. If he had stayed at home and fed on his normal diet, liver and cold potatoes, he would not have had to suffer, perhaps.

Mrs. Edge, who our reporter erroneously stated last week had purchased 10 acres from Warren Miller. She goes back to Colorado Springs to settle up her affairs there and will return to Hood River about the last of July and will then erect a nice, comfortable home on her new possessions. Mrs. Eddy appears to be a very estimable lady and the people of Frankton will be glad to welcome her to Hood River.

Flint Bradford bought the hot house at the Mount Hood hotel and moved it out to his place at Frankton. Instead of raising strawberries and apples and thunder, like the rest of us, we presume he will indulge his aesthetic tastes in the cultivation of orchids and such other fodder as is indigenous to that kind of a habitation. Flint has our sympathy and good wishes.

Warren Miller has become wearied of the unstable ways of the common every-day-old hen, which is proverbially "uncertain, coy, and hard to please," and has decided to send for a wooden hen that will sit when you set her, and he will soon be shelling the young fries by steam.

Dukes Valley Items. We are having some spring weather at last, and everybody is getting ready to make gardens.

Charles Stanton and wife returned from Viento, Saturday. Mr. Stanton says he is glad to get back to Dukes Valley.

D. D. Dudge of New Helena, Neb., has ordered 500 fruit trees from Stanton & Rawson's nursery to be set out on his farm here.

J. A. Knox is budding his old apple trees with Newtown and Spitzenburg. John Hoesener is doing the work.

We are glad to see our mail wagon coming regularly again. For nearly two months we had to either get our mail at Odell, sometimes at town and sometimes in our boxes.

Several of our young folks, and some of the married ones too, started out April Fool night to have an April Fool party. Say, who got fooled?

Everybody is sowing land plaster and grubbing.

We learn that Dukes Valley is to have that saw mill that was talked of.

J. F. Dodson had quite a painful accident the other day while working in the woods for the Mount Hood Lumber Co. His nose was broken by a hazel flying back and striking him in the face.

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Stanton to our valley once more. Mrs. Stanton's health is improved, but she is still poorly.

Our Sunday school and Endeavor are progressing nicely. Next Sunday is the day for preaching, but as our preacher has disappointed us the last two months we do not know whether to expect him or not.

Our valley is 'getting green. The clover and wheat fields look as if Dukes Valley would not haul in hay next winter as it did this winter; at least we hope not.

The R. F. D. wagon was out last Thursday. As this was Glacier day, we were all glad to get our mail, for through it we find out what our neighbors are doing.

Mount Hood Notes. Spring has arrived at last. We actually had two days of sunshine last week.

The democrats will hold their primaries, Saturday, April 9.

A. Leroux has been down with the grip for the last few days, but is able to be out again.

Wm. Andross crippled one of his horses last week, which will lay it off for three or four months.

W. A. Odell went to Hood River to consult a doctor last week. He expects to get trapping bear soon, as he has just received six bear traps from the East.

W. H. Rodenhiser still runs his butcher wagon once and awhile. His smiling countenance could be seen last week going from house to house with fresh beef. He can also supply butter and eggs at all times.

Now that spring is here why not one and all join in for two or three days a good road movement, over and above what the law requires? If every citizen will donate two days extra we can have as good roads here as in any part of Wasco county, in the course of year or two. Nothing will improve our valley faster than good roads and good schools.

In the Odell District. Easter services were held at the Union church last Sunday.

John Neese, of Dechutes, is visiting at E. T. Folts.

E. T. Folts returned from Sherman county last Friday, bringing with him a fine black team which he purchased there.

Dan Crosby has gone to work for the
