

Hood River Glacier

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1904.

The monster wheat crop of Eastern Oregon, with big prices assured, will make the whole state rejoice.

Rave all you please against the frightful lynchings of the negroes in the South, but stop a moment and consider how you would act were the victims of these inhuman brutes your own mother, sister or wife!

The board of directors of the Hood River Apple Growers' union believe there is much in a name. They recently turned down an offer of $2.25 for their apples because the buyer was to put on a label of his own. This is carrying consistency beyond the dollar mark.

The business men of Hood River demand fire protection. The recent fire has brought us face to face with the danger of having the city wiped out at any time. It is not possible at this time for the city to put in a water system of its own, owing to the limitations of the city charter, yet arrangements can be made for temporary fire protection at least. The water company now furnishing water for domestic purposes will present a proposition at the next meeting of the council, it is understood, for fire protection. The proposition should be accepted if at all reasonable. If not, then something else should be done. Water can be secured either from Joseph Wilson's reservoir or C. R. Bone's irrigation ditch. In any event, steps ought to be taken at once to avert permanent or temporary fire.

The Chicago Fruit and Produce News expresses the apple situation in the East as follows:

There is but one way to look at the present apple situation and that is just as it is. New York State alone can supply the entire country with apples when she has a good crop, and there is every reason to believe the crop will equal that of 1903.

REV. HERSHNER HAS RESIGNED

Rev. J. L. Hershner, for 10 years pastor of the Riverside Congregational church of this city, has tendered his resignation to the board of trustees, and last Sunday morning preached his farewell sermon.

During his 10 years' residence in Hood River, Mr. Hershner has always been well liked by the people of the community, whether or not they were members of his congregation, and there have been many expressions of regret at the resignation of the pastor.

When Mr. Hershner came here, in September, 1894, there were then 17 resident members of the Congregational church of this city. But three of these 17 persons are now members of the Hood River church. They are Captain and Mrs. J. H. Dukes and George P. Crowell.

The total collections to the church during Mr. Hershner's pastorate here have been 145, of which number $1 were received within the last year. Mr. Hershner says he has, during the 10 years he has been here, officiated at 77 marriages and has conducted 88 funerals.

During this time, the congregation of his church erected a parsonage at a cost of $1100, paid off a church debt of $425, and made improvements to the church property amounting in all to $1000.

The church bell was purchased at a cost of $150. A furnace was put in costing $125. Church and parsonage were repainted and redecorated at a cost of $250.

During the past year Mr. Hershner organized a church at Pine Grove of 22 members.

Rev. J. L. Hershner has received a call to the Douglas Island Congregational church at a salary of $1200 per annum. This is the third time Mr. Hershner has been called to Congregational churches in Alaska—twice to Douglas Island and once to Nome. Mr. Hershner has also received a call to Bethel Congregational church at White Salmon. Superintendent C. F. Clapp has offered him any vacancy in any Congregational church in the state. But Mr. Hershner has declined all these calls and invitations.

The pretty editor of the Chronicle at Hood River, Or., Aug. 30.—Editorial: The statement in a recent issue of the Oregonian that the resignation of Rev. Mr. Hershner was due to difference of religious views between pastor and people is an error. So far as we know the doctrines of the preacher are acceptable to his people. After ten years service he felt that a change might be beneficial. It is uncertain, however, whether the resignation will be accepted.

The Dalles Winses Again. The pretty editor of the Chronicle at The Dalles, that city where the inhabitants haven't seen a head carrier at work for these many years, becomes very angry because of the lack of news in her own town, and pencils the following:

This is unquestionably evidence of "good times in Hood River," and of an unexampled season of prosperity—update prosperity—when a contractor pencils an advertisement for two hood-carriers. Advertising in the Glacier would be too slow for this energetic contractor; forthwith, he must use his lead pencil, and then the scaffolding is such a public place to make his want known. The bulletin board in front of the employment agency's office would never attract attention. No, it must be tacked up high on the scaffolding. Whew! why evidence of progress, advancement, growth and development "during a presidential election." Publish it in the streets of Chicago, where thousands of men are on a strike; say, send it by cable to the starving boards of Europe, that the town of Hood River wants two hood-carriers! Gwethlilken! it is only in the golden west, where fortunes are made in a day, and "every prospect pleases" that such evidences of the tidal-wave of growth and development are noticed! Funny, isn't it, what antics people commit in a fit of jealousy?

PUPILS TO ENROLL MONDAY MORNING

At the suggestion of Principal Wiley, the pupils of the Hood River public schools will meet in their respective rooms at 9 o'clock Monday morning, so the teachers may enroll them and assign them to their proper grades. Monday is labor day, and it was first announced that the opening day was to be postponed until Tuesday, but under the new arrangement Mr. Baker says the school work can be got well under way by completing the preliminary arrangements on Monday.

There will be no recitation Monday, but the pupils will be expected to attend the opening session in the morning, and be prepared for work Tuesday morning.

The teachers for the coming term are: Professor L. A. Wiley of Jefferson, principal; Professor C. Crouse of Albany, assistant. The other teachers have not yet been assigned, but are elected are: Miss Benson, Miss Groves, Miss Cora Copple, Miss Carrie Copple, Miss Helen M. Dietz, Mrs. Margaret Reid, Miss Mary E. Mathews.

Reports from the country districts have been received as follows: Frankton.—Will begin Monday, September 5, with the following corps of teachers: George W. Brown, principal; Miss Anna Shea, intermediate; Miss Stella Brown, primary. Miss Carrie Byerlee will have charge of the school at the west end of the district, the Columbia school at Menominee.

Dukes Valley.—George Massey has been secured as teacher for the coming term of school, beginning Monday, September 5. They have a neat, new building erected and furnished last year, and the pupils of that little valley will have a comfortable school home for the winter.

Rose Hill.—School is now in session, with Miss Lizzie Elder, teacher. Miss Elder will be granted a vacation during Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week to attend the county institute at The Dalles.

Odell.—The teachers employed in the Odell school for the coming year are Professor V. V. Willis, principal, at $70 per month; Miss Blanche Wilson in the primary department at $60 per month. Mount Hood.—This is known as district No. 6. A new school house has been erected, 20x42 feet in extent, with 12-foot ceiling. The room has been fitted with new furniture, supplied by agent Gilbert. The blackboard is 4x24 feet. A five-month school will begin Monday, September 5, with Miss Nau Cooper, principal, and Miss Daisy Thomas, assistant. Both young women are residents of Mount Hood. W. S. Grubb is clerk of the district.

Crappier, District No. 61.—Miss Maud Strahan has been secured as teacher for the term beginning Monday, September 12. The district during the summer vacation built an addition 10x22 to the school house, which will be used as a cloak room. The whole building has been repainted inside and out with two coats of paint at a cost of $370. The Crappier district is out of debt and has money in the bank. J. T. Miller is clerk of the school board.

Many Hood River Teachers There.

The Wasco county teachers' institute opened at The Dalles Tuesday morning with Superintendent Nell in charge. A successful session is reported in progress. The following teachers registered the first day from Hood River:

Principal C. D. Thompson, Pearl I. Eby, Carrie A. Byerlee, Audrey Markley, Lona B. Sotara, Edith Moore, Maud Masiker, Ella Evans, Ethel Robards, Amy L. Gore, George A. Massey, Maud Goble, Blanche R. Wilson, Ashley B. Cash, Stella Brown, Ola Norman, Anna Shea, Mabel Riddell, Lizzie Elder.

Miss Nau Cooper and Daisy Thomas from Mount Hood are also in attendance. From Mosier are Victoria McVey and Anna C. Godson. F. H. Isenberg is there from Cascade Locks.

Will Attend Meeting At Baker City. E. L. Smith, president of the Oregon Development league left Wednesday afternoon for Portland, where he has been invited to assist in the reception of Secretary Shaw who arrived in that city yesterday.

Mr. Smith will then join a party of Portlanders, including General Passenger Agent Craig of the O. R. & N., R. M. Hall, advertising agent for the same company, and other officials for the county, and other prominent citizens of Portland interested in the Development league meeting at Baker City the latter part of this week.

Mr. Smith says most interest is taken in the Baker City meeting, particularly by the people of Southeastern Oregon.

The town of Bickleton, in Klickitat county, talks of putting in a flour mill. The "O. K." barber shop has moved to new quarters between J. E. Rand and E. C. Wright.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, pastor of the Congregational church at Albany, is in Hood River, a guest at Eggermont.

As a rule Wasco county wheat raisers are being aggrieved surprised with the outlook of the harvest. Most of them are threshing from one to five bushels more to the acre than they had expected. In a good many instances they have had to buy more sacks than they ordered prior to harvest.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co., and Attorney E. H. Hartwig will remove their office from Oak street to the east side of Second street, between Oak and River streets, near the corner. In the small building formerly occupied by Cobb Bros., for temporary occupancy until their new quarters are in readiness.

Following are the requirements for teacher's certificates: To secure a first grade certificate applicants are required to secure a general average of 90 per cent and not to fall below 70 in any one study, and to have had at least 12 months' experience as a teacher, except in cases of graduates of normal schools. Second grade requirements are a general average of 80 and not lower than 70 in any one branch, and at least three months' experience as teacher. For third grade certificates applicants are required to make a general average of 75 per cent and not fall below 60 per cent in any one study.

At the Churches. Notice.—All the members of the Congregational church are requested to attend the morning service next Sunday, Sept. 4, at 11 a. m., as action will be taken upon the resignation of the pastor of the church, Rev. J. L. Hershner.

Lutheran.—Services will be held again next Sunday, Sept. 4, at the church near the Columbia nursery and K. of P. cemetery. Sunday school at 2 p. m. German preaching at 3. H. J. Kolb, pastor.

Unitarian Church.—Corner State street and Park avenue. W. G. Eliot

TURN DOWN OFFER OF $2.25 A BOX

The board of directors of the Hood River Apple Growers' union last week refused an offer of $2.25 a box for their crop of Spitzenburg apples. In a statement to a Glacier reporter, Mr. Mason, president of the union, said it was the conditions under which the sale was to be made that the board was forced to reject this bid.

It was later learned that the offer to buy the fruit came from Mr. Van Horn of the Hood River Fruit Co., and that the fruit was to be shipped under the label of the Davidson Fruit Co. of this city. It was this latter condition, so it is reliably reported, which caused this offer to be turned down.

NEW PASSENGER AND FREIGHT DEPOT FOR HOOD RIVER

North View of the Proposed New Passenger Depot for Hood River.

The contractor for the grading, with a crew of men, arrived Sunday night and have established a blacksmith shop and camp to the west of where excavating is being done for the flooring mill. Engineer Newell arrived Monday and did some surveying.

Superintendent M. J. Buckley states that the contracts for the buildings have been let and the work is to be completed within the next 60 days. A crew of 25 men is expected to arrive any day.

The improvements are to include new side tracks. It is understood that the railroad company will set the grade stakes for a continuation of Railroad street westward to the site of the proposed freight depot. The Hood River Development Co., so Joe Wilson informs the Glacier, has donated a street just west of the flour mill, and one 400 feet to the west of that. These streets make possible an easy access to the side tracks. At the south side of the railroad right of way, there is to be an industrial track. The main track will be moved further north, and between this and the industrial siding there will be placed a team track, with a 31-foot roadway between the two. The industrial track will extend from the mill east along by the fruit warehouses.

The team track, so an official of the company says, will have room for 17 cars, and the industrial track about the same. The announcement of these improvements has long been awaited, and it comes as a glad piece of news to the people of Hood River, who have patiently put up with many inconveniences.
