ENCAMPMENT A GREAT SUCCESS (Continued from Page 4.)

H. Sutcliffe, assistant quartermastergeneral since 1898, resigned his office on account of poor health. By a resolution of the convention the offices of resistant quartermaster-general and assistant adjutant were consolidated, and J. E. Mayo, assistant adjutant-general, was appointed to fill both offices.

The committee on resolutions reported resolutions of condolerce on the death of Medical Director A. Yerington of Eugene. A resolution was passed recommending that the General Grant log cabin, now owned by C. F. Blancke of Missouri, and on exhibition at the St. Louis fair, be sent to Portland for the Lewis and Clark exposition. It is understood that the owner of the building is willing to have the cabin transferred to Portland. It was also recom-mended that the department secure the organization of a drum corps from the posts of the state. Following is the resolution thanking the people of Hood River for their kindness and entertainment:

The purpose of Rouse Paint is to Protect and Benutify.

"Linesed oil is the life of paint" because it is the binder, the muchage, that holds the pigments (the dry paint) to the surface; and only when the oil loses this binding quality through its distinguished by atmospheric infinhunes should the locarand dry pertices of pigment come off. The office of the pigment is decorative and also preservative in protenging the life of the oil by protecting it from the elements.

Absolute certainty of the purity of the lingeed oil constitutes the chief commy in paint buying, for to exactly the extent that the binding quality of the oil is weakened by the use of adultarants or cheep "thinners," the durability of the whole paint is diminished.

You have this absolute certainty of the quality of the oil in the Paint put on your house when you buy Kinloch Paint, because you buy the oil separately and give your paint this shedutely ortain durability by mixing this oil gallon for gallon with the thick "Kinloch" pasts in which, for your convenience and the certainty of proper proportions, all the pigments, inting colors, "turpe" and drysm are ground together and sold you, ready for the admixture of the pure raw oil by yourself.

These facts alone make "Kinloch" the ideal paint; but healds this guarantee of durability through your personal knowledge of the purity of the sid, is the fact that when you buy two gallons of the ordinary ready-mixed paint who "ready for the brush" sort-you pay the ready-mixed paint price for the ene gallon of oil therein, regardless of its purity, or 2 1/2 to 3 times more than for the fresh pure oil in your local dealer's barrel.
