

To the People of Hood River:

The fire of Sunday last, destroying one of the solid business establishments of the town, has caused me to realize how utterly helpless my situation would be in the event of a fire; therefore I have decided to proceed without delay to Slaughter My Entire Stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, until further notice.

The stock must be reduced, as with my immense stock constantly arriving, my situation is one of the utmost financial peril, and the situation as it stands affords the greatest buying opportunity in the history of retailing for the people of Hood River. We mean business, and positively will not cease our efforts until some action is taken to relieve the helpless condition of the business people in case of fire.

Fast and Furious Movement is what we want, and the prices will mean dollars to you.

As further evidence of our good faith, we quote the following prices:

Born.

In Hood River, Monday, August 29, 1904, to Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Jenkins, a daughter.

Ball Game Sunday.

Single men and married men play ball at Columbia Park, Sunday. Ladies free. Good game and lots of fun.

Geo. D. Culbertson & Co. sold last Friday, for Senator Wheelon of The Dalles, his 42-acre place near Mosier to Charles D. MacGowan, formerly of Hood River but now resident of Goldendale. Mr. MacGowan will build a new dwelling on the land at once and otherwise improve the property for the purpose of making it his home.

Al Whitehead received word Tuesday that his mother was not expected to live. He left that evening with his daughter, Marie Whitmore, for the home of his mother at Canton, Ill.

G. W. Smith has the thanks of the citizens for having donated some of the finest samples of fruit received at this office this season. They included Gravenstein and wealthy apples, Green Gage and Bradshaw plums and Early Crawford peaches. The peaches were especially fine. Mr. Smith says, "I should have told him that the shot land he bought was no good and he felt that he had been bilked; but after seeing such fruit as he brought in to the Glacier office, he says the shot land is good enough for him. His worst trouble, he says, is the thieves which steal his peaches as fast as they get ripe."

Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Shaw of Mount Hood were in the city, Monday. Dr. Shaw says the farmers in the Mount Hood settlement are about through with their summer work. The second cutting of clover came in for a wetting with the rain Saturday night, but as the hay was recently cut, and the sun came out immediately, there was very little damage done. Dr. Shaw says he got his last load of hay into the barn as the showers began. Dr. and Mrs. Shaw expect to return to the city in about two weeks, and will spend the winter in their residence on State street.

Married.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Chapman, Sunday, August 29, at 5 p. m., when their daughter Mabel was married to W. Rosecoe Sherwood of Kahoka, Mo., Elder N. T. Chapman officiating. The bride was dressed in white silk and the groom in conventional black. After the ceremony a bounteous repast was served. Many friends and relatives were present. The bride and groom left Monday evening for their home at Goldendale, Wash., where Mr. Sherwood is foreman in the steam laundry.

The report was current in Hood River Sunday that Underwood Bros. had suffered the destruction of their residence and farm buildings by forest fires, but when Amos came over Monday morning his friends on this side of the river were glad to learn that the report was untrue. Mr. Underwood watched the fire Sunday evening of the Davidson Fruit Co., and says it was a big sight from the bluffs on his side of the river.

Notice.
All those indebted to J. T. Holman will please call and settle at once.

L. C. Haynes, the barber, accompanied by his brothers, Frank and Ed, from Portland, returned Friday after a trip to their ranch in the Underwood country. Mr. Haynes reports good fishing on Buck creek, and returned with some fine trout, some of them weighing a pound or more.

There will be a lawn social at the home of George T. Prather, Friday evening, September 2, for the benefit of the Tabernacle. The program will consist of a short musical program will be rendered during the evening. Ice cream, cake, and lemonade will be served. All are cordially invited.

Miss Mande and Nevada Wheeler went by boat to Portland Saturday. They will take in the approaching circuit and visit friends. Miss Nevada will then return home but Mande will go to the hop-fields and rusticate with Mrs. Higgins while she assists in gathering in the crop of the backbone of the lager-beer business.

F. R. Absten and his son, Caesar, took to the woods the other day and presumably are "chasin' b'ar." We will all line up for a feed on b'ar steak, venison, porky-pine, or just plain venison. We're not at all particular, Mr. Absten, but like the boy after the woodchuck, it's meat, we're wantin'.

Rev. Frank Spaulding of Oakesdale, Klhickit county, was in Hood River last week, visiting with his friends who have been spending the summer at their homestead in the Mount Hood settlement. Mr. Spaulding said that while the conference had not decided yet, he expected to be returned to his charge at his new home.

E. C. Miller of Mount Hood has moved his family into Mrs. Oiler's house in Hood River so that his children can attend school and so that he will not have to make such a long ride before he gets fast to get to his work on cold winter mornings. Ed is still inspecting ties for the D. & R. G. at the Oregon Lumber Company's different mills.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank of Hood River, E. L. Smith of this city was made a member of the board of directors. E. O. Blanchard, the cashier, tells the Glacier that he finds business very encouraging. He expects to be located in the Oak and Third streets, by the latter part of October.

Charles Mac Gowan, the painter, returned last week from Goldendale, and different parts of Klhickit county, where he says he made money enough to re-locate his brick company in Hood River, 40 acres of N. Wheelon at Mosier. While he expects to farm, those who desire a job of good painting will find him ready for business by calling on him at his new home.

A sneak thief went into T. A. Williams' cellar, under the bakery, last Tuesday evening and carried off two sacks of flour. He rammaged around in some household effects, but failed to find some silverware that was packed away. In his hurry he dropped a sack of flour of smoking tobacco, and now Mr. Williams is looking for the owner of the tobacco.

Mrs. Sophia Gerdes of Brooklyn, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Gertrude, returned from a visit to the city, Monday morning. Mr. Rogers, who has been in the city since 1820. He is survived by his wife, who has reached the age of 81. He has several daughters living and two sons, C. L. Rogers of Hood River, and F. S. Rogers of Astoria, Idaho.

Joe Wilson was in Portland Saturday, returning Sunday noon with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kimports of Grant, Pa., and James H. Mead of Reamy, Pa. Mr. Wilson took the visitors for a drive through the valley and showed them some of the famous orchards of the East Side. They expressed themselves as delighted with the prospects of the valley. Mr. Kimports is father-in-law to Mr. Wilson, and is now in the city of San Francisco, to attend the convocation of the Knight Templars.

C. W. Coyle, representing the Farm and Irrigation Age of San Francisco, spent Monday in Hood River. Mr. Coyle secured several subscriptions to his paper, and has promised a mention of this city in the Irrigation Age. He expects to return at a later date to arrange for a more extended account of results obtained by irrigation in Hood River valley. Mr. Coyle, after a climb to the top of the hill above the city said the scene spread before him reminded him very much of the Yosemite valley in California.

G. W. Smith has the thanks of the citizens for having donated some of the finest samples of fruit received at this office this season. They included Gravenstein and wealthy apples, Green Gage and Bradshaw plums and Early Crawford peaches. The peaches were especially fine. Mr. Smith says, "I should have told him that the shot land he bought was no good and he felt that he had been bilked; but after seeing such fruit as he brought in to the Glacier office, he says the shot land is good enough for him. His worst trouble, he says, is the thieves which steal his peaches as fast as they get ripe."

Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Shaw of Mount Hood were in the city, Monday. Dr. Shaw says the farmers in the Mount Hood settlement are about through with their summer work. The second cutting of clover came in for a wetting with the rain Saturday night, but as the hay was recently cut, and the sun came out immediately, there was very little damage done. Dr. Shaw says he got his last load of hay into the barn as the showers began. Dr. and Mrs. Shaw expect to return to the city in about two weeks, and will spend the winter in their residence on State street.
