Hood River Weather Report.

For week ending Tuesday, May 21. Maximum temperature, 77; minimum, 57. In precipitation, strong westerly winds and partly cloudy to cloudy weather has been very beneficial to the crops of the valley, cooling the atmosphere and retarding excessive evaporation until our irrigation companies get their ditches in operation.

An Open Letter.
From the Chapin, S. C. News: Early in the spring my wife and I were taken with diarrhoea and so severe were the pains that we called a physician who prescribed for us, but his medicines failed to give any relief. A friend who had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand gave each of us a dose and we at once felt the effects. I procured a bottle and before using the entire contents we were entirely cured. It is a wonderful remedy and should be found in every household. H. C. Bailey, editor. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Of course it pays to advertise in the Glacier. Last week we inserted a little ad-line in our "for sale" column advertising a tent for sale. The papers were not out of the office before we had a call by phone, and the party came down and took the tent. Parties kept coming Friday and Saturday until we had registered ten answers to that little ad. If you have anything to sell, buy or give away advertise in the Glacier.

For many years the Hood River Glacier has been notable for accurate information about the fruit growing industry of the Hood River valley and adjacent sections. Its editor, S. E. Blythe, was a fruit grower as well as an editor; kept in close touch with the growers of that famous valley and what he published could be relied upon as accurate and free from exaggeration. We miss regret, therefore, his retirement from the newspaper business—Rural Northwest.

L. K. King, brother of A. W. King, made the Glacier office a pleasant visit Saturday morning. Mr. King says he has some of the characteristics of the old Methodist circuit rider. He does not stay long in a place. He is alone in the world, his wife having been dead some 16 years and his two children are grown up: a daughter married and a son a gunner in the United States navy. He stays in one place until the spirit moves him to seek pasture. This is the fourth time he has come to Hood River to live. He is 54 years old and thinks he will make Hood River his abiding place this time. The Glacier extends to Mr. King the right hand of fellowship and does not stammer when it says he has come to the best place to live this side of the place where all good people go.

Some good friend of the Glacier attempting to do us a favor last week, got us into all kinds of trouble. He gave the editor an item announcing the birth of a bouncing baby at the home of John Nickelsen. So as J. R. saw the item in the Glacier he started on a Japanese rush for home to see that baby. All was quiet in that domicile, however, and no infantile music greeted the ears of the eager Johnnie. Now he wants all kinds of damages on account of blighted hopes, lost time, and damaged shoe leather incident to the forced march from his place of business to his residence. The editor now knows that old saw, "what's in a name? A rose, etc.," to be obsolete. The item should have read Chris Nickelsen, instead of John Nickelsen.

Mrs. Hayden and daughter, Miss Georgiana, started Thursday last for their home in Eau Claire, Wis. Mrs. Hayden was in Hood River some 18 years ago, when she brought George and Ray Slocom, then two little orphans to their uncle, E. L. Smith. Mrs. Hayden and her daughter are both delighted with Hood River and surprised at the evidence of prosperity manifested. They expect to visit Hood River and the Lewis and Clark fair in 1905.

R. S. Pease came in from twenty miles up the valley, Saturday, where he has been camping while looking over that part of the valley for a location. Pease says there was fifteen feet of snow at Cloud Cap Inn Saturday, only the cupola on the little hostelry being visible, sticking out of the snow.

The Mount Hood Lumber Co. has a sight that is good to the eyes of new arrivals from the prairie states where wood is worth a dollar an inch. There were two bunches of logs this company's boom across the mouth of the Hood River that cover as much ground as a cattle ranch in the bunch grass country.

H. E. McGinn, attorney for Norman Williams, filed affidavits Thursday to substantiate his appeal for change of venue in the murder case, among which were files of the Portland daily papers, giving detailed accounts of the alleged murder. Menefee & Wilson, attorneys for the state, filed counter affidavits and the motion was argued this afternoon before Judge Bradshaw, who overruled the motion and the case is set for trial at the coming term of court, Tuesday afternoon being the date.—Chronicle.

S. C. Zeigler picked a half crate of berries Wednesday evening and brought them to Hood River Thursday morning. They were bought by the Davidson Fruit Co. The price paid was 50 cents per box or $6 for the half crate. Sam always divides his first strawberry money each year with the Glacier man. He has that good habit of taking the paper himself and sending it to his father back East. Mr. Zeigler says his prospects are good for a fine crop of the luscious fruit this season.

The Paradise Steam Laundry are planning a new addition to their laundry building to take care of their increasing business. They will also put in a department for cleaning and pressing men's suits and ladies' garments.

O. P. Dabney of Portland, is fitting up the new building on Third street as a second-hand store. Mr. Dabney will buy, sell and exchange new and second-hand household goods of every description and will be open for business in a few days.

H. E. Macomber came up from Seapooose on No. 2 Sunday. He says he saw mills at that place have shut down for an indefinite period. Mr. Macomber will remain in Hood River during the berry season and assist our ranchers to rustle the luscious.

Mrs. H. T. Davidson went to Portland last Saturday and returned Monday of this week with her daughter, Miss Helen, who has been visiting relatives in that city the past week. This is Helen's first trip away from her mama and she has been having the time of her life.

Captain Shaw came in from Portland and remained over Sunday with his family, spending a part of Saturday with the G. A. R. committee arranging for the entertainment of the veterans here next month. Captain Shaw will deliver the memorial day address at Pendleton, the guest of Kit Carson Post.

The Portland paper that referred to "unsophisticated Hood River boy," was "most too brand new." He didn't do a thing to his assailant. With the aid of the detectives he found his man, who was an old offender, secured nearly all his money, and attending the trial, had the pleasure of assisting in securing a 30-year sentence for the ex-convict.

J. Leavitt, of the Globe Clothing Co., made a business trip to Portland last week. The new building being put up next to the Glacier office will be occupied by the Globe Clothing Co., in addition to their present quarters, and will be filled with a large stock of new goods.

George T. Prather went the Dalles on No. 2 Monday and took with him A. C. Lotis for the purpose of transforming him from a subject of his Imperial Majesty, Edward the Seventh, into a full-fledged American citizen, and dollars to doughnuts he will be a republican.

Elsewhere in the Glacier we give the program of the coming nurserymen's convention. This meeting is of interest to every fruit grower in the community and all should attend the meeting Wednesday evening and become acquainted with the nurserymen of the state and with their methods.
