BY EMILY THORNTON Author of "Roy Russell's Rule," "GLENROY," "THE FASHIONABLE MOTHER," ETC.

CHAPTER V .- (Continued.) The life of a physician is certainly a cery unsettled and unsatisfactory one. No sooner, therefore, had Earle Elfenstein in a fit of vexation, down the ramble or retired to his library, after his lonely support and become despite in the carriage way leading from the Hall. The per, and become deeply interested in 2 horse he sat upon was almost a colt, book, that a severe thunder shower, now yery wild and fiery, and as he had not steadily speeding toward them, ushered in, by muttered thunder, and sig-zag like them are the process of the learning than restaurable morning than restaurable carriage way leading from the Ham. The bookcase, a letter which lies upon the very top. The key you will find in my vest pocket."

Ludy Constance instantly did as he directed, and the letter from his dead sisdrawn over his hat, he started homeward.

Pitchy darkness he encountered all the way, relieved only by the vivid flashes of lightning that darted hither and thither, over the linky sky, while the wind, eerie like, soughed through the tall trees of the grounds surrounding Glendening Hall; then, seeming to gather force with each lull, broke loose again into fury, lashing, and thrashing the branches in a fearful manner.

Suddenly a brilliant flash of lightning

Suddenly a brilliant flash of lightning

Suddenly a brilliant flash of lightning

The suddenness of his appearing provestance of the hervous organizations of the hervous organizations and while he meant not to fulfill, and now which he meant not to fulfill, and now hat you think best," was the meek in what you think best," was the meek in what you think best," was the meek in what you think best, was the meek in what you think best, was the meek of fine black eyes and a smile of amusement in a pair of franquil blue ones. The question and answer had been reply of the wife.

"Then prefectly willing to sequiesce in what you think best," was the meek ary, groves and headers, will be wife.

"Then prefectly willing to sequiesce in what you think best," was the meek ary, seven and entire in what you think best, was the meek and percial to the open rangement?"

"I am perfectly willing to sequiesce in what you think lightning, than rattattat, came at the door, and a call for services about two miles off.

CHAPTER VI.

"Well," he thought, as he vaulted up-caused his horse to shy to one side, while a crash of thunder almost appalled him. a crash of thunder almost appalled him. Relsing his eyes instinctively towards the sideward jump that he dashed his rider dows of the Hamited Tower.

It is to be the think to be and see that this is sent a sideward jump that he dashed his rider from the saddle, and pitched him over thew returned with this removal, where he lay in a moaning while another had rushed off for the doc while your spine also has received a ter-vain, while great drops of perspiration

ble. You must obey orders, and lie per-

"I tell you I cannot lie here," shouted when you demand it. I must, I will be around by night. It is of vital impor-

"I cannot help it. The dealings inevitable. Your hip is broken; your mind can rest," was the strange reply.

rible wrench."

firm reply.

THE RIDER WAS DASHED UPON A PILE OF STONES.

What terrific spectacle was this that his head, exactly upon a pile of stones that had been left by the roadside for The words of the boy were fully con firmed; the most horrid creature fancy heap, could picture was surely dancing just While the horse paused not in his mad within the tower in full, plain view. A bideous figure was jumping up and down, amid a glare of what seemed sulphurous sistance of the wounded baronet. light, while every now and then it sank The slightest touch created the deepdown only to reappear, going through est agony, but that he must be carried the same wild motions and capers, each home was evident to all, therefore a litone appalling enough to strike terror to ter was easily constructed, and with as the hearts of the superstitious beholder. much tenderness as possible the sufferer But Dr. Elfenstein was by no means a superstitions man. Ghosts, gohlins, specters, all were to him mere vagaries ger had been sent ahead with the news, of a crazed brain. Therefore, while startled and horrified for one moment by this singular apparition, the next, he coolly reined in his horse, and thus stood reached the grounds of the mansion Dr.

while still sitting there upon the back of his horse, lost in conjecture, the determinant of their progress up the stairs to his bed moniacal hobgoblin, apparition, or whatever the evil genius of the Haunted Tower might be called, dropped from sight; the strange, lurid light disappeared; darkness reigned over the place, exed; darkness reigned over the place, exwas free to urge his horse onward once more towards the peaceful cottage that he called his home.

"I am happy to inform your lordship that the injuries, while severe, are not necessarily fatal," was the horse to the called his home.

library, he seated himself beside the ta-ble, drew nearer the wax candles, and "You will not, I am grieved to inform again took up his book to read another chapter before retiring for the night. But he soon found that reading was impossi-ble, for ever before the page flitted the impish figure he had seen, with its horns, its flaming eyes and hideous contortions. Closing the book then he leaned his head cliesing the book than he called a chair, and citement, striving to raise nimber in against the tail back of his chair, and thought long and deeply. At the close thought long and deeply. At the close gathered upon his pale brow.

"You see yourself that it is impossible to the property of the property down upon his bed for the night, one result alone was reached, namely:

"There had been a murder committed years before within Glendenning Hall, and the murderer was still unknown and at large. For some unaccountable rea-son the tower was made to appear in mind. "You don't know what you say the possession of avil spirits by some parties, also unknown."

In his soul Dr. Elfenstein believed the dreadful apparition he had himself wit- providence are mysterious, but also are nessed that night was the work of some wicked person, wrought out, probably, to keep up the superstitious notoriety such a mystery would bring upon a place.

storm still raged furiously, and the sky "I think not. Your constitution is a was shrouded by an inky pall, no light appeared from the direction of the hall to whisper forebodingly of the specter of say for a certainty, as these things are

The young physician soon found himself pursuing another and an entirely different trein of thought. This time the storm passing before his eyes was transstorm passing before his eyes was trans-ferred to the wildly lashed and foaming billows of the sea. His peaceful home had changed to the cabin of an ocean steamer, and the goblin of night into the graceful form of Ethel Nevergall, his graceful form of Ethel Nevergall, his large to transact."

"There is no danger within that time, rest assured; so try and calm yourself, for the sake of your friends," returned the doctor.

Sir Reginald was silent a moment; then before.

Ah, beautiful, lost Ethel! How he longed to see her, to speak to her, to be near her, but he knew that for him such his welves, as if in deep study, upon the face of his nephew, while hitter sighs escaped his white, trembling lips. his white, trembling lips.

a pleasure would never again be, so with a weary sigh he dropped the curtain and turned to his pillow, but not to sleep even, but to toss around, and strive in vain to banish from his mind thoughts of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible an impression of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible and the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible and the girl who hid thoughts of the girl who hid unconsciously succeeded in leaving so indelible and the girl who hid thoughts of the girl who hid sien upon his heart.

"Drink it. It may soothe pain, but, I assure you, not prevent reflection."

So the trembling baronet swallowed the potion, and then became silent and thoughtful. Dr. Elfenstein waited until he saw his patient caimed and more pliable, then proceeded to replace the bone of the broken hip and arrange the sufferer in the position most important for the success of his surgery.

After giving explicit directions to Lady Constance and Mrs. Fredon, an old family nurse, for his further treatment, he withdrew, promising to return by evening.

IN CELIA'S GARDEN.

When Celia seeks her garden ground, With smilling blue above her, The little blossoms all around Do lift their heads to love her; And they with kinses cool and sweet In fond embraces linger, At rest upon her dainty feet, Or on her snowy finger.

Now shall a thing of green and white, That hath nor sense nor seeing, Be held more dear in Celia's sight Than some poor mortal being?

ing.

No sooner had the door closed upon his retiring form than Sir Reginald ordered every soul to leave the room except Lady Constance, merely explaining to the wondering ones that he must consult his wife upon a matter of importance.

wife upon a matter of importance.

"Constance," said he, when he saw With feigned smiles cajole h that his order had been obeyed and that they were alone. "Go to my library and The charm that shall control get me from the locked orawer to bookcase, a letter which lies upon the very top. The key you will find in my May flourish yet, and bloom, and thrive, A flower in Celia's garden.

rected, and the letter from his dead sister was once more in his hand. This time he read it in a different mood. Instead of anger, one could see intense sat-isfaction in his eager eyes.

"Well," he thought, as he vaulted upon his faithful horse Sultan, "I can, perhaps, have a view of his ghostship on our way back, if we hasten."

He touched his horse and sped off in the darkness. Before reaching the home of his patient, the atorm was indeed over him.

He lingered fully an hour, hoping it would abate, but instead, its fury seemed to increase with every breath. His patient had fallen into a quiet sleep, and he was anxious to be off. Doming his patient had fallen into a quiet sleep, and he was anxious to be off. Doming his robber coat, with its protecting hood well drawn over his hat, he started homeward.

either side by grand old trees, whose soft boughs meeting, made a perfect canopy of meeting heads, falling on drops of dew through which also, rare slants of sun that lay upon the nodding grasses, or upon little clumps of flowers, whose cups lay open, ever turning skyward for a fresh supply of light or moisture.

But Sir Regisald saw not, and cared nephew, as they stealthily possessed themselves of itsh centers, and her the words read by his niece and nephew, as they stealthily possessed themsel him walt for an answer."

A short time elapsed only, when Matthew returned with this message: "I didn't come here to make a fool of myself," Mr. Holme began as he (To be continued.)

CAVE MEN IN AMERICA.

Prehistoric Skulls Discovered in ctons belong to an ancient period, huge tablets. Flint Instruments of all kinds, knives, "All right, Doctor, I'd as soon die great abundance.

by long generations of use by the clift love with her?" stalactites which Prof. Gould says maid of 30. I neglected to tell you must have been in process of formation for thousands of years. As these of next week." stalactites have formed above the coat of ashes in which the human skele have already met your niece," her comof extreme age.

Prof. Gould was the only geologist disloyalty to you," necessarily fatal," was the honest reply. "Shall I soon be over them?" was the next question that issued anxiously from > was put in use. It is called a snow- crary man." melter, a huge machine for thoroughly "Bernard in delirium?" the physician spine is injured, and you are a prisoner for months," was the doctor's serious but Finding sleep impossible, the doctor again arose and, drawing aside the curtain from the window, gazed forth into the darkness of the night. But while the darkness of the night. But while the darkness of the night and the sky in think not. Your constitution is a single process of the night. But while the darkness of the night and the sky in think not. Your constitution is a single process of the night and the sky in think not. Your constitution is a single process of the night and the sky in think not. Your constitution is a single process of the night and the sky in the sky in think not. Your constitution is a single process of the night and the sky in think not. Your constitution is a single process of the night and the sky in think not. Your constitution is a single process of the night and the sky in the sky i > as those of an ordinary truck. beyond a physician's knowledge."

Evening Post.

> "If there is the least danger of that > > rectly dumped. with the heated flues, and is melted as be had seen you."

The wise man who is looking for a took her place. Louise drew her hand job never gives his next-door neighbor away, and it was fortunate for a cer-

Speaking terms are to be found on a card in the telephone booth.

With feigned smiles cajole her, The charm that shall control her.

A CASE OF GRIP.

R. LOUISE ALDEN, I ask you for the last time, will you marry me?"

"Attorney Bernard Holme, I answer you for the last time, NO!" There was a slamming of doors and a scurry of feet on the stairs. There

Jerry and go with all speed to the office on nervous diseases and was intent on and see that this is sent at once. Have the study of a perplexing case when a train."

A few words concisely written, but on them hung a long train of terrible events that the movements of the dread future could alone unfold.

of myself," Mr. Holme began as he thrust his head in at the door. "I came to get you to dose me up. I have taken a wretched cold—sneezed could alone unfold. seventy times by the clock this after noon, and I ache all over in spots as if I had been sleeping on the rock plie. Now don't you dare tell me that a it is the grip." "Poke out your tongue, little boy Prof. C. N. Gculd, of the University Here, you may smoke up while I count of Oklahoma, recently visited a cave your pulse," and she placed the bulb in Southwestern Missouri where exca-vations have been going on for a fort-night, and will last as much longer is influenza just the same, and a good little bit for me " before they are completed. The cave round case of it, with danger of pneuis seventy feet long in the solid rock, monia, heart disease and other comand the bottom is covered with a layer plications. Go straight home this minof ashes over three feet deep, and this ute and have your mother make you a is being dug up and searched. Out of barrel of hot lemonade with a big stick the debris of ashes and clay have been in it. Boll your feet for an hour and dug four human skeletons, together then turn into bed and stay there until with bones of other animals. The you sweat it out. Yes, and you must arms are unduly long and the legs un- take one of these every two hours," duly short, which argues that the skel- and the woman counted out twelve spear heads, drills, as well as bone by your hand as by that of any other and stone instruments, are found in member of your murderous profession. The surface of the cave is of lime- before Trix comes. So you were in stone, worn perfectly smooth, probably earnest when you said I must fall in dwellers. Dr. Peabody tells of a "Certainly, and marry her—if she'll sheepfold at Mycene of similar lime have you. She looks exactly as I did stone worn smooth in a like manner when you proposed to me a dozen by long use by the sheep. Along the years ago. Trix is 18 and ought to back wall of the cave the water pour- have no difficulty in curing you of ing off the limestone has formed huge your ridiculous infatuation for an old tons and other relics of ancient times panion returned in a tone that seemed have been found, the cave must be one to her as unnecessarily flippant. "She was in the same sleeper with me when As far as know, the discovery of I went from Albany to Boston last these four skulls in Southwestern Mis week. While the porter was making souri is the first positive discovery of up her berth she came and sat with band, who was already clamoring to invention promises an entirely new era cave man in America. Their an me, and of course we chatted. I rectiquity is yet to be proven. The ata- ognized her by her resemblance to you, actites, however, the three-foot coat- and had no difficulty in verifying my ing of ashes, and other evidences of suspicion. I'm afraid I should have like kind seem to prove that the dis- fallen in love with her on the spot if covery is indeed an important one, it had not been for the contemptible present at the investigation of that "Nonsense!" Louise ejaculated. "Go cave, and as almost the whole question home and take your medicine or you of antiquity must be settled by a study won't be able to see her to-morrow of the geological formation his opinion evening," and she resumed her study in the case is of great value. Prof. as if she were quite alone, For an Gould is of the opinion that the cave hour after the door closed behind her is the greatest find of its kind ever too persistent lover, sile tried to read. made in America. The work of exca- For some unaccountable reason the "Doctor, I cannot lie here a single vation has only begun, and the great- words conveyed no meaning. A sennight; I must get up, and go around my est discoveries are yet to be made in tence that at any other time would house," returned the patient in great exlittle question as to its antiquity, and read again and again before she could that the discoveries being made in the grasp its significance. At length, discave will be of invaluable aid in soly- gusted with herself, she threw aside ing the problem of the prehistoric race the book, ordered her carriage and fectly quiet, if you ever expect to walk of man which inhabited the American went out to make some professional again." continent at one time.-New York call. When she returned it was quite dark and the telephone was ringing furiously. It was Mrs. Holme, and in a voice full of excitement she announced During the past winter a new device that Bernard was very ill, in a raging for removing snow from city streets fever, and that he was going on like a > cleaning the streets. Popular Mechan- cried, and for the first time in her proics says that the melting is done rap- fessional career she lost her wits. The idly and economically by means of a carriage had been dismissed, and in a hot-air blast which is brought into di- tremor of fright she ran-yes, actually with two inverted L-shaped flues. The and with a hollow laugh he exclaimed. dimensions of the melter are the same "Trixle, my darling, have you come at last!" With that he seized her hand The melter is mounted on wheels, and pressed it to his fevered cheek. and can be easily moved from place to "How I have been longing for you," place by a team of horses. The water- be continued. "And to think that she jacket forms the bottom of an iron thought all the time I wanted her. frame or box into which the snow may Bah, she's a cranky old maid, and a be shoveled direct from the street, or blue-stocking in the bargain. I was into which a load of snow may be di- foolish enough to think I was in love with her before she studied medicine. The furnace burns coke, and is large She can go on rolling pills till the enough to hold a cartload at a time. crack of doom as far as I am concern-The snow is placed in direct contact ed. No sane man would want her after fast as a gang of laborers can shovel. For a moment the physician vanish-ed and a jealous, wounded woman tain Miss Beatrice Alden that she was still in Albany. Then the physician returned and set to work to quiet the ravings of her patient. Together she

THE JINRICKSHA IN JAPAN.

In the latter part of the year 1869, writes a correspondent of the Honolulu Star, I was in business in Yokohama, and as my knowledge of the Japanese language was limited to a few words, I employed when necessary, the Rev. Mr. Goble as my interpreter. Mrs. Goble was a confirmed invalid and could walk about only a little. Happening to see in J. R. Black's auction telling him it would do for Mrs. Goble, as a few coolies could pull it along. I purchased it and presented it to him, but the machine was so heavy when it came to drag it up hill a few extra coolles had to be employed.

Mr. Goble was a bit of a carpenter and possessed a fair share of ingenulty, so he took off the heavy leather-covered frame and forward wheel with all its attachments and made two shafts so that a man might get hiside of them. This reduced the weight about two-thirds, a light awning was then put on the body, and was sufficient to pull it along and two would pull it up Heght's bill. Shortly after he placed a front bar to connect the shafts together. A carpenter who had a small place at Homoro did the work, and that was the first "Jinriky." The Japanese were quite taken with the outfit and they started in with a vengeance, and now it is not only the national conveyance of Japan, but also in China and India.

Mr. Goble was an American, born in Massachusetts, employed as a Baptist missionary-original occupation, a shoemaker, but as he seidom got a remittance from his church in America he was glad to do anything to procure a subsistance for himself, wife and two daughters. Mrs. Goble had a small school where she taught Japanese children and Mr. Goble, with the aid of Otormo Sadagiro, made the first translation of the gospel of St. Matthew. As the Japanese are claiming the invention of this handy little vehicle, I write these few remarks to place credit where credit is due, and alone she kept the vigit. The His mother was there to swear that I at the windows when the sleeper be good to poor Mr. Holme? I met awoke to perfect consciousness.

night long. I thought Louise was here, I could write papa that you were marand she had the faculty of changing ried, too." herself first into a fascinating young her heart of hearts Louise Alden knew your age."-Valley Magazine. that she was lying.

When the little mother came in. some three hours later, Bernard in-12-year-old devotion could not be ments. brought about too quickly, "If he ever lady reflected. That afternoon Louise sat, happy "Can I go right up " a merry voice and travel. in the hall below asked. "I thought she would be at the station, and when I could not find her in the crowd we went to her office and the maid sent us North London consists of the greater prought with her? Overcome with cu- as the soundboard. The finger-board riosity, Louise went to the head of the is formed of a human thigh cone, stairs. The young girl was at her side while the pegs were once the small bones of the hand of a South Afriin a moment and had both arms around her neck. "Oh, Auntle darling," she whispered, her face crimson with blushes, that of others a mere fable. "we've eloped. Isn't it simply too delicious? What will papa say? Frank begged so hard, and you know it is and several of her relations and the little mother labored and soon impossible to resist the man you love. the sick man fell into a tranquil sleep. He met me at Buffalo and we were Then she sent the mother off to bed married between trains this morning. gray light of morning was creeping in was of age. Now, Auntie, won't you him on the train last week and I think "Mother," he began faintly, "I have he is charming. And, besides, it would had such wretched dreams the blessed | make things so much easier for me if

"Mr. Holme is suffering with a segirl and then into a sour old hag. vere case of grip," Louise said earnest-Mother, do you think she cares even a | ly, "and you are a foolish child to run away and get married. You will never "She loves you more than anything halfway appreciate your love because in the world, even her darling profes- you will never see it slipping away BON TON BARBER SHOP sion," a trembling voice whispered in from you. But, come, bring Frank uphis ear, for Louise was on her knees stairs and present him to his new unat his bedside and had her arms cle. Then, when my husband gets around him. "I never knew how I well we will all go to Albany and per-loved you until I saw you so desper-suade your father that you have far bath tub. ately ill," the voice continued, and in better sense than your aunt had at

Valise Boat.

A boat large enough to carry six formed her that Dr. Alden said he persons may be carried in a valise or might be ill a long time, with suspi- corner of a trunk. This is because the drug store. By the way, you must have me well clous stress on the "might," and, that principle of the pneumatic tire has she could the better care for him, they been applied with such success to boat THE NEW FEED STORE, had decided to be married at once. building. These boats are of two Mrs. Holme was willing. More than kinds, either of rubber cloth inflated Mrs. Holme was willing. More than that, she went herself to secure the license and the preacher, for she had no ments, or of a series of inflated tubes prices.

On the Mount Hood road, south of town, with air and divided into two comparts the ments, or of a series of inflated tubes prices. notion of giving Louise an opportunity coiled lengthwise. These are fitted to change her mind. She had always with pneumatic seats, and the oarlocks believed that some day the willful are buckled on the sides. When degirl would come to her senses and do flated they are reduced to the smallest FUREKA MEAT MARKET, the rational thing. Now that she was conceivable weight and compass, and in the humor, the consummation of a the process occupies only a few mo-

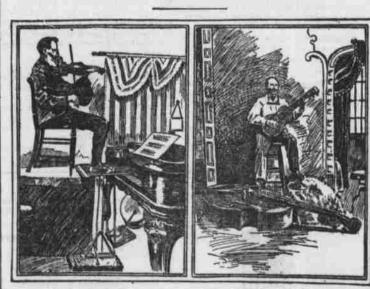

Experiments prove that these craft tells her that he wasn't delirious a bit will not founder in the heaviest seas. and that we plotted the whole thing, They are so buoyant when filled with she'll want to murder us both," the old air that they will float a weight of several hundred pounds, while the rubber of which they are constructed is and radiant, at the bedside of her hus- absolutely proof against puncture. This get up, when guests were announced. in boatbuilding for purposes of sport

Grewsome Violin. A violin owned by a resident in part of a human skull, over wulch is It was Trix; but whom had she stretched a piece of sheepskin acting can native. Some men's wealth is fabulous and

Some families keep a servant girl

A PAIR OF MUSICAL WONDERS.

J. A. Wilcox, of Durand, Mich., is known as the "Ope Man Orchestra." Plays first and second violin, plano, drum, harmonica, bells and triangle, all at the same time. When appearing in public he generally performs the following program: Overture, violia, plane and harmonica, 2. Light-foot planist-playing piano, harmonica, drum, triangle, tunes violin, rosins bow, all these at the same time. 8. Plays second violin with one hand and in five different positions, imitating dulcimer on violin and harmonica. 4 Full combination-two violins, plano, triangle, drum, harmonica and bells. Repertoire-Waltz, quadrilles, figs, polkas, quick-steps. Many special features the musical world never dreamed of. A novelty and a musical trest to all.

Charles C. Hosch performs simulta neously upon harmonics, guitar, base viol and bells. As will be seen in the picture, Mr. Hosch plays the bass instrument with his right foot. With left foot he plays two bells. The guitar and harmonica he plays with hands and mouth. Mr. Hech loves music and studied the four-instrument combination for his own amusement.

GEO. P. CROWEL

DEALER IN

Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, Hardware, Flour and Feed, etc.

This old-established house will con tinue to pay cash for all its goods; it pays no rent; it employs a clerk, but does not have to divide with a partner. All dividends are made with customers in the way of reasonable prices.

Lumber

Wood. Posts, Etc.

Davenport Bros. Lumber Co.

Have opened an office in Hood River. Call and get prices and leave orders, which will be promptly filled.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

See Nature in all her glorious beauty, and then the acms of man's handwork. The first is found along the line of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, the latter at the St. Louis Fair. Your trip will be one of pleasure—make the most of it. For information and illustrated literature.

W. C. McBRIDE, Gen. Agt., Portland, Oregon

L. C. HAYNES, PROP. The place to get an easy shave, an up-to-date

M. E. WELCH,

THE VETERINARY SURGEON. be found by calling at or phoning to Clarke's D. F. LAMAR, Proprietor.

McGUIRE BROS., Props. Dealers in Fresh and Cured Meats, Lard, Poultry, Fruits and Vegetables. PREE DELIVERY. PHONE 85

Portland, Or. ARRIVE Salt Lake, Denver, Ft. Worth, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and East. 4:80 p. m. Buntingto 10 :50 s. m. St. Paul Fast Mail. Atlantic Suntingto St. Paul Fast Mail 6:00 p. m. via Spokane Atlantic Express.

70 HOURS PORTLAND TO CHICAGO No Change of Cars. Lowest Rates. Quickest Time. OCEAN AND RIVER SCHEDULE FROM PORTLAND.

All sailing dates 5:00 p. m. For San Francisco-Sail every & days To Astoria and Way Landings. Salem, Indepen-dence, Corvallis and way landings

A. L. CRAIG, General Passenger Agent, Fortland, Or T. J. KINNAIRD, Agent, Hood River, Snake Elver.

Yambili River.

egon City, Dayton and way landings.