

CORRESPONDENCE.

ODELL.

Inasmuch as there has been some talk about changing the boundary line between Odell and Pine Grove school districts, I beg to herewith quote from section 25 of the Oregon school laws enacted in 1891, to wit:

"The district boundary board may establish new districts on the petition of three legal voters of said proposed new district, and may change or divide the districts of its county when petitioned to do so by a majority of the legal voters of the districts concerned in the change."

Miss Mabel Crockett returned last week from an extended visit with friends in Portland.

Mr. Poole of The Dalles is again visiting friends at Odell. Rumor has it that Mr. Poole will locate here.

Professor Thompson of Barrett spent Saturday at his Willow flat ranch. Mr. Thompson has an abiding faith in Hood River valley, and he proves his faith by backing it up with money. In the vicinity of his Willow flat property there has been spent more money in developing the land than in any other section of the valley.

About three years ago the Davidson Fruit Co. began there and today their work is telling. Their peach orchard set out two years ago last spring is an object lesson on what that section will do. The apple orchard and berries planted last spring are additional evidences of their faith.

The smooth, well tilled ground, the fine growth of the trees and berries round up a charming picture abutting upon one of the dustiest, cut up roads in the county. This ranch rivals the work of an English gardener, and is well worth the trip to have a look at it. Frank Massee's house just across the road has recently taken on a coat of white paint with trimmings of green.

The inspiration for the above paragraph was gotten last Saturday morning while hunting a pair of mules that jingle the bells of the Little White store wood wagon.

Ye editor passed through Odell last Saturday morning before seven o'clock on his way to Mount Hood.

Ed Jochimsen last week purchased several head of best cattle from Mr. Hillstrom. Ed is the cowboy of Odell and knows a good thing when he sees it.

Potatoes are now vacating the ground to give place to the fall seeding of grain.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Young went again last Friday to the Portland sanitarium with their daughter, Sadie, who is still lingering under the influence of an illness that seems to baffle the skill of the best physicians in the country.

The Roosevelt club of Hood River must have passed into history. Months ago the Glacier gave an account of the organization of such a club, since which time we have heard nothing of it. We think it about time to line up and show the people of Oregon that we are on the map. We can raise peaches, apples, strawberries and hay. Why not harvest a small crop of politics?

We are glad to note the improvements being made by the river transportation companies. The O. R. & N. people had best improve the passing days by increasing their facilities, or they will lose a lot of business soon.

The Little White store has registration blanks for the benefit of those who failed to register for the June election.

We saw Sherman Young last Saturday. He is looking well and is as jolly as ever. He says he knows a good thing and that is why he returned to Hood River.

Messrs. Black & Runcorn are putting up their last crop of clover. The click of the mower is heard in Hood River valley from May until October.

While forest fires are raging in the Willamette valley, and the fields are burned brown by the long dry summer Hood River valley is dotted with green fields that are profitable to the owners, and furnish a peerless picture to the stranger within our gates.

The Tucker hill last week was in such a perilous condition for heavy loads that we were compelled to stop our wood wagon and fix it. Where are those liberal volunteer road workers that were in evidence last winter? The fact is it looks very much like we would have to be pensioners next winter and travel the road of a more progressive community in order to get to town. Pine Grove occupies a front seat.

Jake Lenx informs me that from 5 acres he cut 32 tons of hay. His land is under the Bone ditch. First moral—Buy water. Second moral—Please furnish water.

Rear hunters are training up and soon the annual stalk will be made. Odell Brothers will head the gang with all sorts of tenderfoot hunters bringing up the rear. The fur will fly and probably blood will flow. The Glacier should secure the services of a quill driver. Why not send the "devil" along, for amid the glare of the camp fire many bear will be slaughtered.

Rory Collins, who has a good position in Los Angeles, Cal., is here on a brief visit with his father and his brother.

Gilbert Edgington, who has a homestead on the hill west of Duke's valley, is teaching the Hillstrom school. He spent the summer in the harvest fields of eastern Oregon.

Mr. Kessel returned last week from Gilliam county, where he had been working for eight weeks. He tells a wonderful tale of farming there. The party he worked for is the owner of two combines with 36 horses on each of them, and including grain and water wagons, was working over 100 head of horses and hauled water for all of them. That seems like farming under difficulties, but the farmer holds a winning hand.

Charles M. Busey returned last Saturday, having spent the week in Portland.

F. P. Friday and family were seen in Odell Sunday. They will move into their new home next week.

L. A. E. Clark, who came here last spring from Kansas, is doing some missionary work for Hood River. Having mailed out literature about the Lewis & Clark exposition, he is already receiving letters of inquiry about our valley. He expects quite a lot of his old friends out here next summer.

Chris Dethman was over here last week looking over the apple situation. Chris is a successful rancher and a friend of the red apple.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Has world-wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Blisters, Scalds, Felons, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Chapped Hands, Skin Eruptions; infallible for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at Chas. N. Clarke's drugstore.

BELMONT.

Mrs. J. B. King and Mrs. J. C. Nealeigh went to the mountains to pick huckleberries Friday.

Miss Clara Nickelson, who has been visiting relatives in Belmont, returned to her home in The Dalles Saturday.

The Frankton school will give a basket social on Friday evening, September 30. Everybody come and hear our program and have a good time. The proceeds of the same will be used for purchasing a flag and more books for the library.

Rev. H. C. Clarke and wife arrived from Pineville this week, making their trip overland. Mr. Clarke will preach his first sermon in Belmont next Sunday.

C. Tyler and family, B. Jones and family and A. Boorman and family have returned from the Willamette hop fields.

While returning home from work last Wednesday evening George Lesterly was thrown from his wagon and severely hurt. He is getting along nicely and will soon be at his work again.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Belmont M. E. church will give a chicken supper on the evening of Wednesday, September 28, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Nickelson. Price of supper 25 cents. Everybody is invited to come.

BARRETT.

L. Jones, who has been visiting with his sister and mother at Camp Look-out, has returned to Walla Walla. Mr. Jones thinks he will settle down to live at Hood River. We say come along, Lou. Always room for a good citizen.

Miss Jones has just returned from the hop fields, looking bright and cheerful and somewhat a little sunburned.

A man was accosted on our street the other day: "Say, Mr. C., where did you get your keg of box nails from?" "Why, Rockford store, and say, let me tell you something. I got them for $5.50 per keg. Don't that beat the dickens?"

J. Gibbons is putting up a very substantial packing house. Another addition to Barrett. Well, go ahead. Nothing like improvement, Mr. Gibbons.

W. Nichols has got the stone foundation laid for his new house. Will say he will have a good house—one that will be warm in winter and cool in summer.

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. Goss became entangled in the barb wire fence, and was cut very bad, one of the arteries being severed. We hope the horse will come out all right.

Mrs. Fred Howe and sister with their families, spent Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Ingalls.

Mrs. Camp and son Charley, arrived home on Friday from the hop fields. We missed Charley on our streets because of his cheerfulness and smiles and pleasant words to all.

MOUNT HOOD.

C. L. Henson returned from the harvest fields last week.

Forest fires are raging everywhere here, but there is little damage being done.

J. R. Reese and R. Goburn chased a bear all over cougarland, last Tuesday, but Bruin was too cute for them and got away.

Last Thursday R. Leasure lost a cow. She ate some dynamite and three caps at noon, and at night he found her dead, but he doesn't think there was any explosion, but that the caps did the work. They were wrapped in a paper and she must have swallowed them, paper and all.

Warren Cooper came down from the lake last Saturday. He reports two fires burning, one in dead timber on the West Fork and on the Middle Fork, also in dead timber. They are not doing much damage.

We can't see anything in our statement about those deer being wrong, as Mr. Cooper makes the statement more forcible by giving the number of points on each pair of horns, which is the only difference we can see. We only quoted hearsay, while the other fellow quoted points. We will keep still next week.

If the dry weather keeps up much longer there will be more sickness here than usual for this time of year.

This is fine weather for clearing the logs off of your land. Everything is dry as tinder and burns good.

C. P. Johansen of The Dalles was a visitor here last week, returning home Sunday.

The Mount Hood Water Supply Co. are making arrangements to re-incorporate this fall and enlarge their stock. They propose to supply all the water needed.

UPPER MOUNT HOOD.

W. L. Huckabay and J. Hess began grubbing on London & Powers' place last week, of whom they have taken a contract to clear 11 acres at $15 per acre. Let the good work go on.

J. R. Ries is building a barn on his ranch this week, 24x28. Jim is showing the people of Mount Hood that he can do more than barber.

The school house on China hill is now completed, and school will begin Monday of this week. Miss Evans is the teacher.

R. B. Morton moved into Dr. Shaw's house last week.

C. L. Weygandt, H. J. Groff, L. Owens and D. Shover began grubbing on Mr. Ruff's ranch last week.

Mrs. M. C. Huckabay has just finished building a house, 16x24.

The people of Mount Hood have all their second crop of hay cured and in the dry. They are now waiting for the rain to come.

We haven't heard of anyone being in cogardness of late, but expect to hear of somebody getting into bedlam before long as the bears are getting very plentiful. All whom are inclined to ride their cows to pasture better look a little out.

There is Sunday school at the U. B. church of Mount Hood every Sunday at 10:30. Everybody is invited to attend.

TROUT LAKE.

Fire and smoke and everyone wishing for rain. The mountains near the huckleberry patch and race track are all on fire. The sheep men and Indians are disputing over the range, and the Indians try to burn the sheep-men out. The fire at present is over 20 miles square.

N. S. McCray has just completed a neat dwelling on his place near Guler. William Kingman and Mr. Roof were the carpenters.

Judge Miller came up from Vancouver to institute the Masonic lodge Wednesday evening. There was a large crowd in attendance from Goldendale. After the work was completed the party, 40 in number, went to Guler hotel, where a splendid lunch was served.

Claus Pearson has rented his farm to D. E. Witt for five years, and will make his home at his brother's, C. A. Pearson, until he finds some one to keep house for him.

The Artisan's met at A. J. Johnson's Saturday evening. An oyster supper was served and everyone reported a good time.

Miss Frances Williams of Husum spent the past week visiting at R. A. Byrket's.

CASCADE LOCKS.

Our town is still alive as ever. Our merchants appear to be doing a good business. We think the saloons are getting their part of the trade.

We are happy to see the Spencer taking the lead. We can go to Portland or The Dalles and do our business, and return the next day.

Our new minister, Mr. Johns, has arrived. He preached to us yesterday. Mrs. Lucy from Portland was up to see her father, Mr. Hannan, Thursday. Her sister, Mrs. Conner, has gone to California on a visit.

N. D. Sanford has received a consignment of fine tomatoes from your townsmen, Thomas Calkins.

PINE GROVE.

Mr. and Mrs. Tedford of Laporte City, Iowa, accompanied by their two daughters, are visiting with the family of their niece, Mrs. M. M. Hill.

Contractor Soule was not quite able to finish the work on the Pine Grove school house on September 17, in accordance with the terms of contract. School will probably only be postponed for one week.

Miss Mara Smith returned last Sunday from her visit to Iowa friends, ready to again fill her position as a teacher in the Pine Grove school.

Mr. Farr has just finished delivering 25,000 feet of logs to Fike's mill.

U. A. Newman and little son Carl visited the state fair here. Twenty-four they expected to extend their journey to Amity, where Mr. Newman has relatives, but their trip was suddenly cut short by Carl taking sick.

Charles Sprout's new apple house is nearly completed. It will be frost proof with an easy capacity for 5,000 boxes. Ample overhead is provided for empty boxes.

R. J. Rand of University Park, Portland, terminated a two weeks' visit last Friday with relatives along the stormy banks of Neal creek. Bert went fishing nearly every day during his stay and enjoyed his outing hugely. Twenty-four fine salmon trout in Hood river waters yielded to his magic wand, besides several scores of small trout that don't count. Two of those large trout came ashore together on the same line, each having at the same instant grabbed a big trout which dropped from it. Best scores to cast a line into the slingshot waters of the Willamette.

Mrs. M. L. Harbison, who has been visiting with her son Robert for several weeks, returned to Tangent last Friday, where she will spend the winter with her son Samuel. Mrs. R. E. Harbison and daughter Mary accompanied her to Portland, returning Sunday evening.

Such apples as the 20-ounce pippin and the King of Tompkins County are finding their way into packing rooms these days. They will soon be forwarded to places on all points between Greenland's icy mountains and India's coral strand.

CRAPPER.

G. A. McCurdy is painting his house. Prof. Arneson is building a new barn. Jerome Brown has moved to The Dalles.

Otto Brosi of this neighborhood died at Brush Prairie, Wash., on the morning of Sept. 15, 1904, and was buried at that place on the day following. Mr. Brosi was a native of Finland, about 28 years of age. He was a very quiet, orderly and upright man, and a good citizen. He leaves a wife and one little daughter. He was brother-in-law to John Paku.

Mrs. A. W. King and daughters, May and Nettie, and Miss Freda Pregel returned from the hop fields in the Willamette valley on Friday of last week.

Hendry Steffensen is setting poles for the extension of the telephone line southwest from a point near the schoolhouse.

William Crapper and family moved into their new house last week.

FRANKTON.

E. Shelley Morgan of Portland was up last week looking after his prune crop. George Soule and family are living on Mr. Morgan's place. This is George's second year in the position of manager and we think Mr. Morgan fortunate in securing as good a man for the place.

E. J. Nicholson, who owns a fine hay rack adjoining Mr. Morgan's place has returned to North Dakota to resume his railroad work for the winter. Mrs. Nicholson and the children will go East later to take a well-earned vacation visiting friends and relatives.

We think that alfalfa is the coming forage crop for this valley. Mrs. Koplin has just finished the third cutting of a small piece on her place. She baled something over 13 tons of the first and second cuttings as the last was as fine a lot of hay as we ever saw. She did not late this, so we cannot give the amount, but it was heavy.

Earl Noble returned Saturday from the Willamette valley hop fields. He says the hop acre fine around where he worked. They all made good wages and had a big time, but Earl says that country down there has no charms for him. We think he must have left his chamber up here but he didn't tell us who she is.

J. O. Eastman came home Saturday on the Regulator with his family, but it was a hard graft to keep him along. He is a wonderful fellow to sidestep when you are not looking. Out took a nasty look at Oregon's metropolis. It was his first visit to Portland although he has resided in Hood River 12 or 13 years. This perhaps accounts for the milk in the cocoanut, he was trying on this trip to make up for all these years of neglect. It's all right that, we have been there and you have our sympathy.

Don't forget the meeting at the Frankton school house next Friday afternoon called by M. H. Nickelson in last week's (the) (the) for the purpose of organizing a livestock mutual insurance association. It is something that will interest every cow owner in Frankton.

Miss Carrie Berley, who is teaching down at the Columbia school house has a record of which she may well be proud. All of us in Frankton are. She just finished a four-year course at the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis this summer, during which time she never failed to pass an examination in a single study. She then came home and at Choice Lots for Sale in Riverview Park and Idlewilde Additions. Best improvements are going west, following the easy grades. Streets are being opened, sidewalks laid and water pipes to furnish spring water will be put in at once.

ted the teacher's examination at The Dalles, where she was examined in 18 studies for state diploma, passing on an average of 92.3, being the youngest applicant to receive a state diploma. Where is Barrett?

Always as Big as Hood River Fruit. Apples that look as large as small pumpkins, pears that would be ribbon-winners at any exposition and crabapples and plums the size of teacups are raised right outside the gates of this city by W. R. Reed, who resides near Warendale.

For many years Mr. Reed has been reading of the famous fruit grown in the Hood River and Grand Ronde valleys. Not only did he read in Oregon papers of the apples, strawberries, peaches and pears grown in these fruit districts, but in those published in various eastern cities as well.

Some things can be raised in those districts I think they can be grown right here in Multnomah county," said Mr. Reed, and straightway did he proceed to plant some trees. Like Mr. Finney's turnip, so famed in verse, they grew and grew and grew.

A box of apples, pears, plums and crabapples grown by Mr. Reed reached Portland this morning. An apple picked at random out of those sent down measured 14 inches in circumference and others that were in the box looked even larger. The pears and crabapples were also very large.

"I do not have to spray my trees, nor irrigate the land," said Mr. Reed in speaking of his fruit ranch, "and I think that my apples and other 'goodies' will pass muster anywhere. There is a great deal said and written about the Hood River and Grand Ronde country, but there's nothing the matter with just plain Multnomah county land when it comes to raising large and luscious fruit."—Portland Journal.

Odell Boys Defeat The Juniors. The Hood River Juniors were defeated last Saturday in a lustless game of baseball that resulted in a score of 16 to 13.

The lineup for the Odell-Hartley baseball game is as follows: Hartley, cf; Cooper, c; Cupper, 1b; Clark, 2b; Shelley, 3b; Luckey, 4b; Crosby, 5b; Eberk, 6b; Young, 7b; Davis, 8b; Beard, 9b; Geyer, p.

The score by innings: Hood River, 2 4 2 1 1 0 2 0—13; Odell, 1 0 0 2 1 1 1 0 4—10.

Weygandt's Bale Makes Good Record. Hood River, September 20, 1904.—Editor Glacier: I saw that Messrs. Miller & Blagg have made an estimate of the hay in the valley by the amount they baled and gave the average. I can say I have done my share of work. My baler ran 42 days and baled 716 tons and 1330 pounds, or an average of 17 tons 128 pounds a day, and it wasn't a good year, either, but will be in the field to do some work next year.
