Barrett District.
The democratic day has come. The saddest of the year. When L. M. with the mossback votes just swept the platter clear.

The meeting of the faithful was held at the school house Saturday afternoon. There being but three Simon pure present beside the mossbacks that Lee brought over from Washington, in view of the fact that they would have to pay for cleaning up the school house, they decided to hold the meeting on the grounds: so selecting the highest mound where the expectorators could flow freely to the farmers' ditch, thus lessening the assessment for irrigation, they proceeded to discuss the situation. Moore said they could write for secretary, that is not to be that push. So they would just talk the matter over informally. Someone moved that the correspondent of the Glacier be bounced, but L. M. said the editor would not do that and he would protect them from his reporters. The first thing debated was how Shoe-maker and Martin came to be bounced from the election board, but Moore said he and the judge held an executive session, and he was not at liberty to disclose the proceedings. This appeared satisfactory, and the subject was closed. L. M. said it might be a good proposition to appoint a committee to interview Frank Dawson, as to whether he would accept the appointment as commissioner of immigration. At this the mossbacks demanded their cartridges and said that when over here for the other primary they got their cash in advance. A collection was once taken up with the following result: A mouldy hunk of star plug, a lead nickel, a piece of red chalk, a penny with a big hole in it, a copy of the local opinion law and a white pocket chip. The result being disclosed, the mossbacks at once broke up the meeting in a row, and the three solid-for-Hearst men took refuge in the school house well, it being dry. After having discussed a proposition with L. M., who carefully replaced the cork, they decided to advise the democratic convention at the Dalles that it would, in their mature judgment, be inadvisable to nominate a full ticket to simply fill in the three positions on the republican ticket that by some oversight were given to persons outside the Dalles, with sons like residents of that enterprising burg, and make it unanimously a Dalles ticket. This was adopted with much enthusiasm. Then a sound somewhat resembling a cow pulling her foot out of the mud, after which the selection of delegates was taken up, but despite every effort of your reporter, he was unable to secure the names of those selected, but as it was understood that whoever would must pay his own expenses, there was not much of a contest.

T. A. Reavis, in anticipation of a democratic victory, sent back to Illinois and purchased a setting of thoroughbred Plymouth Rock eggs; the seller guaranteeing that there shall be at least seven democratic roosters hatched out, who will make the air ring with Hearst cockadoodle doos.

Mrs. M. G. Himes, state organizer of the C. W. B. M., gave a very interesting lecture at the Valley Christian church last Thursday evening. A good sized congregation was in attendance and an informal reception was tendered Mrs. Himes at the close of the lecture.

Frank Sherick has sold to Mr. Hines 5 acres from the south side of his home place, the consideration being $65 per acre.
Miss Annie Brown, from Michigan, is visiting the family of J. M. Smith. The question of board for the pastor of the Valley Christian church coming up at the business meeting of that church last Wednesday evening, created much excitement, until fifty one of the prominent young men of the congregation suggested that if the pastor would find him a wife he would take him to board. The pastor at once complied with his request, and the lady, signifying her resignation, the much vexed question was settled, and we presume the license will soon be forthcoming, and we are assured there will be no pastoral charge for the wedding of the matrimonial bond, in anticipation of this event, we sincerely congratulate this happy couple, and as their minds and occupations run in similar lines, we predict a happy future, especially as they will be blessed with an abundance of Cash, to say nothing of the various amounts of small change that usually follow.

At the morning service at the Congregational church, last Sunday, Rev. A. A. Beery tendered his resignation as pastor, to take effect June 1, 1904. Mr. Beery stated that in his 30 years of preaching he never preached for a congregation that pleased him so well or where he had been treated better than here, but that he believed a pastor should reside among his flock, and as it was impossible for him to do so, he thought it best for him to resign and let the church get someone who could bring his family and settle here among this people. The congregation with much regret accepted his resignation. Mr. Beery came to Hood River some six months since and has been an earnest, hard working minister and has done much good in this neighborhood. He is of an extremely genial nature and a very interesting talker. He has infused new life and energy into the Sunday school and Endeavor society and drawn large audiences to attend Sunday services. The congregation will feel the loss of Mr. Beery, and it will be a long time before they can replace him with as fine a scholar, as fluent an expounder of the Bible, and as eloquent a speaker. His sympathies were always extended to those in sorrow or affliction, and he was always ready to sacrifice self in his efforts to advance the cause of Christianity. His congregation express deep regret that circumstances are such that compel him to ask the release of his obligations, and their best wishes will attend him wherever his lot may be cast.

Charles E. Cochran of Union, Or., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Cochran of Pleasant Grove, is a visitor at the beautiful home of his parents. Mr. Cochran is a delegate to the state and congressional conventions. He is an enthusiastic admirer of Malcolm A. Moody. He thinks Barrett district more beautiful each time he visits it.

Leroy Dart of Colorado Springs, Col., is visiting his brother in this district. He is extremely well pleased with Barrett and may conclude to settle among us. We extend him a cordial welcome.

Mr. Hale, a grandson of Mrs. M. E. Dunn and nephew of Will Dunn, is visiting friends in this valley.
Those who attended services at the Valley Christian church last Sunday were treated to a genuine musical feast. At the morning services Mrs. T. A. Register, basso; their four voices blending in perfect harmony. At the evening service Mrs. E. E. Register favored the large audience with a beautiful soprano solo entitled "Only Tired." It was a beautiful piece and particularly adapted to Mrs. Register's voice.

We notice an extended description in the Clarinda, Iowa, Herald of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Plander, who were pioneer settlers in that locality. There were present their four children and 19 grand children. This announcement becomes interesting to the readers of the Glacier from the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Plander are related to several of Hood River's most estimable citizens. The late Levi Neal, of Hood River married a sister of Mrs. Plander. Mrs. A. L. Phelps, Ike, Jack and Dick Nealeigh were children of Levi Nealeigh. A splendid banquet was served to the old couple and many valuable presents were given them, among which was a fine tea set presented by the children and grand children.

Notes from Underwood.
Professor C. H. Cromwell has been sick with the grip this week.

A little daughter has arrived to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Lusk. Theo. is the happiest man in Underwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Goddard, of Portland, are spending a few weeks on their daughter's ranch.

Commissioner Coulter was here last week looking over the proposed new road between Underwood landing and the White Salmon-Trout Lake and Camas Prairie road.

The many friends of Ed Underwood gave him a surprise last Wednesday evening, it being the occasion of his 50th birthday. Dancing was indulged in until an early hour. All wishing him many more happy birthdays.

A farewell party was given Mr. and Mrs. Haynes and Miss Moore Friday night. The first thing on the programme was music by the graphophone, one a disc measure, the other a cylinder. Some very pretty pieces were played. Next came Pitt, Finch and Cribbage, followed by dancing.

Joe Sullivan passed through Underwood, Monday.
Lena and Lizzie Kellendonk visited their sister, Mrs. Walters, Friday.

Pine Grove Gleanings.
Intended for last week.

Spring has come at last, the hills are clothed in verdure intermingled with many colors caused by the profusion of lovely spring flowers. The roads are drying fast, and Supervisor Lage is taking advantage of the dry weather and will soon have the best roads in the county.

Mrs. John Mohr returned, Monday, from The Dalles, where she has been visiting friends.

J. S. Downey of Portland spent part of last week in Pine Grove in the Homer Perry returned from Sherman county, Saturday, April 2.

Jerome Wells has been quite ill for the past week with a threatened attack of pneumonia.

The Misses Jorie and Marie Mohr, who are attending school at Vancouver, accompanied by Misses Erma and Vivian and Master Walter Mascall are spending the week visiting at their home. Singing school started again last Friday evening, after a two-weeks' vacation, with a good attendance.

The children of the Pine Grove school raised $6 for the Carrie Anderson fund—the heroes of the Chicago theater fire. It does one good to see the children take an interest in and show a willingness to help such a deserving person. It is a step in the right direction.
