

In upwards of three years of successful retailing, during which time this store has passed the stage of infancy to maturity, our experience has taught us the wisdom of buying for cash. As this principle has been a dominant factor in the development and success of this business, we have always endeavored to instill the same principle in the minds of our customers. The immense advantage of this is readily discernible. Especially is this so in the conduct of a business of this magnitude, which has rapidly grown in volume from month to month, until it is now regarded as by far the best Dry Goods Store in Wasco County. In fact, there are few towns which sell as many dry goods as this one store alone.

Not only is this business large in volume, but we modestly claim it to be conducted on a high plane of efficiency, ever ready, however, to improve upon it at every opportunity; our constant aim being "to lead and not to follow."

The progressive management of this business realized at once that a tremendous turn-over of merchandise at a small profit meant in the end better results than the old-fashioned idea of big profits, because we may lose an occasional account, and must have prices high enough to offset the losses.

To make it possible to do this on so close a basis and not involve loss to ourselves, has made it necessary to seek for an outlet the cash purchasers of merchandise to this great center of population. This in a word explains the success of the price-making possibilities of this great purchasing organization.

From those who have favored us in the past with their business, and whom we have endeavored to serve with that fidelity and interest that their confidence demands, we hope to merit a continuance of their favors in an increasing degree. If anything has occurred to mar the relations between us, and of which we have not been apprised, we trust they will not fail to acquaint us with the facts so as to enable us to keep with us all our old friends.

We desire to extend our acquaintance among all who have not hitherto dealt with us, and shall welcome them to our store at all times, that they may become familiar with the remarkable facilities, assortments and advantages afforded by this store.

The development of this business and its consequent purchasing power could not be accomplished without perfect organization, and this enables us to offer to our customers unusual advantages in well assorted stocks, low prices and reliable, prompt service.

Yours truly,

FRANK A. CRAM.
