To put Hoyt's Patent Tree Supports on your fruit trees. The cut shows how they work. Don't wait until the trees are broken down or bent out of shape with heavy loads of fruit. Put them on now and save the trees. They are permanent and stay for years with a little adjustment of the wires. When you use these supports you have no props in the way of cultivators, and they are always there.

CORRESPONDENCE.

WHITE SALMON.

Steamboats have multiplied on the upper river recently. The other day four were visible at one time from the White Salmon dock—the Bailey Gatzert, Charles R. Spencer, Sadie B and Dallas City.

Allie Henderson and family will spend a part of the summer at Trout Lake. Fred Moore and wife will take charge of the Henderson place in their absence.

The Trout Lake stages have grown in size till they remind one of the "Tally-ho" so popular at California summer resorts. They're always full.

A. H. Bowman met with a painful accident a few days ago. A horse turned turtle with him, plunging him to the ground and inflicting some bad bruises.

Lumber is being placed on the ground for our new hotel—the "Washington." Mr. Lauterbach has secured S. C. Zeigler to superintend the construction. The site is an exceptionally fine one, in a grove of grand old oaks, west of the county road and south of the school property.

There has been some canny talk among fruit men. Talk won't build it, but it will come by and by.

Williams, the well known merchant at the Falls, died very suddenly Friday night. He had been to White Salmon on business during the day before and in his usual health. Returning home he was in his store conversing with friends during the evening. Later he retired, apparently feeling well as usual.

To the morning his wife found that, without a struggle, he had passed from the repose of sleep to the repose of death. The funeral services were held under the auspices of the Lodge of Odd Fellows of which fraternity he was a member. His family have the sympathy of the community.

There have been whisperings going the rounds that somehow, somewhere, at some place and time, a door will be opened in the little community. Now let's be frank. It may come, but it won't come except after a fight that will be a part of local history. It will be opposed to the last ditch. These words are not meant to be a prohibition. We believe in the right of every man to eat and drink whatever he may select for himself. No just law can ever invade his home and force moral ideas down his throat. It is the duty of every man to be a law unto himself, and to be a law unto his neighbor.

After a sultry day yesterday, when the maximum temperature was 91 degrees, the thunder storm, which had been predicted and reached us about 6 o'clock, was most welcome. About 10 of an inch of rain fell, clearing the dust, clearing the atmosphere and refreshing all sorts of vegetation. One man was heard to say that $20 pieces were falling in every drop. None fell our way, but no doubt we will receive them later in the subscriptions of our friends whose crops were benefited.—Chronicle.

Iron for the new bridge over the White Salmon has arrived. Also a large amount of pipe for Mr. Cameron's water supply.

Albert Hancock, who peddled off his face monkeying with powder, has recovered sufficiently to resemble a boy of the human species once more.

White Salmon needs a shoe-shop, a cannery, more water supply, more people of the kind who are willing to persevere, better roads and more fruit trees.

Winter has set in the lap of spring in this vicinity until people are beginning to remark about it. It's about time the old gentleman removed himself. It's ridiculous. Here we are in June and still he remains 'till we see somebody please lend us a pin?

There were shipped from White Salmon 52 crates of strawberries, Monday, via the White Collar line, and 27,000 pounds of freight were received on same date over our dock.

The Trout Lake stages of Weyer & Krepp carried 22 passengers from White Salmon on Saturday.

There will be a social at Trout Lake on Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. A fine program and a good time is guaranteed.

4,500 feet of pipe for R. D. Cameron was unloaded from the Dallas City one day this week.

Have you seen the "Sadie B"? She's a very comfortable little steamer. Brand new and has 28 opera chairs in her cabin. The ladies' cabin is finished handsomely in natural woods. She is one of the trimmest boats on the river.

William Coats returned from Seattle, Saturday, where he attended, as a delegate, the Grand Lodge of A. F. A. M. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Byrket accompanied him home from Hood River, where they will visit a few days.

The Guler hotel is overcrowded with guests from Portland and the Dalles. Twenty-two passengers came in on the stage Saturday, to that famous resort.

The United Artisans gave a social at the residence of M. F. Coats, Saturday evening. Strawberries and cream were served, and all had a good time.

We will celebrate the 4th, and all who wish may join us and have a jolly time in a good old fashioned way.

Mrs. Mulholland is up from Portland to spend the summer.

Thond Bros. of Ogden have their bowling alley almost completed. They will also run a confectionery and bath house in connection with same.

W. F. Stoddeman's son and daughter have severe cases of measles.

Fred Moore and wife are spending their honeymoon at Trout Lake.

OLINGER MADE CITY MARSHAL.

Marshal Fraley was discharged at Monday night's council meeting, and E. S. Olinger named as marshal instead.

Fraley's removal was based on neglect of duty. On Councilman Prather's motion that he be removed, roll call showed every councilman voting in the affirmative.

There was considerable discussion on the marshal. Mayor Blowers said he was anxious to see him removed at once though not for personal reasons, and because of this, but that he would rather have complaints come from members of the council. He said different citizens had come to him with complaints, but on his notifying the marshal, the latter said no further attention to the matters.

Mayor Blowers also objected to the marshal having tied up an Indian to an oak tree in the jail yard at the time of the encampment, because the red man refused to work. It was this incident that started the war of words between the mayor and the marshal.

Councilman Early said the council at the last meeting had instructed Marshal Fraley to hand in a written report at this meeting of all arrests he had made while in office. The report was not at hand nor was the marshal, and this of itself was considered sufficient cause for his removal.

Prather declared he had also had some words with the marshal, because he, Prather, had ordered Fraley to take a drunken woman off the walk in front of the jail.

Recorder Nickelson was instructed to notify Fraley of his dismissal and to notify him that a report of his work would be expected before the council would feel granting his salary.

When seen by a Glacier reporter Tuesday morning, Mr. Fraley did not yet learned of his removal, and seemed not at all disconcerted when told that the council had removed him from office. He put forth no excuses, and only said he thought the recorder was the proper one to supply the council with report of the arrests and disposal of them.

Three renewal of saloon licenses were granted at Monday night's council meeting, those of J. L. Morrison, C. E. Hayward, and S. P. Deane. The license of $500 each was renewed for the year, as well as for properly signed bonds of $1,000 each. Mr. Morrison had a petition of 171 voters, Mr. Hayward, 193 names and Mr. Deane, 191. There were no negative votes. Councilman Mayes refraining from voting.

A communication was read from J. F. Batchelder, manager of the Country Club Inn, saying he objected to the city authorities passing through his premises with patients to the hospital. The matter was left with the street committee to see after the road to the pest house.

Early for the special committee reported that he had received word from Holmes, representing Hopkins, the man who owns the sand bar below town through which the city wants a right of way for a sewer outlet, who says that Hopkins is willing to let the city buy the sewer outlet, but that he objects to the city putting through a street. Mr. Early said Hopkins was willing to have the necessary papers drawn up for the right of way. Early said he favored opening a street through the land, but if the majority of the council were in favor of merely a right of way he was willing to abide by their decision. The matter was left with the committee.

Four bills were then read by the recorder, one from C. T. Early, who advanced Marshal Fraley $3.50 to pay Flynn for cleaning a closet; another from the Light company for $5; one from Stuart's cafe for $13.30 for meals furnished prisoners; one from Graham $100.80, for hauling gravel.

The light bill was cut down to $1, as the finance committee declared part of it had already been paid, and that lights on the bridge had not been furnished regularly.

Stuart's bill was held over because Marshal Fraley was not there to say what had been done with the meals.

Graham's bill went over because he gave no account of where the gravel had been hauled, part of the stipulation in his contract with the city.

Street Commissioner Cunningham furnished a report of his work to date, showing him to have collected 185 polls, amounting to $558; in addition $109 had been supplied him by Commissioner Hubbard from the county. Of the $658 collected, $611 has been paid out for street improvements.

The council decided that there be no more gravel hauled without an order from the council.

Those present at Monday night's council meeting were: Mayor Blowers, Councilmen Bailey, Early, Mayes, Prather and Rand; Recorder Nickelson; Street Commissioner Cunningham.

LUMBER FIRMS FORM MERGER

The Mount Hood Lumber Co. has been absorbed by the Oregon Lumber Co. This was the result of a meeting of the directors and stockholders of the two companies held in Ogden, Wednesday last week.

"This means a union of the first and pine lumber interests," said Charles T. Early, manager of the company's mills in Hood River. "The Eastern Oregon mills supply the pine and the Western mills the fir. In supplying the Eastern markets, the new company will be better able than ever to meet the demands of the two kinds of lumber."

The reorganized Oregon Lumber Co. has a capital of $1,000,000, and is now one of the largest lumbering companies in the state. The Booth-Kelly Co. at Eugene is possibly the only larger one. Before the merger, the Mount Hood Lumber Co. had a paid up capital stock of $400,000.

The Oregon Lumber Co. has mills at Baker City, Sumpter, Hood River, Chenoweth and Ingles. Charles T. Early will remain manager of the company at Hood River.

Friday June 10, M. Willis on the State road shipped a crate of berries to a sister of Mrs. Willis, Miss Kate Kunkel, to Pekin, Ill., where they arrived in prime condition. Miss Kunkel in writing of them said: "They are the very finest of berries and when placed on the side of our berries it makes ours look like this."

A. P. Bateham came down from Mosier, Saturday afternoon, for his usual over Sunday visit in Hood River.

Miss Grace Campbell, a former Hood River girl, was up from Portland visiting with friends last week. She returned Monday.

Dr. W. F. Laraway has purchased the J. J. Turner house on West Oak street, formerly the home of S. H. Cox. Mr. Laraway expects to move in soon.

W. H. Eccles is home from Ogden, where he attended the stockholders' and directors' meeting of the Oregon Lumber Co., held in that city last Wednesday.
