Mrs. J. Kellher of Port Canby, Wash, and Mrs. J. N. Waldrip of Butte, Montana, visited last week with Mrs. Owens at Frankton. Both women were delighted with Hood River.

Dr. Thomas Condon, who visited for a week or more with the family of his son, Seymour W. Condon, at White Salmon, returned last week to his home at Eugene, accompanied by Mrs. Condon and her little daughter, Dorris.

W. R. Hardman, recently from Hood River, formerly of Lebanon, who has located here, has made the purchase of G. C. Carl's store building on the corner of First and Main streets. He expects either to rent it or occupy it himself with some business.—Newberg Graphic.

Speaking of the newly elected president of the Oregon Development league, The Dalles Times-Mountain says: "Mr. Smith is an enthusiastic citizen, heart and soul for Oregon, and as president of the league will not leave anything undone to result in the upbuilding of the state."

Miss Helen Williams, who has been visiting friends in the Rosebush neighborhood, left for her home in Hood River. While in Moro Miss Williams was the guest of Mesdames L. V. and E. H. Moore—Moro Observer.

Mr. C. W. Emerick writes to H. F. Davidson that the item in the Glacier two weeks ago brought her news of her lost son. Two people wrote her from Hood River, and the boy himself sent word to his mother that he was near. The boy was very thankful to hear of her boy.

Two of our townsmen, Chris T. Early, and C. A. Bell have accepted the invitation of Admiral H. C. Campbell, to serve on his staff, with rank of Lieutenant Commander at the 10th Annual Regatta, to be held at the Dalles, August 24, 25 and 26. The popular steamer "Baily Gatzert" will be used as a Flag Ship.

County Clerk Bolton has instituted a new system of notifying creditors of the county whenever a warrant has been drawn in their favor. A postal card is sent to the creditor on the day the warrant is drawn, notifying him and requesting that he call or send for the warrant.

The family of S. E. Bartness returned home Saturday from their two weeks' outing on Earl Bartness' homestead, near the falls of White Salmon, on a ranch during the days of the past two weeks, that melted so less fortunate ones who had to stay at home in the valley.

Joe Purser announces that he will give a free dance to married people at the Ashland Hotel on August 10, 11 and 12. The time of your life is promised. Joe has agreed to do the calling, which in itself assures a success.

The Ashland Tidings says the officers of the Ashland Fruit Association estimate the peach crop there will be three times as much as last year. The Ashland strawberry growers are congratulating themselves on the fact that they received a higher average price for strawberries this year than the Hood River growers.

R. B. Bragg is home from a trip to the Palouse country. Mr. Bragg says he found things in fine shape in that country. The farmers all expect a large crop, and there is a general feeling of prosperity in the country. Mr. Bragg is interested in a large mercantile establishment in the city of Pullman.

The Glacier is in receipt of a bulletin from the Oregon Agricultural experiment station describing the apple in Oregon. The bulletin is well illustrated and is the work of E. R. Lake, professor of horticulture at the college. The bulletins of the experiment station are sent free to all residents of Oregon who request them.

Dick Galligan went to Portland Friday afternoon, returning Saturday night with Mrs. Galligan and their little son, who has been undergoing treatment in the Portland sanitarium for a severe case of inflammatory rheumatism. The little fellow is now well enough to return home and his parents believe he is permanently cured.

The O. R. & N. improved the appearance of things at the depot last Friday by putting in some additional platform, and remodeling the old planks. If the company could stand the expense of 100 feet more platform the traveling public would feel grateful. As it is now, the passengers are compelled to get on and off all wet bound trains by plowing through a foot of either dust or mud.

Joe Wilson left for the Development League convention with an order for ice cream for the whole Hood River delegation, given him by the enterprising house of Tompkins & Jochimsen. When Joe got to Portland, so it is stated on good authority, he called up all the pretty girls he could find, and walking into Swetland's with his order remarked: "This is the Hood River delegation," and accepted the ice cream with the grace of a Chesterfield.

A Schiller had a bad run of luck this week. Friday he lost $15 in money, the first of the week he broke both axles of his wagon, and Tuesday he lost between 50 and 60 rods of wood by fire. He intends to go to the harvest fields next week to try and even up.

Mrs. E. D. Calkins and her sisters, Misses Emma and Jane Coates went to the coast Saturday to scrape an acquaintance with "old briny." They are having favorable weather, an enjoyable time and will remain several days.

J. E. RAND.

D. N. Byerlee, proprietor of the Okalade ranch in Frankton, comes forward with a record that beats them all. On a stem 14 inches long, Mr. Byerlee counted 37 Green Gage plums. Better yet, on a four-inch stem there were crowded 17 of the same. Who can go this one better?

Charles H. Sletten and family, recently from Crookston, Minn., are rusticating in Hood River, and visiting at the same time with relatives. Mrs. Sletten is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gleason of the East Side. Mr. Sletten represents the New York Life Insurance company. His district comprises the eastern part of the state of Oregon, and possibly he will locate permanently at Hood River.

Notice has been given that the Skamania county democratic primaries will be held on Wednesday, August 31, for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention. Underwood and Chenoweth precincts are each allotted three delegates. The six other precincts are given delegates as follows: Cape Horn 5; Skye 2; Cascades 4; Stevenson 7; Wind River 5; Wind Mountain 3.

Two weeks ago Irwin Parkins joined a party of Hood River boys, among whom was Clarence Gilbert, on a camping trip to a beautiful spot on the Lost Lake road 22 miles from Hood River. He returned last night, delighted with his outing. Camped near by was the family of A. M. Kelsey, and Saturday Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hostetter and family joined them. The name of the resort, "Camp Overalls," was hardly in keeping with its beauty; but at least signifies that all must have attended comfortably.—Chronicle.

Earl Sanders, formerly of The Dalles and well known in Hood River, telegraphed last Wednesday from his new home at Coeur d'Alene to his father, G. E. Sanders at The Dalles, "You are grandfather to a 10-pound boy." Other news in the telegram was that Earl had received the unanimous nomination of the democrats of that district for prosecuting attorney. Two years ago Earl ran far ahead of his ticket as a legislative nominee in Wasco county, where the republicans led two to one.

Murray Kay, who recently arrived with his wife and daughter, from Onama, where he did civil engineering work with the Chicago & Northwestern, has secured a lease of 30 acres of the A. A. Schonecker place on the East Side, near Hood River, to the west of the wagon road grade. Mr. Murray has put up a cottage, and expects to put in his time rusticating with a grub hoe and other land clearing devices. He will set the land to apple trees. Mr. Murray was unable to find water at a depth of 60 feet, and thinks he will have to put in a gasoline engine, and pump the water from Hood River.

Dave Cooper of Mount Hood is batching it these days, and Friday he took a run to The Dalles to drive away the loneliness. Dave was 60 years old last winter. From his ruddy looks one would not guess it, and there is no doubt he will be hale and hearty 40 years from now. Old Dave may pass away, but his name will be known as long as old Mount Hood remains to be a beautiful God's footstool. Dave came here when this mountain peak was a hole in the ground, and Coopers spur runs in its name from this rugged son of the land of Bonny Doon.

The letters "is" are to be found at the beginning of acknowledgments and other legal documents, but not one in a dozen can tell you what that calistonic "is" is for, remarks the learned editor of the Primeville Review. The abbreviation is a contraction of the Latin word "scilicet" which is also a contraction, having originally been written as "scilicet" neither of which, you will note, has more than one "e." The word entire or in its abbreviated state is equivalent to the old English "to wit," still widely used, the design of both being simply to call attention to what follows.

Rose Hill school will begin next Monday, August 15; Miss Lizzie Elder, teacher. The school house has received new single desks and a bell has been placed that will hereafter call the pupils to their studies.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Boorman returned Tuesday from a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Ward Tompkins, at Glenwood, Wash. They report everything lovely in that country, and that the saw mill Mr. Tompkins is interested in, at that place is doing a fine business, and getting out lumber of a very fine quality. Scott says it is a great place for fishing and duck hunting. He went out one day and caught 40 catfish. What will puzzle the majority of us is how so many catfish could get away there past the numerous falls of the Klickitat. Must have been towed up by the trout. Effie Boorman, who accompanied her parents, will remain at Glenwood until time for school to begin in September.

Dorrance Smith and Harry Hansberry, who are in charge of the steamer Maja employed by the Menominee Lumber Co. in towing logs to the mill from the mouth of White Salmon, layed over at Hood River during the heavy wind storm Tuesday morning. Mr. Smith says the Menominee Lumber company have between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 feet of logs in the White Salmon river. About 1,000,000 feet of the logs are in a boom at the mill, three miles below town, and the mill is cutting about 50,000 feet a day.

Mrs. Corey and daughter, Miss Sarah, of San Jose, Cal., were guests of Miss Teal at Pinehurst a few days last week. They were returning from a trip to the St. Louis exposition and came via Portland in order to take a run up to see their sometime friend Miss Teal. Both of the ladies expressed much delight with Hood River and thought it a very restful place. They were sorry not to be able to make a longer stay, but were obliged to leave after only three days.

George W. Thompson is home from a two weeks' trip to the mountains. Life among the tall uncut (with apologies to Geo. L. Slocum) was very enjoyable, but the return to the warmer climate of the lower valley was too much for Mr. Thompson and it required several days for recuperation. Mr. Thompson reports business very good for the summer months, better even than he expected. With a short-handed force the Paris Fair people are kept pretty busy.

Mrs. Blanche, Hester and Ruthie Harbison returned last Saturday from visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Harbison of Tangent, Oregon, stopping both going and coming to visit at University Park with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. V. Rand. They also brought home with them their grandmother, Mrs. M. L. Harbison, who has been staying with her son at Tangent since last fall.

Contractor Soule obtained the contract for raising and improving the Pine Grove school house at $2,200. The building is now elevated to the full height needed for a lower story and the work, which is going on rapidly, will no doubt be completed in time for the term of school beginning September 19.

C. L. Copple is again laid up with weak and inflamed eyes. His condition is such that he was compelled to give up business in town and has disposed of his office fixtures and real estate business to the new firm of Staten & Sanborn.

Virgil Johnson of Clarendon N. H., who had been visiting his mother, Mrs. W. H. Johnson at Eugene, spent last Friday in Hood River with his grandfather, Dr. W. L. Adams. Mr. Johnson is pastor of the First Baptist church at Clarendon.

Elmer McCray of Portland spent his vacation at Hood River, and returned home the first of the week. Last week, he, in company with Bert Stranahan, went to Trout Lake. He reports 150 people in camp along the stream about this favorite resort.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Tompkins and their little daughter, Ruth, came down from Glenwood with W. S. Boorman, Tuesday, for a visit with old friends here.

Clarence Gilbert and party are home from an outing at Lost Lake. While there the boys went over the ridge to Chetwood lake, a distance of four miles, but which Clarence says must have been ten miles. The boys had a good time and some fine fishing. Swimming in the warm waters of the lake was an enjoyment of the trip. Returning the party spent some time at Maple Dell, where a large party are camped. The boys secured no game. A solitary grouse showed up, and the boys took seven revolver shots at the bird, while it sat there calm as could be. The party returned on foot, but next time they walk it will be on horseback.

P. D. Heinrichs, in reporting to the Cop Bulletin for the week ending Tuesday, August 9, says of the condition at Hood River: Very warm; good weather for curing hay; vegetable gardens and orchards doing well; fruit of all kinds plentiful and of good quality; Gravenstein and other early apples are now ripe enough to be marketed.

E. M. Holman has opened up a general repair shop on Hood River Heights in the building formerly occupied by W. R. Hardman. Mr. Holman is hard at work repairing shoes, harness, bicycles etc. He was satisfied that Hood River was all right after making a tour of Eastern Washington, and has settled down here to stay.

The Rural Spirit for August 5 contains a special right up to the Clackamas county farming lands. Here and there throughout the descriptive matter may be traced the work of Captain J. P. Shaw, whose real estate ad occupies a conspicuous place on the cover of the publication. The edition is well illustrated.

Mrs. E. W. Jones and Mrs. M. J. Myers of Portland are the guests of Mrs. H. L. Dumble. Mrs. Ella Lee of San Francisco visited over Sunday with the party.
